Third War Chest Campaign Begins

Needs Greater This Year Than Ever; Plan To Give Generously

Kent county's quota in the third War Chest campaign is $851,541 which is 10.47 per cent higher than last year's goal, according to Louis A. Well, Jr., campaign chairman. The county division in the campaign will be asked to raise the same quota as last year—$48,200—according to C. H. Runciman and James F. Healy, co-chairmen for Kent County outside the city of Grand Rapids.

The quotas in this part of Kent county include: Region 5, Cannon, Grattan, Oakfield, $2,000; region 7, Ada, Cascade, Lowell, Vergennes, $8,769; region 9, Bowne and California, $2,540. These regions include the villages located in each township.

Place Egg Case Orders at Once

Users of egg cases are being urged by Michigan State College authorities to place orders immediately for their case requirements. Such action, it is hoped, will help avoid the difficulties experienced by many users last spring in obtaining cases.

Arthur Howland, extension economist, points out that at present the production of corrugated fibreboard, from which about 85 per cent of the new cases for civilian use will be made, is below actual requirements. Box manufacturers are receiving their allocations of fibreboard on a monthly basis. Since there is heavy competition for use of this material, delay in placing orders for cases will create hardship for the user. It is definitely known that only a very few wooden cases will be available for civilian use this coming season.

Michigan Going Sled-length In Giving Veterans A Break When V-Day in Europe Comes

Michigan Press Association Service
Gene Altemar, Manager

When Johnny comes marching home from World War II, he'll find Michigan ready to welcome him.

This welcome is being organized efficiently, with a veterans' counselling center in almost every community under auspices of the State of Michigan.

It's very apparent that Johnny is going to get a break this time. In fact, for almost the first time in American history, the war veteran will receive more than his country's blessing. He can borrow $2,000 as down payment on a $10,000 home or farm. He can borrow $2,000 to go into business for himself. If he wants to go to college, Uncle Sam will pay his tuition fees of at least $10 a month, $30 a quarter or $40 a semester, in addition to paying other regular fees and costs of books, supplies and equipment up to $500 a year.

The veteran, 25 years old or more, whose education was completed prior to entrance into war, may get a refresher course at Uncle Sam's expense. If the veteran suffers a service disability, the government will pay him a pension and furnish vocational training at the same time.

Overseas Mailing Dates End Soon

Parcels Will Be Accepted Without Request Only Up to October 15. Regulations Listed Below Should Be Followed Carefully

The following instructions are reprinted from our August 10 issue at the request of a number of our readers.

- The dates designated for mailing overseas Christmas packages without requests will end Oct. 15. It is time for families of men overseas to give thought to the regulations which will govern these shipments. With 5,000,000 men overseas (there will be more by Christmas holidays) it is reasonable to assume that many hundreds from Lowell and neighboring areas will be on foreign soil or on the high seas.
- From the official Postal Guide the following information is taken: It is being "boiled down" to simplest and briefest possible space and may be worth saving for future reference.
- Christmas mailing should be done between September 13 and October 15 to men with APO addresses.
- The war department advises that Christmas cards be mailed in sealed envelopes and sent first class.
- Addresses should be plainly written or typewritten giving name, rank, Army serial number, branch number—also postoffice through which the package or greeting is to be routed.
- Parcels will be accepted without requests between the Sept. 15 to Oct. 15 dates only. Parcels will be accepted after Oct. 15 with requests, or if the service man's address has been changed after Sept. 30.
- Christmas parcels must be plainly labeled "Christmas Parcel."
- The parcel weight limit is five pounds; 15 inches in length and the combined length and girth shall not exceed 36 inches.
- Not more than one Christmas parcel or package will be accepted for mailing in any one week for the same addressee by the same sender.
- Over to the great distance overseas package must travel, packaged or strong fibreboard, reinforced by gummed tape and strong twine. Fibrewood packages must also be wrapped in strong wrapping paper to prevent contents escaping if box is crushed or split.
- The complete address should be included with the contents in case the outside address is destroyed.
- Hard candies, nuts, caramels, cookies, fruit cake should be contained in a separate inner box to prevent breaking and spoilage of other contents of the parcel.
- Sharp pointed or sharp edged instruments, such as razor blades, knives, etc., must have their sharp edges protected so that they will not cut through covering and damage other mail or postal workers.
- Perishable matter will NOT be accepted; fragile articles should not be sent.
- Intoxicants, inflammable materials (such as lighter fluids) and any form of poisonous composition will not be accepted.
- When obtainable, special overseas boxes are desirable. Already some of the stores have had these in stock, but as the holiday season approaches it will become more and more difficult to get these. Great care should be exercised in getting containers, or boxes, the right dimensions as postal employees are instructed not to accept larger parcels. The tremendous task of getting tons and tons of mail delivered to remote places where service men are stationed makes the above restriction necessary and the instructions important.
- Work of the Office of Veteran Affairs and the State Board of Control at Pine Lake is graphic proof that Michigan is right on the job—in fact, leading the entire nation in giving Johnny a break, and for the first time.
- If it is necessary to carry a number of small drills in your pocket an old spectacle case comes in handy in which to carry them.

