

Ice and Snow Mean Take It Slow, says State Police Chief

With the arrival of winter driving hazards, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard is appealing to motorists to remember that "ice and snow mean take it slow."

"The accident rate per 100 million miles of travel in Michigan was 59 per cent higher last winter than during the last summer, and the death rate was 21 per cent higher," the commissioner said. "Six out of ten fatal accidents occurred on highways which were wet, snowy or icy. Seven out of ten occurred during hours of darkness. All of which means that to be safe you must be more careful and be more cautious."

Leonard listed the following safe driving rules for winter:

1. Adjust speed to the "feel" of the road and weather conditions, and slow down well in advance of intersections. Snow and ice increase the danger of skidding.
2. Drive with the normal flow of traffic and follow cars at a safe distance. It takes 3 to 12 times farther to stop on icy or snowy roadways than when they are dry.
3. Prevent skidding by avoiding quick acceleration or deceleration and sharp turns on slippery roadways. Apply brakes with gentle pumping action. If skid starts, turn front wheels in the direction the rear is skidding.
4. Use anti-skid chains to reduce braking distance 40 to 50 per cent on ice or packed snow.
5. Remember that bad weather conditions and more hours of darkness greatly increase pedestrian hazards. Give special consideration to children.
6. Slow down after sundown.
7. Remember the dangers of carbon monoxide and always provide some fresh air within the car.
8. Observe the golden rule toward the other driver.

Incomplete—The Moose are hunting deer.

The Lowell Bears scampered off to the north woods for a bit of buck hunting, leaving a score that is their lowest for the year. They hoped would protect their 2nd place rating. Their opponents the Lowell Electric, apparently forgot the deer season was at hand, as they directed their aim at the Maples and when scores were compared, had won 3 games and 4 points from the Bears. May the Bears have better luck at the "bucks". Krogers finally bucked off the jinx that has ridden them of late, and edged Superior Furniture for 3 games and 4 points. The furniture boys must be using soft wood at their work, as they seem a bit confused working on the hardwood. The Lowell Dusters have their score in, but must await the Moose's return from the north, before knowing if they are to retain the runner up spot. Better than average score for the night were: Abraham 212, R. Kinyon 207, Dilly 200, Koert 195, Baker 192-193.

X-Ray Service For Everybody To be Held in Lowell Next Monday and Tuesday Free to All

The health survey, which will be made in Lowell with the Christmas Seal X-ray Unit of the Kent County Tuberculosis Society, was discussed in detail last Friday evening by a committee of town leaders which met in the Ledger office. Besides R. G. Jefferies, who acted as chairman, the following are on the committee: James A. MacDonell of the Rotary Club; Elmer Schaefer, for the Board of Trade; W. W. Gummer, for the schools; Mrs. James Gee, for the PTA and Mrs. Royden Warner, president of Lowell Women's Club. Mrs. Gerritt DeKoning, executive secretary of the tuberculosis society, gave instructions. Mr. Jefferies stated the purpose of the meeting and the free x-ray services, which will be available in a large blue and white bus located at Lowell high school, on November 24 and 25, from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and 12 to 5:30 p. m. "The Ledger is sponsoring this project for our community and the people in the surrounding townships because we believe in an ounce of prevention," stated Mr. Jefferies. Mr. Schaefer will arrange definite hours when employees of various Lowell firms may be sent to the bus for this service on company time. "We employers should be willing to do this because the health of our workers is important to both them and us," stated Mr. Schaefer.

To Mrs. Gee and Mrs. Warner was delegated the big job of a house to house canvass to distribute pamphlets and be sure that every household knows that this service is available free to everybody above 15 years of age. They will organize a committee of 30 women, 15 from the PTA and 15 from the Women's Club and do this work on Nov. 21 and 24. Posters are being prepared and placed by students of the high school and announcements of the service are being sent to surrounding farm homes by students who attend the Lowell schools. At a faculty meeting last week the teachers endorsed the plan and enthusiastically agreed to help as much as possible in its successful promotion.

