

The Lowell Ledger and ALTO SOLO

Published every Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at Lowell, Michigan.

Subscription rates: In Advance, $1.00; In Advance, $1.00; In Advance, $1.00.

EDITORIAL POLICY: The Lowell Ledger is published for the purpose of disseminating news and information.

PRINTING: The Lowell Ledger is printed on high quality paper with modern printing equipment.

COPYRIGHT: Copyright 1942 by Lowell Ledger, Inc. All rights reserved.

ADVERTISING: Advertising rates are as follows: First page, $1.00 per line; second page, $0.75 per line.

TERMS: Payment in advance. Cash on delivery. No return of goods.

POSTAGE: This publication is published at a special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103 of the National Internal Revenue Act of 1939.

MAILING: The Lowell Ledger is mailed at a special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103 of the National Internal Revenue Act of 1939.

RECEIPTS: Receipts for advertising and other business are acknowledged by mail.

NOTICE: Notice of any change in the name or address of the publisher should be given to the printer.

PRINTED AT: The Lowell Ledger is printed at the Lowell Ledger Press, Lowell, Michigan.

MANAGER: The Lowell Ledger is managed by the Lowell Ledger Press, Lowell, Michigan.

EDITOR: The Lowell Ledger is edited by the Lowell Ledger Press, Lowell, Michigan.

ASSOCIATE EDITOR: The Lowell Ledger is edited by the Lowell Ledger Press, Lowell, Michigan.

REPORTER: The Lowell Ledger is edited by the Lowell Ledger Press, Lowell, Michigan.

EDITORIAL BOARD: The Lowell Ledger is edited by the Lowell Ledger Press, Lowell, Michigan.

Caledonia Farmers Hear E. C. Foreman

E. C. Foreman, Lowell, national famous poultry breeder, whose name is well known to the poultry club last Monday evening.

Mr. Foreman said that people are very busy to make so much money on broilers this year because there are large supplies of poultry most on hand now and also because the price of feed is too high to make much profit.

Mr. Foreman said that people are very busy to make so much money on broilers this year because there are large supplies of poultry most on hand now and also because the price of feed is too high to make much profit.

Mr. Foreman said that people are very busy to make so much money on broilers this year because there are large supplies of poultry most on hand now and also because the price of feed is too high to make much profit.

Mr. Foreman said that people are very busy to make so much money on broilers this year because there are large supplies of poultry most on hand now and also because the price of feed is too high to make much profit.

Mr. Foreman said that people are very busy to make so much money on broilers this year because there are large supplies of poultry most on hand now and also because the price of feed is too high to make much profit.

Mr. Foreman said that people are very busy to make so much money on broilers this year because there are large supplies of poultry most on hand now and also because the price of feed is too high to make much profit.

Mr. Foreman said that people are very busy to make so much money on broilers this year because there are large supplies of poultry most on hand now and also because the price of feed is too high to make much profit.

Mr. Foreman said that people are very busy to make so much money on broilers this year because there are large supplies of poultry most on hand now and also because the price of feed is too high to make much profit.

Income Tax Facts

(Editor's Note)—Below will be found a list of the series of articles dealing with the filing of income tax returns. It is suggested that each article be carefully read and saved for future reference.

Sixth Article. Some of the items that are deductible from gross income to determine net income are listed in this article. Lack of space prevents a full explanation of the increasing deductions. If in doubt on any item, consult the nearest collector of internal revenue.

Seventh Article. This article deals with the deductibility of certain expenses incurred in the pursuit of a profession. A loss arising from "fire, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty" is deductible, rather than the gross amount, if the loss is not compensated by insurance.

Eighth Article. This article deals with the deductibility of certain expenses incurred in the pursuit of a profession. A loss arising from "fire, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty" is deductible, rather than the gross amount, if the loss is not compensated by insurance.

Ninth Article. This article deals with the deductibility of certain expenses incurred in the pursuit of a profession. A loss arising from "fire, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty" is deductible, rather than the gross amount, if the loss is not compensated by insurance.

Tenth Article. This article deals with the deductibility of certain expenses incurred in the pursuit of a profession. A loss arising from "fire, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty" is deductible, rather than the gross amount, if the loss is not compensated by insurance.

Eleventh Article. This article deals with the deductibility of certain expenses incurred in the pursuit of a profession. A loss arising from "fire, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty" is deductible, rather than the gross amount, if the loss is not compensated by insurance.

Twelfth Article. This article deals with the deductibility of certain expenses incurred in the pursuit of a profession. A loss arising from "fire, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty" is deductible, rather than the gross amount, if the loss is not compensated by insurance.

Thirteenth Article. This article deals with the deductibility of certain expenses incurred in the pursuit of a profession. A loss arising from "fire, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty" is deductible, rather than the gross amount, if the loss is not compensated by insurance.

War Orders End Auto Industry

Twice As Many Men Will Have Employment. Michigan Press Assn.

Michigan's "news story of 1942," when recorded by historians, will be the story of the increasing employment of the automobile industry and the latter's complete conversion to war production.

Michigan's "news story of 1942," when recorded by historians, will be the story of the increasing employment of the automobile industry and the latter's complete conversion to war production.

Michigan's "news story of 1942," when recorded by historians, will be the story of the increasing employment of the automobile industry and the latter's complete conversion to war production.

Michigan's "news story of 1942," when recorded by historians, will be the story of the increasing employment of the automobile industry and the latter's complete conversion to war production.

Michigan's "news story of 1942," when recorded by historians, will be the story of the increasing employment of the automobile industry and the latter's complete conversion to war production.

Michigan's "news story of 1942," when recorded by historians, will be the story of the increasing employment of the automobile industry and the latter's complete conversion to war production.

Michigan's "news story of 1942," when recorded by historians, will be the story of the increasing employment of the automobile industry and the latter's complete conversion to war production.

Michigan's "news story of 1942," when recorded by historians, will be the story of the increasing employment of the automobile industry and the latter's complete conversion to war production.

CHEVROLET SUPER SERVICE. and outstanding leader of the CAR CONSERVATION PLAN.

Designed to keep America's cars serving for the duration... to prolong the life of your car—to avoid many major repair bills—to protect your pocketbook—to preserve your motor car transportation.

A MOBILE NATION IS A STRONG NATION. Always see your local CHEVROLET DEALER FOR SERVICE on any car or truck.

McFALL CHEVROLET. Phone 298. I. W. McFALL. 508 W. Main, Lowell.

VERGENNES CENTER. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bieri and daughter of Grand Rapids and son of Grand Rapids.

HICKORY HOLLOW. Mr. and Mrs. Theron Cahoon and daughter Janice attended an oyster supper Tuesday evening at the home of George Hardy.

WEST BEENE. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Patterson and Mrs. Addie Denton in visiting Mrs. Sam Patterson.

LABARGE RIPPLES. Mr. and Mrs. Henry White of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell and boys were in Lowell Saturday.

