

A goodly number of young folks are weeding onions, picking strawberries, and in various other ways helping out the local farmers during the help shortage, and doing a good job at it too, according to reports.

Neat renovations are going on in the store building at 206 E. Main st., recently purchased by R. G. Chrouh, which will be occupied by his Radio Service in the not too distant future.

Home grown strawberries began making their appearance on the local market the past week-end. It's really shortcake time when the home grown varieties appear—but the long price almost spoils our appetite. Later—the price dropped to 30c. Yesterday.

Ernie Pyle, famed war correspondent, was among the 17 reporters and photographers assigned to advance units of the American forces invading France, the War Department announced in Washington Friday. The first dispatch to be received from Mr. Pyle was received Monday and same will be found on page 2 of this issue.

Some of our local business concerns are reporting the greatest volume of business in history. One business man reports that every Saturday for months past the cash register at his place has shown in excess of 300 sales to customers, or an average of one sale every two minutes during the 10-hour day that they are open for business.

The Michigan Methodist Conference held in Lansing, Sunday, returned the Rev. C. E. Pollock to the pastorate of the Lowell Methodist church for his fourth year. This is good news, not only for the members of the Lowell and Vergennes churches, but to people generally. The Rev. John Claus, venerable pastor of Zion Methodist Church, was also returned for his 19th year.

Work on the new King Mill continues to move forward at a steady pace. The construction of floors in the three south ends of the new grain elevator is just about completed, also the coiling on the roof of the mill proper. The head house, now being constructed, will further emphasize the skyscraper appearance of the mill when completed.

Approximately 200 elevator men, grain, bean and feed dealers are expected to attend a meeting of Michigan elevator men sponsored by C. H. Runciman company of Lowell, Monday, June 26, at Cascade Country club. The afternoon meeting will include speakers of note from various sections of the country, and in the evening Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College will be the principal speaker.

Householders are warned by the office of defense transportation to fill their coal bins during the summer if they wish to have a supply during the winter. The shortage of motor trucks and drivers available for coal distribution is expected to reach a critical stage by the beginning of the cold season and orders for coal should be placed with dealers now to enable them to make deliveries during the summer.

From reports heard from farmers in this vicinity, it appears certain that more navy beans will be produced this year in the Lowell area, perhaps to the extent of breaking all previous records. Our farmers deserve much credit for the patriotic manner in which they are responding in producing food in support of the war. The June crop report estimates that the wheat crop will also be big, perhaps even exceeding the billion bushel record made in World War I.

HONORING FATHER
SUNDAY, JUNE 18, is observed this year as Father's Day. It is an occasion when the children should say nice things to Father. There are attractive gifts they can make, and he will welcome them, and they show that love is real. There is one thing he highly values which does not cost any money, and that is words of appreciation and thanks for all he has done.

Also he appreciates it when the youngsters carry out his ideas, and accept his suggestions, and are governed by his judgment. Good conduct and earnest work in school and on the job are ways of showing that the children love their father and appreciate all he does. Young people should take pains to do these things now, and not wait until some time when he has passed on and can no more receive their gifts and hear their words of thanks. There is sometimes bitter regret when a father passes away, and children feel that they have not fully appreciated what he has done.

News of Our Boys

Corp. Wm. Dawson is home from Camp Polk, La., on a 14-day furlough.

Bruce Myers and Robert Kropp who enlisted in the Naval Reserve class V-6 last week, go to Detroit this week Friday for assignment.

Sgt. Lester Stauffer of Triax Field, Madison, Wis., spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stauffer.

A/C Howard T. Thurlall, 820 W. Main St., is now enrolled as an aviator cadet in the pre-flight school at Maxwell Field, Alabama, for nine weeks of intensive military, physical and academic training.

Pvt. Harold Raymor came last week from Alabama to spend a 10-day furlough with Mrs. Raymor and other relatives, and was transferred to Mississippi on his return to service.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roth, Lowell, R. 2, received a box this week from their son, Cpl. Allen Roth in Italy, containing a silk bedspread, bracelet and ring, and a lovely tinted drawing of himself, made by an artist, which is highly prized by his parents.

