Newspapers Carry Most Advertising By Standard Oil
Newspapers again this year will carry more advertising than any other medium. The Standard Oil Company of Indiana, which has been the largest advertiser in the country for many years, has increased its advertising in newspapers to a record. The company's advertising in newspapers is estimated to be worth over $10,000,000 this year. This is a significant increase from the $8,000,000 reported for last year.

There's a Big One Calling You!
The fighting fish of Michigan are waiting hungrily for their annual tussle at the end of your line. With five thousand miles of rivers and streams where brook trout, brown and rainbow are jumping—five thousand inland lakes, teeming with bass, lake trout, pickerel, and "muckies"—it is no wonder that Michigan tops every other state in the number of fishing licenses. In the past year, millions of fish, many of them of legal size, have been placed in Michigan waters by the state hatcheries and feeding ponds. A splendid system of state highways leads to the lakes and rivers and the deep-water fishing grounds, offshore. And all Michigan is dotted with resorts, camps, and cottages for the angler. Telephone ahead for reservations, boats, guides or information. Then pack up your tackle and go where the fish are calling!

One Woman's Musings
I wonder if any of the readers know that there is a quicksand in Michigan. There is a little creek near that is called the Starvation Creek. It grows the loveliest water-cress, also has trout in it, but in places it is very dangerous. Some places where the water appears to be only a few inches deep, twenty-eight foot poles have been put down there and no bottom found. In other places the water and dirt boils up like soda boils in sour milk. It is not safe for a stranger to go there alone. Anywhere you may sink on what appears to be solid ground. Well, here is a little to all the canoeing factory workers. Hope to see you this summer.

WRIGHT & PATTERSON
NAMI PROPAGANDA GOES ON
The German League of Information, undoubtedly financed by Germany in the interests of Hitler's Germany and all its representatives, has broadcast over America the most subtle kind of Nazi propaganda. Millions of copies of a weekly magazine, "Facts in Review," are circulated in this country. The American postal system is used to distribute this publication. It boldly announces that copies may be obtained upon request and without charge. You find them in hotels, auto camps, in our training camps, and in all possible places where they can be seen and read, and your name, once on the mailing list, means receiving a new copy each week. Typographically it is an attractive publication, well printed, beautifully illustrated with each week's issue. It is 44 pages in a eulogy of Hitler, his German and Nazism. Its purpose is to convince American people that Hitler is working for the best interests of the world, that he is a great savior, that England would destroy world civilization if that country is not destroyed. While smooth, it is not even cleverly veiled.

State Highway
The Michigan State Highway Commission has approved a bill to increase the number of state highways. The bill, which is now before the legislature, would increase the number of state highways from 10,000 to 15,000. This would provide for a significant improvement in the state's road system.

Much Debate on Intangible Tax

Munshaw's Repeal Bill Is Widely Opposed

The bill of Senator Earl W. Munshaw to repeal the intangible tax act has become a subject of much controversy as the legislature convenes in Lansing on Monday. Newspapers have given much space to the Munshaw bill since the Legislature of April 17 being quite typical of the arguments being presented against the bill. The journal says:

"When we read the repeal bill," this question might well be applied to Senator Earl W. Munshaw's bill to repeal the intangible tax act which will be considered as a special order of business in the Senate Tuesday.

"While the bill calls for outright repeal of the intangible tax act, practically all of the opponents are at least theoretically, in favor of the bill. However, there are a few who are in favor of the bill as much as 36 times the amount assessed under the present law.

"Under the present general property tax law, property now taxable under the intangible tax act, becomes taxable at the prevailing rates for real property. The general property tax law, which is personal property all foreign, annuities and royalties, and other intangible property, and all of which now come under the intangible tax act.

"Since rates for real property in Michigan range from $10 to as high as $70 per $1,000 of assessed value, the present rate on intangibles of 36 times the amount assessed is undoubtedly the worst of a concerted rank on the part of holders of intangible wealth in other states of this type of property or about it under as much cover that the state is making a tough job of doing in the open so it could collect.

"So far the intangible tax division of the state tax commission has collected $27,135 from approximately 40,000 persons and corporations. It has granted extensions to 1,200 others and has received information regarding intangible property held by some 2,000 persons or firms which have not yet filed returns.

"Inasmuch as existence of this intangible wealth on which the tax has already been paid is a matter of record it would be subject to the prevailing real property tax rate upon the repeal of the intangible tax. This alternative method of taxing intangibles.

Present Act Condemned "Both Senator Munshaw, Republican, floor leader, and Senator George F. McCallum, Republican, chairman of the senate tax committee, have declared the present intangible tax act a "monstrous" tax. "It is a tax on wealth," declared the wealthy corporations and individuals who want to keep the present intangible tax. "It is a tax on much more than the cost of the property that it is levied upon. It is not until enactment of the intangible tax law, however, that any great amount was collected by the state on intangibles. The simple reason that such intangibles were kept pretty much under cover and no parties were willing to make returns in the case of mortgages and land contracts which could be easily traced down, to collect the levy.

