er—but the... I have the say."
"Where were you, Miss Trent?" Theodore Grant Junior tilted back in a chair beside the typewriter desk in the administration office and Bruce Harcourt shared at headquarters.

Janice read from her note-book. Grant's voice went on and on till steam-shovel gangs and ditching gangs filed in endless procession through the girl's mind. She stopped for an instant to flex her fingers. Grant noted the surreptitious action.

"I'm sorry, you're such a bird at it I forget that you're not a machine. That will do for the present." He picked up his papers. As he rose, Tong, who had been doing in a pool of sunlight, sprang to his feet, thrust a cold nose into his hand, looked up at him with hooded slant eyes. Grant patted the lady head absentmindedly as he glanced out of the window. The businesslike crispness of his voice changed to compassionate friendliness.

"Ba-goo! There's Millicent Hale. I wish she'd stop hanging round here. She's after Bruce, I'll bet my hat. She's getting on his nerves. He's pretty edgy. My mistake. She's gone on to the Wash Shop probably, praise be to Allah!"

"Mr. Harcourt—are they?" "They are not. But Joe Hale is sore. If he could find the least fault in the character of his superior, Grandville was made in a truck provided by Francis and Melvin Rooker."

Their equipment was set up and the boys spent their time with their various scout duties, the preparation of meals and other activities and they expected to receive one of the highest ratings for their work based on leadership and ingenuity and originality.

SELL YOUR SCRAP RUBBER TO U.S.—RIGHT NOW
NATION-WIDE Scrap Rubber Drive JUNE 15-30
Your country needs it...and it may avert gas rationing

MAZONS OF YONS of discarded and worn out rubber articles are gathering dust in the garages, basements, and attics of American homes... articles useless to you, all-important to the American war effort.

That rubber can be reclaimed—IF YOU'LL TURN IT IN TO THE GOVERNMENT. Here's a real opportunity for you to help speed the day of victory. And there's another side to it—the shadow of nationwide gasoline rationing is upon us. Its necessity in the Midwest is based not on a shortage of gasoline, but on a need to save tires for possible future use. If enough scrap rubber is provided by this drive, nation-wide rationing of gasoline may be averted.

When you bring your scrap rubber to your Standard Oil Dealer, or to any other service station, the rubber will be weighed and you'll get your money at that time. No oil company will receive one penny profit. The difference between the amount you pay and the amount Uncle Sam pays us goes to the USO, Navy Relief, Army Relief and the American Red Cross.

Bring it to your Standard Oil Dealer

A BUSTED HOT WATER BOTTLE May Help Win the War!

★ REMEMBER the old time ballad which says, "For the want of a rider a battle was lost?" Well, we're not going to lose this war, but a leaky hot water bottle may supply the extra ounce of scrap rubber that will more quickly give the Axis the axe.

Uncle Sam wants that old rubber right now! Yes, the government wants every disused or worn out article made of rubber that can be sent to the nation's stock pile, and wants you to help get it there in a hurry.

Oil Industry Is Collecting It! Starting June 15, and continuing through June 30, gasoline stations from coast to coast will help collect scrap rubber and will pay . . .

A penny a pound in spot cash for every pound contributed by you . . . so take all the old rubber you can collect to the nearest gas station today.

None of the oil companies will receive one penny of profit for this service to the nation. Through the cooperation and efforts of thousands of dealers and gasoline company employees, the scrap rubber will be turned over to the government and will be paid for by Uncle Sam on the basis of $25 per ton (2000 pounds).

May Help Avert Gasoline Rationing In Central West. Since a shortage of rubber is considered the main reason for the threatened rationing of gasoline in the central states, this is one important way to do your part, and it may help to ward off the need for curtailment of this vital commodity.

DESTRUCTION... IN SMALL PACKAGES
INCENDIARY BOMBS are little things, far less noisy than the huge demolition bombs but just as destructive when they find their targets. One bombing plane can drop a thousand, each a package of white-hot fire!

Householders are learning how to fight the incendiary bombing of their homes, if it comes. For if hundreds of small fires started at once in a single community, it would take the alert cooperation of everybody to prevent a major conflagration.

The secret of fighting a wide-spread fire is speed. Fire-fighters, volunteers, police and others must be summoned instantly. That cannot be done if the telephone system already is jammed with calls.

So during and right after an air raid, please do not telephone except for vital messages.

Milking A Cow Becomes An Art

There's more to this job of milking a cow than meets the eye. All jokes about faucets forgotten, take the word of a man who has studied cow psychology and the chemistry and other mysteries of why a cow gives milk. Milking is a combination of habit, regularity, speed and wise management, claims C. F. Huffman, dairy nutrition authority at Michigan State College.

A hormone produced by a little gland at the base of the brain puts a product into the blood which travels to the udder and stimulates the muscles surrounding the little saclike glands to contract and squeeze out the milk. The effect of this chemical messenger, Dr. Huffman points out, is of short duration. If the milker does not get the milk while it is under pressure, he does not get it.

No need then to bang a milk stool over a cow's hips if she doesn't "let down" her milk. According to Dr. Huffman, it's the dairyman's fault for not milking her at the proper time or within proper time limits. Milking, likewise, is no time for nodding or day-dreaming.

Cows often get into the habit of giving down milk at a regular signal, like the rattling of a feed cart, starting of the milking machine or when she is eating grain. The whole study aids a dairyman in contributing more to war production without adding extra animals or feeding much extra feed.

Other tips suggested by Huffman include:

- If milking twice daily, space the periods 12 hours apart.
- If a cow's teats begin to leak before she is milked, give her a little more priority in the milking order.
- Presence of a strange dog in the barn at milking time may keep a cow from giving down her milk. It's an involuntary reaction and no cause for swinging the milk stool or aiming a boot at the cow.
