

News of Our Boys

Mrs. Albert Dalstra has received word that her husband has arrived safely overseas.

Mrs. Bert Tefft received a letter from her husband, Pfc. Bert Tefft, saying he was being transferred from France and is now stationed back in England in the infantry.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Myers received word from Edward that he had arrived in New York after his 25-day leave at home, and was assigned a different ship. Edward is now Signalman 2/c.

Cadet Roger Krum arrived in Lowell Sunday morning for a delay enroute, after having finished his schooling at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton.

Joe Mitchell of Fort Knox, Ky., has been spending a three-day leave with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zigmont in Lowell. Joe has been promoted from private to T/5 and has been in service for two years.

Mrs. Edward Kiel tells us that Ed had a pleasant surprise awaiting him when he returned to Camp Swift after a 15-day furlough with the home folks. It's Corporal Kiel now. Congratulations Ed.

Sgt. Lewis Houghton, who has been at Camp LeJeune, N. C., for the past six or eight weeks, has been transferred to Klamath, Ore., where he will receive further treatment for malaria fever, which was contracted during his 26 months' service in the S. Pacific area.

Word from Mrs. H. P. Gotfredsen says that Captain George has been transferred from Robins Field, Ga., to Boston, Mass., where he will take a four weeks' refresher course in airborne radar at M. I. T.

Pfc. Richard A. Warner, Aerial Radio Operator, has been awarded the Air Medal, it has been announced by Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding general of the India China Division, Air Transport Command. The award was made upon completion of 150 hours of operations' flight in transport aircraft over the dangerous and difficult India-China air route, which is recognized by airmen as the world's toughest.

A War Department telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Roudsbush on February 28, informed them that their son, Pvt. Leroy S. Roudsbush, was slightly wounded in action February 7, in Luzon. Leroy graduated from Lowell high school in June 1943. He played on the football team for four years, also basketball, baseball, and in track events, as well as being active in other school organizations. He has been overseas since December. All join in wishing him a speedy recovery and a safe return.

That expression "Sana Origine" has bothered a good many folks, who have found it heading overseas messages from servicemen. Some have thought it meant some obscure island and they could not find it on a map. Others have figured it meant the ship on which the serviceman made his trip across the pond. It really means without origin, or no definite location, and is a way of telling you that the fellow can not divulge the name of the place from which he sends the message.

Pfc. Charles L. Foreman, 19, son of E. C. Foreman of Lowell, has been awarded the silver star medal for gallantry in action in Germany, December 23, 1944. Charles, serving with General Patton's Third Army, arrived at a point on the battle front where two platoons were being held back by intense machine gun fire. Seeing their exposed situation and the reluctance of troops to advance in the face of hostile fire, Pfc. Foreman voluntarily advanced into the open to attack the enemy positions. Inspired by his bravery, the troops advanced and defeated the enemy.

Pfc. William Sherman, 27, who is spending a 30-day furlough with his home folks, has been through some real experiences since going overseas 24 months ago with the Red Arrow Division. During the Buna campaign in New Guinea Pfc. Sherman was shot in the neck and spent 39 days in the hospital. He later saw action in the Dutch East Indies and more recently in the Philippines. Being a member of the Michigan National Guard prior to Pearl Harbor, he has been in service more than five years. After a 30-day furlough, Pfc. Sherman will report at Fort Sheridan, Ill. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Sherman, who live west of Lowell on M-21. His wife and son reside in Ionia. A brother, Sgt. Lester Sherman, who was also a member of the Ionia contingent of the National Guard, has been in service six years and overseas 34 months. He is now in the Philippines with the Red Arrow Division.

FIFTY-SECOND YEAR

Red Cross Drive Begins Saturday

Townships Comprising 7th Region Responsible For $6,755

Volunteer Red Cross War Fund workers here in Lowell, Vergennes, Ada and Cascade, under the chairmanship of C. H. Runciman, regional chairman, and Frank L. Stephens, Adelbert Odell, Mrs. Alice Anderson and Miss Elizabeth Kagle, township and village chairmen, begin on Saturday their solicitation for our share of the Kent goal of $434,000. The county division quota is $43,418 of which region 7 is responsible for $6,755.

Solicitation for Bowne and Caledonia, Howell Wood chairman, begins on the same date, also in Cannon, Grattan and Oakfield, Victor Weller, chairman.

