

K. K. Vining, who attended a county agent's meeting in the U. P. last week reports that food at restaurants was nothing to brag about and that prices were sky high.

Jim Burnett, the Flat River hermit, who lives in the hills north of Lowell and who has some reputation as a weather prophet, predicts good weather for the remainder of the Showboat week with one possible exception, there may be light rains one night.

Reid C. Towne, formerly of Cascade, transacted business here Monday. Mr. Towne resigned last Friday as assistant county welfare agent, a position he has held for three years and found it necessary to take a much-needed rest. His home address is now 482 Ardmore St. S. E., Grand Rapids.

R. G. Chrouch, whose slogan is "If it has a tube we service it," has run into trouble and all because of no tubes. Finding no one to fix his cash register he dismantled it several weeks ago and has had it together 3 times since with parts left over each time. R. G. could doubtless have fixed the blamed thing if it used tubes.

Lester Stauffer, who was a member of the band on the first Showboat, recalls an amusing incident that happened on the first trip. Just as the band was playing "Here Comes the Showboat" the boat got stuck and all the band members and others on board had to stop and push the boat free with long poles. Les says the operators enjoyed a big laugh.

High pressure magazine subscription collectors are netting a considerable sum of money from housewives these days. Reputable publishing houses don't send people out from door-to-door in these times with high pressure sales talks about prize contests. Nor do they employ veterans who work on a housewife's sympathies by talk of earning money to take care of a college education or to repair some physical disability.

The Kent County Road Commission has received a bid of $9,081 to widen county road 91 from Lowell to the Grand River bridge. The section of the highway, 6-miles long, now is 18 and 18 feet wide and is to be widened to 22 feet. The bid is subject to the approval of the state highway commission.

Many Lowell people will remember the late John Willard "Bill" Bailey who passed away recently in Detroit where he had lived for the past five years. The two beautiful homes which stand on the big hill in the western part of Segwun were built by Mr. Bailey several years ago. These homes are now occupied by H. W. Perry and his son, C. J. Perry and their families.

New Wheat Crop Finest On Record

Michigan is harvesting the finest wheat crop on record under perfect weather conditions. The crop will probably not be quite as large as last years 26 million bushel record crop, but it is almost all good wheat, good test weight, low moisture content, with the distinctive low protein content which makes Michigan's soft wheat flour outstanding for light breads, biscuits, crackers and cake production in local, eastern and southeastern markets.

The mills and elevators are rapidly filling with the finest stocks of wheat in the best condition in many years. Michigan wheat carries so much moisture that it requires constant vigilance on the part of farmers, elevator men and millers to see that it does not heat and get out of condition while in storage, but this year it should all get under cover in perfect condition.

The constant stream of wheat trucks unloading at the King Milling Company elevator is a joy to behold.

Bell System Plans Radiotelephone On Michigan Highways

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company plans to inaugurate general mobile radiotelephone service on all important highways in the southern part of the state by next spring.

President Thomas N. Lacy announced that the company will apply to the Federal Communications Commission for permission to install transmitting and receiving stations at Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Flint, Jackson, Port Huron, Kalamazoo, and Bay City-Saginaw.

Lacy said that, although the proposed installations initially will operate as separate stations serving those and nearby communities, they later will become links in a general highway service, not only for southern Michigan but also to nearby states through similar Bell System installations.

The new service will provide a two-way communication on highways south of the Bay City-Saginaw line in eastern Michigan and south of Grand Rapids in the western part of the state, Lacy said.

Lowell Loyalty Club Holds Happy Picnic

About 55 members of the Lowell Loyalty Club enjoyed their annual picnic at Fallsburg Park, July 17. A bountiful supper was served cafeteria style, after which the company assembled in the shelter house for a brief business meeting, visiting and entertainment.

The secretary, Mrs. Harry Fuller, read interesting letters from Fred Mason, Mrs. Beattie Hull Potter, T. A. Murphy and Mr. Carroll Perkins. The names of the four members who had passed on during the year, Mrs. Clara Hill, Mrs. Ethel Perkins, C. L. Williamson and E. O. Wadsworth were read, and all bowed in memory. Mrs. Perkins was a Charter Member and one of the most loyal members of the club.

John Roth then entertained with Showboat stories and songs and the president, Harry Fuller, selected a sextette from the company to lead in community singing, closing with "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Mrs. Grace Sneathen Laid To Rest At 69

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) in the Lowell Methodist church, at 2 p. m., for Mrs. Grace Sneathen, age 69, who passed away last Saturday at the home of Mrs. E. L. Kinyon in Lowell. The officiating clergymen were the Rev. C. E. Pollock and the Rev. Demarest.

