Action on the part of neighbors in putting out a grass fire prevented the possible destruction of the R. G. Chrouh home in Segun late Tuesday afternoon. The fire is said to have been started by some youngsters playing with lighted candles and it may be that they are now taking their meals standing.

All persons within the village using water from private wells are earnestly urged to have the water tested at frequent intervals. Once every three months would not be any too often as no one can tell when contamination may occur. There is no charge for this service. Call Fred Gramer, local health officer, and the water will be tested by the state.

Main street was the scene of an odd accident about 5 o'clock last Friday afternoon—an accident in fact that might have ended seriously, perhaps fatally, for A. R. Smith, who was crossing to the opposite side of the street. Mr. Smith passed to allow a truck to pass, after which he started forward and became entangled in a long rope trailing behind the truck. He was thrown to the pavement with great force and at first thought, he had been hit by a passing vehicle.

Cattle Rustlers

Gil Benedict of Saginaw sends a large quarter page ad he clipped from the Ogemaw County Herald. It is signed by Ogemaw Sheriff Fred Powers. In big black type it reads:

Warning Farmers. Cattle stealing is going on in Ogemaw. Your co-operation is requested. Stop it. Beware of all strangers purporting to buy livestock. Get down the license number of every stranger and report it to my office immediately. One trick is to make a down payment, locate the herd, and make the next trip at night to clean you out. Increase Shown In Enrollment High School and Grades Above Last Year

In spite of the virtual exclusion of all non-resident children in the first six grades, the school enrollment showed a marked increase on Tuesday, the second day of school. The elementary, or first six grades and kindergarten, showed an increase of only eleven over a year ago. This is the more surprising because in most systems the enrollment shows a marked increase in this department.

In grades seven and eight there is an increase from ninety-three to one hundred thirteen, with the increase largely in the seventh grade. There are now sixty-five children in the seventh grade, and some difficulty is being experienced in making arrangements.

The enrollment in the upper four grades has increased from three hundred fifty-two to three hundred sixty-six.

Supt. W. W. Gumsier states the over-all picture shows an enrollment of seven hundred sixty-nine compared to seven hundred twenty-three on a corresponding date a year ago.

New Course at MSC Is Proving Popular

Michigan State's new placement training course in Farm Equipment Service and Sales has gained state-wide and nation-wide recognition. The special course, started by the agricultural engineering department in cooperation with the Michigan Farm Equipment association, has attracted far more applicants than can be handled with present facilities.

The course is the first of its kind in any agricultural college in the United States and is offered through the Institute of Short Course. Many out-of-state requests for admission have been received but could not be considered because of the demand by Michigan students.

Many requests have been received from other agricultural colleges for information about the new program. Early this month, M. L. Bailey, assistant professor and counselor for the program, appeared at a meeting of agricultural engineering heads and teachers at Purdue university at Lafayette, Ind., to tell them of the course.

The joint course consists of two 12-week terms of resident work at the college and two 12-week periods of placement training with implement dealers under college supervision. About 80 percent of those taking the course last year were veterans and qualified under the GI bill of rights.

The first class, which started in Sept. 1945, consisted of 12 of whom 6 completed the course late in Aug. 1946 and were placed in responsible jobs as servicemen, partmen, service shop managers or store managers. Most of them joined concerns with which they had taken their placement training.

Three of the group in the first class decided to enter a four-year course in agricultural engineering at Michigan State College.

Only 20 students can be handled in any group, and two groups are started each year. At the present time 39 men are on the waiting list to start the course, Bailey reports.

Bell Operator Here Has Served 23 Years

Mrs. Mattie Rulason, who has been a local operator for the past 23 years, was guest of honor at a farewell party given by the Bell operators Tuesday evening, September 3. Mrs. Wm. Stone served a delicious chicken dinner at her home, after which the company spent the remainder of the evening in the home of Mrs. Jack Wiegeler.

Mrs. Rulason was presented with a lovely gift as a remembrance of the many years of companionship they have enjoyed while working together. The evening was spent in visiting, after which they were served ice cream and wafers.

Mrs. Rulason will enter the employ of the west Palm Beach telephone company in Florida, where she will complete the service required before her retirement.

The best wishes of her many friends go with her to her new home.