Caledonia Seniors To Present Drama

Fast disappearing from the American scene are the last traces of the old Roadhouses and Inns which in the early days punctuated the highways at regular intervals and offered refuge, rest and entertainment to travelers worn-out by hours of riding in tiresome stage coaches. Most of these old landmarks have vanished completely, but a few still exist, doggedly resisting the ravages of time. About them hovers an indescribable air of mystery and within their walls one can almost feel the invisible presence of some ancient ghost. It is in just such a roadhouse as this that the scene of "Ghostly Fingers", the mystery play to be presented by the Caledonia senior class, on December 3 and 4, at the high school gymnasium, is laid. In this old roadhouse, on a stormy night, many weird and exciting things take place—lights flash on and off—screams are heard—ghostly fingers reach from hidden panels until finally, in a startling climax, the mystery of the old roadhouse is solved.

The cast includes: Marjorie Posthumus, Caryll Ballard, Catherine Johnson, John DeVries, Mary Brande, Russell Slater, Pat Wood, Kenneth Timpon, Barbara Bates, Eugene Raab, Bruce Ellis and Gerald Good.

If you are addicted to thrills and suspense, deftly relieved by many laugh-provoking situations, don't fail to spend a night in the Roadhouse.

Arch Wood Badly Hurt On Way to North Woods

Arch Wood, of McCords, suffered a neck fracture and head bruises while enroute north on a hunting trip with three other men last Thursday morning. He was taken to a Big Rapids hospital where he remained until Sunday when he was brought to his home by his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Henry.

Mr. Wood was taken to Blodgett hospital Wednesday where he will be placed in a cast after which he will return to his home.

The accident occurred when the car in which the men were riding went out of control on an icy road about a mile north of Reed City. The car was badly damaged. Besides Mr. Wood those in the car were Roland Colby, McCords, Matt Metterlick of Alto and Mr. Snell of Ada, the owner of the car.

November Best For Holiday Shopping In Lowell Stores

November is an excellent time in which to do buying for Christmas. The last two weeks before the Christmas holidays see a grand rush to the stores. Many people do not give serious thought to the question of holiday buying previous to these last two weeks. It does not seem good judgment to allow such a tremendous amount of trade to be concentrated within this short period.

When the stores are crowded, the salespeople are very busy and hurried, and it may be impossible in many cases for them to give the careful attention to customers which they would be glad to do if there was time. If the Christmas buying and sending of presents is delayed until the last days, people often have to wait a considerable time at postoffices to get their packages mailed. If people would give this question of Christmas buying careful attention during the month of November, it would greatly simplify this situation. If they would make out their lists of what they want to give, and then buy these things as soon as possible, this business would be spread over a longer period, and the congestion and attendant difficulties would be greatly relieved.

People will find Lowell stores well provided with Christmas goods. The shoppers doing this early buying will be able to take the time they need to examine and consider their purchases. The stores do a grand job during the holiday rush in handling the great number of shoppers, but it would help them serve the public if the rush could be distributed over a longer period. The workers in the postoffices, and the postmen who deliver the mail, would also greatly appreciate it if the rush could be distributed over a longer period. They also do a splendid job in handling the big Christmas rush. It would help them if the mailing could begin early, and not be so concentrated within a short period.

Thanksgiving Day

Tradition and custom brings each November, a day set aside over 300 years ago, to acknowledging our debt to a Divine providence for blessings wrought. As time passed since a long ago Plymouth Colony met to celebrate a plentiful harvest, the manner of observing Thanksgiving Day has somewhat changed. College stadiums, high school bowls, are crowded for the annual football holiday event. Penants, chrysanthemums, cheers, rally songs, make it an outstanding occasion.