Gracie Groom was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Groom near Lyons, Mich., June 26, 1877. When she was about 20 she came to South Boston, where she married Mark Sneathen in December, 1899. To this union were born three sons, Wilbur of Hollis, N. Y., Harold of Beulah, Mich., and Albert of Port Huron, Mich. Mr. Sneathen preceded her in death by 3 years.

Mrs. Sneathen was a devout church member all her life and took part in many church doings. Surviving besides the sons are five sisters, three grandchildren and numerous nieces and nephews. Burial in the South Boston cemetery.

After the minister kisses some of the brides he marries, he must feel like giving the groom his money back.

Halle Selassie will probably go down in history as the last man to take the ill-fated League of Nations seriously.

Enthusiastic Crowd Greet Showboat

Greatest Array of Amateur and Professional Acts Ever Offered; Three More Nights

When the Showboat Robert E. Lee XI rounded Sawdust Point on Tuesday night it was greeted by the applause of the biggest opening night Showboat crowd in the history of the event. In spite of the 8:45 starting time the crowd started gathering at 7 p. m. and grew in size and enthusiasm up to the time of the opening. The entire crowd was in a jovial mood from the beginning but it really cut loose with a roar of approval when the boat made its sharp swing in front of the grandstand. The first appearance of the boat as it churned slowly up to the point showed it up as a well-lighted but rather colorless affair, but when it swung in front of the big crowd it could be seen readily that the chief decorator, Chris, still knew his stuff.

Showboat Beautiful

The big paddle wheel was white with a silver background. The housing around the wheel and railings were covered with royal blue metallic foil. The smoke stack and whistle were silver and a blaring red. In addition to this there were stars and shields covered with diamond dust. It presented a sight long to be remembered.

CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNMENT COMING TO SHOWBOAT

Murray D. VanWagoner, Democratic candidate for governor, has accepted an invitation to visit the Showboat Friday night. He will be accompanied by Mrs. VanWagoner.

Kim Sigler, Republican candidate for governor, will be a Showboat guest on Saturday night. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Sigler.

Admiral Runciman with his 3 assistants, Captain Frank Stephens and chief engineers, Robert Starkey and David Clark brought the good ship down the river for the 40th time on Tuesday night. The powerful engines churned water, the power beam drove the big paddle wheel, "moke belched from the stack, the big light plant kept the more than 200 bulbs ablaze, the band played "Here Comes the Showboat," while the chorus sang and the crowd cheered.

After this the ship was quickly made fast to the dock and Interceptor Runciman, the endmen chorus and the orchestra moved up on the stage to the tune of "Are You From Dixie."

Best Show Ever

From the opening number for 2 hours there was a rapid succession of amateur and professional acts. It was agreed by all that the entire show from start to finish was the best ever produced in Lowell. The endmen with their jokes and songs were a great hit. The chorus, under the direction of Orval Jewup, in their part singing of special arrangements to back up the endmen and numbers added a great deal to the show.

Every professional act proved to be a hit. Eddie Peabody easily lived up to his reputation as the world's greatest banjo player. His version of "St. Louis Blues" and the "Tiger Rag" really brought down the house. Vivacious Adele Parish, the clever Parker brothers and comedian Larry Griswold all proved to be great entertainers. This was equally true of the acrobatic dancing girls, the Bruettes.

Wednesday's crowd proved to be the biggest. It was Lowell alumni night. Hundreds of former students of the Lowell school from all over Michigan and neighboring states were in attendance.

Pair of Yellow Eyes Startle John Tucker

For several mornings John Tucker, Grand River Drive, thought he heard peculiar noises from the direction of his heating stove, but the noise not continuing dismissed the matter until Tuesday morning when upon opening the stove door he faced a pair of big yellow eyes glaring at him.

Being doubtful as to the identity of the possessor, he called his next door neighbor, Cecil Cole, and with the aid of leather gauntlets, the two captured the intruder—a full grown Hoot Owl.

Needless to say John can dispense with a chimney sweep this year.

Accident Takes Life Of Ruth Daniels, 4

Funeral services were held last Saturday from the Alto Methodist church for Ruth E. Daniels, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Daniels of R. 1, Ada. Rev. Ballford was the officiating clergyman with burial in Bowne Center cemetery.

Ruth lost her life on Wednesday, July 17, when she was struck by a truck near her home. The truck was driven by William Edward Rosema, 26, of Grand Rapids. Rosema told deputy sheriff Frank Stephens and Andy VanDunneen that he was driving west on R1, when the child suddenly appeared from behind bushes along the road.