Hopeful news was received in Lowell this week Monday regarding Lt. William J. Lalley, son of Mr. Elizabeth Lalley, who was reported missing in action, April 29, while serving as a bomber pilot over the European continent. The hopeful letter came from a friend in England, who stated that he had good reasons for feeling that Bill was alive and all right, but because of censorship regulations, could not go further into detail.

The Ledger is pleased to acknowledge another greeting from Curly Howard, this time from Seattle in which he says: "Read that nice article by Bruce McMahon. Lots of luck to him. Hope to run across Doc MacDonell and Giles Sinclair soon. Give the boys my regards." (Editor's Note: We advise Curly to look around the Aleutians for a man with a heavy black beard, and that will be our own Doc Mac. As for Giles, he's gone to Annapolis.)

Mrs. Mary E. Wykes Laid to Rest at 79

Mrs. Mary E. Wykes, a resident of Lowell for the past twenty-six years, passed away early Sunday morning, June 11 at her home here, after an illness of several years' duration, during the past few years of which she had been confined to her home.

She was held in high esteem by all who knew her, and during her active years took part in the work of the Lowell Women's Club and the Garden Lore Club. She also was active in the Lowell Congregational church.

Mrs. Wykes was born in Grand Rapids August 1, 1864. In February, 1912 she was married to Thomas E. Wykes of Grand Rapids and resided with him in that city until 1918 when they moved to Lowell, where Mr. Wykes passed away in 1928.

She was patient and cheerful during her long years of illness, the last six years of which she was faithfully cared for by Mrs. W. E. Hall.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Chas. Atwater of Upper Mountclair, N. J., and two stepsons, Claude and Thomas E. Wykes, jr., both of Grand Rapids.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the late residence, services being conducted by the Rev. Donald Carey, Rector of Grace Episcopal church, Grand Rapids, of which Mrs. Wykes was a lifelong member. Burial in Oak Hill cemetery, Grand Rapids.

OUR CARRIER FLEET

ONE MAGNIFICENT section of the United States naval fleet consists of 65 aircraft carriers. Their combined flight deck equals 120 football fields. The possession of this great power enables our ships to range over the greater part of the Pacific ocean, and to give the various Jap island positions a terrific drubbing. Meanwhile the main fleet of the Japs remains hidden, and does not dare come out and attack these vessels.

Some day, which is not probably many months distant, a fleet of our transports will show up at the Philippine islands, and plenty of our aircraft carriers will be there to protect it. With this heavy air protection, these men will not probably have great difficulty in establishing themselves on land. Those islands will return to the possession of this country and the Philippines.

Do not start a fire in the heat of the day. Wait until evening, when fire burns more slowly.

Let a shave and a shine be your first morning investments.

See Danger Ahead in Sales Tax Diversion

Claimed Adoption of Amendment Would Bring Crisis in State Finances and Detrimental to Local Governments

Michigan Press Association Service
Gene Allenman, Manager

Vigorous opposition to home rule for Wayne county, likely to be a constitutional amendment for the November general election, is indicated from upstate rural areas.

Next Tuesday (June 20) the Michigan Institute for Local Government, headed by State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and made up of state leaders of county officials, will be asked to take a definite stand on the issue. Other propositions before the institute, which was founded only a few months ago, will be the three proposed constitutional amendments designed to divert one-third of the state sales tax revenues to local governments: Municipalities, townships, counties and schools.

At a meeting of the institute's executive committee last week, to which the press was admitted, M. B. McPherson, acting as spokesman for the township supervisors, advocated that the institute go on record by committee action, condemning the Wayne county home rule plan. Action was deferred until June 29 in order to give the entire membership an opportunity to weigh the arguments. However, sympathy with the anti-home rule viewpoint was generally expressed by county officials last week.

State Treasurer Brake, who is chairman of the state tax study advisory committee, reported that the committee would complete its study within 60 days but that no recommendation was possible by Monday, June 19, date for the special session of the state legislature.

He warned county officials flatly that adoption of the sales tax amendments would automatically invoke a crisis in state finances, resulting in alternatives of reducing vital public services of state government or increasing state taxes—referring obviously to the state sales tax itself.

