Waiting for a new motor car isn't exactly the easiest or most pleasant experience in the world. But the saying about patience having its own reward holds doubly true when your patience is rewarded by delivery of a gleaming, new Pontiac "Silver Streak".

Up to now Pontiac production has been limited for reasons beyond our control. Now production is increasing. As of today, it's still below anticipations. But the trend is definitely encouraging. Which means that your wait is being shortened every day.

you'll be mighty glad you waited-and your feeling of gladness will grow with every passing month and mile. Because in every way, the new Pontiac measures up to the phrase, "Finest of the Famous Silver Streaks". In dependability and economy it lives up to its great war-won reputation. It looks, handles, rides and feels like the quality car it is. It's a value that will endure over the years—something well worth waiting for!

And when you do become the proud owner of a new Pontiac,

He concluded that churches that paid a good salary and had a large membership, would be located in prosperous communities in which high standards prevailed.

Towns that maintain churches, chools, parks, social organizations, etc., in excellent condition, indicate that they are places where there are good business opportunities, and they would be good places to

TRAINING THROUGH TOYS

It is predicted that the cihldren's EVENING ADM, 12c-85 toys of this year will contain a great many that will help the youngster to use his mind and his hands. Thus they will be useful in developing the abilities and faculties of children. Whatever skill is obtained in handling a toy will make the youngsters able to take up more easily the tasks of adult life. In so far as they use their minds, they gain new powers of observation and judgment.

Children feel happy when they imagine themselves as doing the things that adult people do. They dream as they ply their little gas shovels and pails in their sandpiles that they are real grownups, or as they build their little roads or make houses out of blocks. Toys are a great blessing to children, and one can hope that they all will have plenty of them.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

The person who keeps saying "I live in the best little town," or "the best big town," according to size, performs a great service in promoting enthusiasm about people's ome environment.

Most people take pride in their me town, and want it made attractive and prosperous, and they will usually welcome any practical movement aimed along these lines.