Besides the parents the child is survived by three brothers, Clifford, Jr., Forrest and William and one sister, Verlie, to all of whom deepest sympathy is extended.

Mrs. Maria Williamson Laid to Rest At 95

Funeral services were held from the Roth chapel on Monday for Mrs. Maria Williamson, who passed away Thursday, July 18, in her 95th year. The Rev. C. E. Pollock was the officiating clergyman.

Mrs. Williamson was born in Ireland in 1851 and came to America when a girl. Later she married James Williamson who preceded her in death. To this union three children were born. One son, James, seven grandchildren and a number of great grandchildren survive her. She lived most of her life in Lowell and vicinity.

Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

KROGER TAKES LEAD HOLDING PRICE LINE

Credit for taking the lead in holding the line on food prices following lapse of O. P. A. legislation is given Joseph B. Hall president of the Kroger Company, in the current issue of Time Magazine.

Time said that Kroger changed his prices on meat and butter "only the amount of the lost government subsidies, seven cents on beef and 15 cents on butter", adding that "Kroger's able friendly president Hall had taken heavy losses on these items to hold the line even this much. It was also having a hard time replacing its depleted stocks at ceiling prices. Unless there was overall O. P. A. legislation soon, said Grocer Hall, Kroger would have to abandon its policy or have no foods in many lines to sell."

AUCTION SALES

Mrs. W. B. Lewis, July 30

An auction sale of Brown Swiss cattle, implements, etc., will be held Tuesday, July 30, at one o'clock sharp at the farm located one mile north of Lowell on M 91, or the first place south of Consumers Dam, on east side of road, Allen Hasckia, auctioneer; Harry Day, clerk. See list on another page of this paper.

Wembley Summer Fourinbands

Foulards, Nor-easts, stripes, plaids, summery looking and there's none better than Wembley's at $1.00 a Coona.

An automobile with the engine in the rear may have been developed by Henry Ford—but the pedestrians still have to dodge the front end.

Million Persons Visit Kent Parks

County System Tops, Say Visiting Officials

L. C. Palmer, superintendent of County parks and forestry for Kent County Road Commission, says that more than a million persons use and enjoy Kent's parks every year.

"That's more than four times the County's population, which means that every person in Kent County, mathematically if not, actually visits one or more parks four times a year.

The county system of 14 parks comprises a total of 1,166 acres with 800 acres in reserve for future expansion.

"Visiting firemen," which means County, State and Federal park officials who have visited Kent's system to get and give ideas, "have told us we have one of the top park systems of the country," says Palmer—with some pride of course.

Four Shelter Houses

Four of the parks have "shelter houses," a modest term for large, rambling buildings with fireplaces, benches and tables, even cooking equipment.

These are open to the public, without charge, up to 7 p. m. daily and on evenings also on Saturdays and Sundays. After 7 p. m. they are available on week days to groups of more than 25. If you use gas, you pay. Otherwise you don't.

Some of the parks have bathing—not many, but some. Some offer fishing. All offer picnicking and playground equipment, romping space for the junior element and breathing space for their admirers.

Not all of the 14 are ready for the public yet. They're scattered to all corners, they're accessible from anywhere. Just which parks are open, how big they are, what they offer, where they are—would take a list to present.

Here's The List

1—Gordon Park, 35 acres, off US 131 south of Sand Lake, just picnicking, no fishing, no bathing, no shelterhouse.

2—Townsend, 137 acres, at Cannonburg, Bear Creek, trout fishing, no bathing, shelterhouse.

3—Caledonia, 35 acres, at Caledonia, Edmons Lake, good fishing, fair bathing and beach being developed further, shelterhouse.

4—Hazy Cloud, 18 acres, on Grand River at Ada, river fishing, no bathing.

5—White Pine, 22 acres in Spencer township south of Lincoln Lake, rare stand of 35-year-old white pine, mostly forest preserve.

6—Fallsburg, 81 acres on Flat River north of Lowell, shelterhouse and good fishing.

7—Johnson, off South and West Bellline, at Grandville, shelterhouse, scenic "wilderness" drive atop hill, ample space on 201 acres, individual picnic shelters.

8—Wabasis, on big Wabasis Lake Oakfield Township between M37 and M44, 35 acres, boat landing, fine lake fishing, camping, spring house, plans for beach but no bathing now.

9—Kisk Knoch, four acres near Newaygo County line west of Sand Lake, highest point in Kent County, site of State Conservation Department forest fire tower; picnic tables only.