Having sold my farm I will sell at public auction at the farm located on Highway 452, 4 miles north, 1 1/2 miles west of Alto, or 6 miles northwest of Freepont, or 7 miles east of Caledonia, on

This and That From Around the Old Town. Mr. and Mrs. Bert McNeilly spent Sunday in Flint with Mr. McNeilly's mother.

Michigan Maples Offer Sugar Aid. Michigan's sugar maple trees offer a fractional solution of the sugar problem brought on by the war.

WARE DISTRICT. The South Boston Eastern Class met with Mrs. Rose Talbot last Wednesday afternoon.

MORSE LAKE. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Yetter and daughter spent Sunday at Charles Starick's in honor of Adrian's birthday.

Locals Will Battle East Friday Night. East Grand Rapids basketball teams will battle the local gymnasium Sunday afternoon.

McCORDB'S MATTERS. Mr. and Mrs. Andy Stot entertained with a Sunday dinner in honor of their son, George.

ROCKFORD OLIVE GOOD SCORE. Lowell suffered defeat at the hands of Rockford last Friday night in a game which could not be determined until the final minutes of play.

Photo-Story of Admiral Hart. Tough, peppy, 64-year-old Michigan-born Admiral Thomas C. (Tommy) Hart, commander of the U.S. Asiatic fleet, is the subject of a series of timely, highly interesting illustrated articles starting in the Lowell Ledger's February 15 issue.

LOWELL CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE. Rev. Glenn Stewart. Artist and Evangelist Will Lecture at the 7:30 service Sunday eve. on Bunyan's "PILGRIM'S PROGRESS"

Lowell Items of 25, 30 and 35 Years Ago. February 15, 1917—35 Years Ago. Elder Egan VanDusen, an old resident of Lowell, passed away at Sunday with his son on his side.

FRANK CARLSON OF EAST LANSING. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Freymuth and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunn near Caledonia.

FRANK CARLSON OF EAST LANSING. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Freymuth and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunn near Caledonia.

FRANK CARLSON OF EAST LANSING. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Freymuth and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunn near Caledonia.

FRANK CARLSON OF EAST LANSING. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Freymuth and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunn near Caledonia.

FRANK CARLSON OF EAST LANSING. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Freymuth and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunn near Caledonia.

FRANK CARLSON OF EAST LANSING. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Freymuth and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunn near Caledonia.

FRANK CARLSON OF EAST LANSING. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Freymuth and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunn near Caledonia.

FRANK CARLSON OF EAST LANSING. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Freymuth and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunn near Caledonia.

Quality Maintained! Spring Suits and Topcoats are coming in in sizable quantities. The quality of fabric and workmanship is fully up to our usual standards.

Prices range from $1.50 to $4.50. LaSalle's SUPER CHAMPS, $3.95. We guarantee quality and price. If you need clothing it's a good time to buy.

New Spring Sweaters, Shirts and Hosiery for men. All prices include the tax.

LOWELL DIST. NO. 5. Mrs. J. P. Needham. Mrs. Alex Wingler suffered a stroke last week on Wednesday evening.

MINNESOTA CONTAINS 54,196,840 ACRES OF WATER. Switzerland reports world demand for wrist watches are increasing.

DAY AND NIGHT. We are ready to serve you... with a hot dinner at noon... a hot dinner at night.

1000-PAIR CABLE. In which many of the wires are intended for long distance service.

Putting FIRST things FIRST... Normally, Michigan Bell installs new equipment to care for a number of years of growth.

Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Strike a blow for America—Buy Defense Bonds and Stamps!

Invulnerable
 A dictionary defines "invulnerable" as "incapable of being wounded or injured." Invulnerable, then, is an adjective which is applied to a person or thing which is not susceptible to injury. In the case of a person, it means that he is not susceptible to physical injury. In the case of a thing, it means that it is not susceptible to damage or destruction.

HANER Funeral Home
 Phone 22-32
 Lowell

CAMPAU LAKE
 Mrs. E. R. Hard

Mr. and Mrs. Flint Curtis and Mrs. E. R. Hard spent Thursday afternoon in Saranac. The ladies were accompanied by Mrs. Lyle Benning, attended the Saranac Women's Club. A one o'clock luncheon was given honoring the past presidents of the club. A trio, Mrs. Fredonia James, Mrs. Joseph Egan and Clark Ashburn sang "The Mountain Stream" and "The Home." They were accompanied by Mrs. Beulah Adgate, Mrs. Webber, and Mrs. Lyle Benning. On A. J. Cronin's novel, "The Key of Solomon," which was given by J. L. Lonsby.

We are sorry to report Aunt Addie Snyder as seriously ill. We are glad to welcome Mrs. Vern Loring back again and wish her a return to perfect health.

The 2nd meeting of the Campau Lake Extension club was held at the home of Mrs. Fredonia James Wednesday afternoon. The ten members present. Roll call was answered by Joke. The session "Attractive Kitchens" was given by Mrs. Lyle Benning. Mrs. Maynard Harris and Mrs. Noble McCarty. Next lesson will be given March 4. Mr. and Mrs. Myers of Grand Rapids spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Myers and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Benning were Tuesday lunch guests of Mr. and Mrs. Flint Curtis. A group of neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fredonia James Saturday evening as a surprise farewell party in honor of Mrs. Patterson who is waiting a call to enter the service of U. S. Army. Military life was given to each as a gift. A fine time was reported.

We describe a birthday dinner given by Mrs. and Mrs. Ray Loh and grandpa on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley of Beely Corners and Mr. and Mrs. E. Hard enjoyed a birthday dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Seely and girls of Canada. The occasion celebrated the birthdays of Miss Marie and Mrs. Hurd.

The Haris called at the Henry Coley and B. Patterson home Monday afternoon.

SOUTH BOSTON
 Miss Belle Young

Chris Palm and Fred Brown are numbered among the sick. South Hill school was first place in the county contest for collection of scrap materials. The school collected and sold old material to the amount of $20.00 and will receive $50.00 cash as a prize.

The next South Hill P.T. meeting will be Feb. 18, when it is expected the Legion school will present their play.

Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nash, former residents here, is in the U. S. Army and is stationed at Camp Wallace, Galveston, Texas.

Mrs. M. Young and family attended funeral services Sunday in Clarkville for Riley J. Leese, who died suddenly Thursday from a heart ailment.

John Freeman was recently named a member of the Methodist Master Farmers' Club, the announcement being made at the Master Farmers' luncheon held last week at S. C. in connection with the Farmers' Week.

Frank Freeman was among the prize winners on a pen of show exhibited Farmers' Week at an announcement, according to radio announcement.

AKTMENT
 Mrs. Fred Patten

Alto Ladies
 Mr. and Mrs. John Linton called at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, on Sunday afternoon and had dinner at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Linton, in Grand Rapids.

Boys' Club
 Mrs. and Mrs. Don Dutcher of Caladonia are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Linton, the latter is convalescing from a severe cold.

