Father's Day

Sunday, June 20, is designated as Father's Day. This is a sequel to Mother's Day, since Father should come in for his share of affectionate attentions, as well as the purpose of this day may be for commercial reasons, as so many of our "special" days and weeks are, but to pay tribute to the millions of those who are the heads of our American homes, is an obligation where money is no factor. Most fathers are embarrassed with the fuss and ado of the occasion, but they still like it.

Fatherhood is a challenge to the best that is in a man. His responsibility is the care of the family, the maintenance of the home, no simple, easy job in any generation. Many years ago, the relationship between father and children was built more on a basis of law and order. The authority of the parent, the obedience to the parent's will was adhered to with firmness. Naturally this must be observed in families today.

However, fathers are making more earnest efforts to bring companionship, mutual understanding, sharing interests and occupations, with their children. The authority, the obedience, is still there, but by investing time and even trouble in doing things as a companion with children, the bonds of family life are strengthened, and what better investment can a man have than this?

Fine Program Given Showboat Banquet

Nearly one hundred members of the Showboat chorus and band enjoyed a fine chicken dinner on Tuesday evening put on by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

Entertainment of the evening was provided by last year's end men with their jokes and songs, a few numbers on the cornet by young end man, Bill Jones, and the Barber-shop chorus.

Mr. Runciman served as inter-locutor and reviewed some of the early Showboat memories. Royden Warner was on hand to play the piano. A good start for this year's chorus was promised by the group and all had a grand time.

Showboat Chorus Rehearsals Set
The 1948 Showboat chorus will start rehearsals next week Wednesday, June 23, at 8:00 p. m. in the gymnasium of the high school.

Mr. Jensen states that many more voices, especially men, are needed to complete the chorus. Some of the end men have picked their songs and the music will be ready to work on at the first rehearsal.

Newspapers Sponsor Beaver Isle Marker

The sole remaining building erected by King James J. Strang and his Mormon followers at St. James on Beaver Island will be marked with a historical plaque sponsored by the Michigan Press Association, Inc. in behalf of the newspaper of Michigan, and the Michigan Historical Commission in behalf of the State.

Dedication of the plaque will take place Sunday, June 27. Leslie B. Merritt of Howell, president of the newspaper group, and Chester Ellison and Dr. Lewis Beeson, president and secretary respectively of the historical commission, will participate in the program.

The building is known as the Old Mormon Printing House. Erected in 1850, it housed the first daily newspaper north of Grand Rapids, the "Northern Enterprise." The publication suspended following the assassination of King Strang. The set then disbanded.

Go Ahead Signal For 4-H Barns

Lowell Rotary Club Underwrites Cost of Materials
Chance To Help

Plans are now complete to go ahead with the construction of two new barns at the Kent County 4-H Club Fair in Lowell. The Lowell Rotary Club has underwritten the cost of these improvements. The foundations will be poured in a few days and construction on the buildings begun according to the building committee composed of Roland Depew, King Doyle and Sam Ryder.

One building will be a duplicate of the barns which are on the fair grounds now. The other will be the same size, but will have open sides and ends. This structure will have pens for sheep and swine exhibits.

4-H club leaders, members and parents have suggested that these barns be built with volunteer labor. As a result, the cost will be about one-half of the contract price for similar construction.

Larger and Better Fair

The Kent County 4-H and F. F. A. Fair at Lowell August 18-19-20, promises to be even larger and better than last year's record, according to the opinions expressed at the Fair Board and Committee meetings at which plans are being laid. Many additional exhibits will greet the fair-goer this year. Among them are new buildings, a tractor plowing contest and a lot more.

The exhibits, which last year taxed the facilities to the utmost, will be housed in some of the new buildings, including a new dairy barn, a swine and sheep exhibit building as well as in the main exhibit building and tents. The educational displays of the rural schools will feature the Conservation notebooks which were entered in the county-wide contest this spring.

The steer scramble, a popular feature of last year's fair, will be repeated. In addition, there will be a livestock sale of the steers which were sold in last year's scramble as well as of other livestock which is ready for market at that time.