Odds and Ends Here and There

Local and General Items Of Human Interest

The future development of aviation throughout Michigan as well as in each community hinges solely upon the passage of Proposal No. One to the State constitution which will be placed before the voters of Michigan in the coming fall election. Amendment No. One on the ballot will correct an age-old oversight in the State Constitution which now prevents state participation in any internal improvements except highways and reforestation. The people of the State of Michigan are not being asked to contribute any money through this Proposal No. One, and it will not increase taxes. All monies for airport improvement have been derived from income on the sale of aviation gasoline and from fees paid by aircraft owners for registration of their planes and for airport managers' licenses issued by the State.

The largest well in the Rockford oil pool was discovered Thursday by James J. McGerry and Associates, when "McGerry No. 1" came in naturally at the rate of 80 barrels in 30 minutes. "No tests have been made yet," McGerry said, "and we can call it only a potential producer, but it looks like a 2,500-to-3,000-barrel-a-day well."

The well is located a half-mile south of "Williams No. 1," the first well discovered in the Rockford pool March 17, on the west side of the Rogue River. The property is owned by Lynn H. Clark, Kent County school commissioner.

The body of an unidentified man found trussed to a tree on the Marshall Peck farm, a mile east of Saranac on M21, badly decomposed, was discovered late Wednesday by members of the Peck family. A leather belt which circled the neck was attached to the roots of a tree in a manner which coroner Harry Myers, of Ionia County, said could not have been suicide. Myers also said it did not appear that the man died of strangulation. A note written in Spanish and a small bottle of mercury were found in a shirt pocket of the dead man. The note contained the name Santiago Martinez and said in part: "I don't want to go to prison; I don't want to get shot. Amen." Authorities believed the body might be that of Pedro Martinez of Austin, Texas, a pickle field worker who disappeared in July.

Speaking of new developments, Paul Mooh, editor of The Gladwin Record, has undertaken a new business venture. Noticing the popularity of liquid stockings among women who paint their legs, Paul has developed a blue liquid for painting work shirts on Gladwin county farmers. He figures he'll do a big business so long as shirts continue to be so scarce.

One of the fastest growing "cities" in the State of Michigan is the campus of Michigan State College at East Lansing. A year ago the college provided housing for less than 3,000 students, but with the completion of its present building program, it will be possible to house 9,200 students in college-operated housing early next year.

Food Locker Space May Be Saved By Boning The Meats

From 30 to 40 percent of your freezer storage space can be saved if meat is boned before packaging, according to L. J. Bratzler of the department of animal husbandry at Michigan State College. Boneless cuts are easier to wrap, can be wrapped tighter, and will store better than bone-in cuts, he adds.

He also advises the housewife to plan the meat cutting to the family's tastes. If steaks are not enjoyed, the cheaper cuts can be ground and used for meat loaves, chili and hamburgers.

Ground meat, he says, does not store as well as steaks or roasts. If pork sausage is to be frozen and stored, it is recommended that all of the seasoning ingredients except salt can be mixed in with the meat. The salt can be added during the cooking process. Salt, he believes, accelerates the development of rancidity and should not be added to the pork sausage before freezing.

Cured meats do not store well in a frozen condition because of the salt.

Bratzler recommends that all meat be tightly wrapped with a moisture-vapor proof material that is elastic, tough and pliable. Beef and lamb supplies should be consumed in six or seven months, while pork and veal should not remain in lockers over three or four months. This, he believes, will insure the meat being at the best quality.

Boots & Spur Club Is a Going Concern

A meeting of the Lowell Boots and Spur Club was held Monday night at Riverview Inn to complete organization of the group and to make plans for future meetings.

About 60 members were present from Lowell, Saranac, Clarksville, Alto and Cascade, showing the interest in this new pastime. Officers elected were: President, Walter Blakeslee; vice-president, Harry Mathews; secretary, Norton Agard; treasurer, Vernon Seely; trustees, T. C. Feuerstein and Kenneth Orlop.

Committees were appointed to plan for future entertainment and competitive programs. As evidence of their appreciation for the financial assistance on the new arena the club conferred an Honorary Membership on Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Runciman.

Lowell now claims one of the finest arenas in the country and plans are being made for permanent grandstands and an improved lighting system so the public can look forward to some fine future entertainment.

