AID FOR HOSPITALS

Legislation is coming before congress which would provide federal aid in the building of hospitals, the states also being expected to contribute to accomplish this program.

The hospitals have accomplished such grand results in curing disease and relieving suffering, that the public will hope to see their facilities extended to localities where they do not exist or are insufficient. Many troubles which were once considered hopeless have been cured by these institutions, with their fine scientific equipment and competent medical and surgical and nursing staffs. The work done by the hospitals has saved countless lives, and relieved suffering and anxiety in countless families.

The establishment of a hospital in Lowell would fill a long-felt want.

"IRONING OUT" TROUBLE

When there is a controversy or difficulty, the hope is often expressed that that trouble will be successfully "ironed out". The kind of iron that some people use in smoothing out these troubles seems a good deal like a hammer. Some people use that hammer in a very emphatic way, as if they hoped by the force of their blows to drive ideas into people's heads.

Differences of opinion are rarely settled by that method. They are more likely to be adjusted where people make a sincere effort to understand the point of view of parties from whom they differ, and really try to see if there is any merit in their position. In that way they should be able to suggest compromises that will seem fair to all, and settle such difficulties.

PRESS FREEDOM EVERYWHERE

Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, has urged the public to demand that freedom of the press be extended throughout the world. If that aim could be realized, it would be a tremendous step toward the accomplishment of world peace.

Aggressive governments are aided in their warlike plans, by propaganda which persuades their people to support war efforts, and promises them great gains as the result of superior military power and success in wars if they fight. If there could be freedom of the press in such countries, so that such propaganda could be criticized, and the folly of aggressive war shown, it would be a great step toward persuading such people not to support or start any such conflict.

A free press should be able to show the people that wars bring only ruin and disaster. When the press everywhere becomes free, the chance that any nation will start a war will be reduced.

INCREASE OF CRIME

An increase of crime amounting to 5.4 per cent is reported by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, according to figures for the first half of 1945 from 392 cities. This was a period when the whole energy of the nation should have been devoted to the war effort. It is a disturbing thought that in this period of emergency when the nation was fighting for its life, there should be an element at home who were creating problems for their homes and the police by crimes of violence.

The question comes to families and communities, as to what more they can do to bring up young men who are not tempted to lives of crime, and who conform to the rules of conduct which society has established.

Some boys get the idea at a fairly early age that they do not have to obey the rules established by the home and the laws of state and city. They seem to get a certain satisfaction in breaking these rules. That desire can be cured in many cases by giving them some activity that will interest them, and take their minds away from unruly thoughts.

The chance to earn money on some useful job is one such incentive. It is a training for them in meeting requirements and conforming to custom and doing satisfactory work. If they can make good in such a job, it is an incentive to them to go straight and look for chances to improve their own service, rather than breaking the rules that the world makes for them.

A chance to engage in some athletic sport is a wonderful factor in inducing such boys to keep straight. In sport they learn to obey the rules and are rewarded for their effort by the applause of the public and their associates. Whatever can be done to give such boys a worthy incentive, draws their minds away from thoughts of lawlessness and thus creates good citizens.

AAA Farm Program For The Year 1946 Getting Under Way

Selection of Community and County Committees To Be Held Between Nov. 26 and Dec. 7

The election of community and county committees for the 1946 AAA Farm Program year for Kent county will be held between the dates of November 26 and December 7, 1945, according to John McCabe, Chairman of the Kent County AAA Committee. Three community committees and two alternates and a delegate to the county convention will be elected in each of the 24 townships in Kent county.

The delegates will meet at the county office on December 7, to elect a county committee consisting of three committees and two alternates. This committee when elected will administer the AAA Farm Program activities within the county for the ensuing year.

Farmers who are eligible to vote at these elections are those who participated in the 1945 AAA Farm Program, the Sugar Beet Program, or those who signed a crop insurance application covering their planting of wheat for harvest in 1946.

The chairman urges as many voters to attend the meetings as possible. The solving of postwar problems is of vital concern to each and every farmer. Therefore, it is to each one's interest to get to the coming election meetings and vote for men best able to administer the AAA Farm Programs. Dates, hours, and meeting places for holding the annual election are now being arranged. Announcement will be made at a later date. Note—Mr. McCabe calls attention to the fact that Nov. 30 is the deadline date for filing dairy fund payment applications in Kent County.

