

FIFTY-FIFTH YEAR

LOWELL, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, APR. 1, 1948

NUMBER 48

One of the interesting sights seen during the high water of last week was that of a well-known Lowell lady wading in water nearly to her knees gathering her canned fruit.

Two Lowell Ladies Report Grand Trip To the West Coast

Mrs. Maude Seger and Mrs. Julia Condon, who returned recently from California, report warm sunny weather and a wonderful trip.

They visited at the Tommy Huffman home in Stockton, enjoyed a trip up into the mountains to see the red woods where they had lunch with the Huffmans. While there they also visited both Ray Fox and Jack Coffert and had luncheon twice at the Parenti home.

Took a trip to San Francisco and then went north 250 miles to Laytonville and back to Stockton. Then they went to Hollywood and had breakfast at Tom Breneman's, and on to Los Angeles for a few days. They spent one afternoon and had dinner with Aggie Sullivan at Cora Kemp's home. She says hello to her friends here and was looking very good.

From there they went to San Diego where four days were spent with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walsh and family. Mr. and Mrs. Rex Coughlin took them to a wrestling match in San Diego that was a cross between boxing and wrestling as no holds were barred. They took a boat trip around the bay at San Diego and saw much war equipment, all kinds of boats and planes.

From there they came east to Pierceport, Ind., where they spent eight days visiting Mrs. Condon's sisters, Mrs. J. A. Barnhouse and Mrs. Curt Lanwell, also called on Mrs. Walter Worley. Before returning home they had a family dinner at Mrs. Condon's brother's in Akron, Ind.

Although they returned home just in time for the high waters of Flat and Grand rivers to maroon Mrs. Condon from her home on S. Division St. for a few days, they were glad to be home and the home folks sure did look good.

Scouts and Parents Invited to Attend Appreciation Dinner

The 14th annual appreciation dinner for the scout units in Kent county, sponsored by the Grand Rapids Lions Club, will be held on Wednesday, April 22, at 8:30 p. m. at the Civic Auditorium.

L. V. Mulin, Jr., committee chairman, states that the event is to be attended by parents of scouts and other friends of scouting as a means of showing appreciation for the work of unit leaders (cubmasters, scoutmasters, leaders of senior units, their assistants and their wives).

Awards of $15 credit at Camp Shawondosee (of $15 credit on handicraft material if won by a cub pack) will be given for three best decorated tables.

Over 1,000 places have already been reserved.

MSC Now Offers Course in American Folklore

A course in American folklore is being offered in the spring term at Michigan State College by Dr. Richard M. Dorson of the department of history and political science.

The purpose of the course is to acquaint American students with the variety of folk traditions, which range from European stories and songs brought over to America, to native tales and ballads of lumberjacks, miners, cowboys, and the modern lore of college students, GI's and factory workers.

BIRTHS

To Mr. and Mrs. Jules Erier, March 25, in St. Mary's hospital, a daughter, Shirley Jean, weight 8 lbs., 10 ozs.

To Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Daniels (nee Virginia Parker), a daughter, Charlene Marie, March 23, at Bioggett hospital, weight 8 lbs.

To Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Christensen, Jr., a 6 lb. 7 oz girl, Susan, at Bioggett hospital, Friday, Mar. 26.

Silo Stimpkins says: Good farming like "the quality of mercy" is twice blessed; it blesses him who practices and him who observes.

AUCTION SALES

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Croninger, April 10

Having decided to sell their farm, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Croninger will sell at public auction, at their farm, 5 miles southwest of Alto, at east side of Campau Lake, on Saturday, April 10, a list of cows, poultry, implements and tools, hay and grain, and a large list of household goods including a number of antiques. A. W. Hilsey, auctioneer; Forrest Baker, clerk. See complete adv. on another page of this issue.

Co. L 126th Infantry Seeks to Form Platoon From Lowell

Co. L 126th Infantry National Guard of Grand Rapids will have two representatives at Lowell City hall on Saturday, April 3, 1948, from 12:00 noon till 5:00 p. m., to interview men to form an all Lowell platoon.

This will be made up of men from in and around Lowell. All men between the ages of 17 and 35, that would be interested, stop and let us explain the National Guard and all the advantages it offers. Men of draft age stand a good chance of being drafted, exempt!

Veterans, here's your chance to have the same rank that you held in the service.