The next meeting will be held on September 23 and anyone interested in membership is invited to attend.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

Frank Meeker passed away September 5, at the home of his son, Clarence Meeker, in St. Louis, Mo. Mr. Meeker was a resident of Lowell for about twenty years and was highly respected in the community.

After the death of his wife a few years ago he lived alone in his home near the P. M. Depot, until failing health necessitated his selling his house and going to St. Louis to make his home with his son.

South Boston Grange

Regular meeting was held Saturday evening with a fine attendance for the first meeting of the fall and winter business and social gatherings. Worthy Master and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Karsons, were chosen as delegates to attend the County convention at Ionia Thursday afternoon, September 5.

It was also decided to have considerable amount of grading done on the grounds, especially on the new plot of ground, which recently was acquired by the organization, which is to be used for parking purposes.

The opening dance party will be held on Saturday evening, September 14, with Wm. Bollock of Lansing as manager of the orchestra and Ray Rittenger has been secured to have charge of the square dances.

The fall carnival will be held on Saturday night, October 12.

Roll call for the meeting of September 14 is to be suggestions for the coming carnival. Also each member who has been on a vacation is to give a report of his trip. —Worthy Lecturer

Ceilings Restored Meat Shelves Bare Throughout Country

Old Mother Hubbard Went to the cupboard To get her poor dog a bone, But when she got there The cupboard was bare And so her poor dog had none.

So goes the old nursery rhyme and it seems to apply in these days of the OPA and the return of retail price ceilings which became effective Tuesday. However, today, it's not only the "poor dog" but human beings as well.

The new ceilings have advanced meats about 12 percent over the prices prevailing last June '30, the so-called "luxury cuts" bearing the greater part of the advance. By mid-forenoon Tuesday empty counters and showcases greeted Lowell shoppers, due to the fact that farmers and ranchers refuse to market their livestock under the new low ceiling prices and the high cost of feed. Since the return of ceilings the packing houses of the country have received the smallest shipments of livestock in their 32 years of history.

Ever of far more serious consequences than the above is the wave of strikes now imperiling the entire nation. Practically all of the nation's ships are idle, thousands of freight cars unable to move, New York City facing a food famine—and so the story goes—a sad reflection on conditions prevailing in the greatest country on earth. The situation will not improve until the people make themselves heard. Strikes must end and production must begin. Then and not until then will the country be able to return to normal conditions.

First School Days Important in Life Of All Youngsters

September renews a familiar routine in households throughout the country. Millions of boys and girls are returning to school or are entering school for the first time.

The first day of school is a big moment in the life of every youngster. It is the day when babyhood is cast aside and the child enters upon a new life.

The physical condition of the first grader, and likewise of his older brothers and sisters in higher grades, may determine his success in school. In fact, his whole future life may be affected by how good a start he gets in school.

Before Junior begins school, he should have a complete physical examination. He will come in contact with large groups of people and may be exposed to contagious diseases for the first time in his life. His resistance to these diseases will depend upon his general health and the precaution his parents have taken to have him immunized against certain diseases.

Vaccination against smallpox is usually required before entrance to public schools. Parents should willingly cooperate with the school authorities in seeing that their child is vaccinated before beginning school.

While immunization against diphtheria is not a matter of law, wise parents see to it that their child is also given injections against this disease by the time he is six years old.

A thorough physical examination before school begins will reveal any defects in the child—whether it is getting proper nourishment, whether his tonsils are healthy, whether his eyesight is good.

Defective eyesight may place such a strain on the child that he will become retarded in his studies and may also become upset emotionally.

And what about the child's teeth? He should by all means see a dentist before he enters school and should make regular visits to the dentist thereafter, as the dentist recommends.

The child who enters school in a healthy condition has a better chance to avoid sickness throughout the year.

In the next article, diet in TB will be discussed.

Rotary Club Honors Late Dist. Governor

Lowell Rotary Club dispensed with its usual business Sept. 4 in order to pay tribute to the memory of the late Arthur F. Frazee, Governor of the 151st Rotary District and a former superintendent of Lowell schools.

Appropriate resolutions were adopted and the Rev. C. E. Pollock spoke, saying that Mr. Frazee's character was typical of sentiments expressed in the 23rd Psalm.

