

Rotarians Hear Noted Scientist

Graphic Preview of New Things to Come

The Lowell Rotary club was fortunate last Wednesday to have as its speaker Hilton Ira Jones Ph. D., who operates a laboratory for scientific research at his home in Kansas and writes a column in the "Rotarian" each month called, "Peeps at Things to Come." Dr. Jones was brought to Lowell by Milton Fuller, a life-long friend. Both gentlemen were born and raised in the same city in Minnesota.

Dr. Jones in the time that was available to him gave the club an insight into things to come. Some of the interesting new things that he brought to club were passed around the room, a few of the interesting facts are elaborated below.

Vibron. To the seemingly endless stream of new plastics, add the vibron—liquid resins that harden at atmospheric temperature and pressure, thus doing away with the need of heavy, expensive equipment for producing castings, and especially laminated and impregnated materials such as wallboard. The new plastic is also used for the imbedding of fiber glass, producing a board with a strength per pound equivalent to steel and light in weight. It seems particularly suited for luggage, boats, furniture and prefabricated house construction.

Bug Repellent. Though dimethyl phthalate is almost odorless, for some unknown reason it seems highly unpleasant to mosquitoes, flies, fleas, gnats, sandflies, chiggers, and ticks. It is not a new chemical, and has been used for some time in synthetic-resin enamels. It is inexpensive, entirely inoffensive, waterlike liquid, and it has been found to be many times more effective than peacetone insect repellents. The armed forces are taking up many thousands of gallons of it that the production of certain resin enamels is being seriously crippled. Dimethyl phthalate, made from naphthalene (moth balls), is not an insecticide, but an insecticide or repellent. What a boon it is to mosquito and chigger harried fishermen when it goes on the market. One application to the skin is said to give complete protection for at least six hours.

Tuber Sprouting Stopped. In the past a large annual loss has resulted from the sprouting of vegetables in storage—especially potatoes. A university of Wisconsin scientist has finally found a chemical which will prevent this sprouting. It is the methyl ester of alpha-naphthalene acetic acid, and has been known for some time to exert a hormone action on plant growth. As little as three ounces of this chemical is sufficient to treat 100 bushels of "spuds" and keep them from sprouting. It may be applied as a dust, as a spray of the solution, or as an emulsion.

DDT Deadly in Paints. Two British paint chemists have found that by placing in test cages plywood panels with new oilbound water paints containing 5 percent DDT, all flies coming in contact with the panels were killed. Tests two months later showed the painted panels still lethal to the insects. In a further test the walls of a small room were painted, but by mistake the paint contained only one-tenth the former content of DDT. Despite this much greater dilution, 90 percent of the flies alighting on the walls were killed.

Farewell to Baggy Pants. If you are one of those mortally sensitive souls distressed by baggy trousers, be of good cheer, for the chemist has come to your rescue. "Syton" is the name of your remedy. Syton is actually said in such subdivision that it will disappear in water. This means that the grains are one-half a micron or less in diameter. That is submicroscopic, since the micron is only one-thousandth of a millimeter, or practically one twenty-five-thousandth of an inch. If syton (this sand-in-water dispersion) is sprayed on a textile, it will dry and leave a layer of these submicroscopic particles on each fiber. The effect cannot be felt, but it makes the fibers non-slip so they stay in place and do not slip, but hold their shape. Trousers so treated will not bag, and stockings so treated will not run.

Dip-Coated Frozen Foods. Blocks and packages of frozen foods dipped in molten micro-crystalline paraffin before freezing hold their quality and food value for a long period when stored at reasonably constant low temperatures. Such a covering has the advantage of having no folds, cracks, or seams to admit air to the contents or permit moisture to escape. It is easy to strip off when the food is thawed slightly.

Miracle Adhesive. A waterproof, fast-setting, flexible adhesive has been reported which can be used for laying a wall of glass brick or tile, and gluing on instead of nail, iron wall studs and veneer, linoleum, asphalt and ceramic tile. Even metal pipe hangers can be glued to ceramic walls. It bonds metal to metal as well as to concrete.

Dr. Jones Declared that the typhons that are coming will be the best ever and (happy thought) will not run. Rayons are practically a thing of the past.

MISDIRECTED KINDNESS
No orphans, but kidnap victims, are the fawns plucked up by motorists. Legal penalties are provided for such misdirected "kindness."

Family Service For Rural Kent

Counselor to Visit Key Towns in County

Regular appointments for consultation on any problems affecting family life may now be made with Mrs. Florence Pfuecke, of the Family Service Association, which is a Kent County Community Chest member agency, on Mondays from 9:00 a. m. to 11:00 a. m., at the Lowell City hall.