Funds collected in this campaign will "keep your Red Cross at his side" during the months ahead. W. B. Williams, co-chairman of the county division, who speaks at the regional meeting in Lowell March 8 at the Lowell Cafe points out the Red Cross need is nearly 21 per cent greater this year and that Red Cross donors here in Kent county must increase their gifts at least 21 per cent if Kent is to give its share to the Red Cross for service to our men in the armed forces. Kent's quota nearly totals $15 for each Kent man in the armed forces. Solicitors will ask donors how many men they will furnish with Red Cross service at $15 per man.

Solicitation in the county area opens Saturday and closes the evening of March 21, so your chairmen urge you to be ready when your neighbor calls for your gift. As James K. Miller, Jr., campaign chairman, stated, "Each of us has an obligation to the men and women in the armed forces whether or not we have sons and daughters serving. Each of us must give to help the other fellow and be glad we haven't needed the services of the Red Cross ourselves."

Red Cross services to veterans have increased greatly in the past few months. In January our own Red Cross Chapter here in Kent county took care of some 2,600 of these cases. There will be many more in the months ahead as well as the need among the men still in training or in the various theaters of war or in prison camps. When the war ends the Red Cross estimates its work will almost double because of the refugees as well as service men and prisoners to be taken care of all over the world.

Michigan State Radio Highlights

A number of programs of interest to farm and home listeners are on the schedule for WKAR, the Michigan State college radio station, from March 8 to 14.

For the farmer: March 12, Sugar Beets in Our Michigan Farm Plan, by R. W. Bell, of farm crops; March 14, Thinking Fruit by Biossons, V. R. Gardner, department of horticulture. All discussions are on the Farm Service Hour at 12 noon.

For the homemaker: March 9, at 9:45 a. m., Lenten Dishes, by Ruth McNeal, graduate assistant in institution administration; March 12, at 3:15 p. m., Nutrition Education in Communities Throughout the Nation, by Mrs. Jana Williams, nutritionist, Nutrition Program Branch, War Food Administration, Washington, D. C.

AMERICAN LEGION

The Charles W. Clark post of the American Legion held their last meeting at Alto on Monday, Feb. 26, in the Methodist church basement, where the Ladies Aid served a splendid supper to the fifty present.

Servicemen home on leave from the army and navy, were guests of the members. Several of them related their experiences with the Red Cross during this war, after which one member told of his experiences with the Red Cross during World War I. The next meeting will be held at Alto on Monday, March 28.

Skipper Bruce Walter Gets Around Pacific

A message received here lately tells of the safe arrival of Lt. (jg) Bruce Walter, U. S. N. R., at Guam. The message did not tell of any enemy interruptions along the way, but did say that the men spent many hours in their life jackets. There is a new ruling in the navy stating that the commanding officer may allow his crew to mention places and action taken, not less than thirty days after taking place. This should make very interesting reading in future letters from our service men.

Skipper Walter also tells of his "nearness" to home on finding a new "easy" chair in his room with a label on it from Metal Furniture Co., Grand Rapids. The metal cabinets on the L. C. I. G's are from Muskegon, and the greatest surprise was finding them under $99.99 Newell door closers on all L. C. T.'s. "Who knows," writes Bruce, "We may even come across crates made at the Lowell Lumber & Supply Co."

Music Students Win Honors at Festival

Lowell high school music students entered a Solo and Ensemble music festival at Muskegon, Saturday, March 3, put on by the Western Michigan Band and Orchestra Association. Anita Doyle received a First Division rating in both tenor saxophone and piano. Josephine Reynolds, piano; Robert Kyser, cornet; Eunice Miller, violin; Flora Myers, flute; Catherine Phelps, bassoon; and Roger Tusken, alto saxophone, all received Second Division ratings. Dorothy Vandenhout, french horn, and Ronald Jessup, baritone, received Third Division ratings. Accompanists were Josephine Reynolds, Martha Lou Stephens, Dora Jean Warner, and Jane Rittenger. They were accompanied to Muskegon by Orval Jessup, head of the Lowell school music department.

Sixty-nine soloists and twenty-five ensembles were entered in the festival, which was adjudicated by Leonard Falcone, director of Michigan State College bands, and E. Rollin Slifess, director of instrumental music at St. Joseph and woodwind teacher at the Interlochen Music Camp.