The Thanksgiving dinner has changed, too. More stress is laid upon the food for the body than the day's food for the soul. The years of the celebration were times of extreme reverence, of a people spiritually appraising the beneficence of God, of expressing thanks for harvest, asking guidance for a new nation through its dark periods in making history. Thanksgiving was a holy day, the time to commune with man's Maker. It was even extended for a week instead of a single day, its official date, set by the governor of the colony, varied, history shows. But the feastin' upon venison, geese, wild turkey, fish, chowder, cornbread, puddings, finally became a traditional holiday each year at a set date.

This is the opportunity for Lowell to unite in prayer, to be grateful for a bountiful granary, to praise Him who has made the benefits of man possible, asking for guidance and a restoration of every man's faith in the significance of the real meaning of Thanksgiving.

MSC AGRICULTURE ENROLLMENT GROWS

Enrollment in the Michigan State college school of agriculture continues to grow. Figures recently released by the school's officials show that agricultural enrollment today is more than 14 times above the low figure set in the war years. It is also nearly double the high year before the war.

Young Nimrods Bag Their Buck Right at Home

The deer hunting season opened in Kent and Leola counties for the first time Saturday, with nine Lowell hunters reporting the kill of their bucks within a few miles of town. Among them were two young hunters, Lewis Condon, 11 (a little under age for deer hunting) and Robert Ford, 18, shown above with their bucks.

The happiest deer hunter of the 1947 season is 11-year-old Lewis Condon, who bagged an eight point buck about 9:30 last Saturday morning while hunting on the Floyd Condon farm near Moseley, with his father.

Lewis read a for sale advertisement in the Ledger for a 22 calibre rifle. He bought it, took it home. Result: a deer. Good going, Lewis.

Bob Ford killed his five point, 125-pound buck in Keene township, early Saturday morning with a 16-gauge shotgun while hunting with his brother James.

Another young hunter was Bill Schreer, 17, who got a 6 point buck Saturday morning on Bailey Drive in Vergennes township. Bill has also trapped 7 fox within the past two weeks.

Others reporting their bucks were Albert Zigmont, a pt. buck Saturday afternoon in Vergennes; Clayton Engle in Vergennes township; Kenneth VanDerWert and Carlton Wilcox in Ada township; Paul Dittmers and Lewis Gasper in Keene township.

Most of the hunters who went north for their deer hunting have not returned home yet but the following have reported their kill: Chad Lee, Clinton Christoff, Orlo Gwatin, Harold Kitson, Vern Good, Dale Rogers, Lester Sherman, Ed. VanDenBurg, James Roberts, Wm. Pletcher, Pete Kellogg, Floyd Boyce and Dusty Kellogg.

After fifteen years of luck in getting his buck on the opening day of the season, Bob Starkey returned empty handed last Saturday. Forgot to have one tied up in advance.

Miss Ann Malnar Now In Charge of Kent's Rural School Section

Miss Ann Malnar has been engaged as the assistant librarian in charge of school service at the Kent County Library. Miss Malnar has recently returned from overseas, where she was a regional librarian in Germany and France. She supervised bookmobiles and travelling libraries, installed new libraries, and taught library procedures to enlisted men, prisoners-of-war, and civilian employees. Once a week she conducted a radio program called "Bavarian Bookstall."

At the Kent County Library, Miss Malnar will supervise the bookmobile service to rural schools, and will organize and operate the new service to larger schools. This will not be new work for her, since she has been librarian in Monticello, Iowa, serving village and county schools, and was a school librarian in Muskegon for two years.

Miss Malnar, who reported for work on Wednesday, Nov. 5, has already begun her visits to County schools. Asked her impressions of Kent County she said, "I am delighted to see it now when the leaves are still so colorful. The county is beautiful and the schools I have seen are modern and well equipped. I am sure I will like Kent County."