Bob Mattison and his six-piece orchestra, of Greenville, will play at the April Fool Dance, Friday night, April 2, sponsored by the Hi-Y of the Lowell high school. Members of the orchestra are: String bass, Bob Mattison; drums, Roger Sharpe; piano, Francis Geiger; saxes, Bob Walters; Windy Decker and Lloyd Walker.

Ma Loveless of Ada Leads Band 25 Years Favors Sweet Music

"I like slow, sweet music." That's still the sentiment of Mrs. Arthur (Ma) Loveless of Ada after 25 years of playing the piano with her own dance band in all corners of the county and beyond.

"Of course, we have to play what the public wants and we have to keep up with the latest hits. But when interest lags, we play a waltz and the floor is filled up right away. There's something about a waltz—slow and sweet," Ma said, reflectively.

She became known as "Ma" many years ago when she was playing an engagement at Crooked Lake. One of the sponsors asked her the name of her band. She replied that it had no name. But her sax player, James Roberts of Lowell, spoke up:

"She's our Ma and we are her boys." After that it always was "Ma and Her Boys."

Seeks Nomination For State Senate

John E. Martin, Jr., announces that he will be a candidate in the September 14 primary for the Republican nomination for State Senator in the Seventeenth District.

JOHN E. MARTIN, JR.

Martin, 33, a member of the Grand Rapids law firm of Bidwell, Schmidt & Martin, has been active in civic and veterans' affairs since his return to Grand Rapids following the war. A graduate of the Grand Rapids public schools, Dartmouth College, the University of Michigan Law School, he also was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University, England. He is married and the father of four children.

He served on the legal staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington in 1936 and then practiced law in Cleveland two years. From 1939 to 1941, he served as deputy chief of the Ohio Securities Commission, under Governor John W. Bricker.

In Foreign Secret Service

Commissioned in the Navy in 1944, he was assigned to foreign secret service work with the Office of Strategic Services, with service in Europe. He became a member of the staff of the U. S. Prosecutor of Axis War Criminals at Nuremberg in 1945. He concluded his Navy service as chief counsel of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, U. S. Navy Department, in 1946.

Martin is a farm owner and knows farm problems from practical experience.

He is a member of the Furniture City post of the American Legion, the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce, and is active in the Community Chest.

"None of us, the farmer or the industrial worker or the business man, can afford the burden of taxes which are sure to fall on the people of the state if a halt is not called to the trend of unlimited increase in government expenditures."

JUNIOR FARTHER LIGHTS

Meeting held March 12 with Myrtle Fuller. Officers were elected as follows: President, M. Fuller; vice president, L. Higgins; secretary-treasurer, Lila Ward, and reporter, L. Higgins.

The new leaders are Mrs. Paul Johnson and Mrs. Edna Ford. The next meeting will be April 9 with L. Higgins.

Hi-Y April Fool Dance, Friday Night

Bob Mattison and his six-piece orchestra, of Greenville, will play at the April Fool Dance, Friday night, April 2, sponsored by the Hi-Y of the Lowell high school. Members of the orchestra are: String bass, Bob Mattison; drums, Roger Sharpe; piano, Francis Geiger; saxes, Bob Walters; Windy Decker and Lloyd Walker.

Governor Would Streamline State Government, Now Too Complex

Michigan state government has too many boards, bureaus, commissions and other agencies.

So declares Governor Kim Sigler.

He proposed that the state legislature consolidate many of them into a state department of administration. Furthermore, he favors—as a last alternative—placing a state constitutional amendment before the voters in November which would limit the total of state administrative departments to 20 or less, about one-fifth of the present total.

Governor Sigler's observation that Michigan's government has become too complex—to many boards and commissions—has received favorable support of many people in Michigan. There is some evidence to substantiate a belief that many of the voters who supported the sales tax diversion amendment in November, 1946, did so in the conviction that Lansing had too much money for its own good, too many state employees on the payroll.

And so the move to clip the wings of state bureaucrats—curtail the superstructure which has developed from year to year at the state capitol—offers a popular political appeal.

Quoting Governor Sigler: "At the latest count there were more than 100 state boards, bureaus, commissions and agencies. Many of them perform overlapping functions or duties which are not necessary for the welfare of the people. Others enter into the everyday life of many citizens.

"The whole thing is a sprawling maze of organization. Perhaps disorganization would be a better term.