Artificial Breeding Program Completed

The reorganization of the Grand Valley Artificial Breeding Association has been completed. Arnold Wittenbach has been hired as instructor. Breeding will begin Monday, March 12. Calls for service must be in by one o'clock p. m. Mr. Wittenbach's telephone number is Lowell 102. New contracts are being sent to old members, and anyone desiring to become a member of the new Association, can do so by signing a contract at the time of the first service.

AUCTION SALES

James Maloney, March 12. Being obliged to quit farming, James Maloney will sell at public auction, on what is known as the Sophia (Caranah) Gramer farm, located 2 miles east of Lowell on M-21, then north 1/4 mile and east one mile, on Monday, March 12, a good list of cattle, horses, hogs, hay and feed, implements, tools, etc. N. C. Thomas, auctioneer; Harry Day, clerk. See complete adv. on another page of this issue.

James Steffins, March 18. James Steffins, having sold his farm, will hold an auction on Friday, Mar. 16, at the farm located on US-16, 5871 Cascade Road, north of Cascade Village. The list includes cattle, one colt, 6 feeder shoats, poultry, feed, household goods, implements and tools. N. C. Thomas, auctioneer; Harry Day, clerk. The complete list is printed on another page of this issue.

Ernest Gould, March 13. Because of his health and shortage of help, Ernest Gould will sell at public auction, at his farm on US-16, 2 1/2 miles west of M-61, on Tuesday, March 13, horses, cattle, implements, and a large quantity of miscellaneous tools. Henry Flannery, auctioneer. See adv. on another page of this issue.

Leonard H. Blossom, March 17. Having sold his farm, Leonard H. Blossom will sell at public auction, at the farm on US-16, first farm east of the Pratt Lake viaduct on south side of road, on Saturday, March 17, a quantity of household goods, implements and tools, also 8 goats and quantity of baled oat straw. A. W. Hiltz, auctioneer; L. H. Blossom, clerk. Complete list in next week's Ledger. 44-4

Words-Eye View of Scenes Flying Over the Himalayas As Portrayed by Dick Lampkin

Flight Officer Dick Lampkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lampkin of Lowell, who is now flying supplies over the "hump" from India to China, has given an unusually vivid account of his impressions over this interesting country, on one of his first routine flights. Dick has been overseas about two months and is based in China. His letter follows:

"As one sees things more vividly and so is able to describe them more pointedly when looking on them the first time, I thought I would record this impression of one of my initial flights across the 'High Road.' 'We are cruising along here at 18,000 feet, looking a little like the men from Mars as we're so toggled up with our oxygen masks, heavy flying suits, winter boots, etc. This may sound a bit odd, since we took off from lands shaded by banana trees and coconut palms; even now there's dense jungle below us in the valleys of the Irrawaddy and Salween. Down there we can see dense jungle between the snowy peaks rising off to our port.

"This trip is mostly a daylight flight and, as the weather is untroubled and clear, has the prospect of a very enjoyable one. The main reason being that today we can see where we're going even when our compass needles start swinging incoherently and radio is blocked out by Japs or weather interference.

"First the geography—the Himalayas remind me very much of the area between Denver and Salt Lake City. Vegetation is naturally much heavier but from up here topography looks quite similar. Occasionally there's a stretch of rice paddies on the terraced hillsides, then again no sign of life of any kind. The rice paddies are always close to where a stream or lake may be tapped for flooding water during the growing season.

"As we progress east we see occasional fighter strips, used for night fighters protecting us, as well as bases for the planes participating in the Burma campaign. There's also evidence here and there of Gen. Stilwell's fighting—bomb craters, demolished airplanes, trenches, etc. Roads are few and far between, transportation is invariably airplane or boat here. We have just passed Myitkyna (pronounced Mishinau) where such desperate fighting went on for the airfields and the intersection of the Ledo and Burma roads.

"Weather as clear as this is cherished here. It gives us the chance to establish landmarks and see what we're being flying over for months. There are just a few scattered clouds in the sky. Just enough to lend some beauty to those rugged peaks. It won't take long today as we're covering over four miles each minute.

"Down to our right is the turning twisting, painful, Ledo road. Not quite like the Penn. turnpike but still a very serviceable road.

"Our mess officer is here with us today for the ride. His eyes have had that 'Boy, am I glad I'm a mess officer' look, most of the time! He's going to be able to say 'I flew the hump though, and even prove it with pictures of the high points—Did I say high points? He's also getting a lesson in engines and airplanes during spare time. I'll hand it to him for braving this just for the ride though—one of my buddies had to walk back from his first trip the other day. He's going to a wedding this evening. So you see we still do entertain hopes of getting back to that wonderful country.