The Alto Community Grange was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Loveland Friday night and after the business meeting and visiting, a supper was enjoyed by fourteen. They will be meeting at their homes this winter in order to help conserve fuel and light.

Leon Tamers Club
 Mrs. and Mrs. E. H. Hayward entertained the Leon Tamers Club Thursday evening. After a business meeting and a social hour, the members were in play. Mrs. Elmer Dintman and Lloyd Houghton winning first prizes.

Pedro Party
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 Our librarian, Mrs. H. D. Smith, suggests we stop in Library to view new books, also to see the interesting Art Exhibit displayed by the Alto Ladies' Club, taught by Miss Vernice Penno.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

Alto Ladies
 The Alto Community Grange will give a Pedro party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hayward, Feb. 14, 8 o'clock. The party will be given for the benefit of the boys' club.

COOK
 Sheet Metal Work
 Call 78
 DAVE CLARK, Mgr.

News From Grand Rapids of Former Bowle Folks
 Clara M. Brandegee

Miss Collins (nee Susan Stahl) was confined to her bed with illness Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Dorothy Scott of Marshall Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Scott, and two children spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Warner at Lowell after Dorothy returned to Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pihonen of Grand Rapids spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Venstra and family, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Oudney is staying with her husband at the Frank Klins home.

Mr. and Mrs. Yal Johnson of Dearborn called on John Linton Friday and Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Yal Johnson of Dearborn called on John Linton Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dintman and Mrs. Fred Patten and Mrs. Lucy Dintman accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain to the Clark Circle Aid at John Yester's in West Lo.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Head were entertained Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mary Patten.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Blossom of South Lowell called on their mother, Mrs. E. L. Patten, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Corland Stridger and Mrs. Charles VanVranken of Hastings were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hayward home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Patten of South Lowell called on their mother, Mrs. E. L. Patten, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Corland Stridger and Mrs. Charles VanVranken of Hastings were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hayward home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Patten of South Lowell called on their mother, Mrs. E. L. Patten, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Corland Stridger and Mrs. Charles VanVranken of Hastings were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hayward home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Patten of South Lowell called on their mother, Mrs. E. L. Patten, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Corland Stridger and Mrs. Charles VanVranken of Hastings were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hayward home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Patten of South Lowell called on their mother, Mrs. E. L. Patten, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Corland Stridger and Mrs. Charles VanVranken of Hastings were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hayward home.

MARJES DISTRICT
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

NORTH CAMPBELL
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

FAR CORNERS
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

HOPE'S CREEK
 Mrs. E. B. V.

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

Whitneyville
 Mrs. S. M. Rowland

The Ledger's Wide Coverage Means Greater Success For Your Ad.
WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

WANT ADS
 Want Adv. Rates—30c for 25 words or less, if over 25 words, add 1c per word. If ordered by mail, please enclose coin or stamps.

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

LEGAL NOTICES
 APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING OF PETITION FOR DIVORCE

Lowell's Poets

of paper into her typewriter, she began to work.

Eric was absent ten when the door opened without warning. Joan thought it was Paul but it was Eric Strom. He was quite absorbed in his work. Joan had not seen him since the night he did not sleep with Karl and her.

"Ah! Miss Lowell! You are alone. I am looking very beautiful as always." Eric's voice was soft but his eyes regarded her insolently.

"Karl won't be back any minute," Joan said quickly.

"I don't know. I left him only a few minutes ago, quite absorbed in his business matter. Mind if I have a drink?"

"You're Karl's partner. It's your office, too." Eric was trying to control her dislike of him.

"Ah! Miss Lowell! You are alone. I am looking very beautiful as always."

Sybil shrugged. "There are a lot of people who don't trust me. I'm afraid I'm not as popular as you are."

"I intend to find out tonight. He has an appointment at the club at ten-thirty. I'll try to see him when he comes. I'm going to ask him to explain."

"Karl probably knows about it already. I'll try to see him when he comes."

"That's ridiculous!" Joan fared "How can you dislike Karl so much? He's your partner. He's your partner."

"You're just tired, honey?" Sybil said to Joan.

"You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that office with no windows is not good for you."

"Let me see your sister went to work. You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

Joan left for the office as she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I'm tired. One of these days I'll make my mind up. I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought as she smiled the girls who were neglected by this great emotion.

At the club Joan paused to talk to the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. There was a pleasant intimate mood. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in the front of the hall which according to Joan was "going over big." The Club Elite was definitely a success.

The bar on one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. He glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she had to go to work. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "It is possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks now," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky nut," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two or three other people."

"No, thank you," Joan explained. "There's no way trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No! I didn't."

"Why not?"

"He didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't bear that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well! Aren't you going to explain it to me?"

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan?"

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

"I'll be out of the office until then," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

"I'll be out of the office until then," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"I won't if you'll explain."

Lowell's Poets

of paper into her typewriter, she began to work.

Eric was absent ten when the door opened without warning. Joan thought it was Paul but it was Eric Strom. He was quite absorbed in his work. Joan had not seen him since the night he did not sleep with Karl and her.

"Ah! Miss Lowell! You are alone. I am looking very beautiful as always." Eric's voice was soft but his eyes regarded her insolently.

"Karl won't be back any minute," Joan said quickly.

"I don't know. I left him only a few minutes ago, quite absorbed in his business matter. Mind if I have a drink?"

"You're Karl's partner. It's your office, too." Eric was trying to control her dislike of him.

"Ah! Miss Lowell! You are alone. I am looking very beautiful as always."

Sybil shrugged. "There are a lot of people who don't trust me. I'm afraid I'm not as popular as you are."

"I intend to find out tonight. He has an appointment at the club at ten-thirty. I'll try to see him when he comes. I'm going to ask him to explain."

"Karl probably knows about it already. I'll try to see him when he comes."

"That's ridiculous!" Joan fared "How can you dislike Karl so much? He's your partner. He's your partner."

"You're just tired, honey?" Sybil said to Joan.

"You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that office with no windows is not good for you."

"Let me see your sister went to work. You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

Joan left for the office as she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I'm tired. One of these days I'll make my mind up. I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought as she smiled the girls who were neglected by this great emotion.

At the club Joan paused to talk to the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. There was a pleasant intimate mood. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in the front of the hall which according to Joan was "going over big." The Club Elite was definitely a success.

The bar on one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. He glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she had to go to work. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "It is possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks now," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky nut," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two or three other people."

"No, thank you," Joan explained. "There's no way trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No! I didn't."

"Why not?"

"He didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't bear that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well! Aren't you going to explain it to me?"

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan?"

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

"I'll be out of the office until then," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"I won't if you'll explain."

Lowell's Poets

of paper into her typewriter, she began to work.

Eric was absent ten when the door opened without warning. Joan thought it was Paul but it was Eric Strom. He was quite absorbed in his work. Joan had not seen him since the night he did not sleep with Karl and her.

"Ah! Miss Lowell! You are alone. I am looking very beautiful as always." Eric's voice was soft but his eyes regarded her insolently.

