

Being a Collection of Various Topics of Local and General Interest

HOW ABOUT US!

THERE ARE MANY large cities making plans now for building better towns, after the war. They are preparing for postwar projects, for repairing, remodeling, rebuilding. They are having meetings to determine Department of Health moves, Chamber of Commerce conferences for civic improvements that deal with schools, churches, recreation centers. Manufacturers are taking action on conversion from wartime products to peacetime employment. Bureaus of the government are making surveys and contacts with the cities for coping with problems that arise.

Just because we are a community of less population does not mean that we can't do some postwar planning here in Lowell. This is a prosperous town with public-spirited people living in and about it and though our main interest is to get the war over and the peace settled, there are still postwar problems to face and preparations to make the best use of opportunities that will arise to benefit the town. We can work on ideas and suggestions today. No town is too small that it can't organize business men into assuming a responsible place in deciding what we need, what are our aims in order to make us a more prosperous community. Suggestions have been offered by the Department of Commerce such as, the building of new homes, so badly needed in Lowell, finding out what employment possibilities, permanent and temporary, we will have, what remodeling, repairing and civic improvements will come our way, what chances for manufacture after the war, the need for folks to build reserves of money and ideas for afterwards, of strengthening present business. This is, none of it, too far advanced for us. We are progressive and feel that we can play our role in making our town a better one.

Indian Princess To Visit Schools

Princess Wataasa, a full blooded Chippewa Indian girl will visit 20 schools in Grand Rapids and Kent County between November 29 and December 3. She will work here under the auspices of the Grand Rapids Anti-Tuberculosis Society, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association of Lansing and the various school authorities. She will teach health to students in the elementary grades through Indian Lore and legends. This is one of the health education services made possible through the sale of tuberculous Christmas Seals which will start throughout Kent County on November 22, when seals will be mailed to 50,000 homes and business places throughout the county. The princess has taken a stage name which means "laughing water". She will be dressed in complete, authentic Chippewa costume with bead work which was done by her grandmother who lives in a tepee in northern Wisconsin. She has various Indian articles to show her audience and her stories make such an impression that she always receives a lot of fan mail. Through arrangements made with W. W. Gummer, school superintendent, she will address Lowell students and also appear at Carl school in Ada township, Mrs. Gladys Abraham in charge.

Kent War Chest Overflows Top County Exceeds Its Quota By $90,264; Cascade-tp. Makes Proud Showing

Lowell citizens may well be proud of the fact that their National War Fund budget of $6,000 was raised, with $25 to spare, according to C. H. Runciman, chairman of Region No. 7, which, besides Lowell, included Vergennes, Ada and Cascade townships. Frank Stephens was chairman of Lowell township, and Tom Anderson acted as secretary.

The largest percentage of any township in the county was raised by Cascade, headed by C. T. McDonald. Their budget was $1,000 and they raised $1,840. Mr. McDonald was presented a cup for his very fine achievement.

Vergennes township with Adelbert Odell as chairman also exceeded its budget of $783 by raising $805, and Ada township, with a budget of $730, went over the top with $1,050 under the chairmanship of Alice Anderson.

The total budget for all areas outside the city of Grand Rapids was $48,000. $51,934 was raised. Over 600 pledges were taken in Lowell, which is considered excellent in view of the fact that the amount raised last year was less, being $5,200, and many of last year's subscribers are now residing temporarily elsewhere. Credit should be given the Hudson Manufacturing Company which matched dollar for dollar the total gifts of their employees.

A close race for first place developed between Lowell and Sparta, with Sparta finally topping Lowell's contributions by .88 of one per cent. Kent County as a whole exceeded its goal of $770,796 by $90,264, with a total of $861,060 raised.

Recruits Wanted For WAC Service

A Women's Army Corps recruiting team will address an assembly of interested women at the Lowell City Hall on Monday, November 22, at 8:00 P. M. in connection with the current recruiting drive for WACs. The WAC is recruiting women for 155 types of jobs in the army. In addition an opportunity is now being offered to women and girls of experience in any critical, mechanical or specialized field, for enlistment directly into the Air Corps.

Student Nurse Fund Now Lacks Only $18

An additional dollar from the Lowell Women's Club towards the Student Nurses' Fund has raised the total contributions to $322.70, leaving only $18 to be raised before the goal of $340 is realized.

Mrs. W. W. Gummer, chairman of the fund for Lowell, is hopeful that the full amount can be raised before Christmas, and will be grateful for further contributions. The fund is kept in account at Blodgett hospital to be drawn as needed.