"Most of the main ridges appear to run North and South with lesser ones connecting east and west. The cloud layer is now building up below us and the atmosphere is taking on that pale brown, hazy cast which indicates China, and so impairs visibility. As the cloud layer thickens, only an occasional jagged peak sticks through like a lump of dirt on a snowbank.

"It's getting toward dusk now and the moon is huge—just rising over the cloud bank while the sun settles to the horizon behind us. There goes the compass needle to 180° which means we're over our destination. Another routine trip for us—especially so with this unusually fine weather, but if it were more exciting, due to bad weather, I'd have been too busy to write this down, so maybe it will answer. Keep reading Terry and the Pirates' for last minute reports! Sincerely, Dick."

Farm Gasoline Is Now Being Issued

Rationing Boards are now issuing nonhighway gasoline for the 1945 season. Farmers should apply for all of their 1945 supply at one time. Rationing Boards, after approving an application, will issue 70 percent of the ration immediately and the balance, if needed, six months later.

Gabardine Rain Coats for Men. Tans and puffy shades, slash pockets, rayon linings, dressy, rain-proof, $15 to $18. Coons.

Lowell Officer Rests Among Heroes of Leyte

Captain Erwin J. Nummer, of Lowell, who gave his life in the battle for liberation of the Philippines, was among the soldiers honored recently in 32nd Division memorial services held at the American cemetery near Limon on Leyte Island.

Following prayers by both Protestant and Catholic chaplains, Brigadier General Charles Lyman, Assistant Division Commander, placed a wreath at the base of the flagpole, with flag flying at half staff, in tribute to the men of the Red Arrow Division who died in the 32nd's heroic fighting for Leyte. As a climax to the brief but impressive ceremony, taps was sounded by a bugler, and riflemen fired three volleys over the graves.

All of the 32nd Division's men who died on Leyte have been buried in one of three neat, well-kept temporary cemeteries at Carigara, Pinamopon or Limon. Each is carefully tended by grateful Filipinos, under the supervision of American officers.

Writes About Life In Belgium Dugout

Pfc. David F. Coons writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Coons, as of Feb. 15, from somewhere in Belgium: "Have been busier than usual the last few days. Am now living in a dugout with two others. Most of it was dug when we got here, but we've fixed it up with a civilian stove, a German 'bazooka' rocket launcher for a stovepipe, boards and straw for a floor, an entrance tunnel, a glass window, etc. The roof is heavy boards with corrugated iron to shed water. We're on the outskirts of a ruined village, and there's an almost unlimited supply of assorted junk lying around. The Battery butchered two calves that were wandering around loose, and we hope to have steaks pretty soon. Altogether we're making ourselves as comfortable as possible."

Then, referring to a discontented war worker in essential industry David says: "If he could spend one day over here he'd realize how lucky he is, and he'd be more than glad to go back and work seven days a week for any war plant anywhere in Michigan. That's putting it mildly. Not that I'm enduring any great hardships like the stories you read, but he'd see enough in a day over here to wake him up. I don't believe any American who has never been to Europe really realizes how fortunate he is."

Men's Club Announces Interesting Program

Congregational men have been able to secure Mr. Perry Hayden for their meeting on Wednesday evening, March 14. Mr. Hayden will give a lecture and show colored motion pictures of the wheat project, in which the Friends church and Mr. Henry Ford were interested. The pictures will show in action some of the old harvesting equipment that Mr. Ford has collected. Mr. Hayden is guest of the Millers of Michigan at the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids a few weeks ago.

The evening's program will begin with a potluck supper in the church dining room at 7 p. m. to which the wives of the men and other ladies of the church are cordially invited. Some of the millers of the near-by towns having shown a desire to attend, have been invited.

Those interested only in seeing the pictures and hearing the address will be welcome to come to the church auditorium at 8 p. m. There will be no admission charge. This should prove to be a very interesting evening.