"Karl won't be back any minute," Joan said quickly.

"I don't know. I left him only a few minutes ago, quite absorbed in his business matter. Mind if I have a drink?"

"You're Karl's partner. It's your office, too." Eric was trying to control her dislike of him.

"Ah! Miss Lowell! You are alone. I am looking very beautiful as always."

Sybil shrugged. "There are a lot of people who don't trust me. I'm afraid I'm not as popular as you are."

"I intend to find out tonight. He has an appointment at the club at ten-thirty. I'll try to see him when he comes. I'm going to ask him to explain."

"Karl probably knows about it already. I'll try to see him when he comes."

"That's ridiculous!" Joan fared "How can you dislike Karl so much? He's your partner. He's your partner."

"You're just tired, honey?" Sybil said to Joan.

"You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that office with no windows is not good for you."

"Let me see your sister went to work. You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

Joan left for the office as she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I'm tired. One of these days I'll make my mind up. I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought as she smiled the girls who were neglected by this great emotion.

At the club Joan paused to talk to the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. There was a pleasant intimate mood. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in the front of the hall which according to Joan was "going over big." The Club Elite was definitely a success.

The bar on one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. He glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she had to go to work. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "It is possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks now," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky nut," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two or three other people."

"No, thank you," Joan explained. "There's no way trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No! I didn't."

"Why not?"

"He didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't bear that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well! Aren't you going to explain it to me?"

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan?"

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

"I'll be out of the office until then," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"I won't if you'll explain."

SESELEY CORNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Heche were in East Lansing Thursday. Mr. Heche spent the day at the office. Mrs. Heche was at the office. Mr. Heche spent the day at the office. Mrs. Heche was at the office.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Potter spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruth Wagner of Holland spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Mores Schwach returned from the hospital Thursday. Her many friends will be glad to hear that she is rapidly improving.

Mrs. Chas. McIntyre was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson of Middleview Tuesday evening. Mrs. McIntyre was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson of Middleview Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Potter spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruth Wagner of Holland spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Mores Schwach returned from the hospital Thursday. Her many friends will be glad to hear that she is rapidly improving.

Mrs. Chas. McIntyre was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson of Middleview Tuesday evening. Mrs. McIntyre was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson of Middleview Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Potter spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruth Wagner of Holland spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Mores Schwach returned from the hospital Thursday. Her many friends will be glad to hear that she is rapidly improving.

Mrs. Chas. McIntyre was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson of Middleview Tuesday evening. Mrs. McIntyre was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson of Middleview Tuesday evening.

Weekly Scrapbook

Week's Best Recipe
Apple-Mallow Dessert: 1 1/2 c. hot apple sauce, unstrained, 1 c. marshmallows, 1 c. fluffy cooked rice, 1/2 c. heavy cream, whipped, 1/2 c. crushed peanut brittle. Combine apple sauce and marshmallows, stirring until marshmallows melt. Add lightly fluffy cooked rice, heavy cream, whipped, and peanut brittle. Spread over the top of a 9x12 inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. This yields 8 servings.

Tip About Autos
It doesn't hurt to remember these things, especially today when our autos need special care. An automobile burns more gas per mile in cold weather than in warm weather. A clutch pedal is not meant to be a resting place for your foot. The first indications of a worn cylinder is a piston slap and the amount of oil used in the motor. Many of the discarded tires in this country have been used for years. They are made into shoes there. We may use them in the same way here, you never know!

Concerning Fruit
If you will put your oranges into the oven shortly before peeling them you will notice that the white pith will peel more easily. When the orange is peeled, you may use them in the same way here, you never know!

WAKE UP BUSINESS
By Advertising In This Newspaper

So. American Letter

We have set foot on Grand Rapids soil, and we are in the streets of the capital city of the Great Lakes. It is reminiscent of Berkeley, even the black policeman was similar uniforms. I shall not elaborate as to the details of our trip, and soon we shall put it out. Here are the only items of information that I have gathered from matches of crew conversations. The island of Grand Rapids is 12 miles long by 12 miles wide, the population is about 11,000. It was discovered in 1498. Its chief exports are coals and minerals. Sugar consumption is less than 15 pounds per person per year and has increased gradually throughout the island. The United States has the highest death rate for diabetes of any nation in the world, and many people believe that this is due in part to the high consumption of sugar. The island is a beautiful one. It is a beautiful one. It is a beautiful one.

Health - Hygiene

Di-vinited through the Kent County Health Department by the Joint Committee on Health Education comprising the American Legion Department of Health, University of Michigan, Michigan State University, and 19 Other Cooperating Organizations.

German professor at 10 o'clock. Bible class at 11:00 o'clock. You are cordially invited.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Dr. Washington and Kent
Morning services every Sunday at 11 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Dr. Washington and Kent
Morning services every Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Church News

German professor at 10 o'clock. Bible class at 11:00 o'clock. You are cordially invited.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Dr. Washington and Kent
Morning services every Sunday at 11 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Dr. Washington and Kent
Morning services every Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Adda News

Annual Turkey Dinner, March 5
Thursday, March 5, has been set for the date for the annual Turkey Dinner given by the Congregational Church. As usual the dinner will be given at the Congregational Church. The dinner will be given at the Congregational Church.

MOSELEY-MURRAY LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawthorn and daughter of Zealand were Saturday afternoon and evening guests of Ted Elhart and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawthorn and daughter of Zealand were Saturday afternoon and evening guests of Ted Elhart and family.

FALLSBURG & VICINITY

The Good Will Club was well attended last week Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Griffith. The club members met and election of officers met.

STATE MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.

W. W. Burris, President
J. H. Smith, Secretary
R. M. Ferrall, Treasurer

Joan suddenly asked, "I'm very busy."

Eric smiled. "You're just tired, honey?"

"You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that office with no windows is not good for you."

"Let me see your sister went to work. You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

Joan left for the office as she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I'm tired. One of these days I'll make my mind up. I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought as she smiled the girls who were neglected by this great emotion.

At the club Joan paused to talk to the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. There was a pleasant intimate mood. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in the front of the hall which according to Joan was "going over big." The Club Elite was definitely a success.

The bar on one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. He glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she had to go to work. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "It is possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks now," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky nut," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two or three other people."

"No, thank you," Joan explained. "There's no way trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No! I didn't."

"Why not?"

"He didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't bear that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well! Aren't you going to explain it to me?"

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan?"

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

"I'll be out of the office until then," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"I won't if you'll explain."

Joan suddenly asked, "I'm very busy."

Eric smiled. "You're just tired, honey?"

"You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that office with no windows is not good for you."

"Let me see your sister went to work. You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

Joan left for the office as she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I'm tired. One of these days I'll make my mind up. I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought as she smiled the girls who were neglected by this great emotion.

At the club Joan paused to talk to the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. There was a pleasant intimate mood. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in the front of the hall which according to Joan was "going over big." The Club Elite was definitely a success.