FEED VALUES LISTED

As an aid to Michigan livestock men attempting to find sufficient and economical feed substitutes for beef cattle, hogs, horses and sheep, a list of recommendations has been prepared by the Michigan State College animal husbandry department. Comparative values for substitutes are included. Copies are to be distributed to county agricultural agents, country elevator operators, feed mixers and to livestock farmers on the extension mailing list. Farmers may obtain copies by writing to the department of the college at East Lansing or by contacting their local county agricultural agent.

Yesterday's Thanksgiving The Modern Thanksgiving

The traditions of the Thanksgiving holiday called for a pilgrimage to "the old family hearthstone". Scattered members of a family were supposed, in so far as was possible or convenient, to meet in the old home whence they had come. There were gorgeous reunions and big dinners.

Need of Waste Fat A Serious Matter

An appeal to housewives to take the waste fats collection campaign more seriously has been issued by L. O. Griffin, county chairman in charge of this effort for the Salvage Section of the War Production Board.

Griffin stated that Kent County ranks nineteenth among counties of the state in this campaign with only 63.4 per cent of its quota of 29,434 pounds collected during October. Such nearby counties as Muskegon, Ottawa, Mecosta and Benzie all have better records than Kent, Griffin reported.

The fats are used for 200 direct war purposes, principal of which is the conversion into glycerine which is used in the manufacture of explosives, sulfite treatments, tannic acid jellies for burns, depth charge rocket mechanisms and camouflage paint.

Griffin pointed out that if every housewife would save a tablespoonful of waste fat a day, it would be the equivalent of a pound a month and would mean that Kent would go well over its quota. The fats are to be sold to meat dealers at prices stipulated by the WPA and then turned over to rendering companies.

Union Thanksgiving Service, Nov. 24, 7:30

A Union Thanksgiving service will be held at the Lowell Methodist church, Wednesday, Nov. 24 at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Paul F. Voelker, President of the University of Grand Rapids will give the address. Rev. C. E. Follock, pastor of the church will lead, and other ministers of the community will have parts in the service. The public is cordially invited. Dr. Voelker is well known in this part of Michigan, and can be depended upon to bring a message interesting and inspiring.

In his Thanksgiving Proclamation our President says: "Our forges and hearths and mills have wrought well; and our weapons have not failed. Our farmers, victory gardeners and crop volunteers have gathered and stored a heavy harvest in the barns and bins and cellars. Our total food production for the year is the greatest in the annals of our country."

He concludes: "May we, on Thanksgiving day and on every day, express our gratitude, and zealously devote ourselves to our duties as individuals and as a nation. May each of us dedicate his utmost efforts to speeding the victory which will bring new opportunities for peace and brotherhood among men."

Trapping Season Opens December 1

The trapping season in Lower Michigan starts December 1. Local fur buyers state that some people in this vicinity have confused this date with the opening date of northern Michigan where the season starts November 15. A good way for a trapper to get into trouble with the law is to start trapping before December 1.

THREE INJURED IN CRASH NEAR MURRAY LAKE

Three residents of route 1, Lowell, were injured Sunday when Miss Mary Bierl, 20, attempted to make a car driving on the wrong side of the road near Murray lake, and her own auto went out of control and overturned.

Miss Bierl, her mother, Mrs. Catherine Bierl, 42, and Mrs. Myrtle Culver, 43, sustained cuts and bruises. Mrs. Culver also suffered a deep head gash.

Deputy Sheriff George Laman said a car which had been parked on the wrong side of the road was being driven away by Charles Horton, 36, of Grand Rapids, when Miss Bierl's car came over the hill and, in order to avoid striking it, she swerved off the road.

MUST REPORT

Citizens of Kent county who own any property in foreign countries are notified by Postmaster Fred J. Hosley, that they must file a report of those foreign holdings to the U. S. Treasury Department before December 1. This information is to their advantage and will assist the military and civil governments in making postwar adjustments.

Sale of 1944 motor vehicle license plates will not start until Jan. 5, and half-year plates will not be available until Feb. 1, according to Mrs. John Fahrni, manager of the Lowell branch of the Secretary of State's office. The 1944 Michigan licenses will consist of one plate to be affixed to the rear of each vehicle. Its colors are white and maroon.

The postoffice department has sent out word that November is the month for Christmas mailing this year. Folks who ordinarily wait until a week or two before Christmas before buying and sending gifts and greetings, will cause great congestion of postal work if they adhere to this habit this year. One would think most people could as well get their Christmas gifts within a very short time, and get them off promptly. Hard worked postal people would look at such a change as a godsend.

