

Rotarians regret to learn that their district governor, Arthur Frazer, of Dowagiac, is confined in Bronson hospital, Kalamazoo, suffering from a serious abdominal trouble. Mr. Frazer was superintendent of Lowell schools a number of years ago.

The advertising columns are an extremely interesting part of a newspaper. They give the people valuable information which they are glad to get, and which draws a big trade to the stores which offer these bargains.

Rev. Oscar Allen, formerly of Lowell, was arraigned in a Traverse City court last Friday on a charge of negligent homicide as a result of a traffic fatality on June 10. Allen demanded examination in Municipal court Friday.

MILLER'S DAUGHTER IN BIBLICAL WHEAT FIELD

Miss Mary Jane Hayden, daughter of Perry and Elizabeth Hayden, founders of the well-known "Biblical Wheat" demonstration, surrounded by the world-famous "Dynamic Kernels". Miss Hayden is a living symbol of the renowned project, which started from a cubic inch of wheat planted in 1940, and has grown to 2,685 acres in 1946, after deducting a 10 per cent title each year and replanting the balance. Through the inspiration of this project, she was led to dedicate her life to Christ. Miss Hayden is now training at Wheaton College (Illinois) for service in the Foreign Mission Field.

The Sixth and Final Harvest of this great Religious Tithing Demonstration will be held in a colorful free ceremony at the Adrian, Michigan Fair Grounds on Thursday, August 1.

Another candidate for "Never-Missed-a-Show" Club that has as members Mrs. C. H. Runciman and Mrs. Norm Borgerson is Mrs. Frank Gould. During the eleven years of the show she has never bought less than 22 tickets, this year buying 60.

SCOUTS FROM PACK 37 HOLD BIG 3-DAY MEET

Foothill House on Grand River Drive became a Lion's Den on July 22 and 23 as eleven Cub Scouts invaded the home of Mrs. Peter Bylenga and twin sons, Peter and Andy. Swimming, croquet, band ball and quilts filled part of their happy hours.

A visit to the Lowell Creamery Tuesday morning to see milk pasteurization was the educational spot for the day. The thrill for all however was the first glimpse of the Robert E. Lee XI as she came steaming around the bend in all her splendor.

This group included Andy and Peter Bylenga, James Dice, Gordon Gibson, Bill John, Bob Kuehne, Roger Pohl, Willie Powell, Stan Sager, Jim Stringham and Richard Webb all from Pack 37.

Most Successful Show In Showboat History

The Showboat ended its most successful season on Saturday night when the boat pulled in before another overflow crowd. An estimated 25,000 persons saw the Showboat this year, either from paid seats or from vantage points near the stadium.

Total receipts are estimated by D. A. Wiegeler, treasurer of Showboat Inc., at $19,000. Out of this sum expenses, taxes, etc., must be paid.

No accidents marred the five nights of entertainment. The crowds thronging into town every night were orderly and little trouble was experienced by law-enforcement officers that were here to direct traffic. The weather was most unusual, different from most every other Showboat, no rain fell during the entire 5 days except for a few drops on Wednesday that hardly wet the ground. Clouds and rain in surrounding communities kept some away from the show on Wednesday but all was clear here.

On Friday and Saturday nights nearly 1,000 people were turned away after every available space had been filled in the stadium. People even were in town on Sunday trying to buy tickets for another performance of the show.

The 1946 Showboat was without doubt the best show ever offered the public with outstanding professional acts that drew applause and enthused the crowds. The chorus band and end men turned in the finest entertainment ever given at a Showboat. Interlocutor Runciman kept the show running smoothly in his usual fine manner. Operators of the boat and equipment, Frank Stephens, Dave Clark, Robert Starkey and their assistants brought the boat down the river every night on time and without mishap. Frank McMahon and men from the light plant were on hand operating an improved lighting system. Legion members under the direction of A. H. Stenlund seated the overflow crowds with a minimum of confusion and difficulty.

Showboat High-lights

Guests on the Showboat trips down the river each night were as follows: Tuesday night, Mayor George Welsh, of Grand Rapids and Lenore of the Glen and Lenore program. Wednesday night, Eugene B. Elliot, state superintendent of public instruction. None on Thursday, Friday night Murray VanWagoner, democratic candidate for governor with his wife and two daughters, Representative Maurice Post, Senator Harold Saur and Senator Don VanderWerp. Saturday night, Kim Sigler, republican candidate for governor and daughter Madeleine and Russell Boyle, editor and publisher of the Michigan Tradesman.

