

President Frank Newell has called a meeting of the Community Council for Wednesday, May 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the kindergarten room.

Among the four deacons to be ordained Saturday, May 31, by the Most Rev. Francis J. Hase, Bishop of the Grand Rapids diocese are Hugh M. Beahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick L. Beahan, formerly of Lowell and William J. Reits, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Reits of RS, Lowell.

Benches have been placed along the Blaine for the convenience of the public. Trying to encourage the coming of summer, no doubt.

The new 10-cent air letters are now on sale at the Lowell postoffice and all other postoffices. The thin sheets measuring 12 x 8 1/2 inches, including a gummed flap, may be folded and sealed, after the letter is written, into the form of a small envelope. Price of 10 cents for the stamped letter sheets compares with the former maximum charge of 25 cents for letters mailed abroad.

Almost three times across the country, or its equivalent, was the record made by Mrs. Florence Finsiecka, case worker for the Family Service Association, in her travels to Kent county areas for that Red Feather Service. Mrs. Finsiecka travels weekly to 18 communities in the county, including Lowell, to give help on family problems to those unable to go to Grand Rapids.

Michigan has to be tope when it comes to weather conditions—when the rest of the nation has cold weather, Michigan has the coldest—when some states have fresh snow storms, Michigan has the most fresh.

To add a pleasant thought to the above, Mother's Day was blessed with warm sunshine and Lowell churches were filled to capacity.

Three or four valuable dogs are reported to have been found dead from poisoning last week-end, one of which was a pedigreed Kerry Blue terrier, called "Sissy" and owned by Mrs. Audrey Topp. The malicious poisoning of a dog, or any other animal for that matter, is a scurvy trick, to put it mildly. How would the poisoner feel if somebody's child had gotten that poison?

Don't be surprised if you hear soon that arrests have been made in connection with the burglary of an electric store on West Main and thefts from several parked automobiles.

Jobless, jests, jobs and jibes just by Jeff! In this country we have two types of chance takers, the tax dodgers and the taxi dodger. . . . About the only male who is born in a Lowell home, is the boy baby of three and under. . . . A garden is still a victory in the fellow who weeds, waters and de-bugs a plot. . . . The way to get along with Republicans and Democrats is to remember that each must live his own life. . . . Rather than pay the high price for meals a man is better off to carry his lunch in a shoebox, if he can find a shoebox.

Clean-up Time

This week we begin our spring cleaning, repairing, painting, May is clean-up month for Lowell homes and business property and civic pride are two reasons that such works get under way at this time of year.

The appearance of the outside reflects the conditions to be found within. The careless, shiftless family carries the note of disorder from the yard to the inside of the house. The family pocketbook may not allow much repair and paint, but there is a way to keep a dwelling neat and tidy through effort and energy.

Heading away rubbish that gathers in yards, garages, barns, basements, attics, closets, removes fire hazards.

A house is some place more than just a spot to hang the hat. The majority of Lowell citizens are proud of their homes and lawns and work to keep them attractive. Gardens are getting under way, flower beds begin to take shape and soon the town will show a gratifying effect. And besides, from a business standpoint, the value of property increases when the appearance of that property is in its favor.

Scout Troop 102 Holds Honor Court Badges Presented

Scouts of Troop 102, Cub Scouts, Troop committeemen and parents met for a potluck dinner and Court of Honor in the Methodist Church dining room on Monday evening.

The program began with the song, "There's Something About A Boy Scout," the words of which were requested and received by Mrs. Carl Freymuth, from Fred Waring, famous orchestra leader, especially for the occasion. After an inspiring talk by the Rev. C. E. Follock, the Scouts of Troop 102 lighted twelve candles, symbolizing the twelve points of the Scout law. Ted MacTavish, Scoutmaster, presented badges of "venderfoot" rank to Donald Rodgers, David Richmond and Robert Richmond. David Miller, assistant Scoutmaster, presented the Second Class badge to Gregory Bryan.