The deer season opened Monday and several hunters are conspicuous by their absence from Main-st. Gas rationing and inability to get away from work for a long enough time has forced many nimrods to hunt their buck closer home than their favorite northern peninsula hunting grounds. Hunters who surmount wartime difficulties in reaching the hunting area seem to be more determined than ever to bring back a buck to fill out the family meat ration, and according to conservation field reports they should have a good chance of doing so because light starvation losses and a good summer have left the deer herd in excellent condition in most areas.

Dairy Payments At Places Listed

Subsidy Checks Available To Kent Farmers Selling Milk or Butterfat

Dairy feed payments are available to Kent county farmers producing and selling milk or butterfat. The rate of payment is 30 cents per cwt. for whole milk and 4 cents a pound for butterfat sold. Kent county payments for the three months may total $63,420.

Reason for this payment is to bring about the desired increase in milk production by aiding farmers in their cost of feed, according to John McCabe, chairman of the Kent county agricultural adjustment administration committee. Meetings are scheduled in various sections of Kent county and at such time applications will be accepted. Payments will be made promptly in the form of a sight draft. In this way, the Kent county AAA committee will be able to save the producer as much travel and inconvenience as is possible.

First payment will be made on whole milk or butterfat produced and sold during the period of Oct. 1 to Oct. 31, 1943, inclusive. Second payment according to the present set-up will be made on whole milk or butterfat produced and sold during the period of Nov. 1 to Dec. 31, 1943, inclusive, during January, 1944. No payments will be made for less than $1.

First payments will be made at the following meeting places in this area. Producers should bring their sales slips for the period of Oct. 1 to Oct. 31, inclusive, to the place most convenient.

Truck-Train Crash Lowell Youth Hurt

Jerald W. Petersen, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Petersen of Lowell, R. 1, narrowly escaped death Monday, when, according to Grand Rapids officers, he drove his truck in the path of a fast-moving New York Central passenger train at the Kirtland street crossing in Grand Rapids.

It is reported that the locomotive hurled the truck 54 feet, throwing the driver out of the truck cab and depositing him and the truck some distance from the tracks on the right of way.

Petersen was said at St. Mary's hospital to be suffering from scalp wounds and body bruises.

New Directive Affects Service Men on Farms

A recent directive from Washington changed the set-up of the U. S. D. A. War Board in each county throughout the entire United States. The selective service work which has been handled by the War Board and the applicants for release from farm work to work in industry during the four winter months of the year has been turned over to the County Agricultural Agent.

Persons interested in obtaining releases or farm boys who are directed to report to make out questionnaires should go to the County Agricultural Agents' office. Work to be handled through the AAA office includes: Farm slaughter permits, farm machinery rationing, productive good work including livestock, poultry, dairy goals, rationing of building supplies, fertilizers and other agricultural materials and facilities, also other things.

Pines, Yesterday and Today

In 1825 Frank Church, of Tyrone township and L. C. Palmer, County Forester, made a variety test planting of White, Norway and Jack Pine. Also some larch (tamarack) on the Church farm. The planting covered four acres. We have watched with interest this planting since that time and have taken many people to see it. All the trees except the larch have done exceedingly well. The Jack Pine started out in fine shape and today are the largest of the three. The Norways came along well, leaving the White Pine bringing up the rear. The soil was not suited to the larch. They never did so well but if you want to see a beautiful yellow fall color see the larch when it has changed its green color to yellow and is shedding its leaves.

The Norway (or known as the Red Pine) has been catching up to the Jacks and the White Pine is catching up to the Norway Pine. We were talking to Mr. John W. Blodgett about this disparity in the growth of Norway and White Pine. He laughed and said, "Wait a few years and you will see the White Pine catching up." And that is happening. In the Church planting we found the White Pine forging ahead. This is also true in the Lowell school forest and private plantings as well.

Last week I stopped to see Frank Church, who by the way is about as spry and alert at 80 years old, as any one I ever saw. Hope this county farm agent is going as good at that age. We went over to his pine planting. Sometime back he pruned part of the Norway planting, that is he cut the lower dead branches out for a height of 3 to 5 feet. It certainly improved the looks. The cyclone that hit that area several years ago passed just north of this pine. All through the Jack planting trees were pulled down but not a White or Norway pine was affected. The Jacks were simply tipped over showing a very shallow root system.