No mechanical failures until the last night of the show when the electric generator on the boat lost a brush a few seconds before reaching the dock and switching on to municipal power. The sound system worked perfectly until Eddy Peabody's last number on Saturday night when it failed for a few minutes but was soon back in working order.

General Chairman Norm Borgerson said that there were no complaints during the show and no accidents, which speaks well for the management and handling by the various men in charge of the boat, seating and show.

Farmer's report that this is the first Showboat that has not brought a rain, but with the Ionia Free Fair coming there may be a lot of rain shortly.

There will be a dinner for members of the Showboat chorus and band held shortly. Chairman Norman Borgerson announced, thanking all the members that worked so hard with director Orval Jessup. The music this year surpassed anything offered at previous shows.

During my many years in selling I have known far more young men to apply for positions as salesmen because it looked like an easy way of making a living than because they believed themselves fitted for the work.

A wild west Rodeo, complete with bucking broncs, wild bull riding, calf roping, and other thrilling attractions, will be presented to local sports fans Sunday, August 18, at Recreation Park by the American Legion. Promising to be the most spectacular event of its kind in this area, the program will be sparked by the entry of numerous horse owners and riders who will compete.

Confusion Marks Return of OPA

Some Ceilings Off, Many Undergo Advance

The OPA was back on the job again last Friday, the President reviving bill passed by the Congress.

The new bill leaves the country in more or less confusion because of the uncertainty as to prices that will prevail on thousands of items.

Despite the exemptions of many foods, from ceilings "approximately 40 percent of all foods remain under control."

All agricultural products now under ceiling will remain under them until at least Sept. 1, when the Secretary of Agriculture certifies which items are in short supply.

Prices were raised on shoes, coal oil burners, rubber heels, cotton rugs, chinaware, galoshes, and a long list of building materials.

Ceilings were swept away completely from major types of industrial machinery, the output of which amounts to $2,000,000,000 annually; from a wide range of household items like awnings, fruit jars, rings, medicine droppers, rubber floor mats and some clocks; from nearly all the fur not previously exempted; and from thousands of building hardware and equipment items.

For other manufacturers—such as those making staplers, razor blades, glass light shades and automatic pencils—the way was open to apply for higher prices on their lowest-cost lines.

Petroleum is exempt from price control indefinitely—along with eggs, poultry and tobacco—unless the three-man decontrol board provided by the act orders a restoration of ceilings.

All these actions were pending when OPA expired; still to come are a flood of increases authorized under the OPA act now in force.

Forecast Meat Shortage

A new and severe meat shortage within "90 to 60 days" was forecast Friday by Lawrence L. Farrell, Michigan district director of the Office of Price Administration.

He asked that consumers not hold OPA responsible for the future shortage which, he said, is inevitable, "control of no controls."

Farrell said the market today has received an unseasonable flood of meat and that producers have slaughtered animals prematurely to take advantage of uncontrolled prices.

His remarks came at a press conference in which Farrell discussed new OPA regulations approved by Congress and effective Friday.

Unless the federal price decontrol board authorizes future ceilings, prices of petroleum and petroleum products, poultry, eggs, food and feed products made from poultry and eggs, and leaf tobacco and tobacco products may be sold at uncontrolled prices Farrell said.

Controls will remain off livestock, milk, cottonseed, soy beans, grains and livestock or poultry feed made from grains until August 21, at which time controls will be reimposed unless the control board rules otherwise.

All other products must revert to the price levels of June 30, when the original OPA expired, Farrell said.

The district director said that there have been sharp increases in the prices of meats and dairy products in Michigan during the 25 days OPA has been idle, but that there have been "no serious increases" in prices of apparel and such durable goods as radios, refrigerators and the like.

Used car prices have risen sharply, he added, and dealers must now take a loss on cars purchased above the ceiling sale price of June 30.

"We recognize the magnitude of the task of replacing controls," Farrell said. "It will take us about 30 days to assure complete stabilization of prices."

On The Air At The Fair

The 12 Gentlemen of Song, clustered here about lovely Marcelle Edwards, prima donna, as petals about a bud, will fill the air with their singing of hunting songs, Gems from Carman, and rollicking selections from Gilbert & Sullivan's Pirates of Penance at the Ionia Free Fair, August 5 to 10. Miss Edwards and the 12 Gentlemen of Song are the musical stars of the colorful, new night show revue, The Free Fair Follies of '46.

Keene-tp. Fire Loss Reaches $10,000

Damage of $10,000 was estimated Saturday when fire destroyed a large barn with all the crops and equipment on the farm of Godfrey Roth in Keene township.