Counseling is offered on marriage, budgeting, veterans' problems, handling of children and direct counseling with young people on the home and school problems. Legal assistance is also offered when necessary through the Legal Aid Bureau. Financial assistance is also given to meet special family problems when necessary. Through Mrs. Pfuecke it is also possible to make arrangements for other Community Chest agency services or to find out what public or private agency can give service in meeting a problem.

Service Available to All
The Family Service Association has been working in Kent county for the past 50 years and its services have always been available to all residents of the county. The lack of use by those some distance from the central office has led the Association to believe that many do not understand the service available, how it helps people who are worried about their families, and how Family Service functions. By extending this service into the various parts of the county, Mrs. Pfuecke feels that those further from the central office will gain a better understanding of it and come to use it more frequently as the need arises.

"During the past four years," she said, "Kent county residents have been contributing generously to the Joint War Chest, Community Chest Drives, and we think our services should be available to all. We have been working on this program and plan setting up branches in key spots around Kent county."

"In addition to the Lowell service we have consultation periods in Rockford on Wednesday afternoons, Sand Lake on Friday mornings, and Cedar Springs on Friday afternoons. A similar service in Caledonia will be formally announced shortly and others will be set up as soon as we have the time and local interest."

Mrs. Pfuecke is a graduate social worker and holds a master's degree in sociology. For the past five years she has been associated with the Family Service Association.

Mrs. Harriet Rouse Dies in 97th Year

Lowell lost its oldest citizen at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning of this week in the death of Mrs. Harriet Rouse, which occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Hoffman, Monroe-ave., where she had been cared for during her last illness, the direct cause of death being attributed to injuries received from a fall from a sidewalk, last August, due to falling eyesight.

Mrs. Rouse was born in Rochester, N. Y., on May 22, 1850, and lived but four years of attaining the century mark. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Fuller and when a small child came with her parents from Rochester to Vergennes-Tp., Kent county.

Harriet Newell Fuller was united in marriage with Henry Tredenek of Lowell, on December 22, 1870. To this union was born a son, Frank, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Taplin of Montpelier, Vt., both of whom survive.

On September 20, 1902 she was married to George W. Rouse, who preceded her in death by 23 years. Since the passing of Mr. Rouse, she has spent a number of winters with her daughter in Vermont. In her earlier days Mrs. Rouse was active in various ways. She sang in the Bailey church choir for 10 years, and after moving to Lowell, attended the Congregational church, was a member of the Women's Relief Corps, a past president of the W. C. T. U. and was active in all church work. She had clear memories of the Civil War and often spoke of school children of that period and their work of making bandages for the soldiers.

Survivors in addition to the son and daughter mentioned above are two grandsons, six great grandchildren, two nieces and a nephew. The body reposes at Roth's Chapel, where funeral services will be held on Friday at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Norman G. Wood officiating. Burial in Oakwood cemetery.

Specialist Shows How Meats May Be Greatly Extended

If you are one of those fortunate enough to have any meat to extend, Miss Wilma D. Brewer, of the foods and nutrition department in the school of home economics at Michigan State college, offers some suggestions on meat-extender dishes.

Such dishes are not new, but right now they are very important. The old New England boiled dinner, baked hash, or baked beans with frankfurters have long been standbys. Add the creole dishes of the South such as Shrimp creole with tomatoes and rice. Then there is Italian spaghetti with hamburger chop suey, Shepard's pie, all are meat extenders.

Cereals are an important meat-extender. Miss Brewer contends spaghetti, rice or macaroni can be combined with meat in a casserole or loaf. Oatmeal makes an excellent extender in a meat loaf.

Encaloped potatoes with ham has always been a favorite. With ham all but extinct, sliced frankfurters with scalloped potatoes make a tasty combination, Miss Brewer reveals.

If you want to hide that spiced luncheon meat, cube it and mix it with canned tomatoes, chopped onion and green peppers. Use this for a filling between two generous layers of cooked spaghetti in a casserole.

Chance for Amateurs On Lowell Showboat

An annual event held in conjunction with the Showboat at Lowell is an amateur night to discover new talent in Michigan. The contest this year will be held on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, July 13, on the Showboat stage. The contest is open to any amateur in the state, and winners of the contest will be given contracts to appear on the regular Showboat program, five nights, July 23 to 27, inclusive.

Amateurs wishing to contest should write to Chairman C. H. Runciman, Lowell, with a brief explanation as to type of act and names of all persons included. There will be a band concert on the stage preceding the contest by the Lowell high school band.