Pros and Cons of Food Saving Plan; Like it or Not, We Are Facing a Momentous Decision

By Gene Alben, Sec'y-Manager Michigan Food Association

"Opposition in Michigan rural areas to the European lending program and the food-saving program is very strong," writes a newspaper editor who specializes in agriculture and who is recognized as a leader in his field.

"Farmers see the real purpose of the food-saving program as an effort to cut prices. They feel that prices are not too high when compared to other costs." This editor's frank comment is of timely interest. This week at Washington the Congress of the United States received a historic message from the President. It concerned the so-called "Marshall Plan" whereby 140,000,000 Americans would give a helping hand of the dollars and foodstuffs to Western Europe's 270,000,000.

With the President's message last Monday, the people of the Nation began a great popular debate. As Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg said Nov. 3 at Ann Arbor, "Foreign policy is a legitimate subject of frank debate by our citizens. Foreign policy belongs to the people." It is not the intention, nor policy, of this column of news interpretation to offer our personal judgment, to attempt to arrive at any omniscient conclusion. We do believe that several observations should be offered at this time, factual premises upon which we may intelligently discuss the issues of the hour.

First, the need of food for Western Europe. We believe it to be an honest statement of fact to say that Western Europe faces a general grain shortage in the third post-war winter now gathering momentum.

Reports from impartial, unbiased newspaper correspondents, Congressional investigating committees and Presidential fact-finding groups all substantiate these shortages. Basic cause of the grain shortage was the 1947 weather, ranging from floods to drought. Supplementing cause was the black market, nourished by government food rationing whereby growers may profit by withholding grain for higher prices.

The Associated Press was criticized by a newspaper editor at the Associated Press Managing Editors' national convention in Detroit for using the phrase "hungry Europe" in a Washington dispatch. The editor said the A.P. had fallen for "administration" propaganda.

Reisman Morin, chief of the Washington bureau, defended the phrase as accurately portraying an economic condition in Western Europe. He said the preponderance of information as gathered by newspaper correspondents in Europe and by a majority of traveling American congressmen attested to the existence of food shortages overseas.

Local Catholics Join In Collecting Food For Victims of War

Catholics in this area will cooperate in a nationwide campaign to collect food for victims of war in Europe and the Far East during Thanksgiving week.

From November 23 to 30, members of 15,000 Catholic parishes in the United States will unite to collect canned food, especially food needed for children, to answer a desperate need in European countries facing one of the most critical food shortages in years.

The campaign in the Grand Rapids diocese is being held under the sponsorship of War Relief Services—National Catholic Welfare Conference, which has been one of the largest private organizations supplying relief supplies overseas.

Since August, 1943, the agency has distributed food and clothing supplies valued at $107,000,000. The food is distributed overseas to all needy persons regardless of race or creed.

Preparations are now being made for the annual AAA elections of farmer-committees in the townships of Kent County, according to John McCabe, chairman of the AAA Committee, who urged all farmers participating in the AAA agricultural conservation program to begin thinking now of their candidates for these important positions. The nominating meetings and elections will be held during the first two weeks of December.

Mr. McCabe pointed out that the agricultural committees of Congress are now considering plans and recommendations for the development of a long-range farm program and that while they are aware of the advantages of having these programs administered at the "grass roots" by committees of farmers, they will be watching with interest the number of farmers who vote in the annual committee elections and the type of men they elect as an indication of how well farmers themselves are satisfied with this type of farm program administration.

The election of township AAA committees will be conducted by mail again this year, McCabe said. This system was used for the first time last year and a record vote was counted. It is hoped that an even larger number of farmers will vote by mail this year.

As was done last year, a nominating meeting will be held in each community for the purpose of nominating candidates for the community committees and delegates to the county convention at which the county AAA committee will be elected for the coming year. The names of these candidates nominated at the township meetings will then be placed on an official ballot, one of which will be mailed to each eligible voter, who will be asked to vote according to his choice and return the marked ballot to the county AAA office, either by mail or in person, under an impartial election board which will supervise the counting. The selection of the election board and the announcement of their names will be made later.