134 Votes Cast at Lowell-twp. Caucus

The Lowell township Republican caucus for nominating candidates for the biennial election to be held on Monday, April 2, was held at the Lowell city hall Tuesday, Mar. 6, at 2:30. After the reading of the call, Earl Thomas was chosen to preside as chairman and H. L. Weekes was chosen clerk. The tellers appointed were W. A. Roth, Melvin Court, and B. A. McQueen. The highest number of votes cast was 134 and the following ticket was nominated: Supervisor, Frank L. Houghton; clerk, Esther M. Fahrli; treasurer, Lyla Johnson; two justices of the peace for four years, Melvin Court and Paul Hilton; highway commissioner for two years, Elmer Yeiter; member board of review for two years, Dan A. Wingeler; member board of review for four years, Seymour Hesche; four constables for two years, Eugene Carr, Frank Stephens, Fred Gramer and A. H. Stormsand.

All of the above candidates were nominated without opposition except for the office of township treasurer, Lyla Johnson, the incumbent receiving 87 votes to 47 votes for Pearl M. Sayles.

On motion, the chairman reappointed the following township committee: F. F. Coons, M. N. Henry, C. J. Place.

The Republican ticket will be opposed as no caucus call was issued by the Democrats.

P. O. Dept. Warns About Vicious Dogs

First Assistant Postmaster General reports that for the year ended December 31, 1944, 1,259 city mail carriers were bitten by dogs while engaged in the delivery of mail. Injuries caused by vicious dogs are particularly prevalent during the months of April, May, June, July and August. It is believed that a substantial percentage of these injuries can be eliminated and public cooperation to this end is earnestly solicited. People who own vicious dogs should use every precaution to safeguard the public. Postal laws protect mail carriers regarding delivery of mail to homes where ugly dogs are kept. A warning will be issued by the postmaster where necessary and if this is not heeded the delivery of mail will be withdrawn.

The war is costing the U. S. approximately $270,000,000 a day.

Up and Down Kent County Roads

By K. K. Vining, Kent County Agricultural Agent

It's a small world. A while back when Raymond Alles, former 4-H dairy club member from Cannon, was home on furlough he made our office a call. He was to go to Fort George Meade in Maryland, after the furlough. We knew Major Novels Pearson, former State Leader of 4-H Club work, was stationed there doing convoy work. Asked Ray to watch for Pearson at Fort Meade and enroute overseas. A letter came from Pearson the last week telling of meeting Ray in France, or somewhere over there. The boys were on the pier when Pearson came along. Ray called to him and they visited a minute. Later in the train the two had a good chat.

Our mail the past week had a good letter from Cpl. Morris Becker, former 4-H Crops club member in Nelson township. Becker's letter had a Belgium heading on it.

Folks continually ask why there isn't more butter available. At a recent meeting of the County War Board to check farm records of Selective Service registrants there were 150 cases from a strictly dairy section of this county. All the cases reported dairy sales. I checked to see how many farms showed dairy sales. How many would you guess? There were only two. Dairy folks are selling whole milk instead of cream. There is more money in it and no cream separators to wash.

Kent County folks who knew Professor E. G. McKibben, of the Agricultural Engineering department at Michigan State College, will be sorry to know he is leaving the college staff. Sometime ago he was offered a lucrative job with the pineapple interests in Hawaii doing agricultural engineering work. He has accepted the job and will be leaving Michigan State college at the end of the school year.

The Rockford Cooperative Association had a most enjoyable annual meeting on February 23rd. This farm organization has always forged ahead since its organization over 25 years ago. This year their report showed a substantial business, enough so they paid their regular 6% stock dividend and a 41-43 1/4% patronage dividend. The high families.

Along Main Street

Village election next Monday. Good idea for everybody to turn out and vote.

Lowell is growing. Village Clerk L. E. Johnson reports that upwards of 100 new names were added to the poll list during the recent registration period.

The annual financial statement for the village of Lowell for the fiscal year ending January 31, 1945, will be found on page 6 of this issue.

A dog without a license tag and weighing about 60 lbs. was saved from a watery grave last Friday morning by Bob Starkey, who lassoed the animal and brought it to shore. The dog broke through thin ice while attempting to cross Flat river and was just about tuckered out when rescued.

Gordon Johnson, who has been confined to his home most of the time for the past four weeks, suffering from a serious infection which affected his hands, is now making progress toward recovery and expects to resume his work within two or three weeks. The infection is due to a fungus growth which sometimes develops when the hands come in contact with used oil and grease.

An unusual sight for the present day made its appearance on Main-st. last Monday and drew the interested attention of many along the street. It was a double buggy with a black canopy top, drawn by a fine team of dapple gray horses, driven and owned by Mrs. Clara Townsend of Clarksville, who says she has been using that mode of travel for the past two years.