The bar on one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. He glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she had to go to work. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "It is possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks now," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky nut," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two or three other people."

"No, thank you," Joan explained. "There's no way trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No! I didn't."

"Why not?"

"He didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't bear that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well! Aren't you going to explain it to me?"

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan?"

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

"I'll be out of the office until then," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"I won't if you'll explain."

Joan suddenly asked, "I'm very busy."

Eric smiled. "You're just tired, honey?"

"You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that office with no windows is not good for you."

"Let me see your sister went to work. You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

Joan left for the office as she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I'm tired. One of these days I'll make my mind up. I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought as she smiled the girls who were neglected by this great emotion.

At the club Joan paused to talk to the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. There was a pleasant intimate mood. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in the front of the hall which according to Joan was "going over big." The Club Elite was definitely a success.

The bar on one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. He glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she had to go to work. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "It is possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks now," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky nut," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two or three other people."

"No, thank you," Joan explained. "There's no way trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No! I didn't."

"Why not?"

"He didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't bear that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well! Aren't you going to explain it to me?"

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan?"

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

"I'll be out of the office until then," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"I won't if you'll explain."

Joan suddenly asked, "I'm very busy."

Eric smiled. "You're just tired, honey?"

"You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that office with no windows is not good for you."

"Let me see your sister went to work. You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

Joan left for the office as she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I'm tired. One of these days I'll make my mind up. I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought as she smiled the girls who were neglected by this great emotion.

At the club Joan paused to talk to the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. There was a pleasant intimate mood. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in the front of the hall which according to Joan was "going over big." The Club Elite was definitely a success.

The bar on one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. He glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she had to go to work. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "It is possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks now," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky nut," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two or three other people."

"No, thank you," Joan explained. "There's no way trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No! I didn't."

"Why not?"

"He didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't bear that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well! Aren't you going to explain it to me?"

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan?"

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

"I'll be out of the office until then," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"I won't if you'll explain."

Joan suddenly asked, "I'm very busy."

Eric smiled. "You're just tired, honey?"

"You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that office with no windows is not good for you."

"Let me see your sister went to work. You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

Joan left for the office as she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I'm tired. One of these days I'll make my mind up. I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought as she smiled the girls who were neglected by this great emotion.

At the club Joan paused to talk to the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. There was a pleasant intimate mood. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in the front of the hall which according to Joan was "going over big." The Club Elite was definitely a success.

The bar on one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. He glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she had to go to work. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "It is possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks now," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky nut," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two or three other people."

"No, thank you," Joan explained. "There's no way trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No! I didn't."

"Why not?"

"He didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't bear that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well! Aren't you going to explain it to me?"

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan?"

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

"I'll be out of the office until then," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"I won't if you'll explain."

Joan suddenly asked, "I'm very busy."

Eric smiled. "You're just tired, honey?"

"You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that office with no windows is not good for you."

"Let me see your sister went to work. You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

Joan left for the office as she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I'm tired. One of these days I'll make my mind up. I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought as she smiled the girls who were neglected by this great emotion.

At the club Joan paused to talk to the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. There was a pleasant intimate mood. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in the front of the hall which according to Joan was "going over big." The Club Elite was definitely a success.

The bar on one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. He glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she had to go to work. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "It is possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks now," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky nut," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two or three other people."

"No, thank you," Joan explained. "There's no way trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No! I didn't."

"Why not?"

"He didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't bear that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well! Aren't you going to explain it to me?"

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan?"

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

"I'll be out of the office until then," Karl told her. "Try to finish those letters."

"I won't if you'll explain."

Joan suddenly asked, "I'm very busy."

Eric smiled. "You're just tired, honey?"

"You need more sun and fresh air. Working in that office with no windows is not good for you."

"Let me see your sister went to work. You don't understand. No one understands how I feel."

Sybil sighed as she went back to the kitchen.

Joan left for the office as she had kissed Sybil affectionately, saying, "I'm sorry, Sybil. I guess I'm tired. One of these days I'll make my mind up. I'm going to settle it tonight."

Later when Joan hurried from the apartment and walked to the trolley through the dark night, she felt strangely exhilarated. It was a thrill even to go to work when her boss was Karl Miller.

The whole world is different when you're in love," Joan thought as she smiled the girls who were neglected by this great emotion.

At the club Joan paused to talk to the crowd. The low ceiling was flooded with a soft indirect lighting. There was a pleasant intimate mood. The dance floor was small but adequate. It formed a circle in the front of the hall which according to Joan was "going over big." The Club Elite was definitely a success.

The bar on one side of the room was crowded. Joan, glancing casually at the well-dressed men and women, saw Paul Sherman. He glanced at her watch. It was a quarter of eight. She had fifteen minutes before she had to go to work. Now was her chance.

"Hello," Paul said. "It is possible that you want to see me?"

Joan sat down beside him. "I have been seeing you almost constantly for three weeks now," she said significantly.

"That's a tricky nut," Paul said admiringly.

"Be serious, Paul. You know what I mean. Why have you been following me?"

"Must have been two or three other people."

"No, thank you," Joan explained. "There's no way trying to evade the issue. I saw you down at the boat that night."

His brown eyes were serious. "You didn't tell Karl?"

"No! I didn't."

"Why not?"

"He didn't want you to lose your job," she confessed. "I couldn't bear that you meant any harm."

"That's very sweet of you, Joan. I appreciate your confidence."

"Well! Aren't you going to explain it to me?"

Paul looked at his watch. "We haven't time to talk now. You have to be in the office by eight, don't you? I'll come in later and we'll talk then. Meanwhile, please don't say anything to Karl. Promise me, Joan?"

"I won't if you'll explain."

"You have all the instincts of a detective," Paul laughed.

"That's what Karl said me once. Joan informed him. "I'll see you later."

Karl Miller was in his office. The moment Joan entered he drew her to his arms. "That's an adorable hat," he said, kissing her.

"I knew you'd like it!" She pressed her cheek against his.

"I'm glad to think about Paul Sherman, impossible to worry, or even care what happened. The rest of the world where he was in his arms."