Lowell Team Takes Last Year's Champs

By Forrest Buck
B. of T. Sports Chairman

Playing Friday at Wyoming Park, Lowell upset last year's champs to the tune of 20 to 6. Fonger took the opening kickoff and behind good blocking raced to Wyoming's four yard line. After a series of plays, Collins bucked over for six points, before the game had gone three minutes.

Early in the second quarter Kerr, a newcomer to the Lowell squad, ran 45 yards around end to give Lowell a 12 to 0 advantage, as the visitors failed to make a point after touchdown all afternoon.

Wyoming, definitely rocked back on its heels, seemingly could not get its attack to functioning and was forced to punt from its own 15 yard line. The whole Lowell line charged through to block the kick, causing the ball to roll into the end zone, giving the Red Birds an automatic 2 points and a 14 to 0 lead.

At this point of the game the Parkers came to life and by means of line bucks and short passes made a sustained march which was cut short by the half.

The Wyoming team outplayed the Lowellites for the entire third quarter when they pushed over their only touchdown, but failed to convert.

Early in the last quarter Lowell perked up and scored on a nice 15 yard pass, Roth to Collins to finish off Lowell's scoring for the day. The game ended with a team of second stringers in for the visitors.

The game on a whole was a true early season performance with many fumbles and a number of misplays by both teams. Roth was Lowell's outstanding ground gainer assisted by Kerr and Collins. Fonger did well in his first game as signal caller. On the line Kropf, Eichhoff, Beachum, Schroeder and Brunikool, showed promise.

Information New From Ration Board

L. W. Rutherford, chairman of the Kent War Price and Rationing board at Lowell, has released the following information for operators of commercial vehicles, and those using off-highway coupons.

Operators of commercial vehicles must apply in person at the local board with their Certificates of War Necessity and other means of identification to obtain renewal of 4th quarter "T" transport gasoline rations. The certificates will be returned by mail along with the new "T" rations. Present "T" rations expire at midnight, Sept. 30. Truck operators will not be notified by mail for the 4th quarter renewal as they were for the last quarter. Truckers will have through October 31 to apply for renewal of transportation rations, however, all applications should be in prior to October 10.

Off-Highway Coupons

All gasoline filling stations may again accept off-highway "R" coupons. The prohibition against acceptance of these coupons by most filling stations has been in effect since April 1, 1944.

Since the plan was originally put into operation, "R" coupons have been serially numbered. Through these serial numbers, coupons which have been diverted from non-highway use can be traced directly back to the person who was issued the coupons.

The New "A" Book

That beautifully colored gasoline "A" book you just received is printed on a new type government safety paper as a safeguard against counterfeiting. With six coupons in each of the "A" series, each coupon is valued at four gallons. Your "A" 13's will be good until December 21, 1944.

National defense starts with good health. Build America's future, drink more Lowell Creamery pasteurized milk.

975 "A" Ration Books Issued by Volunteers

Volunteer help was largely responsible for issuing 975 "A" books through the local rationing board office last week. Local women who donated their services, made it unnecessary to close the school and the ladies were Mrs. Baulch Deull, Mrs. Elizabeth Crabb, Mrs. M. Kloosterman, Mrs. Ella Hannan, Mrs. Ruby Roth, Mrs. Mildred Englishard, Mrs. Bea Foreman, Mrs. Helen Breszina, Mrs. Garnet Coe, Mrs. Viola Gummer, Mrs. Evelyn Boyce, Mrs. G. Briggs, Mrs. Nancy Oatley, and several teachers.

In Alto 318 books were issued under the direction of Mrs. Krum, and 302 books were issued in Cascade under the supervision of Lester Bailey.