Eagle Badge to Ronald Jessup
Lyle Fry, district scout executive from Grand Rapids, was present to award the Eagle badge to Ronald Jessup, who has attained the highest rank in Scouting. Mr. Fry first demonstrated how the Scout is helped by his parents, the Troop committee, and the whole community in attaining this high rank. He then passed the badge to Mrs. Jessup, who had the honor of pinning it on her son. Ronald then presented his mother with his Mother's Day gift—the miniature Eagle badge. He has been a Scout for four years and is junior assistant Scoutmaster, librarian, treasurer, and bugler of Troop 102.

The program ended with an interesting movie on Scouting shown by Mr. Fry.

Legion Memoir Book Brought Up to Date

Clark-Kills Post of the American Legion has received many favorable comments on the book, "Memoirs," published in memory of all those who paid the supreme sacrifice, and also in honor of those who were wounded and served in World War II.

Another page has been added since its first publication and it now contains 40 pictures of those who gave their lives, a list of 40 wounded and a complete roster of over 1,000 names.

All of those who purchased of the first copies, may call for one of the added sheets at the place of purchase.

The "Memoirs" may be obtained at the following places: Lovelace and Afton homes at Ada, Buttrick's grocery at Cascade, the Locker or American Legion at Alto, L. E. Johnson, Pontiac Sales, Hill Shoe Store, Christiansen Drug store, or from any legionnaire at Lowell.

To Hold Open House On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Himsbaugh will be at home to their friends at 803 N. Monroe, Lowell, on Sunday, May 16, from 2 to 5 and from 7 to 9 p. m., in celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Receiving with them will be their children, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Himsbaugh of Washington, D. C., Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Bowman of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Himsbaugh of Ada.

No invitations are being issued.

SKILL AND CAPITAL

Irving Berlin takes a worthless piece of paper and writes a song hit. He sells the copy for $50,000. That's Genius.

John D. Rockefeller can sign his name to a piece of worthless paper and make it worth half a million. That's Capital.

A man can buy $5 worth of steel and make $1,000 worth of watch springs out of it. That's Skill.

A cop can take a worthless piece of paper and write your number on it and make you out ten bucks. That's your Hard Luck.

But—when a man looks for an apartment, finds just what he wants, and when the manager asks, "Have you any children?" puts on a long face and answers, "Yes, but they're in the cemetery"; pays six months' rent in advance; gets a receipt; then goes out to the cemetery, gets his children and brings them to the apartment. That's Brains!

Wear a Red Poppy Saturday, May 24

On Saturday, May 24, all of us will be asked to wear a little red poppy, on our coats or dresses. The day will be Poppy Day, when, once each year, we of America pay tribute, by wearing their memorial flower, the poppy, to those who gave their lives in America's service during the World Wars. And as we receive our poppy from the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will distribute the flowers on the streets that day, we will be aiding the war's living victims by the contribution we make for the flower.

Michigan Needs 25,000 Migrants For Farm Labor

Michigan needs 25,000 migrant workers each year, says A. B. Love, state emergency farm labor supervisor at Michigan State college.

The reduction in total farm labor force of the nation makes competition for these workers greater than before the war.

The policy of the farm labor program this year will be the placement of Michigan workers first, domestic migrants second, and foreign workers last. It is expected that foreign labor will be reduced by 30 percent, but those remaining will not be used if they are replacing American citizens who desire farm work.

Indications point to an increased movement of migrant workers, both Texas Mexican and others, into Michigan. Wage differences may cause considerable shifting of labor in the state because of workers hunting for employers who will pay higher wages.

Love points out that the present high cost of living combined with farmers' beliefs that agricultural prices may be reduced at harvest time may cause wage differences.

The emergency farm labor program has been extended to December 31, 1947. This year's program is designed to place growers in a position where they will have reasonable amounts of labor in future years. Farm labor assistants in each county will emphasize the development of better employer-employee relations, recruitment and placement of workers, their housing, training and problems of social environment.