Dr. Frank White, an intimate friend, spoke of Mr. Frazee's early struggle and of his outstanding character.

Changes Made in New Election Law

Registration Mandatory Throughout Michigan

It is vital to the cause of representative government that all Michigan citizens eligible to do so register and vote in the November election.

We may not all agree on issues, but we should be united in the declaration that the best way to decide issues is through the ballot. It is the duty of every citizen who believes in representative government to register and vote.

The 1946 legislature amended the general election law to make it mandatory for all townships and cities, regardless of population, to adopt the permanent registration system. Prior to this, the permanent registration was mandatory only in townships and cities of 5,000 population or over.

The initial registration or re-registration in those townships and cities not now operating under the permanent system must be completed not later than the twentieth day preceding the election November 5. This would make registration necessary by October 16.

Registration on election day is limited to those who, on account of illness or bodily infirmity of himself or some member of his family, or owing to his absence from the township or city on public or personal business, were unable to make application for registration on prescribed registration days, provided he or she is accompanied and identified by a registered voter known to a member of the election board.

Therefore, no general registration or re-registration of voters may be made on any election day. Under the permanent registration provisions of the election law, however, registration may be made on election day in case of an elector's removal from one election precinct of a township, city or village to another precinct of the same township, city or village.

Hearing Tests For Children in School

To help in conserving the hearing of Michigan's school children, the Michigan Department of Health is again offering the services of two hearing consultants to schools for the coming year. Already requests for this service have been accepted from 30 counties.

The hearing conservation program begins with group hearing tests given by use of an audiometer. The audiometer is essentially a phonograph with headphones for 40 listeners. A recording is played of a woman's voice repeating numbers in a tone which becomes gradually fainter. The children write all of the numbers they can hear. If this test shows a child to have questionable hearing he is given an individual hearing test.

Local health departments and school authorities follow up the hearing tests to see that each child with a hearing loss is taken to an ear specialist. Figures available from the program show that 77 percent of the children who receive medical treatment improve—half of them to normal hearing.

Showboat Holds Annual Meeting

Norman Borgerson Quits His Work Praised

The annual meeting of Lowell Showboat, Inc., was called to order by President Norman Borgerson on Monday evening at the Lowell City Hall, with 30 members of the American Legion and Lowell Board of Trade in attendance. This was the first official meeting since September 1941.

Mr. Borgerson, who said he was singing his swan song as head of the Showboat, spoke briefly about the former Showboat, saying: "The Showboat has been very lucky in the past 11 years and 44 performances, only one accident claim having been paid and that one was for this year, to have paint cleaned off a ladies' coat at a cost of $1.00. This wonderful record of safety and the excellent weather that the Showboat has experienced is the reason for the surplus in the treasury."

In bowing out as leader of the enterprise, Norm said that this was a community project and that the only way it could be carried on, and the way to a bigger and better show is by finding more seating. Secretary of Showboat, Inc., L. E. Johnson, read his report which shows as follows: Total cash taken in $19,336.15, total expenses $14,223.65, leaving a gross profit (still some outstanding bills) of $5,012.50.

Treasurer of the Showboat, Dan Wiegeler, reported as follows: Cash on hand beginning of the year $3,115.57, cash on hand September 8 $3,126.37. Bonds on hand $1,536.00. William Christensen, Elmer Schaefer, Roger McMahon and C. H. Runciman spoke briefly, commending Mr. Borgerson on his work and discussing the advisability of contributing from Showboat funds toward the Community building sponsored by the Clark-Elis post of the American Legion.

The following directors were nominated and elected from the Lowell Board of Trade: Elmer Schaefer, E. C. Foreman, C. H. Runciman; the American Legion: N. E. Borgerson, L. E. Johnson, Frank Stephens. Two new unofficial directors, Dan Wiegeler of the Board of Trade and Harold Jefferies of the Legion were named to assume office when an amendment to the by-laws has been made. The annual meeting was continued until a later date, to be advertised when changes of the by-laws will be made.

Here's a Good Test For All Citizens

Citizens priding themselves on their American background might profit by testing their knowledge of "Americanism" as explained in the 220-page Federal Textbook on Citizenship used by aliens seeking naturalization.