JUNIOR RED CROSS MAKES GOOD SHOWING

The Lowell Elementary Junior Red Cross, of Lowell, held their enrollment campaign from Nov. 1 to 15. The 8th grade contributed the most with more than $8.00, with the 3rd and 1st grades running 2nd and 3rd respectively. The total enrollment fee was $29.25 from the entire elementary grades.

This service should be of interest to all ages. The public is cordially invited.

No Need to Die From Diphtheria Declares Doctor

Have Safe and Preventive Toxoid But Parents Must Learn to Have Children Protected

"Every death from diphtheria is preventable and some person should take the rap", this statement was made by Dr. Donald T. Fraser, professor of Preventive Medicine of the University of Toronto, before the 25th annual Michigan Public Health Conference in Grand Rapids on Nov. 9.

Dr. Fraser said that we have a safe and effective toxoid for preventing diphtheria, but it is not enough. We must educate parents so that they will have their children protected.

"Give diphtheria toxoid to all infants at nine months of age, again at 10 months, and follow up with a booster dose of toxoid when children reach school age and diphtheria will disappear", Dr. Fraser declared.

Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the Michigan Department of Health's Bureau of Epidemiology, told the conference that Michigan's increase in diphtheria was due directly to failure to immunize. During the past three years distribution of diphtheria toxoid dropped 34% while the cases of the disease more than doubled.

The Love Story of a Soldier

BY KEITH W. AVERY

This is the story of a very beautiful love.

Back in 1941 there was a cowboy who was very fond of animals, and one day while he was breaking some colts and caring for several of his horses a young friend rode up with a fluffy pup in the basket of his bicycle. The pup was just an ordinary dog in appearance; mostly tan, with big sensitive eyes. Part Spaniel and part Irish Setter as well as any one could tell; it really didn't matter much though.

This cowboy bought the puppy for fifty cents and that night, after his horses were cared for, he carried her home cuddled across the front of his saddle. During the ride home that evening he named the tan, helpless puff of fur, Sandy.

From that day on Sandy was most always around this cowboy and his horses and became as fond of them as was her cowboy. Often while her master was away she would wait and doze in the manger belonging to the horse he happened to be riding.

When Sandy became older she would always follow the cowboy on his rides through the valleys, along the streams and back into the hazy blue hills. If he rode leisurely Sandy would hunt and explore along the trail. If the cowboy rode rapidly she would pant along behind, never caring or whimpering if the day was hot or the stones along the road hurt her feet.

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM.

Howard Acheson of the Army Air Forces, received his discharge Oct. 31, from Patterson Field, Ohio. He is now an apprentice carpenter in Grand Rapids and his family is living in Lowell for the time being.

Skipper Bruce Walter, who has been on active duty in the Pacific for nearly a year, has been released from duty abroad the U. S. S. L. CIM 808 and was put aboard the hospital ship, U. S. S. Consolation at Nagayo, November 2. The U. S. S. Consolation is scheduled to arrive at San Francisco this Friday, Nov. 23. All join with his wife and family in the hope that Skipper Bruce will soon be home again, for good.

Mrs. D. H. Oatley, son Frank and daughter, Nancy Alice, Mrs. Paul Gardner and Mrs. Harold Washburn left Sunday by auto for the Pacific coast where the ladies will visit their respective husbands—Lt. Oatley on shore leave, S/Sgt. Gardner, who is in a hospital receiving treatment for malaria and Harold Washburn of the U. S. Merchant Marine who expects to receive his discharge within a short time.

Sgt. Henry Fase of Ada has received his discharge from the army at Fort Sheridan, Ill., after serving over 4 years in the service, 2 1/2 years overseas.

Victory Loan Bonds Are Your Safeguard

The government asks the help of its citizens to pay the concluding costs of the war by liberal and generous subscriptions to the new Victory loan. These subscriptions should not be looked at as a gift to the government. They are rather a most excellent investment, bearing a good rate of interest. They are a safeguard against a return to hard times. If periods of unemployment come the families that have a solid foundation of war and victory bonds will have reason to congratulate themselves.

These bonds will be like a secure roof over one's head in times of storm and tempest. The purchase of them helps the government to avoid inflation, which would bring such disaster to the homes and nation.