The Lowell and Keene fire departments prevented larger loss when they extinguished smoldering fires in an adjoining barn and other buildings.

Both total firemen the fire was caused when one of his sons was operating a feed grinder and a spark from the tractor powering this set fire to a straw stack close to the barn.

Mr. Roth told the Ledger on Tuesday morning that the loss is partially covered by insurance and that despite his physical handicap and age he and his sons will continue to carry on with the farm as best they can under present conditions.

Oilers Victors in First Semipro Tilt

Fairchild Oilers took the first game of the state semi-pro tournament Tuesday night at Bigelow Field, defeating the Red Flannels of Cedar Springs by a score of 6 to 2. The Oilers playing heads-up ball behind the stellar pitching of John Briggs, were held in check by a 2 to 2 score until the 7th inning when substitutions of John Topp and Lefty Baker started a rally that netted the Oilers three runs, which provided pitcher Briggs a nice margin to work on. A sensational diving catch of a hot liner by shortstop Ken Bucks of the Oilers for the third out saved two runs in the 9th inning.

Friday night at 8:00 under the lights at Bigelow Field the Oilers play the winner of the Zealand Chick vs. Ionia game played Wednesday night.

To Observe V-J Day Here Wednesday, Aug. 14

The Clark-Ellis American Legion Post of Lowell is making extensive plans for an appropriate observance of V-J Day which will be held at the Showboat stadium Wednesday, August 14 at 2:00 p. m.

John Zoodsma, as chairman of the committee has prepared an appropriate program, which is in the nature of a testimonial and memorial to the boys who paid the supreme sacrifice and which will also be a tribute to the veterans who served during the recent war. The occasion will be one of respect and celebration.

The speaker of the day will be Dr. Jacob Prins. There will also be music by the band and some vocal numbers. There will be a presentation to the nearest of kin of the deceased. The program will be for all the surrounding community including Alto, Cascade, Ada and Parnell.

Memorial Brochures
Brochures are obtainable at Christiansen's drug store, Hill's shoe store, L. E. Johnson, at Lowell; Mrs. Blanch Lovelless and Walter Afton at Ada; V. L. Watts, Christiansen's Locker, Alto; Buttrick's store, Cascade and at grocery at Parnell.

The committee has published a beautiful booklet entitled "Memorial" which features individual photographs of thirty-nine men from Lowell and surrounding territory, who died while in service. The pamphlet also contains the names of those who were wounded in service and the names of over 1,000 who served during the war. The actual cost of publishing this brochure is one dollar and the American Legion hopes that the general public will buy these books and that there will be contributions in excess of the cost so that there will be a balance for the American Legion Memorial Building Fund.

The entire venture is of a community wide nature and Roger McMahon, commander of the local post, hopes and expects that the public will attend the ceremonies.

State's Greatest Tourist Mecca

Youth Builds Symphony At Interlochen

Interlochen, Michigan—The idea that was impossible—a National music camp for talented boys and girls—has become one of Michigan's outstanding tourist attractions here at Interlochen, near Traverse City.

It is the only place of its kind in the United States—and, indeed, in the world.

Talk about United Nations! Here is a representative UN right in Michigan with an enrollment this summer of young people not only from 42 of our 48 states, plus the District of Columbia and the Canal Zone, but from the following foreign lands: Bolivia, Canada, Chile, Columbia, England and Peru. Here is a global Golden Rule.

Teeming with energy of youth from early dawn until lights-out at night, this camp is as fascinating to behold as a beehive in a clover field.

Concerts are held in a lakeside bowl each Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The admission charge is 60 cents. The final concert of the season will be presented Sunday, August 25, by an ensemble of approximately 1,000 performers.

Each Sunday at 11:15 a. m. a religious service is held. Then there are daily rehearsals at 8 a. m., 12:40, 1:30 and 4:30 p. m. to which visitors are welcome to attend. On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock are interesting demonstrations in music sight reading—also free!

Started in 1927 with a modest short-term loan of $15,000, the National Music Camp has grown to a half million dollar investment of land, buildings and equipment. Enrollment has climbed steadily from 115 in 1927 to more than 1,300 in 1946.

An indebtedness of $50,000 in debentures, due in 1934, was prolonged ten years at reduced interest. Then in 1944 when the debentures were to be paid off, the entire debt was retired—thanks to a little guy by the name of James Caesar Petrillo.

Today the Michigan camp is enjoying its best season with an all-time high enrollment. A new auditorium, seating 1,800 people, will be ready for the 1947 season. The Kresge Foundation, financed by "five and ten" profits, is the donor. The Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs has contributed a fine arts building.