Summer Vacation Means Hazards For School Children

"Glad in the freedom of school let out" and thoughtless in their vacation zest, hundreds of Michigan school children will suffer accidental injuries or death in the next few weeks, warns the Michigan Department of Health.

Summer vacation accidents took the lives of more than 200 Michigan school children last year and injured thousands of others.

Whenever possible, every child should become identified with a summer playground group and spend a good share of his free time with the children in the protected play area, the Department counseled. Playgrounds not only help a child to adjust himself to living with others, provide a variety of healthful outdoor activity, and relieve parents of constant supervision, but they also afford a measure of protection against accident.

Whether or not children can participate in playground activities, there are certain safety warnings which parents should continually emphasize, the Department said, and listed these admonitions:

Admonitions Listed

Streets offer the greatest hazard to Michigan boys and girls. Do not play in or near the street. Watch carefully when you go into the street after a ball or runaway pet. Never run out from between cars or from behind a hedge or knoll. Be especially careful when getting off buses or street cars. Cross only at intersections, preferably at traffic lights. Walk on the left side of the road and never more than two abreast. Ride a bicycle close to the curb and have both front and rear lights for night cycling. Do not drive a car or any other vehicle alone until you are thoroughly experienced in its operation and fully acquainted with traffic laws, and then do not race or show off. Obey all traffic laws, lights and officers. Do not ride with a foolhardy driver, nor with any driver who has been drinking.

The vacationing child should have a schedule of work, rest and play, but not too strict a schedule. Don't let the child in on the family worries, or the family squabbles and don't nag at him. Accidents happen to the child with a boisterous or preoccupied mind, the same as they happen to adults under same circumstances.

Former Lowell Lady Resurrects Copy of Old-Time Cook Book

The Ledger is in receipt of an interesting letter from Mrs. George W. Conolly of Battle Creek, who writes as follows:

"I am enclosing a check for the Lowell Ledger for another year. It is the one weekly contact I have in my younger days.

"In going through my mother's files (Mrs. Florence J. Graham), I found a 'Crumbs of Comfort' cook book, compiled by the ladies of the Lowell M. E. Church in 1894.

"I'm wondering if anyone else should still have one of these cook books?

Yours respectfully,
Mrs. George W. Conolly,
19 Elmwood St.,
Battle Creek, Mich.

WEDDINGS

McAdams-Launslager

Miss Ann Louise Launslager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Launslager of Adrian, and Edward McAdams, also of Adrian, were united in marriage Monday morning, June 14, at 9:30 in St. Mary's church by the Rev. Fr. John Grybowaki.

The bridesmaids were Miss Phyllis Thelan and Patricia McAdams, sister of the groom, both of Adrian. Mr. Drake of Adrian was the best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white street-length, eyelet embroidery dress with a large white straw hat. Her colonial bouquet was centered with an orchid. The bridesmaids were gowned in matching outfits of pink and blue.

Miss Josephine Reynolds and Miss Elaine Houghton provided the music, singing "Ava Marie" and other selections. Mrs. Howard Thurtell of Howard-st. gave the wedding breakfast.

Mrs. McAdams has been connected with the Lowell high school faculty for the past two years, teaching Latin and Spanish.

All her friends in Lowell wish her every happiness.

Wilbur Reister Tells How He Adds Organic Matter To Soil

This article was prepared jointly by the Kent County Extension Service, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, and the Kent County Soil Conservation Districts.

"Trashy cultivation in our peach orchard helps to protect our soil from erosion and at the same time saves moisture for the trees to use when it gets hot and dry," said Wilbur Reister, Peach Ridge farmer, today.

Mr. Reister and his brother Earl, who operate a 320-acre farm in Sparta township, were early co-operators with the Northwest Kent Soil Conservation District. They are using trashy cultivation as one part of their complete farm conservation plan with the district.

"We seeded this orchard to rye about the middle of July last year. Seeding early lets the rye get started before winter. Then this spring we waited until the last week in May before we disked the rye down. By that time it had made a lot of growth and added considerable organic matter to the soil," Reister went on.