Two Men Are Held On Serious Charges

The disappearance of the R. G. Chrouch car from Lowell Main-st. on August 7 was solved this week when Deputy Frank Stephens went to Hastings to look over the remains of a burned out car discovered by Barry county authorities.

Robert Browne and Vernon Newton were charged, on a warrant by Barry authorities, with grand larceny, which involves stealing a car from Hastings and selling stolen tires to a Battle Creek black-market dealer. Newton was arrested in Hastings and Browne was traced to Texas where he was apprehended.

Browne, in his confession, related taking the Chrouch car to the Newton farm near Hastings, stripping it of all valuables, and burning out the remains. The motor was dumped into a lake and the tires were sold. Browne and Newton are charged in a Kent County warrant, with larceny of the Chrouch automobile.

War Chest Workers Start Ball Rolling

Activity for the War Chest drive which opens October 2, will start in Lowell this week Friday evening, Sept. 29, at 7 o'clock, with a banquet in the City Hall for all workers who are to solicit funds in Lowell and Vergennes townships. About 75 are expected to attend. Two moving pictures will be seen and the speaker will be Wesley Aves from the Kent County office.

Frank Stephens is chairman for Lowell and Adalbert Odell is chairman of Vergennes. While the county is expected to raise 10% more than last year, Lowell's quota remains about the same—$5,415, as does also Vergennes' quota of $735.

The banquet is free to war chest workers as the expense is being cared for by a friend of the cause. C. H. Runciman of Lowell and James F. Healy of the Bell Telephone Company have been named co-chairmen of the War Chest Drive for the Kent County area outside the city of Grand Rapids.

New Voters and All Voters With New Residences Should Register

On November 7 will be held one of the most important elections in the history of our country. Every one entitled to vote should exercise that right this year. Through neglect, one may lose that right which every American citizen should prize.

One cannot vote on Tuesday, Nov. 7, unless he is registered. Any person may, however, register on or before October 18.

If, since a person last voted, he or she has moved from the city to a township or township to a city; or from one city or county in Michigan to another city or county in this state; or from another state into Michigan; that person shall not vote except he or she shall register in the voting precinct where the person now resides.

If a voter has moved from one voting precinct in this state to another since he last voted, that person must go to the city or township clerk and register, or lose the right to vote November 7.

If a voter has moved from another state into Michigan, that person must register in this state and must have lived in Michigan for at least six months, and in his voting precinct for at least 20 days preceding the election in order to register.

One can register on any weekday except a legal holiday or Sunday by contacting the township clerk. He or she must apply in person. No one can register any other name than his or her own.

It is important, indeed urgent, that every person entitled to vote this year shall see to it that his name is properly registered so he shall be able to vote; and then cast his or her ballot November 7 for the candidates he or she may favor.

Up and Down Kent County Roads

By K. K. Vining, Kent County Agricultural Agent

Some friends dropped into our house the other evening. In the course of the conversation, they asked me if I knew that the "So and So" had bought a nice big farm. I asked where and was told it was on a certain road in the county. I knew the territory quite well but to the best of my knowledge there were no good farms in that particular area. Of course the folks in question will not have to depend on the farm for their living but if they expect any financial returns from the land they are apt to be disappointed. Of course some benefits will accrue from this deal. The buildings will be improved, fences fixed up, resulting in a higher valuation which means more taxes and the latter will be paid and probably not from the farm. The work on the buildings will give local employment which will help and sooner or later they will sell the place and return to town.

There is another side to this farm buying. A lot of folks are buying land and are going to buy who will have to make a living from the land, or a partial living. These folks should choose their lands carefully and also the amount of money to be invested in it. Land values are up, in fact too much for some folks to come out at the right end of the deal.

If folks who contemplate buying land would drop by the extension office, we can show them a soils map that is accurate. In a few minutes definite information can be given as to the soil type and its agricultural value. If it is good land a further check can be made as to its present day condition, the kind of crops and livestock, it is adapted to.

Unfortunately this county has a lot of sand land that is absolutely not agricultural. If any want a place to live there are some sandy soils that are OK but not for a profitable agriculture. Folks buying agricultural land will do well not to locate on this land.

The buildings will be improved, fences fixed up, resulting in a higher valuation which means more taxes and the latter will be paid and probably not from the farm. The work on the buildings will give local employment which will help and sooner or later they will sell the place and return to town.