Kim Sigler vs. Van Wagoner in November

Kim Sigler won the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan in Tuesday's primary election by defeating his nearest rival, Vernon J. Brown, by upwards of 32,000 votes according to unofficial figures. Mr. Brown conceded Sigler's nomination at 10:30 Wednesday morning. Jeffries and Kelly had conceded Sigler's nomination late Tuesday night. Dr. Eugene C. Keyes was named Sigler's running mate for lieutenant governor.

Murray D. VanWagoner won the Democratic nomination for governor and Omand Kelly was named VanWagoner's running mate for lieutenant governor.

James C. Quinlan won the republican nomination for state senator, 17th district, his opponents being C. R. Leaver and Richard W. Bryant. Charles R. Penstra has apparently been nominated for the second legislative district of Kent county, although Claude Berends is a close second.

Leo Malwitz was unopposed for the Democratic nomination for state senator, 17th district, Harry N. Briggs of Lowell has been nominated as the Democratic candidate for the state legislature, second district, defeating Mrs. Nellie M. Blacketer, of Wyoming township, who has extended her congressional nomination to Mr. Briggs.

For the United States senate nomination on the Republican ticket Arthur H. Vandenberg led no close opposition. He will face James H. Lee of Detroit, lone Democratic primary entry, in November.

Oilers Now Playing Heads-up Baseball

Lowell baseball fans who were present at Recreation park Sunday watched a much improved Fairchild Oilers baseball team cap both ends of a double-header from Stoughton's Tigers of Grand Rapids, the first 5 to 1 and the night cap 10 to 2. The Oilers garnered 7 hits to the Tigers 5 in the first and came right back in the second with 12 hits to the visitors 7.

Both games featured much improved ball playing by the newly organized Oilers and showed a team, capable of playing first class baseball.

The infield has been strengthened by two top-notch ballplayers, Ken Bowke at short stop and Bob Doran at second base. Bowke is a big league prospect and Doran has been playing heads up college ball.

Next Sunday the Fairchild outfit takes on the Hastings AC team in another doubleheader, starting at 1:30. They promise all comers 2 good tight games of baseball.

4-H Canning Girls Help Release Food For Famine Relief

"More Home Canning Will Release More Food for Starving Millions Abroad."

That is the motto of thousands of rural girls participating in the National 4-H Canning activity. The activity is conducted under the direction of the Extension Service.

By increasing their canning of garden and other home raised products, the girls will establish a larger volume of nutritious foods for their family's future use; reduce cash expenditures for food-stuffs, and help release more commercial stocks of canned goods for famine relief overseas.

Awards for outstanding records are offered by Mrs. Ruth Kerr for the 18th consecutive year. County winners will get medals and the state champion will be a guest at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. National winners will receive $300 college scholarships.

Winners in Michigan was Ruth Hoyt of St. Louis. County winners were named in forty-eight counties. County extension agents will furnish information and suggestions on home canning to 4-H club members.

Electric Storm Causes Damage to Power Lines

The severe electric storm of last Monday, which was accompanied by heavy rain and high wind, caused considerable damage to light and power lines in this vicinity. Trees were blown across wires and several transformers were burned out. Light plant crews worked many hours getting service established wherever possible. Severely damaged transformers are almost impossible to replace.

Memo Baker of the Snow District reports that his car, which was parked in a two car garage, was struck by a lightning bolt that came through the garage splintering an upright timber, burning two round holes in the car roof and blackening both of the front tires. Lightning also killed a cow in a field on the Lawton Cole farm.

During Monday's heavy down-pour water reached the top of the curbs at points on both ends of Main-st., storm sewers overflowed and backed up.

Showboat Revival After Five Years

The annual Showboat was rolled this week from her dry dock, where she has stood since the last show in 1941 into Flat river in preparation for the 11th showing this year, July 23 through 27.

The old ship which has stood the test of time and weather for 5 years creaked and groaned as it rolled down the skids and into the river. Many spectators were of the opinion that it would collapse, but a committee-headed by Bruce Walter, with other Lowell men who have had a great deal of experience with boats during the last five years pronounced her seaworthy.

Chief of the decorating committee, William Christiansen, declared that she looked pretty rough but with all his new set of decorations and new covering he would make it the most beautiful of her ten predecessors. One hundred and ninety-nine oil drums were furnished by L. W. Rutherford to float the ship.

The Lowell Showboat board of directors and chairman, Norman E. Borgerson announce the following committees have been appointed for the 1946 Showboat production:

Food is proving to be of more value than dollars judging from the way shoppers form in lines at food stores.