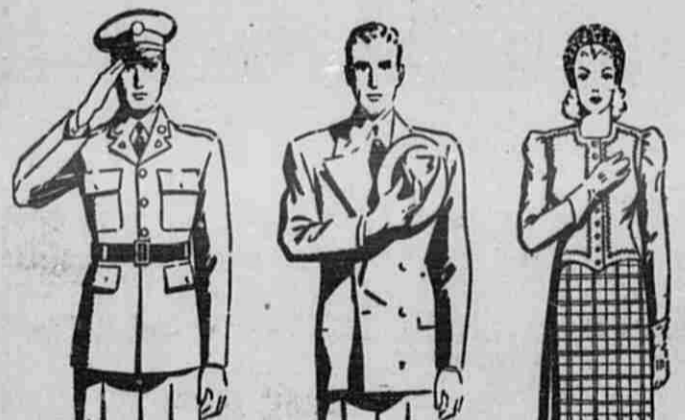

WEEK-END
food values
 ... AT YOUR
RED & WHITE STORE

KING'S
Yellow Corn Meal 5 lb. bag 16c
Kellogg's Corn Flakes 3 large boxes 25c
 Red & White Long Macaroni 1-lb. 10c Red & White Long Sp'gh'tti 1-lb. 10c
Highlight
Orange Juice 46-oz. can 27c
Gold Seal Prune Juice qt. 19c
 Red & White Flaw-R-Jel 3 pkgs. 17c Red & White Sweet Gherkins jar 20c
 Red & White Shortening 3-lb. can 64c
Sweetheart Soap SPECIAL PACK 4 bars 21c

FUN TO EAT MEAT GOOD FOR YOU

Fresh Side Pork lb. 20c
SAUSAGE Grade 1 lb. 27c
PORK CHOPS end cuts lb. 29c
PORK SHLDR. RST. ctr. cut lb. 27c
VEAL STEW lb. 19c
Fresh Ground Beef lb. 23c
VEAL SHOULDER ROAST lb. 27c
BEEF RIBS lb. 18c
BEEF PGT ROAST lb. 25c
BEEF CHUCK ROAST lb. 27c
ROUND or SIRLOIN STEAK lb. 35c
Lamb Shldr. Roast lb. 25c
Weaver's
Food Market
 Phone 156 We Deliver

Every Patriotic American Salutes His Nation's Flag

During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag, or when the flag is passing in a parade or in a review, all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention and salute.
 Those present in uniform should render the right hand salute.
 Those men not in uniform should remove their headgear with the right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart.
 Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart.
 The salute to the flag in a moving column is rendered as the flag approaches the spectator and is held until it has passed.

WITH OUR COUNTRY AT WAR
 ... We Face a Situation Today Different Than Before
 Blackouts and cars with worn parts and bad tires mean a higher risk of life and limb. The best you can do is to protect your earning power with an Accident and Health Policy.
 Accident Policies cost from $2 to $12 per year. Health and Accident cost from $12 and up, per year.
 ALL CLAIMS MADE THROUGH OUR OFFICE.
 ● Don't Delay—Buy Today ●
 Have Protection
H. J. RITTENGER
 INSURANCE
 Phone 144 116 S. Elversdale Drive

Coming Events

A benefit euchre party will be held at the I. O. O. F. hall Friday evening, Feb. 13 at 8 o'clock. Proceeds will go to the Red Cross Extra entertainment. Come all and make this worthwhile.
 Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rittenger will entertain the South Lowell Aid for noon dinner on Thursday, Feb. 19. Good dinner. Adults 35c, children 15c. All are welcome. p40
 The Jolly Community Club will be entertained Wednesday, Feb. 18 at the home of Mrs. E. L. Kinyon in Lowell, for dinner. Remember, all club members are urged to be present.
 There will be a regular meeting of the Eastern Star this Friday evening.
 The next big event of the year for Doric Lodge, No. 342, F. & A. M., will be their annual dinner to be held in the ballroom of the Masonic Temple, Grand Rapids, at 8:00 p. m., Friday, Feb. 21. This is an all-gala party and its proceeds will be used to help entertain crippled children of Grand Rapids. Tickets will be sold here at the door. All Masons, their families and friends are invited.
 The Women's Relief Corps will hold their regular meeting Thursday afternoon, Feb. 19, at the City Hall. A patriotic program will be in charge of the patriotic instructor.
 There will be a Kent County Association meeting at the I. O. O. F. hall at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, Feb. 17. Fun and entertainment. All Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and friends are welcome.
 The Junior Segwyn Community Club invites their parents and friends to a Valentine party, Friday evening, Feb. 13, at 7:15. Pot-luck lunch. Bring own service. A chicken will be given away.
 The Perry Group of the Congregational Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Sam Myers on Friday, Feb. 13, at 2:30 p. m.
 The Martha Group of the Methodist Church will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Rosella Yelton on Monday evening, Feb. 16. A cordial invitation is extended to the other groups.
 The German Ladies' Aid will meet Thursday, Feb. 19, at the home of Mrs. Anna Ryder on Amity Street.
 The Lowell Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. George Hale on Wednesday, Feb. 18, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Laverne Butcher of Grand Rapids will be the speaker.
 The next meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be next Monday evening, Feb. 16, at the City Hall. A chairman has been appointed for a patriotic entertainment to be held after the business meeting.

More Local News

Paul Cave of Los Angeles, Calif., is here visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Coleta Condon, and other relatives.
 Mrs. Wilbur N. Pennock and children spent Sunday afternoon in Grand Rapids with Mr. and Mrs. Felix Duba.
 Mr. and Mrs. Robert Townsend and son Bobby of Charlotte spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Jennie Townsend.
 Frank White of Alton has been quite ill and his many friends in the community send best wishes for a quick recovery.
 Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Condon accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Clark of Alton to Enrichon on Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Clark's uncle, Richard Enness.
 Miss Florence Reynolds spent the weekend in Ann Arbor at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house party and attended the annual J-Hop at the University of Michigan Friday and Saturday night.
 Mr. R. W. Bettes and daughter, Erna Jean, spent over the weekend in Plattburg, N. Y., visiting their son and brother, Pvt. Leo W. Bettes. They report Leo as feeling fine, which is welcome news to his many friends here. The trip was very enjoyable and the ladies returned home Tuesday evening.
 Mrs. Norman Thoball (nee Mary Jane Rutherford) of Los Angeles, Calif., spent a few days this week here with her father, L. W. Rutherford and other relatives while on her way to New York City where she will join her husband who is connected with a company which manufactures robot airplane pilots.
 Among those from Lowell who attended the 46th annual Republican Lincoln banquet at the Fountain Street Baptist Church, Grand Rapids Tuesday night were Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Borgerson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Henry, M. B. McPherson, W. W. Gummer, Harry Day, Ray Avery, Lawrence Rutherford, Carl Freyermuth, R. M. Shivel, Theo. Bailey, C. H. Runciman and Carl Runciman. Lynn Clark, a former Lowell teacher, was in charge of the singing.
 Gloria and Flynn Pennock spent Saturday afternoon and evening with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Erb in Delton while their mother, Mrs. Wilbur N. Pennock visited Miss Grace Schreuder at Kalamazoo. On Sunday, Miss Schreuder and Miss Margaret Muir left by bus for Charleston, South Carolina to spend a few days with Loree Pennock. From there they will go on to St. Petersburg, Fla., for a short vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schreuder and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Stimson.

White-Havens

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss June Havens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Havens, and Arthur White, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White, which took place in Ionia on Friday, Feb. 6. The groom's sister, Mrs. Evelyn Parsons, attended them.
 The couple will make their home in Mt. Pleasant, where the groom is employed by the Roosevelt Oil Co. Their many friends extend congratulations and best wishes.