It is Brake's belief that the institute should take a stand on this and any issue that involves the welfare of local governments, regardless of whether it is or may become controversial among public officials and the public. This attitude is shared by many others, including Mr. McPherson who sought to have the institute endorse the township supervisors' official resolution with respect to opposition to Wayne county home rule.

Fearful that the Institute might become another "pressure group" or "super lobby" at Lansing, the institute's public relations committee has recommended that the institute should not become involved in legislative or political issues and should confine its functions to that of a "clearing house" for the exchange of ideas and information between its members to the end that through open discussion a better understanding of the problems of local government may be acquired by its members.

The committee submitted recommendations, both of which were approved, whereby the Institute would sponsor training courses to be held late in the year at Michigan State College and would emphasize educational study through loan of

Consult County Map Before Buying Lands

Michigan's land boom, a result of war inflation, may bring headaches to many investors, in the opinion of the agricultural committee of the Michigan State Planning commission, unless the land is utilized according to its potential use.

At a recent meeting of the commission, authorities of Michigan State college reported that a land use map has been compiled for each county in Michigan and that a copy is available at the office of the local county agricultural agent.

These maps show the location of lands not now in farms and not suitable for farm use, as well as the location of existing farms that are not recommended for continuation in farm use.

"Before you buy farm lands, consult the county land use map" is the commission's advice. If it is heeded, many investors will avoid needless grief and save many dollars.

Prisoners of War On Nearby Farms

There is a beehive of activity these days on the Lamplin Union Farm, Keene-tp., with the employment of about forty school children from Lowell and Saranac for the weeding of the onion crop. Mr. Lamplin says, "We are certainly grateful for this assistance on the home front."

Mr. Lamplin also states that there are about twenty-five German prisoners of war from the Lake Odessa camp also engaged in the same work. These boys (which they are for the most part) are husky, happy, active individuals who do their work well, seeming to prefer work to concentration.

Paul Cahoon has ten war prisoners working on his farm south of Saranac, and Link Rush, who lives north of Saranac also has 30 to 40 war prisoners at work, and they both state that the men are doing good work. One prisoner says that he is surprised at the way everything is motorized in this country, and at the speed with which work is accomplished.

CARE OF EGGS

Eggs for market or home use need more care in summer than in winter when freezing is the most important danger. Eggs should not be washed before storage or during sorting for market or table use. Water destroys the protective film that keeps out air and odors. Instead, eggs should be wiped off with a dry, rough cloth such as old toweling. Storage even temporarily should be in an open bowl or wire basket in a cool place.

Famous Ernie Pyle Is Now Writing For Ledger Readers

With interest in the invasion of Western Europe now at high pitch, Ledger readers will welcome the addition in the Ledger of the lively, vital, personal column of news by Ernie Pyle. Ernie Pyle is one of this war's most brilliant and resourceful front-line correspondents. His columns have been quoted editorially from coast to coast, and editors recognize that their value to the folks at home is incalculable. His column gives the impression that it was written only for his home town paper. It's so personal—meaning it has to do mostly with our soldiers and sailors. For Ernie Pyle leaves the official news to the regular news writers and writes about what strikes him personally as he roams about, not too far from the front lines.

Fifth War Loan On Flying Start

In common with the rest of the country the Fifth War Loan in Kent County is off to a flying start. Personal calls on every household in rural Kent county will carry the message of the Fifth War Loan campaign and its importance in the current phases of the war, according to plans announced by R. H. Krause of Rockford, drive chairman in Kent county outside Grand Rapids.

"Farmers are responding splendidly to the war bond call, just as they have responded to the call for increased food production," Krause pointed out. "The drive, coming in the midst of their busiest season, finds them working from before daybreak to after dark, but they have shown a willingness to give additional time for this important job. After all, they have sons, brothers and neighbors fighting alongside the boys from the cities and they want to give them every ounce of support that's required."

The State Savings Bank and the Lowell postoffice report that applications for bonds have been coming in rapidly and earlier than in previous drives, indicating that citizens in all walks of life are determined to back up our fighting men with war material up to the day of final victory.