10—Alrport, four acres landscaped in front of Grand Rapids Airport, scenic only.

11—Dutton Shady-side, 20 acres near M37 south of Dutton, on Plaster Creek headwaters, one of the most scenic of Kent parks.

12—Long Lake, 200 acres off County Road 510 between Kent City and Cedar Springs, good bathing, good fishing, boat livery, bathhouse, shelterhouse planned, deer in vicinity.

13—Pieric Acid, 360 acres off Clyde Park Rd., SW, Buck Creek, Campfire Girls day camp, just being developed.

14—Byron Center, 20 acres at Byron Center, headwaters of Buck Creek, newest area, being developed.

PICTURESQUE

Visitors into wayside spots inform us that there are many country towns restoring the old-fashioned watering troughs into a new life. Whether wooden, granite or metal, they decorate the landscape and recall days when over-heated horses plunged their heads to drink. Many a man of Lowell remembers a boyish prank of placing frogs or turtles in them. Minnows seemed to thrive there too. Aged and moss covered, that trough was a mid-summer pleasure from the heat of day. Work or driving horses lapped the clear, cold water and sooted with deep satisfaction.

In early years the trough was of heavy wooden planks which were later replaced by metal ones, often decorated by scrolls and figures. There is something kindy in the idea that man today leans to the simplicity of the old-time watering trough.

DOING IT NOW

Talking about furthering relations with Latin-America neighbors, delegates to the United Nations endeavor to work out some way of reaching a friendly understanding and to co-operate with each other. But we are doing it right along and perhaps not recognizing our success. Within a period of a recent thirty days, the Department of State listed about 1,500 Latin-American visitors to the U. S. They were people of varied interests, representing many fields such as medicine, industry, engineering, education, press, agriculture, military, architecture, law, motion pictures, finance, fraternal bodies.

They have met us and, we trust, liked us. It is our hope of Lowell that they will continue to visit this country and recognize Americans here as their friends.

THE INVENTIVE MIND

An educational corporation to be called the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation has been formed, the purpose of which is to keep alive the genius and inspiration of Mr. Edison. The world suffered a great loss when this wonderful inventive genius passed on, but the provision of this foundation will enable many workers in the scientific field to continue their researches and develop new ideas for human welfare.

People with inventive and scientific minds are constantly suggesting new methods for the utilization of natural resources. An organization like the new Edison Foundation will make it possible for many people with these gifts to confer new benefits on the human race.

Great and marvelous discoveries have been made in the past 100 years, but those to be made within the next 100 years may be equally amazing.

PROGRESS AND FOOD

"Civilization marches forward on the feet of healthy children," said Hoover in his recent speech reporting on famine conditions in 33 countries which he recently visited. A great part of the lack of progress in many countries can be attributed to an insufficient food supply, and their consequent inability to bring up a race of healthy children, who have the energy to build up their country.

It can be assumed that one of the reasons for the success of the old pioneers in building up their country, was that they had an ample food supply. The woods were full of game, and the rivers and lakes had plenty of fish. The ground was rich, and they reaped good harvests. Thus with ample food they became strong and healthy people, able to do great days' work. The world would move faster if all countries had enough food.

HAY FEVER

Those not afflicted accept the word of hay fever victims that it is one of the most irritating of non-fatal diseases. The misery it brings has kept laboratories busy engaged in offering relief. Wind seems to determine the amount of pollen distributed and many places keep sufferers informed of the pollen count daily. The streaming eyes, difficult breathing, give proof that hay fever is no joke.

Thousands of people can afford to seek a helpful climate or install air conditioning in homes for relief, but the majority of victims sniffle during August and September and pray for frost to bring a relief from aggravating pollens.

Ragweed, not hay, is the chief offender and, wisely many districts spend time and money doing away with the weeds. Some cities have advocated a law that would compel farmers to cut ragweed. Property owners of vacant lots often ignore the growth. Negligence and lack of human sympathy adds to the malady. The fact that our mucous membrane and respiratory systems can throw off those billions of spiky pollens, should make us more appreciative of the discomfort and agony of the people who can't.

CRIME MARCHES ON: FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said recently the Nation is facing a potential army of 6,000,000 criminals and an "ever increasing wave of lawlessness which is feeding the criminal ranks with a never ending supply of recruits."

"Our homes and our lives," Hoover declared, "are daily threatened by this vast army. Law enforcement must today be facing one of its most gigantic tasks."

"The crime increase so far this year is even greater than the 12 1/2 per cent increase recorded for 1945. And every 20 1/2 seconds last year a serious crime was committed; every 6 1/2 minutes someone was raped, feloniously assaulted or slain."