Dodecagon Means Twelve But There Are Thirteen

The Dodecagon means, and all boys in Italy in the eastern Mediterranean, are mistaken, says a special war bulletin from the National Geographic Society, unless one speaks in terms of a "baker's dozen." For "Dodecagon" signifies 12, whereas there are 13 in the group. Since the name was applied, two islands in the original group have been dropped and three others have been added.

The Dodecagon are sometimes called the Southern Sporades. They lie just off the southwestern shores of Asia Minor and from 20 to 130 miles northeast of the island of Crete, and were extremely important in the days when much of Greek culture was centered in that region. The largest and most important of the 13 islands is Rhodes (Rhod). Famous as the headquarters of the Crusader Knights of St. John from 1310 to 1523. Their sturdy stone houses still stand in an excellent state of preservation along the long, straight, narrow "Street of the Knights" in the island's capital, Rodi.

Situated in a region in which hills and mountains are the rule, there are more than 2,500 years, it is inevitable that the Dodecagon should be a rugged and mountainous group of islands. Greece considers her title because the islands were developed by Greek civilization and are inhabited by people of Greek blood who speak the Greek tongue. They claim the territory by virtue of its conquest by the Roman empire and its later domination by two Italian city states, Venice and Genoa. The Turks rest their rights on the conquest of the islands in 1522 and 1571 when they were under Turkish control, with a few minor breaks, from that time until 1912 when Italy seized them by naval action.

Reveal Several Causes Of High Blood Pressure There are various causes of high blood pressure, say doctors. Some are due chiefly to fat or cholesterol weight. Others are traceable to hardening of the arteries, and still others to a peculiar hereditary condition. In fact, nervousness can add 20 to 30 points to any blood pressure if the patient gets sufficiently worried. As a rule, when a patient gets his blood pressure taken for the first time, the majority of the cases are due to nervousness. These are usually by small, circular muscle fibers. Under excitement, these fibers contract and the blood pressure of the vessels. As a result, the heart must raise the blood pressure to overcome the resistance. The doctor usually prescribes a rest, and doesn't use that first reading as the real blood pressure of the patient.

There are also various types of a social complex which fastens upon the blood vessels. These are surrounded by small, circular muscle fibers. Under excitement, these fibers contract and the blood pressure of the vessels. As a result, the heart must raise the blood pressure to overcome the resistance. The doctor usually prescribes a rest, and doesn't use that first reading as the real blood pressure of the patient.

Factors Greivously Stated To date everything under the sun has been reported stolen but the latest is a $100,000 Empire State building and cemetery.

Whisky Blamed for Disease Mental disease among drinkers can be traced to the whisky. It is in combination with wine, according to Dr. Horatio M. Pollock of the State Mental Hygiene Department. "Alcoholism causes mental disease in an average period of 22 years in men and 34 years in women, his report shows. The report discloses that the average age on admission to state mental hospitals ranges in the middle 40s for men and in the late 40s for women. "The fact that alcoholic mental disease occurs in the most productive period of life is highly significant, and is worthy of study from an economic and social significance," he said.

SAFETYGRAMS HANDFUL TO 30,000 ACRES

Handful to 30,000 Acres Literally from a handful, the new Michigan State College outburst, has increased since its announcement and release for increase in 1937 so that now there is enough to plant 30,000 acres this spring. Most of this will remain in fields within the state, although some already has filtered into as far as 15 other neighboring states. The seed is that of E. E. Down, plant breeder of the experiment station staff, who worked for more than 10 years in selecting this resistant oat.

Miss Ashley Becomes Bride of Mr. Field

Miss Norma Jean Ashley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern E. Ashley, became the bride of Mr. Byron Dustin Field, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Field of Charlotte, in a ceremony performed at the Ashley home at ten o'clock last Saturday morning by the Rev. R. M. Barkdale.

"At Dawning" and "Because" were played by Mrs. Jean Wachtler, housewife as well as the Lohegrin wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white chiffon with a hem-length veil and carried white sweetpeas and white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Maryann Ashley of Wyandotte, as maid of honor. She wore a gown of blue tulle with peach lace redingote and carried peach gladioli. Miss Jean Meadows of Detroit, bridesmaid, wore pink chiffon and carried a bouquet of peach gladioli. Mr. Frank Tompkins of Kalamazoo assisted Mr. Field as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ashley wore a light blue gown and had a corsage of Johanna Hill roses and sweetpeas. Mrs. Field wore navy blue and her corsage was of Johanna Hill roses and sweetpeas.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate families in the parlor, in front of the fireplace which was decorated with palms and bridal wreath. After the ceremony wedding cake, ice cream and punch were served.

Mrs. Field is a graduate of Lowell high school in the class of 1935 and Mr. Field graduated from Charlotte high school in 1935. Both are graduates of Michigan State College in 1939 with a Bachelor of Science degree and will both receive their M. S. degree this coming June. They plan to make their home in East Lansing until the school term is over and then will move to Wyandotte, where Mr. Field has a position.