"In well organized states, recognized for their efficient operation, what do you find? Not 100 boards, but perhaps 20 agencies run by commissioners who are directly responsible to the governor."

Right here the governor introduces a second reform. Not only would he reduce the number of state bureaus at Lansing, he would put them under the direct responsibility and power of the governor.

And right here a basic conflict arises. Many state legislators, who are critical of top-heavy bureaucracy at Lansing, hesitate to centralize more power in the hands of the governor by giving him the right to hire and fire department heads.

Fred Green defeated Governor Alex Groesbeck, they recall, on a move to curtail the authority of the governor.

Governor Sigler argues his case as follows:

"As it stands now, most boards and commissions are far removed from control of the people. The voters cannot make their approval or disapproval heard because the members of the boards, bureaus and commissions are serving overlapping terms. They frequently are a law unto themselves.

"The people quite properly expect the governor, the legislature, and other elected officials to be responsible for the entire government of the state. The governor of a state, whoever he may be, is popularly considered to be responsible for performance and quality of results, yet under the present system he does not have the authority to fill that responsibility.

"As you may know, I have therefore proposed to eliminate certain commissions and to replace them with commissioners responsible to the governor, with the consent of the senate. The governor, in turn, is responsible to the people. If he does not like his policies they have the opportunity of registering a protest at the ballot box. I also have proposed the merging of certain other commissions and boards to eliminate overlapping, and thus save the height of embarrassment—two eyes meeting through the same keyhole.

Lewis Grant Warner Life Long Resident Leaves Many Friends

Lewis Grant Warner, who spent nearly his entire lifetime of 84 years in Lowell and Keene townships, died at his home in Lowell Monday evening, March 29.

Mr. Warner was born at Girard, Mich., May 23, 1864, the son of Lewis and Rose Warner. He was the last survivor of a family of twelve.

Mr. Warner was for many years associated with the Nash implement store of Lowell and in later life was an insurance salesman.

He was a life member of the order of Odd Fellows and was known for his many acts of kindness. He was the true personification of a good neighbor.

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 2 p. m. at the Roth Chapel, the Rev. Paul Z. Hoornaars officiating. Burial in Cascade cemetery.

Mr. Warner is survived by his wife, Winona, a son, Dr. Cecil Warner of Grand Rapids; two step-daughters, Mrs. John Scott of Alto and Mrs. Frank Spangler of Gresham, Ore.; ten grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Clean-up Urged To Cut Fire Loss

A neat, clean farm usually is a farm that is safe from fire.

This observation is made by farm safety specialists at Michigan State College in conjunction with Spring Clean-up Week, April 4-10.

Most of the approximately 600,000 fires which needlessly attack U. S. buildings each year can be laid at the doorstep of the "poor housekeeper," they point out.

Records of the National Fire Prevention association show that spring is a season when the danger from fires is great.

Ninety percent of all home and farm fires could be prevented by cleaning out rubbish and unnecessary combustible materials and by correcting other obvious fire hazards.

The safety specialists urge farmers to remember: a clean farm seldom burns. Spring Clean-up Week is the time to do a thorough housecleaning job.

All Are Urged to Observe Arbor Day

Arbor Day will be celebrated on April 23 in Michigan's lower peninsula and on May 7 in the upper peninsula.

John Fields, Michigan State College forester, calls attention to the importance of tree planting for all purposes. Not only will it help to conserve our natural resources but will also add beauty to the countryside.

The forester urges citizens to plan now for tree planting during the Arbor Day observance.

Mobile Telephones In Operation Here

Mobile telephone service is now in operation in this area as a link in a vast network that within a few weeks will provide general highway service over most roads in southern Michigan.

The telephone on wheels became a reality throughout this area on Wednesday when the Michigan Bell Telephone Company inaugurated service over its Grand Rapids station.

How The Service Works

Automobiles in this vicinity are within the coverage of the new station, the range of which extends from Cedar Springs to the north, Zeeland on the west, Wayland on the south, and Belding to the east.

Conversations over mobile service travel part way by radio and part way by telephone. For example, a man in Lowell calling a person in an equipped car, simply contacts long distance and asks for the "mobile-service" operator, giving her the telephone number of the called car. The operator routes the call by telephone line to the transmitter and radio waves carry the telephone message to the called mobile unit.