All-Breed Puppy Show Civic Auditorium, Nov. 24

The Grand Rapids Kennel Club and the Kent County Humane Society are sponsoring an all-breed puppy show to be held Nov. 24 at the Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium. M. S. C. Specialist Advocates Boosting Farm Income By Quality Grading Eggs

Michigan's annual farm income could be increased at least $3,000,000 if all eggs could be produced and sold on a quality grade basis, believes J. M. Moore, extension poultryman of Michigan State College.

Prior to the war, when supply and demand were the controlling factors, Michigan producers who received pay for their eggs on a quality basis made at least an extra $1 a case profit, according to Mr. Moore's figures. If all egg producers in the state could be brought into such a program, the three-million-dollar figure could be reached, he is convinced.

Young Car Thieves Have Short Liberty

The car belonging to Reuben Lee was stolen from the garage at the farm home on U S 16 last Friday night by 3 boys ranging in age from 11 to 14 years, who had escaped from the Boys Vocational School at Lansing.

The car was located in Muskegon the next day and Mr. Lee notified by officers in that city. The boys were taken into custody and returned to Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee went to Muskegon Saturday to identify the car and bring it home.

Cpl. Wm. E. Stephan, who has been serving with the U. S. Marines for more than 3 years, has received his discharge and has arrived on the west coast and is due home in the near future. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Stephan of Grand Rapids and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Jones of Lowell.

Word has been received that Sgt. Kenneth Fletcher is on his way home from Calcutta, India, and is due in the U. S. about November 27.

Mr. and Mrs. James Collins received word Sunday from their son, Pvt. Ernest Collins, that he was leaving for Cairo, Egypt.

Richard M. Peckham, Y 2/c, received his discharge from the 3rd separation center at Great Lakes, Ill., on Nov. 17.

Pvt. Frank Johnson returned Monday to Fort Sheridan for further assignment after spending several days with the home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Van Tassel are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dennis, on a 52 day leave. Mr. Van Tassel is a chief in the U. S. Navy. He has served 10 years and is entitled to wear the ribbons of the American Defense, Asiatic Pacific with 8 battle stars, Victory ribbon, Good Conduct with star and Philippine Liberation ribbon with star. He was in 31 engagements in the Pacific, on the U. S. S. Essex, and one on the U. S. S. Capilla, in the Atlantic.

Pvt. Wm. I. Wright is now stationed at Klamler Field, Miss., with the Army Air Corp.

Young Men Recovering From Car-Tree Crash

The young men who came within an ace of losing their lives when their car crashed head-on into a tree on M-21 at an early hour last Tuesday morning, are making progress toward recovery. Ralph Belmers, who suffered a jaw fracture and Russell Wheaton, who suffered a skull fracture, were able to return home from the hospital this week Monday. Belmers is able to be around but Wheaton will be obliged to remain in bed for a few weeks because of his skull fracture.

Don Hall, sailor home on leave, who suffered a leg fracture, will be obliged to remain in the hospital a few weeks longer.

Accommodating Buck Aids Local Hunters

One party of local hunters secured their buck in a most unusual manner. The party, composed of William Heim, Harry McGarvey and Elmer Ellis, of Lowell, and Elmer Dintamin, of Alto, were out for a few hours hunt last Sunday in Newaygo county when they were startled by a crash against the side of the car.

On investigation the men found a big, 8-point buck with its rear legs broken as a result of crashing into their car. Mr. Heim put the animal out of his misery with a shot from his rifle.

Before criticizing, ask yourself what you might have done yourself under like circumstances.

G.I. From Lowell Now in Yokohama

First Impressions Make Good Reading

Pvt. Harold Jefferies, formerly of the Ledger staff but for the past seven months a G.I. in Uncle Sam's army, arrived at Yokohama, Japan, on Oct. 31 after a 5,000-mile trip across the Pacific by way of Alaska and the Aleutian Islands.

Under date of Nov. 1, Harold writes, in part, as follows: "Before arriving at Yokohama on Tuesday, we passed at least several hundred ships, including cruisers, aircraft carriers, destroyers, tankers and many merchant ships.