But how about Petrillo? What appeared at first to be a great misfortune—the loss of coast-to-coast radio publicity following the edict of Petrillo, national czar of the musicians union—proved to be a lucky break for Interlochen.

Newspaper headlines carried the story, far and wide, of how one tyrant had forbade radio broadcasters from carrying any program of music performed by students at the Michigan camp!

The public became indignant. United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg sponsored action in Congress. Graduates and friends of the camp rallied to its defense. Contributions rolled into the treasury—more than $40,000 in 1945.

Sensing the value of Interlochen to Michigan as a tourist attraction, the Michigan State Legislature appropriated $8,000 each year to advertise the camp by natural color motion pictures and other methods.

Luncheon clubs everywhere began asking for those films which tell the story of an impossible idea—a national music camp for boys and girls.

Interlochen's fame spread throughout the Nation. A weekly magazine ran a feature, illustrated with color photographs.

And so it went—a rising tide of favorable public opinion which prodded Congress to outlaw the Petrillo edict and which inspired new and greater gifts of usefulness for the Michigan enterprise.

The man behind the idea is a story. Joseph E. Maddy is the despair of the professional public relations counsel.

J. Lee Barrett, Detroit's convention and tourist go-getter, once conceived the nifty notion of publicizing Maddy as a musical genius wearing a long flowing tie. Maddy snapped "Nonsense!" and continued to be the portrait of any boy's father—a chuckling, effervescent man who walks rapidly with a bouncing gait, talks incessantly about his life dream, and devotes every waking moment of his day to the boys and girls at Interlochen.

With his charming wife, Maddy holds receptions for students. He greets each one personally. His smile is infectious. It personifies the happy spirit of Interlochen—YOUTH!

Among the famous musicians who have contributed their services as guest conductors are Walter Damrosch, Edwin Franko Goldman, Ousp Garblowitzky, Percy (continued on page 8)

Kim Sigler last week went fishing at Copper Harbor. His companion, George A. Averill, editor of a newspaper at Birmingham, had been giving Kim some fine advice about the art. George prides himself as being an expert. And then what happened? George didn't even get a nibble; Kim lands a 13-pound lake trout and Kim's daughter, Madeleine, gets the next largest—a ten-pounder. All of which provided the season's best joke for John W. Rice, genial publisher-editor of the Houghton Mining Gazette, who furnished us with the lowdown about it.

The largest professional act was Adeline McKenna and her Troupe of Scotch Lassies.

A goodly share of local talent made up the show. Solos were rendered by: Mrs. Phillip Schneider, Mrs. Chas. Doyle, Miss Dorothy Hawley, W. R. Merrill, and David Cox. Duet: Mrs. Clarence Speaker and Orin Sterkin.

The 4th Annual Flower Show was held in the City Hall, Mrs. V. A. Snell, General Chairman.

1935 Showboat
The Showboat this year will be a side-wheeler modeled after the Robert E. Lee, and it will be ten feet longer. The dates are Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Aug. 1, 2, 3, sponsored by the Lowell Board of Trade, W. V. Burras, President, and the American Legion, A. H. Stormand, Commander. 3,200 seats 25c, 500 reserves 50c.

Showboat Committee were: N. E. Borgerson, general chairman; Wm. Christiansen, decoration; C. W. Cook, engineering; F. J. McMahon, lighting; R. G. Jefferies, publicity; C. H. Runciman, entertainment; Wm. C. Doyle, finance; E. C. Foreman, advertising; Dr. J. R. Striker, preliminary entertainment.

This was the first year a colored orchestra was used, the Original McKinney Cotton Pickers were New York City. Amateur acts were held on the dock to entertain the audience while waiting for darkness to fall, and the gaily lighted Showboat make the hazardous turn around Cattail Point.

Interlocutor, C. H. Runciman, endmen, W. J. Kropf, D. McDuffee, Gerald Finley, P. J. Finley, George Sterken, Bruce McMahon.

The Ford Motor Company Dixie Eight entertained the first night only. The Brown Buddies from the Ionia prison danced each night. Other numbers consisted of Marion McDuffee's Dancing Girls, Dorothy Derrick, Radio Blues Singer, soloist, Conrad Quint, Friday was Governor's night and Gov. VanWagoner rode down on the boat.

The chorus looked attractive even in the 1934 costumes.