Guests at the wedding were Mrs. May Brower of Bronson, aunt of the bride, who wore a black velvet gown with a corsage of white sweetpeas and roses; Mr. and Mrs. Field and son Max of Charlotte, Mrs. Dustin, grandmother of the groom, who wore dark blue with a corsage of sweetpeas and roses, of Charlotte; Harriet Barker of Potteryville and Doris Quine of Detroit.

For her going-away costume Mrs. Field wore a pink chiffon dress with black and white accessories.

The many friends of Mrs. Field in this community extend best wishes to the newlyweds for a happy married life.

The last thing the smart salesman mentions is the price, and you can't blame him.

Wedding Shower for Miss Huffman

A lively "last day of school" party was held Friday, May 2, for Miss Lee Huffman, by her friends, Marion Bushnell, Phyllis Huston and Frances Bowen. The affair was a wedding shower, carried out from scribbled invitation to box lunch as though the third graders were entertaining their teacher. Some guests dressed as children, Mrs. Bill Smith, triumphing as "Johnny" in overalls and cocky felt hat. Freckle-faced Rosella Yelter promptly dubbed Johnny "Stinky" and the whole "room" appreciated the joke.

After Miss Huffman had taken roll and inspected the "children's" throats, she required Dora Bangs (in brief white dress and anklets) to speak a piece. Amid wisecracks and whispering "lessons" proceeded, proving Mrs. Warner Roth (in a blue bow) and Mrs. Robert Barkdale (wearing pigtail) the "prize-winners."

A recess time the "pupils" showed their teacher with beautiful and appropriate gifts. Refreshments in the form of a box lunch consisted of the traditional sandwich and pickle, chocolate milk and pecan tart.

All guests included the mother of the guest of honor, Mrs. Huffman, Mrs. Adrian DeBlay of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Mabel Stauffer, Mrs. George Pappin, Mrs. Ray Avery, Mrs. Walter Gumsier, Mrs. Bruce Walter, Mrs. Ray Borgerson, Mrs. Adrian Zwemer, Mrs. Lucy Stornum, Margaret Purdy, Dora Bangs, Eunice Jane Guide, Doris MacKellar, Jeanne Merizon, Mrs. Hannah Reynolds, Gladys Bieri and Mrs. P. J. Finels.

Two Parties for Mrs. Huycok

The Misses Gladys and Esther Bieri entertained last Thursday evening at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Janet Rieckner Huycok, recent bride. Games were played during the evening and refreshments served. Several nice gifts were received by the guest of honor. Week's Best Recipe

Roast Pork with Spaghetti: Melt 4 T butter in the skillet. Add 1 medium sized minced onion and 1/2 cup finely chopped celery to butter and cook until tender. Add 1 1/2 C diced, cooked pork. Sprinkle with 1 T flour. Brown well before adding 1/2 C milk. Cook mixture stirring constantly until thickened. Add 1 large can cooked spaghetti in tomato sauce, 1 t salt, 1/2 t pepper, 1 t Worcestershire sauce. Cook until spaghetti is thoroughly heated. Turn into dish and sprinkle with grated American cheese. This serves six.

About Pillows

To launder your pillows, and they are easily done in your washing machine, choose a bright and sunny day. See that your water is soft with either ammonia or borax. Dissolve soap in lukewarm water before putting in the pillows. Wash the pillow not over ten minutes in the machine and by making a small slit in one end of the pillow cover the pillow will not float in the tub. You can take the feathers out of the case and wash separately but it is just as effective this other way. Fasten pillow by one end, puff it up occasionally as it hangs on the line to dry.

About Linoleum

If your linoleum floor is given hard wear, wax it frequently. Dust it daily with a dry mop and wipe up all spots of dirt with a damp cloth. Use only mild acids and merely warm water in giving it a thorough cleaning. Waxing will preserve the life and save work. Wax it after the linoleum is spotless and dry, applying a thin even coat. To protect the floor from marks of furniture use the cups for table and chair legs.

Certain Stains

To remove candle grease from linen cloth, let the grease dry and then pick it off with your nails. Put the stained part between two white blotters, press gently with warm iron until the blotters absorb it. Then put the stained cloth on a soft cloth, rub it with a cleaning fluid away from any flame. If the stain is from mustard, soak the linen in cold water to cover the mark. It will loosen the mustard so that it will come out in the regular laundering. Mildew stains can be removed by soaking in sour milk for a half hour, if you get the stain when fresh. Otherwise you will find that it is almost impossible to remove mildew unless you can safely and carefully use a commercial bleach recommended for such a purpose.

Inspirational

"Every advance is made through some sort of warfare; over some sort of battlefield."

A vagrant, when taken to the police station, was told to strip for a bath.

"What, go in the water?" he asked.

"Yes, you need it. How long has it been since you had a bath?"

"Well, I never was arrested before."