Reisters also manured the rye heavily to further increase the supply of organic matter and fertility.

"This spring we used a light disk instead of our heavy orchard disk to work in the rye. We left a portion of the rye and manure mixed in the top of the soil instead of its being all covered up. With this material right at the surface every straw serves as a little dam to hold soil and water in our orchard," Reister added.

The same result can be obtained when using a heavy disk. If it is run fairly straight so that some cover crop is merely cut into the soil and not completely covered.

Many Kent County fruit growers have an opportunity to make additional use of cover crops this year.

Wilbur Kellogg, U. S. Soil Conservation District farm planner, assisting the Northwest District.

In cultivated orchards where there will be little or no fruit this season, a summer cover crop will add to the supply of organic matter in the soil.

A mixture of sixty pounds of soybeans and ten pounds of sudan grass is excellent for this purpose. A heavy application of phosphate and potash fertilizer, with some nitrogen, will increase the growth and value of this cover.

Late in the summer this cover crop should be worked down and the regular winter cover crop seeded. Such a double-cover crop procedure enables a fruit grower to increase the supply of organic matter in his soil in orchards where the fruit crop has been destroyed by winter injury or unfavorable weather during the pollinating season.

Teacher Treats Pupils To Sightseeing Trips

Mrs. Arthur Young closed her school year by taking her pupils above the second grade on sightseeing trips. On Wednesday her third and fourth graders went to Grand Rapids where they visited Police Headquarters, the Art Gallery, John Ball Park, the Lumberjack exhibit at Reed's Lake.

On Thursday her fifth, sixth and seventh graders journeyed to Holland and Macatawa Park where they viewed Lake Michigan for the first time and ate lunch on the beach. They then returned to Grand Rapids where they also visited The Press, Bakery, Fire Station and John Ball Park.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Young and Miss Edna Crittendon took the two eight grade graduates, Robert Canfield and Dick Thomet, to Lansing to see the State Capitol, Potter Park, Michigan State College campus and the airport.

Farmers Take Bulk Of Pine Seedlings

Conservation department tree nurseries produced more than three and a half million pieces of stock—mostly seedling pines, as usual—for planting this spring, the department's forestry division reports after winding up its spring shipping program.

Farmers again took the bulk of the seedling and transplant pine stock, planting 691 of on the season's 831 sale orders. An additional 314 orders were filled free for school and community forests and for other department and state agencies.

Moose Softballers Win Fourth Straight Game

The Moose Softballers won their fourth victory of the season against the Hiller Trojans of Ionia 10 to 6 Monday night at Recreation Park in a game that was full of thrills. The local boys put on one of their old-time rallies to overcome a 6 run lead pitted up by the Ionians.

Bill Dawson, with a triple and two singles and Johnny Briggs with a homer and a double, led the Lowell attack. Potter and Stukie pitched for the Moose with Stormzand doing the receiving.

Busy Schedule Ahead
The Moose play every Monday and Friday night in Lowell, with games starting at 8:30 o'clock. This Friday the Moose takes on the Burlingame Furniture team of Grand Rapids and Saturday night they play at Rockford as a feature of the Rockford Homecoming. The game there will also start at 8:30 o'clock.

Moose games are a part of the sports program of the Lowell Board of Trade and the team is sponsored by Lowell Lodge No. 809, local Order of Moose.

Summer Playground Arrangements Made

Playground activities will get under way next Monday, June 21. It will again be an eight weeks' program from June 21 through August 13. The program will be conducted at Recreation Park under the supervision of Carroll Burch and Miss Janet Thorne.

Mr. Burch will be at the park all day. Softball for the older boys will again be played in the morning. Miss Thorne will supervise the younger children in the afternoon only.

On Monday and Thursday afternoons the children will be taken to Bostwick Lake for swimming. They will be transported in school buses furnished by the local school board. Children wishing to go swimming should meet at the school at one o'clock on Monday and Thursday. Bostwick Lake has been chosen because they have a life guard on duty all the time the children are in the water.