This text and companion workbooks and test sheets are used by the University of Michigan Correspondence Study Department in the citizenship course it offers for aliens. Citizenship lessons, given in cooperation with the Federal Immigration Service, prepare the non-citizen for the examinations which will be given him before he receives naturalization papers.

Sample questions asked the citizenship applicant may relate to the Declaration of Independence, the purposes set forth in the preamble to the Constitution, the history of the Constitutional Convention, or the qualifications of a U. S. senator.

Other lessons assigned the potential citizen concern the history of the United States, the organization and functions of state and local governments, and the relation of the individual citizen to all branches of his government.

Two sets of specially designed study materials are used by the Michigan Correspondence Department in its work with aliens living in this state. The federal textbook with a workbook is sent to persons with a good reading knowledge of English. An illustrated set of booklets with simplified text is given to persons with a limited reading knowledge.

LEDGER ENTRIES

SEPTEMBER CALM

Crisp and cooler are September days as insistent milkweed, Jimson and Queen Anne's Lace crowd the sod. Marigolds, clover and swamp maple do honor to the month as crickets and katydids bestow their friendly chirp. High and thick the stubble along the roadside, low and colorful the petunias and asters along the driveway. Locusts, goldfinch and butterflies soothe the senses as September lavishes its lushness and steadily marks time towards cold weather ahead. No artist can compete with Nature who splashes purple grapes, ripe peaches, yellow cucumbers, phlox, zinnias and portulaca upon the living fall canvas. It is a welcome sight to tastes in Lowell, where God wills this glorious hour for the restless. No land so flat and drab but that there flowers a glory of red, yellow and green. No county so poor that apples, peaches, grapes and plums aren't found there.

The summer sun retreats and with a change of spirit touches and creeps. Work to be done, but man listens and looks as the day's change greases us. Mellow and soothing are the briefer days and the gray squirrel points the way to increased effort in the face of fall's warning. September, a gentle rhythm and a lame reminder.

TREE PLANTING

The season has come again when trees can be planted with expectation that they will live and grow. The great majority of towns need more trees. A street is improved when it is lined with shade trees, and homes appear more restful and pleasant when enough trees are planted around them.

Such trees give an agreeable relief in hot weather, help to lower the summer temperature and in other seasons provide windbreaks. Their beauty gives constant pleasure, and it is a satisfaction to walk through a street thus planted. A well cared for home that is well provided with trees gives an impression of great beauty, and many people are attracted by it and would like to live there or have one like it. Tree planting adds cash value to homes and neighborhoods.

WHAT PEOPLE TALK ABOUT

An elderly man thinks that people do not talk as intelligently as they used to when he was a boy. He used in those days to hang around workmen who were eating their noon lunch, and he says they talked about the doings of congress and the government and had very intelligent ideas. He thinks that now they are likely to talk about less important things.

It could be argued equally well that the women talk more intelligently than they used to. Their life in clubs and their activity in community work has led them to talk a great deal about public affairs.

The things that newspapers print seem to indicate a real public interest in important things. They give great prominence to the actions of government and questions of world wide interest. This indicates the popular desire to know about these things. The discussion of many important subjects by radio commentators is also a sign of popular intelligence.

SALVATION ARMY

Quietly the Salvation Army spreads its arms to the needy. With little publicity yet not financially independent to do without an appeal to the public, it has steadily marched forward. Long has the organization been a haven for friendless and hopeless, working with outcasts from society, in sickness and health. Homeless from fire and flood, hunger stalking the poor, courage and comfort comes from the Salvation Army. They are "marching forward to a better world," and any contribution Lowell has made with "heart to God and hand to man," is but a way of marching ourselves to salvation.

AN ABUNDANCE

Mother Nature has worked with human nature to produce a bulging crop. They appear in all sections in spite of mid-summer drought in many states. Yields of fruit, tobacco, corn, truck garden produce have brought cash in hand. Prices have made this possible and the farm operator benefits in a booming purchaser's market. We have a potato surplus and wheat here is

Hothed of Nazism Repents for Sins

Coburg Planning for School For Democracy.

COBURG, GERMANY.—This Coburg school for boys is to be named in honor of the late President Roosevelt. It is a strange thing—this mass repentance by a city for past sins. It is believable only in Germany.