There is another side to this farm buying. A lot of folks are buying land and are going to buy who will have to make a living from the land, or a partial living. These folks should choose their lands carefully and also the amount of money to be invested in it. Land values are up, in fact too much for some folks to come out at the right end of the deal.

If folks who contemplate buying land would drop by the extension office, we can show them a soils map that is accurate. In a few minutes definite information can be given as to the soil type and its agricultural value. If it is good land a further check can be made as to its present day condition, the kind of crops and livestock, it is adapted to.

Unfortunately this county has a lot of sand land that is absolutely not agricultural. If any want a place to live there are some sandy soils that are OK but not for a profitable agriculture. Folks buying agricultural land will do well not to locate on this land.

New Voters and All Voters With New Residences Should Register

On November 7 will be held one of the most important elections in the history of our country. Every one entitled to vote should exercise that right this year. Through neglect, one may lose that right which every American citizen should prize.

One cannot vote on Tuesday, Nov. 7, unless he is registered. Any person may, however, register on or before October 18.

If, since a person last voted, he or she has moved from the city to a township or township to a city; or from one city or county in Michigan to another city or county in this state; or from another state into Michigan; that person shall not vote except he or she shall register in the voting precinct where the person now resides.

If a voter has moved from one voting precinct in this state to another since he last voted, that person must go to the city or township clerk and register, or lose the right to vote November 7.

If a voter has moved from another state into Michigan, that person must register in this state and must have lived in Michigan for at least six months, and in his voting precinct for at least 20 days preceding the election in order to register.

One can register on any weekday except a legal holiday or Sunday by contacting the township clerk. He or she must apply in person. No one can register any other name than his or her own.

It is important, indeed urgent, that every person entitled to vote this year shall see to it that his name is properly registered so he shall be able to vote; and then cast his or her ballot November 7 for the candidates he or she may favor.

Some friends dropped into our house the other evening. In the course of the conversation, they asked me if I knew that the "So and So" had bought a nice big farm. I asked where and was told it was on a certain road in the county. I knew the territory quite well but to the best of my knowledge there were no good farms in that particular area. Of course the folks in question will not have to depend on the farm for their living but if they expect any financial returns from the land they are apt to be disappointed. Of course some benefits will accrue from this deal. The buildings will be improved, fences fixed up, resulting in a higher valuation which means more taxes and the latter will be paid and probably not from the farm. The work on the buildings will give local employment which will help and sooner or later they will sell the place and return to town.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Did you hear that Tom is going to be inducted into the Army next week, Judge?"

"Yes, Frank told me this morning down at the barber shop. Our Tom's got a lot of good things to him. In fact, all towns have. I was just reading in the paper where there are more than 10,000,000 men away from their homes in the armed forces. And, from all reports, they're doing a grand job bringing victory closer every day."

"We folks at home have mighty big obligations to these 10,000,000 fighting men. We've got to produce the food to keep them well fed. We've got to keep them supplied with the ammunition and equipment they need to finish the job. We've got to help the Government pay for all these supplies our men need by buying more and more War Bonds. We'll have another big chance to do that by helping to put the next War Loan drive over the top, Jim."

"And, in addition, we must be sure that while they're away and can't express their feelings, we don't let anything or anything that will displease them when they come back."

Michigan State Radio Highlights

Station WKAR... 870 KC

Relationships of teachers, pupils and parents in Michigan schools will be the subject of discussion of a new program over WKAR, the Michigan State College broadcasting station, starting Wednesday, Oct. 4, at 11:00 a. m. It will be a weekly feature from that date. Special reference will be made to such problems as home work and reading difficulties. Parents will find worthwhile views on situations arising in their own family's school activities that demand solution.

O. I. Grigg, extension specialist in landscape architecture, can be heard each Friday at 1:00 p. m. on the Farm Service Hour in a series called "Landscape the Farm Grounds."

A change in the time or the program "Between the Lines" has been made. Larry Frymire presents this feature now at 11:30 a. m. each day. It formerly went on the air at 11:15 a. m. and consists of a war background and interpretation and explanation of the news of the day.

Wanted, Emergency Clothing for Europe

The religious communities of America, representing all faiths and creeds, will cooperate in an effort to collect from members and friends through churches, parishes and synagogues, millions of pounds of clothing—men's, women's and children's—for distribution in liberated areas of Europe.

The week beginning Sept. 24th has been designated as the week in which churches and community organizations of all types will cooperate in this emergency clothing collection.