The annual flower show sponsored by the Garden Lore Club was held each afternoon and evening in the high school gym and was free to Showboat visitors. Mrs. P. J. Finley, president, Mrs. H. P. Gottfredsen, general chairman.

Mr. Borgerson's report showed that this year's receipts from admissions amounted to $3,404.90, expenditures were $2,170.45, leaving a net balance of $1,234.44.

1936 Showboat

A thirty-four whistle steam calliope, mounted on a truck, was played by Royden Warner as an advertising build up throughout Kent County. It had been made by the Thomas J. Nichol Co. of Cincinnati, world famous calliope manufacturer. This same calliope was used for the next two years, Bruce McMahon playing it, making even a sensational run through Monroe Avenue, Grand Rapids. It is with regret that the keyboard was warped in a rain storm, because it was the best kind of Showboat advertising.

Dates were Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Aug. 6, 7, 8.

This is the year that Mr. Runciman succeeded in bringing the Morlok Quadruplets, Edna A. Wilma B. Sarah C. Helen D. age six, from Lansing. They had a State Police escort each night, and were accompanied by their parents and a private teacher.

Al Cox and his Orange Blossom orchestra of Detroit played for the show, while the fifty piece high school band under the direction of Bruce Walter furnished the music for the trip down the river.

The Four Brown Tappers appeared again. Clarence Gittins, a 12-year-old boy soprano from New York City was well received. The Frohne Sisters, a comedy team, from a Major Bowes show, A Lumber Jack orchestra with old lumber camp tunes were some of the special features.

Doubtless, very few noticed that the chorus wore the same costumes as last year.

WEDDINGS

Barr-Horn
In a double ring ceremony which took place Saturday afternoon in McCune Chapel at East Lansing, Miss Dorothy Louise Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Horn, became the bride of William H. Barr of Grand Haven, son of Mrs. Etta Barr.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. N. A. McCune before the altar arranged with tall baskets of white gladioli and stephanotis, palms and candelabra with lighted tapers. The bride was given in marriage by her father and her wedding gown was of white marquisette over taffeta, with shirred bodice, full skirt and elbow length sleeves. The V-neckline was accented by a beautiful jeweled pin, a gift of the groom. Her headpiece was a tiara of white rose buds and sweet peas, and she carried a sweet bouquet of Snow White roses.

Matron-of-honor and only attendant was Mrs. Peter Sperastra of Lowell, cousin of the bride. The groom was attended by his brother, Thomas Barr and the ushers were Cadet Charles Horn of Westpoint and Ollie VanHorsen of Grand Haven.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the sunken garden at the home of the bride's parents for forty guests and relatives. Assisting were Miss Mary Horn, aunt of the bride, and Miss Colleen Yelton, both of Lowell; Mrs. Harvey Kenney of Lansing and Miss Beverly Keyes of Grand Haven.

The young couple left for a northern honeymoon, Mrs. Barr choosing a dressmaker suit of aqua crepe with brown accessories and orchid corsage for her going away outfit. They will be at home in Grand Haven where Mrs. Barr will continue her work as music teacher in the Grand Haven schools.

Obituary

Lewis A. Mick
Lewis A. Mick was born June 23, 1883, to John and Sarah Mick and died July 25 at his home, age 63 years, one month and two days. He was born in Campbell township near Clarksville and lived there until the spring of 1905 when he moved to Boston township where he lived until the time of his death. He was married to Anna L. Cille, February 15, 1906.

Surviving besides his wife are his seven children: three daughters, Mrs. Letha Thorpe, Jewel Mick and Mrs. Rachel Condon of Clarksville, and four sons, Wilbur of Saranac, Alton and Lewis, Jr., of Clarksville and Burton of Allegan. He has one sister, Velma Higdon of Detroit, one brother, Claude of Indianapolis, and three grandchildren, Russell Condon, Sharon Mick and Ronald A. Mick. Besides being a successful farmer he was president of the Edwin Naah State Bank of Clarksville and vice chairman of the Ionia County AAA committee. He has been on the Ionia County Road commission for several years.

He had not been well for several months especially since an accident suffered on January 10. He was in the hospital five weeks previous to his death and passed away only four days after coming home.

He was a kind and devoted husband and father and a well-liked citizen who took a real interest in his community. He has many friends who mourn his departure. It was early observed that he enjoyed the things pertaining to God and His word. He liked radio programs that gave the good gospel songs and true-to-the-Bible preaching and liked to attend the house of God. He was a faithful attendant and supporter of the Wesleyan Methodist church of Clarksville. He valued greatly his personal faith in Christ and kept it to the end. He slipped away easily in a peaceful sleep.