With Michigan's constant need for outside workers, Love points out that now is the time to build a reputation that will attract desirable migrants to the state in future years.

HOME EXTENSION SPECIALIST

Olevia C. Meyer has joined the Michigan State college staff as extension specialist in home management. She comes from the University of Illinois where she worked with a farm housing research project for two years. Previously she had been home adviser for two Illinois counties for nearly ten years.

Miss Meyer obtained her B. S. degree from the University of Illinois and her M. A. degree from Columbia University, New York City.

WEDDINGS

Brighton-Petersen
The Second Congregational church of Grand Rapids was the scene of a lovely wedding, Sunday, May 4, at 12 p. m., when Louise Petersen and Morrison Brighton of Lowell were united in marriage by the Rev. Jensen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Godfrey of Lowell served as best man and maid-of-honor.

The bride wore a light blue suit with white accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of white carnations. The maid of honor wore a white dress in a light green suit the same style as worn by the bride and her flowers were a corsage of pink and white carnations.

After the ceremony a reception for the couple was held at the Wm. Converse home in Keena, party guests were present from Lansing, Grand Rapids, Belding, Greenville, Jonia, Portland and Bittery.

After a short trip through northern Michigan, the couple returned to their home in Lowell.

The groom is employed by Munroe's grocery store in Lowell.

Laven-Wiener
Miss Lucille Wiener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Otto Wiener of Lowell became the bride of Paul Laven, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Laven, Grand Rapids, Thursday evening, May 8, at 8 o'clock in the Gospel Hall, Grand Rapids.

Mr. Peter Pell read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with ferns, palms, and candelabra in the presence of two hundred guests.

Miss Frances Wiener, sister of the bride sang "The Wedding Song" by Wendell P. Lovelace, accompanied by Mrs. Edward Cooper.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a slipper train gown with a sheer yoke trimmed with clusters of seed pearls, long tapered sleeves and a circular train.

Her finger-ring veil was held in place by a titha of white flowers and she carried bouquet of roses, snap dragons and mums.

Miss Jean Schreier, who attended the bride as maid of honor and Miss Frances Wiener, who attended her sister as bridesmaid, wore gowns of blue and pink taffeta, respectively, with sheer yokes, puffed sleeves and full bouffant skirts and carried mixed bouquets of snap dragons, daisies and sweet peas.

Jimmy Vandenhout was ring bearer and carried the two rings in a gold case. He wore a white suit. Barbara VanProoven, cousin of the bride was flower girl and carried a nosegay of mixed flowers. Her dress was of white nylon trimmed with dainty lace and a long full skirt.

Attending the bridesroom as best man was his friend, Theodore Weaver. The ushers were Allen and Lovelace Wiener, brothers of the bride and Robert Sykes and Phillip Laven, cousins of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Wiener wore a rose crape dress with a bolero jacket and black accessories. Her corsage was a corsage of white flowers.

Mrs. Laven wore an aqua crape dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was also of roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Gospel Hall parlors. Mr. and Mrs. William VanProoven, Jr., acted as master and mistress of ceremonies.

For travel the bride selected a grey suit with black accessories and corsage of roses. Upon returning from a northern wedding trip the couple will live at their new home in Grand Rapids.

Saddle Club Elects Officers for '47-48

The Lowell Boot and Spur Saddle Club held their monthly meeting Monday, May 5, at the home of Walter Blakeslee. The election of officers for the year 1947-48 resulted as follows: President, Harry Mathews; vice-president, Walter Blakeslee; treasurer, Vernon Sealey; Directors are Lester Antonides, Walter Blakeslee, Cap Feilerstein and Kenneth Orlop.

The next meeting of the club will be a trail ride, which is being planned by Lester Antonides, chairman. They have a large group of horses and riders out. Carol Avery, secretary.

A giant power hoe has been developed which can dig 400 feet of trench and a half foot trench per hour.

Good Tools Are Key To Garden Success

The key to easy gardening is often good tools.