KENT COUNTY PTA

The Kent County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will meet at Fairview school Tuesday, April 6, at 10:30 o'clock for a luncheon meeting. After the business meeting, conferences will be held with room mothers, hospitality chairmen, and health chairmen, with Mrs. Blanche DeKoning speaking to the health chairmen.

The guest speakers of the afternoon will be Mrs. A. A. Meeth, Mrs. Harrison Mosher and Mrs. W. E. VerMeulen, their topic being "The Marshall Plan and International Trade."

State's Deer Herd Over One Million

Michigan's stock of big game animals has increased considerably, according to conservation department game men, even since the 1946 count by the federal Fish and Wildlife service that ranked Michigan at the top of the national list in big game abundance.

The 1946 summary, just released, credits Michigan with 872,700 whitetail deer—more than a sixth of the national total. But state game men more recently have estimated the Michigan herd at one million animals.

The 1946 estimate of 600 moose on Isle Royale has since been revised upward to 700 by national park authorities on the basis of an aerial survey. The state's elk herd is believed to be about the same now as two years ago, when it was estimated at 250.

Black bear also are believed more abundant now than two years ago when the Michigan bear population was estimated at 7,100, but no numerical estimate of the current population is available.

Other states having large populations of big game animals in the 1946 federal count, following Michigan in the order of big game abundance are: Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Texas, Minnesota, California, Colorado, Wyoming, Maine, New York and Oregon.

State Highway Maps To Be Out April 15

The State Highway Department's 1948 official road map will be ready for distribution about April 15 Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler reports.

The map is up-to-date, showing new locations of state and county roads with city inserts brought up-to-date. A limited supply of unfolded maps suitable for use on desk tops and framing will be available, however, the majority of maps will be distributed in the usual accordion fold.

The new map again will contain a mileage table giving distances between the larger cities of the state, a section showing the principal roads and streets in the Detroit metropolitan area and inserts showing the trunklines and main streets of the principal cities. State ferry schedules and other steamship company schedules also will be found on the new map as well as lists and locations of state parks, fishing sites, recreation areas, game areas, state and national forests and state police posts.

An index of cities, villages, county seats and counties are listed on the map.

Copies of the new maps may be obtained by writing or calling at the Public Relations Division of the Highway Department in Lansing. Maps will also be available at District offices of the Department and at the Michigan State Ferries at St. Ignace.

MEMORIES OF FRIENDSHIP

It is pleasant, while one is thinking about the development of his home town, to consider the enjoyment one has had from the great number of friendships formed in the community. One can feel that it has been a great satisfaction to have this close touch with so many fine people. There has been a high enjoyment in association with them, in meeting them in social contacts, in working with them in various activities, and enjoying recreations with them.

The many of these friends who have gone will never be forgotten. The great number who are still with us are valued more than ever, and it is a great satisfaction to be closely associated with them.

OPPORTUNITY IN OVERALLS

It has been remarked that the reason why some people do not recognize opportunity when she knocks at their door, is that she is wearing overalls. This thought suggests how innumerable people have made their start on a career of success, through some job that required a close contact with dirt, and the wearing of the working garment known as overalls.

Countless people, in doing such work in factories and on the farms and elsewhere, have developed such skill and ingenuity that they were able to obtain promotion or establish a successful industry or business of their own, or become owners of prosperous farms. The thorough knowledge that they gained of mechanical and agricultural processes was a leading factor in their success.

COLD STORAGE

Though this paper has not editorialized upon the subject of a paper shortage, it doesn't mean that such a state doesn't exist. In fact, many cities have continued to have scrap drives, appoint salvage committees, name certain days for paper collections, etc. The Lowell merchant can tell you that a paper shortage exists. He knows about the lack of paper bags, the cost of wrapping paper, of paper cartons.

Thrift isn't something we put into storage until an emergency arises when in a wave of patriotism, we take out thrift, dust it off and put it to use. Thrift has built this nation, it has been one of the factors that have made us great. Let us keep it in use.

CONTROL CANCER

April is known as "Cancer" month, by presidential proclamation. Cancer research, establishing cancer clinics, advocating examinations to curb the disease in its early stages, trying in laboratories to find the weapon to defeat, all goes on during every month. In the face of all that has been done, no definite cure has been found, no certainty to its cause. Hospitals need more beds for treatment of cancer. Public health organizations must provide home care for cancerous cases. Everyone needs education on how to recognize the symptoms of the disease, the treatment, the chances for a cure. When Lowell contributes to back the march against cancer, it takes a step toward stopping a needless sacrifice of lives.