Coburg for centuries was the dual seat of the Saxe-Coburg-Hesse rulers, a prolific royal family which produced kings for several European countries.

Under Hitler it was awarded the Coburg medal for being one of the first German cities to embrace Nazism.

Now the Federal Bavarian "postcard town," where Martin Luther once preached, wants to take the lead in switching the German name over to its old identity in 36 years—this time, democracy.

Monarchy and Nazism are no longer considered respectable.

The idea of making Coburg an international center for the study of democratic culture was conceived by Oberbürgermeister (mayor) Meyer and a number of business and professional leaders.

"We want to prove to the world that in Coburg there are many democrats who can be good Germans and still work for international understanding," said Meyer, a slender, serious man of middle years, "and we want to establish a formula to further understanding among students from all countries."

"Our main orientation will lie to the west—to France, England and America—but we want American students, too, and a Russian professor if we can get him."

The academy will specialize in the study of government and the history of all democracies, but it will offer courses in comparative religion, languages, social and educational sciences.

A fine arts division will teach the contributions of each nation to world culture in music, painting, architecture and sculpture.

"The school will be open to all," said Meyer, "a people's academy for the broad masses of advanced students."

Lose Pep? Try Comfort Zone

It May Not Be the Weather; Agriculture Department Tells All About It.

WASHINGTON.—If you feel better some day this summer, it may be because the heat nor the humidity. Your "comfort zone" may be your problem.

The department of agriculture in its authoritative book, "Climate and Man," gives this explanation as to why weather conditions which may be a headache to John Smith, may fit Joe Jones with the joy of living.

One's comfort zone is an atmospheric condition—that is, the combination of temperature, humidity, wind or sunshine under which a given man or woman feels best.

Differences in comfort zones arise from various causes: heredity, diet, clothing, habits and age, race and other factors.

That is why, says the department of agriculture, "air conditioning engineers have found it impracticable or impossible to design installations that will give comfort to 100 per cent of an average group of workers, shoppers or motorists comfortable at any given season."

Scientists have noted out "comfort zones" for the people of the United States, summer and winter, outdoors and indoors.

"They find that 98 per cent of persons can be comfortable at 78 degrees and only 4 per cent at 82 degrees, a 50 per cent relative humidity."

The department maintains it is the "monotony" of the weather in the tropics that "is far more intrinsically disadvantageous to the maintenance of good health than its warmth and humidity."

"Might Be Solution."

Variability in weather, such as prevails in many sections of the United States, is stimulating to the human body's "tone," says the departmental scientist.

In the tropics, it says, "it's a good idea to take a little exercise to keep the body in good condition so that some tropical dwellers tend to turn to alcohol to give their bodies the stimulation the climate fails to provide for the body."

"A daily set of tennis or some other vigorous exercise in place of the extra highballs would be the best solution."

The ability of some persons to rest more freely than others is an aid to them in exposed to excessive heat.

The army and navy conducted special tests to select freemen for men for assignment to tropical areas.

Other factors, of course, play a part in adjusting to the heat. These are the ability of the body to maintain proper balance between heat production and heat loss.

Manufacturers Warn That Carbine Shells Unsafe

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Source: Collecting G.I.s are warned it's dangerous to use 30-caliber carbine cartridges in other rifles or revolvers, even though they may be similar to ammunition intended for the weapons.

The warning comes from Edwin Pugsley, chief gun engineer of the Winchester Repeating Arms company, which developed both carbine and carbine for the army.

Although the 1 1/2 inch carbine cartridge may look like that used in the 22 Winchester rifle, said Pugsley, ammunition for the two rifles is not interchangeable.

Use of carbine ammunition in revolvers is not recommended by either Smith & Wesson or Colt manufacturers. The carbine cartridge develops a pressure at least two and one-half times greater than cartridges designed for revolvers, Pugsley said, and the person who fires it fires a carbine shell in a revolver is firing with trouble.

Lost Is Found, but They Are Not the Same

LOS ANGELES—Mrs. Jane Hansen was expecting Timmy, a tomcat, being shipped to her from New York. But when the crate arrived it contained a baby.

It seems that Timmy had escaped on route, since helpful baggage attendants had attached the following note to the package: "Escaped cat was picked up at Los Angeles."