Hackett-Weekes

Harold L. Weekes announces the marriage of his daughter, Phyllis, to H. G. Hackett, son of Mrs. Mabel Hackett of Marnes.
 The ceremony was performed February 4 in the Methodist Chapel at Cheyenne, Wyoming, where Mr. and Mrs. Hackett are making their home at 2903 Warren Street.
 Mrs. Hackett is a graduate of Lowell high school in the class of 1931, Michigan State College in 1935 and attended the American Academy of Art in Chicago. Mr. Hackett also attended Michigan State College.
 Many friends here extend congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Hackett.

Family Night Supper

The Vergennes Methodist Church family night supper held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ryder last Friday evening had a good attendance with forty present. After the supper, the remainder of the evening was spent in singing hymns.

Vergennes Extension Class

The Vergennes Extension Class met at the home of Mrs. Effie Goosen last Tuesday. The lesson for the day was "Nutrition in Defense." Delicious refreshments were served after the business meeting. The next meeting will be Friday afternoon, Feb. 27, at the home of Mrs. Frank Ryder.

Honored at Shower

Mrs. J. E. Hawk was guest of honor at a stork shower given last Friday evening in the private dining room at Richmond's Cafe by Mrs. Nelson Stormzand, Mrs. Bert Ellis, Mrs. Claude Staal, Mrs. Frank Baker, Miss Doris Stormzand and Mrs. Earl Mahoney. About thirty ladies were present. Gifts were played and a light lunch was served. Mrs. Hawk received many lovely and useful gifts.

Altar Society Meets

Mrs. Frank McMahon entertained the St. Mary's Altar Society at her home last Friday. After the business meeting cards were played, with honors going to Mrs. Leo Denny and Mrs. Art Hill.

Social Brevities

Mrs. Libbie Carr was hostess to a group of neighbor ladies at her home in Keene last Thursday. Guests present were Mrs. Joe Mulekatis, Mrs. Earl Hunter and mother, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Will Thompson, Mrs. John Hoover, Mrs. Adrian Vandenhout and Mrs. John Hunter. All reported a very pleasant time. Honors were won by Mrs. Mulekatis and Mrs. Moore.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends for their expressions of sympathy and kindness shown us in our recent bereavement, the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. We especially wish to thank those who sent us cards and flowers.
 Mrs. Robert DeJager and Family.
 BIRTHS
 To Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ross of Grand Rapids, a son, Mark Gordon, born at Bioggett hospital, Feb. 4.

Social Events

Lowell Extension Class
 The Lowell Extension Class met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Hattie Peckham. The leaders very capably presented the lesson on "Attractive Kitchens." Mrs. Viola VanVorst, the nutrition chairman, gave a report on her work. Mrs. Lila Johnson urged all women to register for home defense work at a date to be set in the near future.
 A lesson on "Home Accounts" will be given at the City Hall on Tuesday, Feb. 17, at two o'clock for anyone interested.

Fortnightly Club Annual Dinner

The ladies of the Fortnightly Club held their annual turkey dinner at the home of Mrs. D. H. Outley on Tuesday evening of this week. David Cox of Grand Rapids showed pictures of the Hawaiian Islands which he had taken on a recent trip.

White-Havens

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss June Havens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Havens, and Arthur White, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White, which took place in Ionia on Friday, Feb. 6. The groom's sister, Mrs. Evelyn Parsons, attended them.
 The couple will make their home in Mt. Pleasant, where the groom is employed by the Roosevelt Oil Co. Their many friends extend congratulations and best wishes.

Hackett-Weekes

Harold L. Weekes announces the marriage of his daughter, Phyllis, to H. G. Hackett, son of Mrs. Mabel Hackett of Marnes.
 The ceremony was performed February 4 in the Methodist Chapel at Cheyenne, Wyoming, where Mr. and Mrs. Hackett are making their home at 2903 Warren Street.
 Mrs. Hackett is a graduate of Lowell high school in the class of 1931, Michigan State College in 1935 and attended the American Academy of Art in Chicago. Mr. Hackett also attended Michigan State College.
 Many friends here extend congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Hackett.

Family Night Supper

The Vergennes Methodist Church family night supper held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ryder last Friday evening had a good attendance with forty present. After the supper, the remainder of the evening was spent in singing hymns.

Vergennes Extension Class

The Vergennes Extension Class met at the home of Mrs. Effie Goosen last Tuesday. The lesson for the day was "Nutrition in Defense." Delicious refreshments were served after the business meeting. The next meeting will be Friday afternoon, Feb. 27, at the home of Mrs. Frank Ryder.

Honored at Shower

Mrs. J. E. Hawk was guest of honor at a stork shower given last Friday evening in the private dining room at Richmond's Cafe by Mrs. Nelson Stormzand, Mrs. Bert Ellis, Mrs. Claude Staal, Mrs. Frank Baker, Miss Doris Stormzand and Mrs. Earl Mahoney. About thirty ladies were present. Gifts were played and a light lunch was served. Mrs. Hawk received many lovely and useful gifts.

Altar Society Meets

Mrs. Frank McMahon entertained the St. Mary's Altar Society at her home last Friday. After the business meeting cards were played, with honors going to Mrs. Leo Denny and Mrs. Art Hill.

Social Brevities

Mrs. Libbie Carr was hostess to a group of neighbor ladies at her home in Keene last Thursday. Guests present were Mrs. Joe Mulekatis, Mrs. Earl Hunter and mother, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Will Thompson, Mrs. John Hoover, Mrs. Adrian Vandenhout and Mrs. John Hunter. All reported a very pleasant time. Honors were won by Mrs. Mulekatis and Mrs. Moore.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends for their expressions of sympathy and kindness shown us in our recent bereavement, the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. We especially wish to thank those who sent us cards and flowers.
 Mrs. Robert DeJager and Family.
 BIRTHS
 To Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ross of Grand Rapids, a son, Mark Gordon, born at Bioggett hospital, Feb. 4.

EXTENSION MEMBERS, NOTICE

A meeting will be held in the Lowell City Hall at two o'clock next Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 17, on "Money Management." All extension class members and their friends are invited to attend. Miss Eleanor Denmore, county extension leader, will be in charge.

Official Call For Citizens' Village Caucus

Notice is hereby given that a Citizens' Village Caucus will be held at Lowell City Hall on Monday, Feb. 16, 1942, at 7:30 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination for the following candidates for village offices for the ensuing term: Village president, village clerk, village treasurer, village assessor, all for one year; and three trustees for two years; and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it.
 By order of William Arehart, Fred Gramer, H. N. Briggs, Village Committee.
 Dated Jan. 19, 1942. c38-3c

Reception Was Warm

"And when were you born?" the sergeant asked the recruit.
 "December, 1917," was the reply.
 "Ah," mused the sergeant, "I well remember that winter. It was bitterly cold."
 "Cold!" echoed the recruit. "I'll say it was cold. I was brought by a penguin—the stork couldn't make it!"