On leaving ship we carried 150 pounds but were soon loaded into trucks that took us to a train run by electric power, which brought us into camp. The next day open trucks brought us through rain and mud, through streets so narrow we almost touched the houses. One woman stood in front of her house waving a stick as the trucks turned the sharp corner close to her.

We arrived at a barn, hauled our bags through ankle deep mud, had roll call and waded back to tents housing 20 folding cots on a muddy floor. Even my sleeping bag failed to keep out the damp and cold.

Many of the fellows are transferring to the paratroopers, signal corp and engineering division. Everything is hard to get here—no cigarettes, no candy, no nothing. Cigarettes sell for $1.33 a pack. One has to have cigarettes or candy to trade for other things, they are just not interested in money.

Enclosed you will find a 10 cent note worth 1/60 of a cent. A yen is worth about 6 3/4 cents, rate of exchange is 15 yen to the dollar. And we are to be paid in this stuff, last night kids were trading it along the tracks for cigarettes.

Editors note—Since writing the above Harold has been transferred to the Public Relations Officer's Section of the 8th army headquarters company. Look for another interesting letter in an early issue of the Ledger.

The War Food administration has estimated that if only a third of our national food waste in homes could be prevented it would add 6 to 8 per cent of our total food supply.

Up and Down Kent County Roads

By K. K. Vining, Kent County Agricultural Agent

Kent County potato club members did well at the Southwestern Michigan Potato Show held at Belding recently.

In the individual exhibit Ralph Johnson, of Cannon, had a blue ribbon on his Chippewas; Frank Williams, of Oakfield township, had a blue ribbon on his Kalandins and David and Howard Barker, of Cannon, had red ribbons on their Chippewas and Russet Rural exhibits. William Reed, of Courtland township, had a white ribbon on his Menominees. The county exhibit took first place.

In the potato judging contest Howard Barker was high man. The county team won first place. The balance of the team were David and John Barker and William Reed.

In the 4-H Premier growers contest William Reed, of Courtland, took second place, winning a $50 war bond.

Another farm season is closing up. Crops are harvested. Many are sold. Cattle are in the barns and winter feeding schedules are under way. Many of our Kent county farmers are taking a deserved vacation and are in the north woods chasing the elusive buck but having a good time.

Soon it will be time to think about 1946 plans. How about including in those plans the keeping of a farm account book? This has been a regular extension project for many years with quite a few Kent county farmers keeping accounts in cooperation with the Farm Management Department at Michigan State College. Due to war time work the project has slipped badly, simply because our staff couldn't follow up the work.

Here is the plan in brief. You buy a college farm account book. Our office will help you start it, set up the inventory and during the year will visit your farm to see how you are getting along. At the close of the year the book will be summarized at the college, returned to you and a report given you about your farm in comparison to farms of similar type.

Some Lowell people have not yet learned that when the fire alarm sounds daily at 11:30 a. m. that it is for the purpose of testing the fire siren. No use getting excited at 11:30 a. m. and rush out shouting, "Where's the fire—Where's the fire?"

Wm. Hartnett, who has been commuting between Lowell and Alaska for some 30-odd years was transacting business on Main St. last Saturday. When asked how he liked Alaska, Mr. Hartnett replied, "Fine! We don't have strikes up there."

Hereafter in Michigan Thanksgiving will fall on the fourth Thursday in every November. The Michigan legislature at its last session decided that it was about time to fix some regular period for it, so that the entire state would observe it on the same date.

In another column in this issue of the Ledger our readers will find a story of genuine human interest, titled, "The Love Story of a Soldier," by Keith W. Avery. It's a story of a boy who played cowboy (like many another American boy) before going off to war and of his pet dog, Sandy.

A few days ago the Ledger could have secured the services of a first class printer except for one thing—a house. The printer in question was a returned service man who had a wife and three children and all were anxious to make Lowell their permanent home because of our good schools and a church of their choice. Some 2 or 3 weeks ago an almost identical situation arose—but no house. Every week Lowell is losing the opportunity to add to its most valuable asset, viz: good substantial citizens. No one can be blamed for this situation but it should be stated here that a number of local citizens stand ready and willing to build a goodly number of homes as soon as conditions permit, such as availability of building materials, etc., and the ending of strikes which are penalizing the entire country.