Choice Garden Lots Ready For Everyone

The Victory Garden acreage donated by C. H. Runciman, is now ready for planting. There is no charge or red tape for anyone to have the use of this ground. The plots measure 25 x 35 feet, and a dollar's worth of seed will fill one. That particular kind of roll holds the moisture, and therefore will withstand a lot of heat.

Just call Mrs. Norma Bergerson, phone 281, president of the Lowell Garden Lore Club, and she will be very glad to assign you a garden space. Besides the pleasure of having fresh vegetables for the table, home canned vegetables will be necessary this coming winter, because all signs point to less commercially canned goods for civilians. Most of the Victory Gardens were not planted until July 1st or later, last year—so there is still plenty of time. The ground is all fertilized, ploughed and dragged. Come on—Gardeners.—Mrs. Robert D. Hahn, publicity chairman.

CORN BORER LOSS HUGE

Corn borers in 1943 caused a loss of more than 33 million dollars on farms in Michigan, the eastern part of the corn belt and in northeastern states.

NO MATCH FOR THE BUCK

Raymond and George Geiger, who live near Smyrna, captured a live buck the other day, which they did not hold very long. The buck was a big fellow and gave the boys quite a tussle before breaking loose and disappearing in the woods to join its mate.

It's refreshing. Drink more Lowell Creamery pasteurized milk.

Congregationalists to Hold Big Meeting

The big biennial meeting of the General Council of Congregational Christian Churches in America will be held June 21-28 in Park Congregational Church at Grand Rapids, under the general theme, "The Church and the Post-War World."

Library Association At Bostwick Lake

Annual Meeting to Be Held at Six O'clock Next Monday, June 19, With Potluck Supper; Interesting Program Planned

The annual meeting of the Kent County Library Association will be held at the Bostwick Lake Congregational Church next Monday, June 19. A potluck dinner will be served in the dining room of the church at six o'clock. All attending will bring their own table service. A beverage will be served by a committee of the association.

At the business session, following the dinner, reports of the work of the past year will be given, business of the association will be transacted, and officers for the coming year will be elected.

A proposed constitution for the Kent County Library Association will be presented for adoption at this meeting. Interested persons will be given the opportunity to take out memberships as friends of the library, for which certificates of membership will be given.

The Kent County Library now maintains ten branches and three stations, giving library service to that many communities in the rural area of the county. This is in addition to the regular service given the cooperating schools of Kent County during the school year.

The retiring officers of the association are the Rev. Henry L. Rust, president; Mrs. Jennie Walker, secretary, and Mrs. G. S. Felt, treasurer. Miss Margaret Murray is the librarian.

Up and Down Kent County Roads

By K. K. Vining, Kent County Agricultural Agent

For two years we have been corresponding with George Duthie, of the Federal Forest Service in Washington. His work has to do with school and community forests. Last week he came to the office for a visit on our school forest situation in Kent County. This meant a trip to Lowell to see the school and community forest there. We are always proud to show off this woodlot. Duthie is more than interested in just planting trees by school folks but he is interested in the use of these school forests by the schools from a classroom standpoint. He talked with W. W. Gummer, superintendent of schools in Lowell, Albert Hall, Smith-Hughes teacher, and some of the Lowell folks. He was impressed with the favorable attitude of the folks in Lowell towards the school forests. While in the county he saw the demonstration of sandblow control on the J. B. Martin farm in A. Ia. Incidentally, Mr. Duthie is a Grand Rapids product, having been born here and spent much of his early life in the city.

Mention was made sometime back about new fruit storages in the county. Wes Mawby, in Grand Rapids township, has the new addition to the storage well along toward completion. Ed Robinette in the same township has his permit to build and has been moving a garage and oil houses to new locations so the contractor could start work. Walter Ebers has his permit for a new storage and expects construction to start any time. Here are a couple of inconsistencies along fruit storage lines. One farmer has a good air-cooled fruit storage but realized his need for refrigeration. Made application for equipment. Denied. He had used air cooled storage and could still use it. Another farmer in that neighborhood asked for refrigeration equipment and got it. Then asked for permission to build a storage. The latter was denied. Audience of 650 At Commencement

Impressive Speeches Given by Valedictorian and Salutatorian; Legion Awards to Outstanding Senior and Eighth Grade Boy and Girl.