Jack Rose, gardening specialist at Michigan State college, says a few simple, lightweight, good quality tools are best for home gardening. Poorly designed equipment made of cheap or low grade materials can increase the amount of work required to care for the garden.

For the small garden Rose lists the necessary tools as a shovel or long-handled spading fork, a steel bow rake, a 7-inch common hoe, a stragg cord for laying off rows, and enough hose to reach all parts of the plot. A trowel is useful in transplanting but not essential.

In large gardens covering 2,000 square feet or more, a sturdy wheel hoe is worthwhile. It takes the place of the common hoe and covers the larger area with less effort. Tools should be well cared for. A thorough cleaning and a wipe with an oiled rag will prevent rusting. Hand hoes and wheeled implements should be kept sharp for greatest efficiency of operation.

The Snow Methodist church will celebrate the 50th anniversary of its dedication on Sunday, May 25. Many activities have been planned for the day.

All members and former members of Snow Community are urged to attend the services.

A potluck dinner will be served at noon with an afternoon of visiting and dancing. Church services will be held again in the evening.

The Ware school finished its 51st year of service Friday, May 9, with 35 people attending the school picnic. Twenty pupils were enrolled this year, with two, Marion Batey and John Baldry, graduating from the eighth grade.

The three students having the best spelling record for the year are Marjorie Batey, Alice Wheat, Doris Richardson. The best attendance record was awarded to the Richardson family, Paul, Doris and Jerry, who were neither absent nor tardy during the year.

Students on the honor roll for the past marking period were Marion Batey, John Baldry, Alice Wheat, Lardson Pitsch, Donald Richardson, Paul Richardson, Roger Kerr, Mary Lou Wheat, Doris Richardson.

Twenty people made the trip to Lake Michigan via Grand Haven. Miss Waltz of Lowell high school was the speaker this month. Her subject was Home Economics. Jean Dalestra, Marilyn Clark, Joan Carlson and Norma Jean Lind from LHS music department entertained us on Friday, May 2.

Five certificates of service in the school Safety Patrol were awarded by the Safety and Traffic Division of the Automobile Club of Michigan. They were given to Laradon Pitsch, captain, Marion Batey, Roger Kerr, John Baldry and Donald Richardson.—W. J. Smith, Teacher.

Odds and Ends Here and There

"A nurse for every purse and free when needed" is truly the motto of the Red Feather agency, Community Health Service. Last year 24,729 home calls were made by the organization's visiting nurses.

Their Child Welfare and prenatal clinics were attended by 3,213 individuals who made 6,159 visits to the seven clinics in operation.

The last of a year's production of 1,400 picnic tables, most of them built during the winter in the central warehouse of the conservation department's parks division at Grayling, are being prepared now for distribution to state parks throughout Michigan.

The tables are of the standard state park pattern, of cedar timber with varnished pine benches and table tops, in five, six, and seven-foot models.

Weight tax collections for the first quarter of 1947 amounted to $2,017,962.11 and vouchers for returning this money to the counties and cities of the state for use on local roads and streets are being sent to the Auditor General.

The first quarter weight tax returns run nearly $5,000,000 above the same period in 1946, but the difference is due largely to the fact no half-year license plates were issued this year.

Newcastle disease of poultry, already diagnosed in Michigan this year, requires continued vigilance by farmers and hatchery operators. Dr. C. E. Hardin, extension poultry pathologist at MSC, points out that the ailment causes a combination of respiratory and nervous symptoms, and results in numerous deaths and lowered egg production. Strict sanitation, prompt quarantine and Norma Jean Lind from LHS music department entertained us on Friday, May 2.

With 2 percent less cows on their farms, Michigan farmers are producing about 4 percent more milk each day than they did in 1946, MSC dairy specialists say.

A well-managed chicken flock supplies the family with a source of good, nutritious food and a cash income in addition, says El C. Zindel, extension poultryman at M. S. C.

Oil operators leased 44,970 of the 68,919 acres offered in the biggest conservation department auction of state land oil leases in four years, and the second auction of 1947.