However, Mrs. Hansen wasn't fazed by the note. A few days after her arrival "Timmy" gave birth to a family.

Nylons Ruined; She Gets Gift, Forgets Accident

PHILADELPHIA—Mrs. Julia Parker, 60, was knocked down by an automobile at a downtown intersection. But when she arrived at a hospital for treatment her chief concern was not her injuries. It was the ruining of her nylons.

She refused to prosecute the automobile driver, however, after a passenger in the car took off her nylons and gave them to Mrs. Parker.

John Quincy Adams served as a member of the lower house of Congress after he retired from the office of President.

United in Marriage In Lovely Ceremony

A lovely double-ring wedding service which united in marriage Mary Elizabeth Gingrich, daughter of Joseph Gingrich of Grand Rapids, and Ted MacTavish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacTavish of Lowell was performed by Rev. Emeral Price at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Gingrich of E. Leonard Rd., Grand Rapids, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Lowell Paratrooper Takes Adrian Bride In Presence of 80

Before an arrangement of tall baskets of white gladioli and candelabra, Miss Loretta Ruth Ayling became the bride of Robert Duane Yetter, son of Mrs. Rosella Yetter of Lowell and O. J. Yetter of San Diego, Calif., Sunday afternoon, September 8, at three o'clock. The double ring ceremony was read by Dr. C. E. Pollock in the sun-room of the home of the groom's mother, in the presence of 80 guests. The wedding music, played by Mrs. William H. Barr of Grand Haven, included "Ave Marie," "Liebestraum" and "Clair de Lune."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Adrian Ayling of East Tawas, wore a dressmaker suit of aqua gabardine and on her head a calot of aqua tulle with red roses. She carried a colonial bouquet of white gladioli centered with red roses. Miss Dorothy Webster of Adrian attended as maid of honor and she wore a gray -jepe gown with matching calot on her head and a shoulder corsage of Pictory gladioli. Sam Yetter attended his brother as best man and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Speerstra, brother-in-law and sister of the groom, were Master and Mistress of ceremonies, assisted by Richard Curtis and William Lailey of Lowell.

The brides mother, Mrs. Ayling of Adrian, wore a gray and rose dress for her daughter's wedding; and Mrs. Yetter chose a sequin-trimmed black dress, both mothers wearing shoulder corsages of white gladioli.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony. Mrs. Charles H. Smith finished cutting the five-tiered wedding cake; and others who assisted about the rooms were Mrs. Sam Yetter, Mrs. James Philipson of Lansing, the Misses Marilyn, Caroline and Dorothy Lustig of Grand Rapids, Miss Mary Curtis Zens of Silver Spring, Md., and Miss Colleen Yetter of Lowell.

The young couple left on a wedding trip to northern Michigan, after which they will be at home in Okemos, Michigan.

Mrs. Yetter graduated from Michigan State College in June with a B. A. degree, where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Mr. Yetter is in his senior year at M. S. C., after having served as a paratrooper with the 82nd Airborne Division for three years. He is affiliated with Psi Upsilon fraternity.

Preceding the wedding a luncheon was served to thirty guests by Mrs. Harold Yetter in her home, assisted by Mrs. Joe Speerstra and Mrs. Erroll Osborne.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a honey beige suit, brown accessories and a corsage of Tallmash roses.

Maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Margaret Joan Hitchcock, who wore an aqua suit, black accessories and a corsage of peach gladioli.

Carl Kerekes of Lowell attended the bridegroom as best man, and guests were seated by Herbert Whitton and Fred Hoesley of Lowell.

THIS WEEK'S SERMON

by Paul Z. Hoornstra,
Church of the Nazarene

This week we see Christ as the Shepherd of Faith. In contrast, we see another shepherd who had faith.

David watched his sheep, but when the enemy's giant defied God, this young man's faith was enlarged. Consequently, he went forth with his sling and, using his faith, he killed Goliath, God's enemy.

But the Great Shepherd of Faith does even more. Not only does He USE faith for His own conquests, but He IMPARTS faith to His followers.

Man is to receive Faith as God's gift, then use it and cultivate it. The Great Shepherd of Faith will give this faith to you, and your life will be richer. Ask Him for it today.