WON'T BE LONG NOW

Sounds the early birds that have come winging homeward from the southland and soon will follow the pleasant note of impact of ball against the bat in the baseball parks. The big league clubs will transfer from winter quarters to northern diamonds and soon eyes will focus upon the material for pennant winners. Not only in the "big leagues" is the picture of action attractive, but in every Hamlet there are the fans who row with the umpire of the country cross-road baseball team. The size of the village is no gauge of the emotion that is expended upon the national sport. It won't be long now before Lowell can sit on the sidelines and howl to its hearts content.

MIGRATION OF BIRDS

The migration habits of many species of birds are one of the most remarkable features of nature. How comes it that they can cover vast distances, thousands of miles in many cases, and yet come back to the same spot where they lived in previous years? Many of them go as far as South America, and some cross the ocean and go as far as Africa. That little thing which you may be able to hold in your hand if you can catch and tame him, is a wonderful traveler, and is likely to cover vast spaces.

The keen powers of observation and memory possessed by animals, seem to be a great factor in this power of the birds to find their way back to the same spots that they previously inhabited. Those wonderful little eyes looking down from their high flight, are keen to detect and remember familiar objects.

Many birds seem usually to do their migrating at night, which is probably due to their timidity and their feeling that at that time there is less danger from their enemies. It has often been noted that the woods at dawn will be full of birds, when there were none at the spot the night before. Some keen instinct is telling the feathered creatures that the time has come to take the long journey, and they are more than welcome when they come.

Up and Down Kent County Roads

K. K. Vining, Kent County Agricultural Agent

Another 4-H Winter Achievement Day is history. As in years past, Rockford folks did so much to make the day a success, turning over the high school for three days means a lot in an event of this kind. The wide halls, nice classrooms all on one floor makes setting up and judging exhibits a comparative easy task.

The friendly cooperation of the Rockford Chamber of Commerce with free shows, chocolate milk, and door prizes help we Extension folks who have to be responsible. Many thanks to the Rockford folks.

The work this year was up to the usual Kent County standards of excellence. Dan Anderson found some scrap plastics from which were made wall lamps, trays, shelves and other nice articles.

Kent County had over 1,000 boys and girls enrolled in clothing, handicraft, food preparation and electrical projects the past winter.

The weather man was nice overhead, but bad roads and excess water kept some folks home.

Anyway, it was another fine achievement to the credit of 4-H club members, their leaders and the local extension staff who have charge of them ork.

Officers in the Northwest Kent Soil Conservation District for 1948 will be as follows: Chairman, Erwin Kienk, Sparta; vice chairman, Lloyd Hill, Comstock Park; secretary-treasurer, Norris Hesel, Kent City; directors, Arthur Edison, Grand Rapids; and Russell Braman, Grand Rapids.

In the Northeast Kent District, Carl Hessler of Rockford will be chairman; vice chairman, Lynn Post, Rockford; secretary-treasurer, Victor Weller, Rockford. Directors are: James Williams of Rockford and Justin McCarthy of Ada.

Williams has been elected to a three year term. McCarthy was elected to fill the vacancy of John Jakeway, who resigned.

Wilbur Kellogg is farm planner for the Northwest District and Glen Converse for the Northeast District and Tom Boyce is soil technician for both districts.

Talking with one of our fruit men the other day who has considerable acreage of apples with storability to handle them, I asked him how his fruit was marketed. When the apples are all in storage and total number of bushels are known, he figures how many each week will have to be moved to clear the storages before spring work starts. Their apples are graded, packed and an effort made to move each week's quota. This practice has been followed for years. This is what might be called orderly marketing. While some low price spots will be hit they would also have the advantage of better prices. Then too there is regular planned work for the help.

Sometimes we have wondered what would become of the six and eight nice pine trees that will some day have to be thinned out of Kent County school and farm plantings of pine. Lester Bell, extension forester at Michigan State College, answered the question recently. Bell told a group of county agents that new wood preservatives have been developed that will make fence posts out of white, red, and Jack pine that are equal in length of life to cedar posts.

Then to our desks came a circular from one of the larger, well-known chemical companies that tells about the material.

The posts would have to be peeled, seasoned and then treated. If it understand it right, this treatment could be made a farm job.