The U. S. Agricultural Department reported Friday that conditions on May 1 indicated a 1947 winter wheat crop of 1,025,788,000 bushels, the largest of record.

Michigan deaths due to childbirth have continually decreased over the past ten years and their rank as cause of death has also decreased, according to figures released by the Bureau of Records and Statistics, Michigan Department of Health. In 1938, 425 mothers died from childbirth causes; in 1946, only 163 died from such causes.

You May Expect Some Tall Tales

April Flood Was From 12 To More Than 100 Times Normal

The quantity of water that surged through southern Michigan river valleys on peak days of the April floods may astonish even those who thought to save their homes from high water.

For stream flow during the flood was not three or four times normal, as some may have supposed; it was 12 to more than 100 times normal. Stage and current meter readings made by engineers at flood time are being compiled now in the Lansing office of the U. S. geological survey and the conservation department's geological survey, which work on this problem jointly.

The graphs and tables resulting are statistical backing for flood victims' tallest tales.

Most spectacular was Rouge river which in 15 years of record averaged a flow of 91 cubic feet per second at a point above Joy road bridge. Runoff from the section this stream drains, now built up to house roofs and street paving, produced a prodigious flow of 12,000 cubic feet per second April 16-18—132 times normal and thousands of times this stream's minimum record flow of three second feet.

Grand river at Grand Rapids in 16 years of record had a normal flow of 3,080 cubic feet per second (cfs). But April 9 the volume hit 37,800 cfs, 12 times as much.

At Lansing the Grand averaged, in 12 years of record, 752 cfs; it swelled on April 7 to 17,000 cfs—23 times as much water in the same valley. For 15 years the Red Cedar at E. Lansing averaged 160 cfs; April 7 it was carrying 5,940 cfs—36 times as much.

Flint river at Flint normally, in the last 14 years, had a flow of 478 cfs; April 6 it was 27 times as great, at 12,900 cfs. Clinton river at Mt. Clemens in 11 years of record had a normal flow of 437 cfs; its peak April 6 was 25,000 cfs—58 times greater.

Engineers computed these water volumes in the flood zone, from a cross section of the river valley, the depth of water at that point, and the velocity of the current at that time, according to established hydraulic engineering practice. Stream flow records, recognized as a necessary basic preliminary to all plans for control or use of a river, are now maintained by the U. S. and conservation department geological surveys on 89 Michigan streams.

A & P to Continue Its Low Price Policy

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, in a statement issued today, said that while it has lowered prices on hundreds of food items in recent weeks, no substantial general reduction in retail food prices is possible until costs to the retailer are reduced.

"Our net profit during the past five years has averaged only about one cent on each dollar of sales," the statement said. "If we were to operate our business without any profit at all, this one cent would amount to saving of less than four

We Like Low Prices, Too!

Last year Kroger earned only 1 1/4% on each dollar of sales

We would like to reduce all our prices 10% or even more. Since April 1 we have reduced the prices on many items. We will continue to reduce prices as fast as the cost of food goes down.

ONLY WAY OUT

Some political situations that often seem unexplainable are solved in the light of the following episode: Two farmers had been at "out" farm for some time. One of them drove over to the line once one day where he accosted his old enemy neighbor with a husky, "Mewin, Jew."

Variety of Ingredients

To tempt the family appetite keep salads bright and attractive to the eye as well as add, crisp and well flavored. Variety in the ingredients also helps to keep the palate from getting bored. The best sources of food values are the foods we eat, not the ones we put on the table and neither look at.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Birthday Dinner

An enjoyable birthday dinner was held at Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Cram's Sunday, May 4, in honor of Mrs. Cram and Mrs. Eddie Rash. A lovely dinner was served. Others present were Eddie, Darrell, Tommy and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rash and Mrs. Velma Cram, who is now visiting her parents.

Family Supper Night

Tuesday evening, May 6, was family pot-luck supper night at the Rebekah hall at Lowell. Carson City Rebekahs came and initiated five candidates for Lowell and two for Carson City. Guests were also present from Grand Rapids.