Friday, June 21, is the date for the summer solstice when the sun is supposed to stand still as it reaches its point farthest from the equator. In other words its the longest day of the year.

The annual school census of Lowell graded school district, No. 1, which was taken by Elizabeth Phelps shows that the number of children in the district through children of 43 over a year ago. Most of the increase is in the age bracket below 5 years, which will begin to be noticed within a couple of years.

Sequel to the story about the box turtle which was brought to the Ledger office a couple of weeks ago by Edward Minard. The reader will recall that the initials "E. M." were carved on the bottom shell of the turtle, and now comes Frank McMahon, who states that the initials were probably those of Edward Mosher, who lived here at that time.

No water has been pumped from the deep well which contains salt for the past two weeks. F. J. McMahon told the Council Monday night. The water has shown a great improvement in the last two weeks and as long as the village is not using a large amount for lawn sprinkling the shallow well will handle the town. A new continuous pump which keeps a constant flow into the reservoir has recently been installed.

Those of us in Lowell who take the fiery for granted lose an appreciation of these little self-luminous insects which others who live where such twinkling by night doesn't occur, value. Looking at these lights, watching the glow from the tiny creatures who wing their way in myriad lines during the dark hours, is something unusual to see. Trying to understand it is beyond our power, as nature so often does confound us. How strange we are not to notice them however and marvel at the fiery, when the production of light without heat is an occurrence that leaves the scientific mind stumped.

Jokes, jests, jabs and jibes just by Jeff Wham housecleaning, a Lowell woman found there was more room in the clothes closet than in the attic. . . . The only way some fellows would dig a garden, is if they thought they might strike oil on the property. . . . It has become difficult today, to tell a traveler from a commutator. . . . According to mothers, a girl's petticoat may now be alluded to as a period costume. . . . Margarine has become so glorified, that housewives are even stamping decorations on top of the pat.

Cascade Pioneers Celebrate Unusual Event

When the four sons of Silas and Margaret Quiggle and their wives met recently to celebrate their annual get-together, it was an unusual event in many respects. Shows in the above picture are these brothers and their wives, all of whom have been married over fifty years, and they have always lived within six miles of each other near Cascade.

Walter, at right, the oldest, aged 82, was born in Hamden, Ohio, January 12, 1864, and came to Cascade, Michigan, with his parents when he was one year old. He was married to Cora Fuller of Cascade January 12, 1887, almost 60 years ago.

Charlie, aged 80, second from right, was born in Cascade, June 13, 1866, and married Nellie Cox on December 22, 1882, 64 years ago.

Fred, aged 77, third from right, was born in Cascade January 12, 1869, and married Ella Waffle of Ionia, Michigan, December 1, 1892, or over 54 years together.

Frank, 74, the youngest, at left, was born in Cascade, December 7, 1872, and married Nettie Cox of Cascade, January 17, 1893, better than 53 years ago.

The Quiggles are all in good health. They recently celebrated the birthday of Walter and Fred at the home of the former, when a delicious dinner was served.

If all pedestrians would obey traffic signals, and if they would look carefully both ways before crossing at places where there is no signal, the number of accidents could be largely reduced.

Proceedings of Common Council

Meeting of June 28, 1946. Minutes of regular meeting of the Common Council of the Village of Lowell held June 28, 1946, at the Council Room of the Village of Lowell.

Present: Peter Speerstein, president, and Trustees Rutherford, Roth, Christiansen, Weaver, Hahn and Doherty.

The minutes of the meeting held May 29, 1946, read and approved. The following resolution was adopted by the Council:

And whereas, it is the judgment of the Council that a new well water system of supply, including exploration wells, final wells, pump houses and equipment, and force main connection to existing water system is necessary to render said Village sufficient for the needs of the inhabitants of said Village; therefore

MICHIGAN AND THE OLD NORTHWEST

Founding of Mackinac. By Lena Schor. Edited by Milo H. Quate.

Mackinac City's first fort (1715-17) succeeded Ft. de Sade at St. Ignace.

It enclosed also a church built by Fr. Joseph Merat about 1711.

De Ligny records include expenses for a fort at Mackinac since 1715.

May, 1716, 225 soldiers go to Mackinac, enroute to war on Wisconsin Forest.

Up and Down Kent County Roads

K. K. Vining, Kent County Agricultural Agent.

Folks up at Bostwick Lake had a central celebration of the centennial of the founding of their congregational church on June 8, 1946.

Main purpose of the day's program was to acquire the property with better ideas of Gurnsey breed-type and for the breeders to get better acquainted.

The Gurnsey folks urge 4-H club members to attend and obtain judging work on Gurnseys.