Kent Farm Bureau Annual Election

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kent County Farm Bureau held November 15, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Seymour Hesche, Lowell; vice president, Ralph Sherk, Caledonia; secretary and treasurer, Ira M. Dean, Grand Rapids.

The Board of Directors for 1946 are: Seymour Hesche, R. 2, Lowell; Ralph Sherk, Caledonia; Charles Montgomery, Kent City; Ralph Roth, R. 1, Lowell; Arthur Haradine, R. 2, Grand Rapids; Charles Feenstra, Paris Township; Ernest Ruess, R. 1, Caledonia; William Schaefer, Sparta; Lee Jakeway, Grattan Township; Donald McPherson, Vergennes Township.

The goal set by the Board of Directors for the membership drive to be held in February is 890 members.

Roll call chairmen for the county are Seymour Hesche and Charles Roberts.

The committee to work on Junior Farm Bureau relationships is: Donald McPherson, Ralph Roth, Mary Farrell.

Directors for women's Farm Bureau activities are: Mrs. Elsie Roberts and Mrs. Thelma Hellman. Seymour Hesche and Charles Roberts are to represent the Kent County Farm Bureau at the National Farm Bureau meeting in Chicago from December 17 to 20.

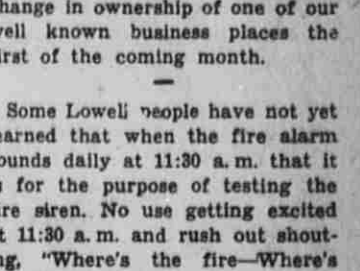

Harold Green, of Lowell, was appointed Community Group director for 1946.

It's The Crowd That Makes a Good Farm Auction

The success of your farm sale depends on having a large crowd present. A crowd which wants to buy the things you have to sell. And there is just one way to get such a crowd. That is to let the farmers of this territory know you are having a sale and enumerating the things you have to sell.

You can do that job best by using The Lowell Ledger's farm sale service. The only means by which you can get the story of your sale before the vast majority of farmers living in this territory.

The Lowell Ledger Farm Sale Service

OFFERS YOU THESE OUTSTANDING FEATURES:

- 1. A large advertisement in The Ledger, which will be read by the farm people of this territory. Through the Ledger, you take the news of your farm sale directly into the homes of your prospective crowd, where they can examine it carefully. 2. An ample supply of attractive bills, printed on brightly colored paper, to cover additional territory. 3. A liberal news story on the front page of The Ledger the issue prior to the sale, calling special attention to your advertisement. 4. Help in preparing your farm sale advertisement. Simply make up your list and bring it in. We'll do the rest.

Remember This!

When you hold a farm sale, you are offering several thousand dollars worth of merchandise for sale. It will pay you to advertise your sale thoroughly and completely. If you live within 15 miles of Lowell, you can best do that job through The Lowell Ledger, which now has the largest subscription list in its history... over 8,000 readers every week.

The reason a lot of fellows are bachelors is because they fail to embrace their opportunities. Art is more godlike than science. Rustling is prevented by new compounds because they adhere firmly to the metal surfaces and form an elastic non-porous film through which moisture cannot penetrate.

Needed: $1,000,000 worth of equipment in every farm county! Job! Big demand for one-man combines will make factory jobs. Many farmers will buy one-man hay balers. More jobs! One-man combine harvesters will add to jobs in factories.

Jap Army Survivor

IN KILLING OVER ONE-THIRD, by actual count, of all Jap soldiers killed in this war's land fighting, the Allied forces in Burma under Admiral Mountbatten smashed three Japanese armies. Actual figures are: of all Jap army dead admitted by Tokyo as killed in all theaters, 42 percent were killed in Burma fighting; and of all Allied troops in Burma, 86 percent were from the British Commonwealth who there lost 17,000 men killed. In this symbolic picture, a Jap Major hangs over his sword to British officers when fighting ceased in Burma.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Child Study Club
Thirty members and guests of the Child Study Club met with Mrs. Charles White. Mrs. James Gee gave a very interesting report of the convention in St. Johns. Mrs. Dorothy Christoff gave a report on the need for research on rheumatic fever.
Refreshments were served by Mrs. White and Marion Bushnell.

Savin' Coins
By EDWIN T. STRAYFR
McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Features.