The play activities will begin at nine o'clock in the morning and one o'clock in the afternoon.

1949 Ford Cars Showing Friday

Lowell is eagerly awaiting the first showing of the new 1949 Ford, which goes on display on Friday, June 18, in the C. H. Runciman Co. Motor Sales showroom.

Jay Boelens, manager of the local Ford organization, reports that there will be four models of the new car on display. The new car is full of revolutionary changes which are reflected in the styling, utility and ruggedness.

According to Ford test drivers, the new car rides like a car five hundred pounds heavier and performs like a car five hundred pounds lighter.

Up and Down Kent County Roads

K. K. Vining, Kent County Agricultural Agent

"County Fire Department Organizational" is the topic Dick Machiele, Kent County Associate County Farm Agent, will discuss this week Thursday at the Twentieth Annual Michigan Fire College at the University of Michigan. Dick is well qualified to talk on this subject. Soon after coming to Kent County in 1942 the county set up its rural fire program in fifteen townships. There was no precedent in organization. Machiele with the advice and counsel of township supervisors and interested farmers developed a going rural fire program. It hasn't reached perfection but the Kent County program in rural fire protection has been watched and copied by other counties and states.

Dick's talk at Ann Arbor will be illustrated with colored slides taken in Kent County.

Bees are starting to swarm. Our office is beginning to get calls from city folks who have had a swarm light in one of their trees or on the house. These folks want someone to come and get the bees and that isn't always easy. Folks who might want to get a swarm of bees could do so by contacting our office for names and addresses of folks who might have these unwelcome visitors.

Farewell Party Honors Departing Pastor and Wife

A very delightful dinner party was held Tuesday evening at the Methodist church honoring and bidding Godspeed to our departing pastor, the Rev. C. E. Pollock and his wife, who leave this week to make their home at Holt, Mich.

The program, following the dinner, was announced by Mrs. Stuart Draper, president of the Women's Society, and consisted of vocal numbers, community singing and readings, followed by presentation of gifts to the Pollocks by Treasurer D. A. Wingerler on behalf of the Women's Society and the Men's Club.

Dr. and Mrs. Pollock are closing a seven year ministry in Lowell, the longest pastorate on the church records. They spoke very feelingly of their associations here and at the Vergennes church. They feel that this pastorate has been the happiest experience of their lives, and a fitting close to their active ministry. They assure all their Lowell friends that the latchstring will always be out at their home in Holt.

The Rev. Phillip P. Glatfely, our new minister, will occupy the pulpit next Sunday. His sermon subject will be "The Image on the Retina."

Rev. and Mrs. Glatfely, Phyllis and Phillip, Jr., come to us from Lakeside, Muskegon. They have served at Battle Creek, Urbandale, and before that came from the Southern Illinois Methodist Conference.

The Glatfely name is of Swiss derivation, they tell us, and this in itself assures them of a royal welcome around these parts.

Along Main Street

New curbs are being built at all intersections along Main street wherever the curbs have been broken.

Wittenbach Sales & Service has just engaged a new service manager, "Bob" Miller, of Grand Rapids, who has been connected with International Harvester for many years.

Herewith is a bit of information that will doubtless be of interest to every advertiser using the columns of the Ledger:

In addition to the subscribers receiving this paper by mail each week more than 500 copies are purchased every week from news dealers in Lowell, Alto, Ada and Cascade.

Inasmuch as many car and truck drivers are paying no heed to the slow down signs on Vergennes Rd., we might try STOP signs by spelling it backward. However, really effective measures, imposed fines on the violators who are endangering the lives of others as well as their own.

During the wedding ceremony last Monday morning of Miss Ann Launslager and Edward McAdams at St. Mary's church, the groom's suitcase was taken from his car, containing all the clothes he had packed for his wedding trip. Passerby saw the thief as he climbed aboard a truck heading for Grand Rapids.

A coat of tar and feathers would be the proper application for anyone stealing a bridegroom's clothing.