Nominating meetings for each community will be scheduled at a later date. Mr. McCabe said that approximately 3,500 farmers in this county are eligible to vote in the AAA elections this year. Eligible farmers are those who are participating in the 1947 agricultural conservation program or the sugar program, or who have a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. This includes owners, operators or tenants on the eligible farms.

MONEY FOR SCHOOLS

A liberal amount of money spent for schools brings grand results. It promotes high standards of education, and it helps train the young people so that they will be intelligent about work and modern life and the problems that confront the country. Thus when they go out in the world, they will be more capable of meeting difficulties. When a town gets a reputation of having good schools, it becomes attractive to a great many people. Families will move into such a place to take advantage of its opportunities for the education of their children. People dislike to move away from such a community, because they value the education given in the schools. Words of praise should be said for the excellent work done in the schools of Lowell, which will make good use of all the money the people feel able to appropriate for their use.

Better Than Nylon

A new synthetic textile has made its bow. An English product made from ethylene glycol and terephthalic acid, it is said to be better than nylon or rayon in some properties and poorer in others. It is harder to stretch than nylon, but recovers better. It seems less affected by sunlight, washing, or dry cleaning; is very resistant to moths and mildew; and has such a low water absorption that it is very difficult to dye. Its strongest property is that it can be "set" by heat and so retain a permanent shape.

Shortly afterwards a doe in the next field, and a second buck got away, but it is believed to be the same by the Pae-Witcox-Fryover group.

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Helen Maxine Layer and Harvey J. Craig in a candlelight ceremony Tuesday evening, Nov. 11, at 8 o'clock in the Elm Dale Nazarene church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Layer of Alto. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Craig of near Clarksville. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Mr. Layer gave his daughter in marriage.

Ivory satin was the material of the brides regal gown, which was made along conventional lines with a tight bodice and long sleeves that ended in points over her wrists and were edged with lace. Miss Lorraine Bloomer, as bridesmaid, was dressed in light blue and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Clare Wingeler, as matron of honor, wore yellow and carried bronze chrysanthemums. Both Miss Bloomer and Mrs. Wingeler wore headresses of yellow chrysanthemums.

Don't You Want Peace of Mind?

An old lady told me the other day that her husband used to say, "If I had my life to live over again I would take more rather than less life insurance."

"These checks from the life insurance company are the only source of income I haven't outlived. I know now what the salesman meant when he said, 'It isn't printed in the contract, but there's peace of mind in this policy.'"

Cool Nerves

THE oldest inhabitant of an Arizona town was telling a group of dudes about his experiences. "One time," he said, "I was lying asleep under a mesquite bush when I felt a pressure on my chest. I opened my eyes, on my chest, looking at me with his evil little eyes, was a rattlesnake. If I'd made a move, he'd have struck faster than I could see."

"But what did you do?" asked one young lady.

The older shifted his tobacco. "Nothing I could do," he said, "so I just went back to sleep."

WRONG DIRECTION

A Mississippi river steamboat was stopped in the mouth of a tributary stream, owing to the dense fog. An inquisitive passenger inquired of the captain the cause of the delay.

"Can't see up the river," was his laconic reply.

"But I can see the stars overhead," the passenger replied sharply.

"Yes," came back the captain, "but unless the boilers bust, we ain't going that way."

A Hot Spell

In the heat of summer a Kansas farmer went to Colorado for a vacation. He climbed Pike's Peak, was overcome by the cold, rained air, and was pronounced dead by a physician. Officials wired relatives for instructions on disposal of the remains; they were told to cremate the body and send the ashes home.

The late-lamented farmer was placed in a crematory. Hours later, the attendant returned and was amazed to find the Kansas farmer sitting up and grinning happily.

"My goodness!" he told the attendant, mopping perspiration from his brow, "it's just like home. Another week of this, and the corn'll be made."