High Finance

Mr. Junebride—Why is it that the gingerbread you make from your grandmother's recipe is never twice alike?
 Mrs. Junebride—It isn't my fault. The recipe calls for 10 cents' worth of molasses and half of five cents' worth of ginger and sometimes molasses goes up and ginger goes down.

Definition

"Why do I call 'em the Cutlery family?" Will the daughter spoons, the father forks out the money, and the mother knives the other guests."

Depends

"Don't you think envy is a terrible thing?"
 "No; not if it's envy of someone else for something you possess."

Disproportionate

There was a fair maid with a hat; it was little and ugly and flat. But the charges were fifty—$12.50. Now, what do you know about that?

Paint Job

Movie Queen—Fio, do you think there is any truth to the old saying that everybody is the architect of their own fortune?
 Miss Lighter Partic—Well, I must say that a few cosmetics and a little grease paint have done a lot for you.

Depressing

"They say his new play is charmingly gloomy."
 "Yes, it's the most delightfully hopeless thing I ever saw."

Good Reason

"Boggs says there is only one thing that keeps him from retiring to a farm."
 "And what is that?"
 "He hasn't a farm."

Fish Story

Mrs. Newlywed—Why is lamb so high?
 Rutherford—Well, you see, mum, the college graduates are using all the sheepskins for diplomas.

Slip

Sambo—You know every time ah kiss mah wife she closes her eyes and hollers?
 Rastus—Ah say she does.
 Sambo—What's dat?
 Rastus—Ah say, do she?

NICE GUY

"They say Brown's a fine after dinner speaker."
 "Yes, he always says: 'Waiter, bring me the checks.'"

An Archeologist

Brown (after night out)—When I arrived home last night my wife was awake and promptly went off into hysterics.
 Brown—No, hysterics. She dug up my past.

Knowledge

Milburn—Did you tell your father that I had asked you to marry me?
 Sally (sweetly)—Yes.
 Milburn—And how was he affected?
 Sally—He smiled in a knowing way and then cried: "Brave boy."

Figuratively Talking

Wife—How do you like my new gown? I got it for a ridiculous price.
 Hubby—You mean you got it for an absurd figure.

America's destiny rests squarely on the home.

Are you making the spirit of democracy a living thing in your home?

MOOSE

Valentine Dance
 Saturday Night
 February 14
 for
 Members and Guests

Wit and Humor

BEATING HIM TO IT
 Two school boys were discussing athletics.
 "How high can you jump?" asked one.
 "Just over four feet," explained the other. "What can you do?"
 "Five feet," his friend replied.
 "How about the long jump?"
 "Just about ten feet," said the first.
 "What can you do?"
 "Eleven, easily," was the reply.
 "What's your time for the half-mile?"
 By now the other was a little suspicious.
 "Five seconds better than yours," he said.
Just Waiting
 The cavalry recruit was instructed to bridle and saddle a horse. Ten minutes later the sergeant-major came along for his mount and found the recruit holding the bit close to the horse's head.
 "What are you waiting for?" he roared.
 "Until he yawns," answered the recruit.
Identified
 "Do you know Mrs. Smith's house?" said the stranger to the butcher's boy.
 "Let me see," said the lad.
 "Tain't pork and fat—that's No. 3—and it ain't two pounds of steak and jelly—that's No. 7. I know—it's topside and tender, and don't pay. No. 5, that's it, ma'am."

Insulation Pays for Itself
 —In the Home
 —In the Store
 —In the Farm Building
Help Uncle Sam Help Yourself, by Saving Fuel
Saving Dollars
and Greater Comfort at no Extra Cost
 Available at
Lowell Lumber & Supply
 BRUCE WALTER
 Phone 16 Lowell

Junior Farm Bureau
 The cake social put on by the Junior Farm Bureau, Feb. 5 at the Vergennes Grange Hall, was highly successful. The cakes brought $13.64. Most of the money will be used to fill our Red Cross ambulance quota. The Junior Farm Bureau is also going ahead with its waste paper drive to help fill this same quota. Members having paper should deliver it either to Sam Demers or Donald McPherson whichever is most convenient. Persons wishing to contribute paper to this drive please notify any Junior Farm Bureau member, who will be glad to pick it up. Some very good movies were also shown at this meeting by Mr. Zwerner of the Lowell High school.
 A sleigh ride is planned for the next meeting which will be held on Thursday evening, Feb. 19. If the snow is not sufficient for a sleigh, rubber tired wagon will be used. Members wishing to go will meet at Donald McPherson's at 8:30. Mr. Gummer will give a short talk on patriotism at the Vergennes Grange Hall to end this party. Oris Groenboom and Donald Anderson will be in charge of the sleigh ride. The refreshment committee is as follows: Howard Kropf, Edwin Roth, Donald Lind, and William Myers.
 Oren Ford, Reporter.

WOMEN'S CLUB
 Lois Ann Baker of the Home Economics Department, Consumers Power Co., Grand Rapids, gave a very instructive talk to the Lowell Women's Club which met at the home of Mrs. Mildred C. Davis on N. Monroe Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 4.
 She spoke on giving of our time and efforts for the cause of our Defense and today the assignment was from the Kent County Defense Council, eating for defense. As Miss Baker put it, it is going to be our job as a home keeper to plan better menus, have better marketing and cooking.
 Tea was served with Mrs. F. E. White at the urn. Mrs. White was also chairman for the afternoon.
 The topic for our next meeting will be "Americanism" and will be held at the home of Mrs. George Hale, 314 S. Hudson.

I'm not tired any more

 Healthknot M&D DEES
 Stretch waist band. Watch the gentle lift.
REYNOLDS' MEN'S WEAR
 We give Gold Stamps

CARD OF THANKS
 I wish to thank my neighbors, colleagues and other friends for their many kindnesses and gifts to me during my recent illness.
 Mrs. W. J. Smith.
CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to thank all our neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness shown us in the loss of our home by fire.
 Mr. and Mrs. Otis Whitby.
 Castles in the air are all right until we try to move into them.

HEADQUARTERS CLEARANCE
 of
Pocahontas Slack
 Cash Price $5.50 per ton
 A large supply of Pocahontas Slack now on hand... We will offer this coal for a limited time at only $5.50 a ton.
C. H. RUNCIMAN
 Call 34 Lowell, Michigan Call 152
 Adm—Call 1-0134. No toll charge.

STRAND, LOWELL
 FRI. and SAT., FEB. 13-14
A Ridin' Romancin' Rogue!
GENE AUTRY
 in Sierra Sue
 with SMILEY BURNETTE, FAY MCKENZIE
 ADDED FEATURE
BUSTER CRABBE
 in "Jungle Man"
 With Sheila Darcy
 NEWS
 TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, FEB. 17-18
Once to Every Woman...one great love!
 ALEXANDER KORDA presents Merle OBERON in LYDIA
 with ALAN MARSHAL · JOSEPH COTTON · HANS YARAY · EDNA MAY OLIVER
 Released thru United Artists