About 95 enjoyed a delicious supper at 6:30.

Social Brevities

A very pleasant event was the observance Sunday of the 35th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harley J. York at their home. It also being the birthday of Mr. York. A chicken dinner was served and the table was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jessup of Flint, Mrs. Frank Mollwaine and daughter, Bernice of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. George Skidmore of Alto.

Mrs. Raymond Bergin reviewed "Young Bess" by Margaret Lewis at the Monday Book club, which met in the home of Mrs. Wm. Wachterhauser.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Collins entertained Tuesday with a family birthday dinner, honoring Mrs. Collins' brother, Bud Gaunt of Ionia.

Mrs. John Lalley entertained the Neighborhood club to a dinner and bridge, Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roth entertained with a Mother's Day dinner Sunday, for the following guests: Mrs. Elmer Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fletcher and Galen, Mr. and Mrs. Munroe Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wisner, Mr. and Mrs. Bert McNeely and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Faulkner from Ada.

The "Last Woman's Club" held their annual dinner at the Morton Hotel, Monday evening. The remaining members are Mrs. John Arehart, Mrs. C. H. Runciman, Mrs. John Lalley, Mrs. L. W. Rutherford, Mrs. Wm. Wachterhauser, Mrs. Frank McMahon and Mrs. Pat Behan. All were present with the exception of Mrs. McMahon.

Mrs. Charles Doyle and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Stowell entertained Sunday with a family dinner, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tornga from Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Roth and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Doyle and son, Billy. Charles Doyle, who was unable to be present, wired his mother flowers from Cherry Point, N. C. Both Mrs. Doyle and Mrs. Stowell were remembered with lovely gifts from the family.

The Co-weds held their monthly supper and social hour at the Congregational parish house Saturday evening, at which time Kenneth Fletcher gave a most interesting talk on India. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warner of Grand Rapids were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Kyser of South Boston entertained with a family dinner Wednesday evening in honor of the ninth wedding anniversary of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Vickery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Armstrong entertained with a family luncheon Sunday evening, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Vern Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dakstra and Sharon and Mrs. Flora Heaven and Wm. Heaven from Clarksville.

Friday evening, Mrs. Ethel Stevens entertained the members of the young people's choir of the Nazarene church, honoring the birthdays of Rev. Paul Hoornstra and her son, Charles, whose birthdays were a few days apart. A very pleasant evening was spent with games, and cake and ice cream were served by the hostess. The guests of honor were well remembered with birthday gifts by their young friends.

Giant Spud Gave Famed

Actress "Litt" for Show

Some interesting stories have been told concerning food "fads" of famous people. One of these stories concerns Sarah Bernhardt, the famous French actress, and her passion for giant-size baked potatoes. Miss Bernhardt was scheduled for a performance at Kelt's Hippodrome theater in Cleveland in 1917, but shortly before curtain time she wired John F. Royal, manager of the Hippodrome, that she was too ill to make her appearance. Royal knew that Miss Bernhardt, then 73 years old, was under constant medical care. One leg had been amputated three years before. So he made elaborate preparations for Miss Bernhardt's comfort—even installing a kitchen range in her dressing room and borrowing the Hotel Stalder chef who had cooked for her on a previous visit to Cleveland.

The chef had informed Royal that Miss Bernhardt had a great passion for giant baked potatoes served with big slabs of butter. So the grocery stores of Cleveland were scoured for Idaho titans. When Miss Bernhardt arrived at the theater, she revived a bit at her first sniff of baked potatoes, and quickly consumed two of them. In the middle of her third baked Idaho, the great actress looked up, announced that she felt better, and would make her appearance after all.

Back Where He Started
Someone once asked Will Rogers how he would describe the typical successful American business man. "Those I've met," grinned Will, "were born in the country, where they worked like the dickens so they could live in the city, and when they got there, they worked like the dickens so they could live in the country."