While we were looking at this planting of pine, Mr. Church told me how as a boy he saw the White pine of that region cut and put in the Rogue River. Incidentally, Frank Church has lived all but two years of his life on his farm. The pine he saw rolled in the Rogue River brought $4 a thousand. I asked what the men in the woods were paid. "Fifty cents a day and keep, with 10 and 12 hours a day's work," were the prevailing wages. Just East of the Church planting are two school forests of Kent City and Cedar Springs. We want to see them. The Kent City planting has been made in a second growth of oak and poplar. For the first two years the boys scaped that and removed about 12 to 18 inches of sod before planting. Then my attention was called to some plantings where the trees were just spudded into the soil, sod or no sod, and growth had been fine. Last spring we let the Kent City boys plant that way, but not with a little apprehension on our part. We checked this planting and found it in good shape. Only saw six dead trees. The planting made in 1941 and 1942 were coming along in good shape.

Then to finish the afternoon we visited the Cedar Springs planting. Except for a quick grass sod area it is coming fine. Last spring we were unable to get ground furrowed as the Cedar Springs boys spudded in their trees which for the most part are coming along fine. Frank Church liked the way these school plantings were coming and made some valuable suggestions as to how the Kent City planting could be handled in the future.

BEAN ORDER REVISED

An amendment to a federal food order now requires country bean shippers to set aside only one car of beans for purchase by designated governmental agencies or authorized purchasers for each carload delivered into regular trade channels. In consumer channels, dry peas have been removed from the ration point list. The record crop of beans also has led to reduction to two points per pound for beans, instead of the four points previously required from consumers.

BEAN ORDER REVISED

In cities, pedestrian deaths account for over half the death toll. Nearly half the pedestrians killed were crossing in the middle of the block or coming from behind parked cars.

Someone Tells about a young man who has entered military service, who was recently told that his performance and ability were considered outstanding. That statement started the question: "What do you know about that young man?" It was noted that that fellow had a habit around here and in his work, of seeing things that needed to be done and doing them. Some people go through life with blind eyes to such questions. They do not often notice defects in the work being done, or the places where they live. If they did notice them, they would not probably do anything about it, or feel able to do so. It is a great gift to see the things that need to be done, and to be able to take hold and do them.

Professors and teachers do not use that skilled language, as education teaches that simplicity is better understood. Some writers in needlessly ponderous and involved sentences and learned terms, which ordinary people do not understand. Difficulty in understanding such language does not detract from the fact that it is so profound. Sometimes it means that the writer has not learned to write good English.

Notice to Correspondents and Other Reporters. Our government has called upon all newspapers to conserve on print paper in order to aid the war effort. Ledger correspondents have been serving their respective communities very creditably in the past and we know that they will continue to do so in the future by giving the really important news. PROMPT BUYING OF PLANT FOOD IS KEY TO BIGGER '44 CROP. CHICAGO.—The wartime slogan, "Food will win the war," might logically be amended to "Plant food will win the war," since our nation's fertilizer supply has taken such a heavy toll from the war. According to a statement made public by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, "Farmers, as well as food production experts, realize that the use of fertilizer is one of the most effective means of obtaining an increased agricultural output to meet the great war needs of the present."

Those men who signed that document called it "the pursuit of Happiness." The right that every man was to enjoy in his new country was the right to pursue happiness. To roll up his sleeves and go after it and struggle and win with his own two hands and his wits.

Today, there are those who voice other words. Words not of courage or strength or faith. Words of despair. We are too wise, too old, too civilized, they say, to pursue happiness. We have inherited the right to sit back and have happiness brought to us—decked out and trussed up like a roasted turkey on a silver platter. A dead turkey.

My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my heart and my flesh cry out for the living God. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 228): "Sooner or later we shall learn that the letters 'm' and 'n' flint capacity are forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in soul, in matter instead of in Spirit."

State Laws Passed to Ease Manpower Shortage
Bulk of state labor legislation adopted this year was designed to ease the labor shortage. Its bulk, too, are anything but clearly defined against keeping pigeons in congested districts probably unjustified, but their enforcement is all but impossible.
Because the pigeon, like the English sparrow and the starling, feeds its life-preservation in the instinct to live with men. The pigeon is a free agent. Everywhere there is a building, or a steple, or overhang, there is its safe harbor. In the very cities that prohibit the raising of pigeons, pigeons belong to nobody make free with the city itself. They are the most indefatigable of squatters. They make friends with men. They are fed by children. They are as tame as puppies.
For protection, their wings, on which they swoop and curve and whirl and drop at animated poems. A sudden noise sends them hitting into the air, but their confidence is never shaken. They cannot be hurt, or poisoned or exterminated because they have learned that for their own safety man cannot threaten their success.
And after all that is more eye filling than a flock of pigeons in the sunlight, or strutting on a lawn, or diving in wide circles in the sheer joy of flight against a background of clouds!