Approximately six hundred fifty people, besides the sixty-one graduates, witnessed the sixty-sixth Commencement exercises held last Thursday evening in the high school auditorium. Mr. Frank Sparks, editor of the Grand Rapids Herald, gave the main address of the evening which stressed patriotism and the opportunities available to graduates of today.

The American Legion awards, which are based primarily upon leadership, scholarship, and participation in athletics, were presented by Superintendent W. W. Gummer, first to the outstanding senior, Norma Jean Haglund who is president of her graduating class; and to the leading eighth grade boy and girl, Ronald Watts and Josephine Reynolds. Second place honors for seniors went to Anton Wingeler, Jr., and Barbara Thorne. The runner-up for the eighth grade medal for the boy went to Douglas Wingeler and for the girl to Anita Doyle.

Very impressive salutatory and valedictory speeches were given by Gloria Doyle and Barbara Thorne respectively. Musical selections were presented by Priscilla Johnson who played a bass clarinet solo entitled "Concert Etude," and also by the high school orchestra conducted by Orval E. Jesup, which played the processional and also a special number "Rhythmic Sketch."

Mrs. Charles Doyle, trustee of the Lowell Board of Education, presented the diplomas and prizes to the graduates; and Rev. Robert C. Warland, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, gave both the invocation and benediction.

FARMERS FORGET SAFETY

Michigan farmers continue to forget safety measures, according to reports of overturned tractors, deaths from improper electric fencing, rural fires and battles with livestock.

County agricultural agents are warning the average farmer to locate danger spots and then get rid of the hazards, since accidents don't "just happen."

TIMBER GROWTH UNEQUAL

Estimates indicate the drain by cutting, fires, insects and disease on U. S. forest resources in 1943 was 50 per cent greater than the 11 billion board feet grown in forests in the year.

Editorial IN TIME OF WAR PREPARE FOR PEACE

There is nothing but news about the war. Victory is in the air. The fall of Rome was a sort of prologue to the tragedy that is being waged on European battlefields.

While we advise that in time of war to prepare for peace. There has been too little attention paid to that warning. But Secretary of State Hull, who served in the White House, is in charge, on the peace front.

When I saw them they were making preparations for moving overseas. It takes a lot of work to get your equipment ready for an amphibious move.

WHERE'S THE FLITTY... The School of Public Health at the U of M is truly an interesting place and one that is visited by doctors, sanitary engineers, nurses, dentists, milk handlers, plumbers, personnel directors and safety engineers wishing to learn better ways of serving the citizens of their communities. Also, the School is doing a wonderful work for our soldiers, sailors and marines. There is a room doubly screened and guarded in which thousands of malarial mosquitoes are housed. Here research men and Army sanitary engineers are at work testing new drugs to prevent the dread tropical disease.

PAGING HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS... This is the time of the year that high school faculties are studying the girls in the Junior classes in the State. They will select four of them, and from these American Legion Auxiliaries will select one. The girl will join others at the University to participate in the 1944 State Annual Meet. This program is dedicated to the training and development of girls possessing outstanding leadership. They will be shown the opportunities open to women in the fields of homemaking, home economics, household arts, nursing, occupational and physical therapy dietetics and dramatics, as well as stimulating an interest in the development of home and community life.

CHOP SUITE... Commencement Day at the University of Michigan will be June 24 instead of June 17, as was originally planned... In the two years of operation, the U of M Michigan automobile pool has saved Michigan taxpayers approximately $5,000, according to Edward C. Pavoni, Superintendent of Buildings Grounds and Maintenance.

A SON'S WRITER... A well-known "Au Revoir" has been written by a soldier boy on the U of M campus and has been dedicated to the University. He is Cpl. Ella Fugandio of Company A, Cpl. Art Flynn, tender soldier in the Company A about which introduced the song to the campus.

Jealousy causes many a man to lose his job. With a man's confidence as quick as you can, and hold it as long as you can.

Why Vernon J. Brown for Lieutenant Governor?