Rudolph VanDyke, president of the State Savings Bank, was in Biogdott hospital Sunday and Monday where he submitted to a throat operation. Mr. VanDyke is now resting at home and his many friends and acquaintances will be glad to know that he is recovering nicely.

The need for an adequate auditorium was again demonstrated at the high school commencement last week. Wednesday night, when hundreds were turned away. Over a thousand were crowded into the auditorium, but at least three hundred other parents and friends were unable to find room.

It is to be hoped that eventually a permanent stage will be added to the structure which would release space for about three hundred more people.

Many Lowell people were grieved to hear of the death of Frank J. McGowan, who died last Friday at the Michigan Veterans' facility in Grand Rapids at the age of 56. He had served as chorus director of the Lowell Showboat until 1944.

Mr. McGowan was a veteran of World War I, and a member of the Portland Congregational Church, where funeral services were held on Monday of this week. Burial was in Portland cemetery.

Robert "Bert" Ellis, formerly of Lowell, now lives in White Cloud, where he operates Bert's Body Shop. He is just completing his year as charter president of the White Cloud Rotary Club. Under his leadership, the club has developed several civic projects. Mr. Ellis is active in the chamber of commerce, and a director of the White Cloud Sportsmen's Club. His wife is active in PTA work, and their two sons participate in high school athletics. His father, Jay Ellis, a Ledger subscriber, is now making his home with them.

Registration of School Electors

In another column of this paper will be found the official notice of registration of electors in Graded School District No. 1, Village of Lowell. It is to be noted that this is not a re-registration but merely a registration for those who are qualified and have not registered as school electors before. Registration in the village or township does NOT qualify one to vote in the school district.

Anyone may register for school electors who is above the age of twenty-one years and has resided in the state six months and in the district twenty days preceding the elections. It is no longer necessary to be a parent or guardian of a child who is on the school census. However, it is still necessary to be the owner of property assessed for taxes in the school district before electors can vote on matters pertaining to the direct expenditure of money.

By action of the Board of Education, Mr. F. F. Coons will be in charge of registration.

Coons has been appointed and has agreed to take charge of such registration and will register such electors at his store which is to be found at 217 West Main Street. Official days for such registration will be on Saturday, June 26, and Saturday, July 3, from 8:00 p. m. until 8:00 p. m. However, qualified electors may register on any other day from Monday, June 21, to Saturday, July 3, inclusive, between the hours of 8:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. Mr. Coons will be in his store daily from 8:00 a. m. until 8:00 p. m. and on Saturdays until 8:00 p. m.

Frank G. Raymond

Funeral services were held last Thursday at the Roth Chapel for Frank G. Raymond, who passed away June 8, at his home in Lansing.

Mr. Raymond was born in Keene township and worked in the R. T. Ford hardware in Lowell until he moved to Grass Lake, later to Lansing, where he continued in hardware work for thirty years.

He married Myrtle Holcomb of Coral and to this union was born one son. Mrs. Raymond preceded her husband in death three years ago.

Besides the son, Phillip of Lansing, he is survived by a brother, Fred N. Raymond of Saranac, and two sisters, Mrs. Mert Sinclair of Lowell and Mrs. Mary Hunter of Keene.

Mrs. Grace Taft

Death came peacefully to Mrs. Grace Taft Tuesday evening, June 8, soon after she had gone to sleep when at about 11 o'clock her daughter went to her bedside and found that she had passed away. She had been in failing health for several years and been ill with a cold only a few days, but death was unexpected by her family.

Mrs. Taft was born at Alma on March 17, 1882, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Hall, and moved to Belding 43 years ago, living there continuously ever since that time. She was married to Ollie Taft, June 28, 1905, and he died May 8, 1948. She was a member of the Rebekah lodge and the Neighborhood Club. She leaves one daughter, (Dorothy) Mrs. Glenn Converse of Keene, and one granddaughter, Linda Lee Converse.

Funeral services were held in Belding last Friday, Rev. H. S. Ellis officiating, with burial in Oakwood cemetery, Lowell.