Keep Your Hens Laying, Poultrymen Are Advised
Because the war has greatly increased the need for eggs, it will be important for poultry owners to keep their layers in all production this summer. If possible, rather than permit them to slump in egg yield as the hot weather comes.
Layers now entering the last few months of the laying year are producing a maximum number of large eggs. These are particularly valuable and their production must be encouraged and enhanced.
Feed prices are relatively high so poultrymen should be sure that they maintain their flocks for the summer months only strong, vigorous, healthy hens capable of good egg production if given the proper chance.
There is always a tendency for egg shells to drop with the coming of the summer months. New pullets are scarcely yet ready for large egg production. The older layers must furnish the needed eggs during June, July and August.
Keep 'em laying. This can be done by providing comfortable quarters which are well ventilated, clean, sanitary and well lighted.
If you want a bird to try one. Phone your news to the Ledger.

Avoid Delay in Program For Canning Tomatoes
One to two gallons of tomatoes should be handled and there should be no delay in any step of the canning program. The tomatoes should be pre-cooked at about 170 to 180 degrees Fahrenheit or, if no thermometer is available, let the tomatoes simmer until softened. They should not be boiled.
The softened, hot tomatoes should be put through a fine sieve at once. A bowl or cone type sieve is recommended because it allows the least amount of air to be incorporated in the pulp. If the tomato juice is given to an infant or an invalid, salt should be omitted. Otherwise, one-half to one teaspoon of salt may be added to each quart.
After the tomatoes are put through the sieve, the juice should be rebated at once. If glass containers are used, heat the juice to boiling, pour into the sterilized containers, and add salt. Process for five minutes.
If tin cans are used for the juice should be heated to 180 to 190 degrees, poured into the cans, sealed and allowed to process for five minutes. No head space should be left in either the glass or tin container.

Suggestions For Cooking Venison

This year housewives will want to make the most of the extra meat ration provided by the buck the family hunter brings home. For tender cuts of round, loin or shoulder, here is a suggested recipe:

Roasting—1. Season with salt and pepper. 2. Place on rack in uncovered pan, fat side up. 3. Do not add water—do not cover. 4. Extra fat may be added to venison. Bacon strips or beef suet may be laid across the top. 5. Roast in slow oven (300-350° F.), allowing 20-25 minutes per pound. Turning the roast aids uniform cooking.

For less tender cuts of shoulder, neck or breast, try this tested recipe:

Braising—1. Season with salt and pepper, rub with flour. 2. Brown on all sides in hot fat. 3. Add a small quantity of water (about one cup). 4. Cover closely. 5. Cook very slowly until tender. Turn the meat occasionally. Time, usually two to three hours.

Nothing' Doing

Patrons of a coffee shop found its doors locked, and the following sign was displayed: "No Coffee. No Sugar. No Meat. No Help. No Oil. No Heat. No Profit. If you want a square meal, join the army."

When your enamel pans become discolored, clean with a paste of salt and vinegar.

It pays to advertise in the Ledger.

Grandville Upset By Lowell, 14 to 12

According to the Dope Sheet, Lowell should play all of its football games on Armistice Day. Last year Lowell celebrated the occasion by knocking Grandville out of the championship title 14 to 13.

This year the Lowell invasion forces twisted the Bulldogs' tail to the tune of 14 to 12, thereby clinching 3rd place in league play.

After receiving the opening kickoff Grandville marched with evil intent to Lowell's 13-yard line. A lateral pass misfired when Roth scampered from the Lowell backfield to intercept the ball and ran 87 yards for the initial score of the game. Schreuer plunged over for the extra counter.

A few plays later Lowell's attack carried them to the Bulldog 5-yd. line. A fumbled ball bounded into the end zone where Storzmann pounced on it for the Red and White's 2nd touchdown. Schreuer once more converted, thus scoring those precious points after touchdown which mean victory for the Red Wings.

Lowell spent the rest of the afternoon trying to catch the flying Dutchmen, Zondevan and Capt. Van Valkenburg. The latter, a two-year all-conference man, plunged over for a marker in the 2nd quarter, but Lowell held a 14 to 6 lead at the half.

The third period did not produce any scores for either team. In the final quarter Van Valkenburg launched a powerful line-snap-hug attack to set up a touchdown by Wisner from the 1-yard line.

Aided by Collins' fine punting and a stubborn defense Lowell repulsed further attack from the aroused Bulldogs and grabbed the decision.

No team this year was able to score more than two touchdowns against Lowell, who closed the season with the following record: Wyoming 12, Lowell 0; Ionia 6, Lowell 0; Lee High 0, Lowell 0; Grandville 6, Lowell 20; Rockford 6, Lowell 7; Godwin 6, Lowell 27; East G. R. 13, Lowell 0; Grandville 12, Lowell 14.