His qualifications are unquestioned. The Republic of Michigan has a right to demand such a man in this important office. Responsible leadership, as well as rank and file support, is essential to the success of any administration. Vernon J. Brown is the one man in the state who is entitled to the services of a Lieutenant Governor who will work with the administration in the public interest.

In recognition of the need for his services as Lieutenant Governor, Vernon J. Brown was cooperating with the Republican Party in a campaign to elect a Republican administration. He is a man of high character and high ability. He is a man of high character and high ability. He is a man of high character and high ability.

Such an attitude certainly deserves the approval and consideration of every Republican on primary day, July 11.

Vows Are Spoken at Pretty Home Wedding

Sunday, June 4, Miss Jean Katherine Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tucker of Clarksville, became the bride of Earl E. Harker of Saranac in a lovely home wedding solemnized at 4 o'clock, in the home of the bride's parents.

Lemon lilies, snowballs, irises, peonies and sweet rocket bunched the improvised altar before which the couple stood, and Rev. Abram Jagers of the Methodist church performed the single ring service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white slipper satin gown, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, tight fitting bodice, puffed sleeves that fitted tight below the elbow and ended in a point over the hands. The bouffant skirt ended in a long train, and her veil of bridal illusion fell from a tiara of illusion blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom, and carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and swansons.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John Atkins, sister of the bride, who wore a pale yellow shadowed organza gown made with sweetheart neckline, full puffed sleeves and a full gored skirt. Her bouquet was of white carnation and yellow daisies. Mrs. Arthur Norton of Lowell was bridesmaid and wore a matching gown of pale aqua net and carried a bouquet of carnations and snapdragons.

Flower girl was Bonnie Lee Atkins, niece of the bride, who wore a long pink taffeta dress covered with pink net, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and full skirt. James Harker of Philadelphia, Pa., attended his brother as best man.

A program of music preceded the ceremony, played by Mrs. Leo Tucker, who also sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Leo Tucker, brother of the bride, was master of ceremonies, and mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. Frank Neithamer, aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Tucker chose for her daughter's wedding a lilac sheer alpaca with white accessories and a corsage of sweetpeas. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose colored two piece gown and a matching corsage.

A reception was given by the bride's parents, from 5 until 7 o'clock. Wedding cake, assorted cakes, ice cream and coffee were served by Miss Peggy Neithamer and Miss Carolyn Bradbeck, cousin of the bride, to about a hundred guests.

Mrs. Harker chose a two piece powder blue suit with brown accessories, and wore a corsage of pink and blue carnation for traveling.

The couple left on a short honeymoon trip through northern Michigan and upon their return will reside at the George Baker farm in Boston township. The bride was graduated from Saranac high school and is a Senior of Western Michigan College of Education, majoring in home economics. She has taught for the past two years in the community. The bridegroom graduated from Saranac high school and is engaged in farming with his father.

There were guests from Grand Rapids, Lansing, Marquette, Belding, Woodland, Hastings, Pennsylvania, Saranac, Lowell and Clarksville.

No man who does not see visions will ever realize any high hopes or undertake any great enterprise.—Woodrow Wilson.

This informational and educational function, however, is not enough in the minds of many county officials who look upon the institute as a defender of their interests and hence an agency to be utilized to favor or oppose legislation or political issues that are in their sincere judgment inimical to the welfare of local governments.

Signing the report were four of the five committee members who participated in policy discussions: Albert Blashfield, secretary, Michigan State Bar, as chairman; William Nestle, Ithaca, president of the Michigan Sheriffs' association; Allan M. CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our neighbors, friends and relatives, also the Moose Lodge of Lowell, for the beautiful flowers and sympathy shown us at the time of our bereavement of our daughter; also to send our thanks to Rev. Wm. E. Timms of Alto.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gould and Family.
Mr. and Mrs. Steve McCani and Family.

Of course you may logically prove to yourself that you cannot do as much this year as you did last. I have done it, but logic is a mighty dangerous thing to rely on. I heard of a perfectly logical little girl, but her conclusions were wrong. Her teacher asked her what a furlough was, and she said it was a mule. On inquiry it was found out that the girl had seen a picture of a soldier riding on a mule, and under the picture was the label, "Off on a furlough." The little girl was logical.