Hoover stressed that the "vast army" of criminals "is 10 times greater in number than the total number of students in our colleges and universities. And for every school teacher in America there are more than seven criminals."

In an interview, Hoover outlined what he considers the immediate cause for the "present wave of lawlessness" and he suggested some remedial measures. He attributed the crime wave to a "recession of moral fortitude, laxity in parental control, lowered moral standards, social and economic conditions, and abuses and maladministration of the penal system."

"A lack of interest in the fundamentals of matrimony in the proper rearing of children, is a cause for concern and is contributing to delinquency."

"We must eradicate the cause of crime at its roots. Small crimes generally precede great crimes and too often these small crimes are perpetrated by youngsters still presumably under home influence."

Up and Down Kent County Roads

K. H. Vining, Kent County Agricultural Agent

This is Farm Safety Week and I wonder how many farm folks in Kent County have really given thought to the subject. In some publicity that came to our desk we find that there were 83 deaths and many accidents in Michigan in 1945.

We wondered why a farm safety week this time of the year. The reason is the fact that there are more accidents in July and August and September than any other period in the year.

Tractors, machinery, and vehicles account for 80 of the deaths, injuries and cattle come next with 15, falls accounted for 4 and foot accidents killed 8.

What are some of the things you might do to your machinery in tip top shape to get into the farm boys who got tangled up in a mowing machine and from which accident he never fully recovered.

There was the elderly man who fell off a load of hay, it is that sort of take off on your tractor covered up in your pasting isn't going to hurt if you don't think this can be serious ask one of our fruit men what happened to him when he got tangled up with the power take off.

"There is no end to what can be written about accidents, their cause of time, life and preventative means, but if everyone would stop a minute, look around him and do two or three things to prevent an accident, it is contributing to delinquency."

"We must eradicate the cause of crime at its roots. Small crimes generally precede great crimes and too often these small crimes are perpetrated by youngsters still presumably under home influence."

Ada News

(Mrs. Hasso R. Pith)

Thirteen librarians made a tour of the various libraries in Kent county last Tuesday when the book committee of the Lowell Library visited the libraries in Ada.

Wash out for the gang who might be coming to your place and want to clean your septic tank. Gale Fox at the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce tells us it is quite a racket these days.

After their visit at the library a bounteous picnic dinner was enjoyed at Harry Cloud park. Mrs. Madie Freeman of Grand Rapids was a dinner guest on Friday.

When the school commissioner moved from his former quarters he left behind a book that many older folks will remember "Manual of Orthography" by H. R. Puttengill. Turning the corner was a list of Puttengill publications such as "Moderator Topper," "Civil Government of Michigan," "Knapsack" and a number of others.

Do You Have a Library Book? Do you have a library book you should return? Will you please return it on Friday then. A complete change of books is to be made at our library and that book you have must be turned in to complete the change.

Both-Doyle

In a double ring service performed Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Miss Gloria Doyle, daughter of Mrs. Charles Doyle, Lowell, became the bride of J. Jerald Roth, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Roth of Lowell.

Dr. Cecil E. Pollock officiated in the First Methodist church, before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, delphiniums and baby breath. Mrs. Arnold Wittenbach, organist, played "I Love You Truly" and "I Promise You" before the ceremony.

The bride, escorted down the flower lined aisle on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Renis Doyle, wore a gown of white organza styled with a square neckline and long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. The full skirt ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a white tiara and she carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli. The bride's sister, Mrs. Jack Torga, attended as matron of honor, and her gown was of pink marquisette. It was fashioned with an off shoulder neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a head-dress matching her bouquet of yellow gladioli.

Miss Anita Doyle, the bridesmaid, wore a gown of blue marquisette, fashioned like that of the matron of honor's. Her bouquet was of pearly gladioli with a matching headress.

Miss Sue Ellen Eickhoff was the flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of blue taffeta and a matching tulle with pink streamers. She carried a small flower basket filled with petals.

Mrs. Doyle chose for her daughter's wedding a grey crepe gown, white accessories and a corsage of pink delight roses. Mrs. Roth chose a light blue sheer gown, white accessories and wore a corsage of pink delight roses.

A reception at the Lone Pine Inn was held immediately following the ceremony. Master and Mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. William S. Doyle.

Miss Edith Roth and Miss Peg Schloss assisted at the punch bowls. Mrs. John Roth cut the four tier wedding cake.

For going away the bride selected a suit of light blue gabardine with white accessories and wore a white orchid corsage. After their wedding trip the couple will reside in Lowell.