The City Hall at Lowell has been designated as the place to which all gifts of clothing for the above mentioned cause is to be brought. There it will be sorted, packed, and sent freight free to centers from which it will be sent overseas.

Millions of men, women and children in liberated areas need clothing. There is no way to secure it except through the generosity of American people. There is neither time nor material for new clothing. The aim is to make available 15 million pounds of clothing for free distribution to needy men, women, and children in war-torn areas.

This appeal is sponsored by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Adm. (UNRRA) and the Lowell Ministerial Association.

LEDGER ENTRIES

JUDGMENT AND THE CAR

A NEWSPAPER HUMORIST remarks that repairs on a car's defective brakes reduce the danger of accident, but he points out that facilities for repair of people's judgment are not so easily found.

That is an evident truth. People may put a very fine car in the hands of a reckless driver, and he may get into trouble with it. Its marvelous equipment for stopping and avoiding danger may not count for him, if he fails to exercise ordinary judgment and care. No amount of repairs on the machine will help him avoid danger, if he does not watch the traffic carefully and if he has the habit of taking chances.

SMALL BUSINESS NEEDS

THE FEAR IS EXPRESSED that many small business concerns will need some action that will assure them of needed materials, after the war with Germany ends. There will be a big scramble for the materials out of which civilian goods are made when war production is reduced. Many of the smaller concerns may have difficulty in getting these materials.

The country's small industries are very important. They employ a great number of people in the aggregate, and many communities would suffer severely if they were not able to get needed materials promptly, and start production on civilian goods soon after the war stops. The country wants to retain all its industries, and the small one not merely employs quite a number of people, but frequently it grows into a big concern.

DISAPPEARING GERMANS

SOMEONE who recently returned to Sweden from Germany reported that one thousand persons disappear daily in Germany, due to the terror and violence with which the people are threatened. Our people can have no conception of the fear and anxiety under which many of those people live. Even those who are perfectly loyal to the government may have information given against them, and thus be liable to arrest by their secret police and perhaps to some terrible punishment.

Considering the terror under which those people live, the best thing many of them could do would be to disappear and escape from the country if that is possible. One would think that the majority of those people would welcome the conquest of the country by the Allies. At least this would mean the establishment of justice.

PREVENT FIRES

FIRES COST tens of thousands of lives each year, accidental fires that might have been avoided through care. Fires trap victims on top floors, happen to be fatal because to children under ten, occur principally in homes and cost millions of dollars. Since many are preventable, it is sensible to take stock around Lowell homes and check on fire hazards.

We don't pile up the old papers under the stairs, as before paper went off to war. This eliminates one fire hazard. Those boxes of rubbish that cluttered the garage have been removed since the tin cans entered the salvage drive, sacks are saved to use again, old clothes renovated and handed to the needy overseas. But what of the wiring on lamps, electrical appliances, the leaks from gasoline, oil stoves, inflammable chemicals that warn against exposing to open fires? Fire Prevention Week is fifty-two weeks every year.

CUTTING WOOD

THOSE WHO LIVE in towns too far from wooded lots to hear the sound of a crosscut saw, miss something musical in the fall air. A musical saw, played upon with hammers on some vaudeville stage with a beat that brings acclaim from the crowd, is no sweeter tone than comes with the trusty crosscut and a couple of right arms swinging together in unison. It pleases the sense of fitness of things.

To a man who has helped to pile up cords of firewood, it isn't a simple task but like every sort of labor, takes cooperation and timing, timing that keeps the saw from biting and snagging, coordination by flexing the right muscles that press down at the proper time, relaxing at the right moment. The smell of the fresh sawdust vies with that of burning leaves in a fall bonfire. If you have known the feel of a crosscut, the sliding through the wood, the backstroke that is an art in manipulation, then you know what we mean by the fitness of certain things!

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

What constitutes a person a good neighbor? One answer to that is that a person who keeps a nice looking and attractive home place, is specially desirable and popular as a neighbor.

Nothing gives one person so much advantage over another as to remain calm and unruffled under all circumstances.—Thomas Jefferson.

The Child Study Club

The Child Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Byrd Beachum on Thursday evening, Sept. 21. The meeting began with a potluck supper, 28 members and guests participating, after which a short business meeting was opened, and the lesson and discussion on "the preschool child in the home and the world of tomorrow," was led by Mrs. Charles White. Some helpful hints were given the mothers by some of the teachers present, in order to form a better understanding between the school and the home.

Games were enjoyed and each returned to her home having had a most enjoyable evening.