If you have read "My Friend Flecka" you are due for a new thrill in "Thunderhead," a sequel to that stirring story of a boy and his horse. If you have not read "My Friend Flecka," by Mary O'Hara, you have missed something, but don't miss "Thunderhead" by the same author. It's a grand story and is copyrighted. Look for "Thunderhead" in this newspaper beginning next week.

M. E. McPherson, who underwent a serious abdominal operation at Butterworth hospital, Grand Rapids, ten days ago, is reported by members of his family who have been in daily attendance, to be making fair progress on the road to recovery, although it will probably be a couple of weeks or more before he will be able to leave the hospital. Me's countless friends are looking forward to his early return home.

In Belgium a meal now costs $13.

Roland J. Troyer, 8 1/2 (R T) spent the week-end with his folks. Roland is back in Michigan City Naval Armory after three weeks of scarlet fever.

Marine Sgt. Robert Christiansen is located in the Solomon Islands. He has been in the Pacific since last November having crossed the Equator Nov. 14 and received the certificate issued to those who cross the equator for the first time, making him a member of the Shellbacks. He said they get quite a kick out of the native children. They catch on quick. One day a little fellow came up, who didn't look old enough to talk. He looked up at Bob and said "Hay Joga stick-a-gum?" He wrote that they tuned in their radio and got the Rose Bowl game, when U. C. L. A. played Tennessee. He said they organized a ball team, but the sun is so hot they sweat off about ten pounds every time they play.

Adv. Officer Aids in Crippling Jap Oil Lands
Lt. Carl Falke of Ada flew his P-38 Lightning with the Fighting Cocks unit of Brig. Gen. Earl W. Barnes' 13th AAF Fighter command in a recent coordinated B-24 Liberator, P-38 Lightning and P-47 Thunderbolt sm. ash on oil-rich Tarakan in the Dutch East Indies. While the P-47s covered Liberators unloading 100 tons of incendiaries and high explosives on Tarakan installations, Lt. Falke and his P-38 teammates dive-bombed, strafed and destroyed a power house, left a large tanker and pier burning, and 10 barges and numerous small craft flaming on the Tarakan waterfront. The raiders started large fires in the Tarakan area with heavy black smoke billowing to 15,000 feet.

Lt. Falke is the son of Mrs. Veronica Falke of route 2, Ada. Other members of his family in the service are Walter Falke, a lieutenant colonel in the engineers' corps; John Falke, a chief petty officer in the navy; and Joseph Falke, also in the navy.
Lt. Falke holds the air medal and the Asiatic-Pacific theatre ribbon.

SOUTH BOSTON GRANGE
A class of candidates were initiated at the regular meeting on Saturday evening, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Thad Wiggfield, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stalter, Miss Caroline Neilson, Miss Lois Klahn and George Welsh. R. statements were given to Mrs. LaVerne Klahn, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Neilson and Mrs. George Welsh.

A Grange dancing party will be held on Saturday evening, March 11, each member being privileged to invite a guest. Ladies bring sandwiches and doughnuts. Coffee will be furnished by the Grange.
A committee comprised of Worthy Master Gottlieb Roth, Paul Wittenbach, Wesley Keim, Burt Jackson and Raed Smith are contacting proper authorities concerning the driving of a well.
We were pleased to have with us eight members from Lakeside Grange.
The Juvenile Grange initiated a class of ten. This department also chose a home economics committee, Phyllis Klahn, Donnie Austin, Joyce Stalter and Lyle Jackson.
Don't forget that the net proceeds of the dance of Saturday evening, March 10, goes to the Red Cross. Dancing begins at 8:30 with no intermission. Lunch from 10:30 to 11:30. The dance will be brought to a close so that the hall may be closed by 12 o'clock.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS
On Monday, March 5, Lowell Job's Daughters held a special business meeting with five Guardian Council members and most of the members of Job's Daughters present. Plans for a party for the public were discussed. It was planned for Friday, March 16 in the City Hall.
There was a report given on the as yet unobtained cabinet for the ceremonial rober. Then the Bethel members viewed the hard-worked for charter. It was in a beautiful frame, which was a gift of Mr. W. A. Roth to the Bethel.
The next meeting will be Monday, March 12 and the members will practice for the initiation ceremony.