THE kid, Keesee, is bright all right. He sure gets Old Dave. After he's been in the service station there's always something missin', or the change is wrong. But never any proof. He's slick or has no nerves. Got away with things because he'd pull them right in your face. Dave won't accuse him because he wants to beat him at his own game. Things are pulled so often that Dave commences to feel like a fool. To tell Keesee to stay out would be no satisfaction. Dave's too contrary himself for half-jest. He wants to turn the tables.

Well, me an' Dave are playin' checkers on the side counter. Keesee is perched up on the end. Sittin' there lookin' innocent. He can't reach anythin' from there, so we don't pay too much attention to him. Dave, pretendin' he doesn't know the game, is takin' me over with his smooth moves.

Keesee's down. Glides back of Dave to the refrigerator for a bottle of chocolate milk. Dave keeps his face toward me an' the board, but moves his eyes watchin' Keesee. Keesee gets his bottle, comes back, opens the slide, takes a bag of peanuts from right under the checkerboard. He lays a coin at Dave's elbow. Dave glances at the money. But he doesn't say a word. Not to Keesee. To me he says, "It's yore move."

I think, Is he gonna let him get away with that? He can easy enough see it's a cent and not a dime. But it's Dave's business. I make my move an' keep my face straight. Dave sees through it.

"Somethin' slick, ain't yuh?" he grins. "But it happens I pulled that one on a guy once, myself."

I look up, an' I see on Keesee's face a sly grin which says plain'n Scripture, "Yuh old fools, anybody could outlick both of yuh."

Dave picks up the coin, absent-like, drops it in his pocket. Keesee is perched again, eatin' peanuts an', o' course, much to the good. Guys start comin' fer gas. Dave has to go out once in a while to fill a tank—or give 'em their stamps' worth anythin'. Sometimes there is, quite a bit of business per square inch. So, while Dave's out I just keep an eye tatted on Keesee so's he don't shin up the chimney with the cash register or nothin'. But he sits there, sweet an' good as a bouquet of lilacs.

A guy comes in fer change, an' up speaks Keesee! He says: "I get change, too, Dave!"

Dave looks puzzled. "Why? What did yuh gimme?"

"I gave yuh a quarter. I got a chocolate milk an' a bag o' peanuts." Hmm! So this is how it works, I think to myself.

Dave fishes all the silver out of his pocket where he's been puttin' it all evenin'. "Why, I ain't got no quarter."

"I gave yuh a quarter, because I had a nickel and a quarter, and here's the nickel!" An' sure enough he pulls out a nickel. He looks at me. He wants me to speak up for 'im. Nerve! Whew!

"Yuh laid yer money down," I says, sarcastic-like, "but I thought it was a nickel." But turned if Dave don't give in and hand him three nickels change!

"I reckon yuh wouldn't lie fer 15 cents," Dave grins.

Keesee perches himself up on the counter again, four coins in his jeans 'stead of the two he started out with, an' a bag of peanuts glidin' along his gullet. Washin' 'em down with his free chocolate milk! Naturally, I'm wonderin' if Dave's nuts or blind, when he gives me a look which says, "Shut up! Everythin's hunky-dory."

Soon Keesee goes out, lookin' thoughtful. Dave starts grinnin' all over his face, an' Dave's face covers a lot of territory. He gets all his change out of his pocket. He fiddles around through a fistful of it till he comes to Keesee's bit. He hands it to me, an' I see Keesee's right! It's NOT a nickel. But it's somethin' I have only seen twice in 15 years of steady lookin'. An' while I'm makin' plumb sure, Dave's reachin' for a big "No Loasin'" sign. "I'm ahead of him now," he chortles, "and sure as gun's iron I'm gonna stay ahead!"

He hangs up the "No Loasin'" so it'll look Keesee right in the eye when he comes in. He stacks empty pop cases, old boxes and sticky oil rags two feet deep on Keesee's end seat. Now I'm sure he's not nuts! For that piece I'm a-gappin' at it is a big copper cent. It's a 1799 model in beautiful condition. An' Dave knows it's the real thing. He's been huntin' one a long time. He pulls out his Rare Coin Encyclopedia an' points to somethin', still grinnin' a-plenty. Its value is listed accordin' to condition—$2 to $80!
