A pearl necklace lost at the East-Loell football game and was advertised in Thursday's Ledger. The necklace was in the hands of the owner Friday.

Loren Barton of South Lowell found the pearls and returned them.

The Rotary Club and others using the Lowell City Hall are enjoying the program more since the new acoustical ceiling has been installed.

The need of a ceiling has long been felt and last Saturday the installation was completed. The expense of this improvement was defrayed by local groups.

Now the small room, or dining room, is in condition to handle either music or speaking programs in fine shape.

We have been hearing a lot these days about America leading the world and supplying the world's needs, and to many of us it seems like a new idea.

More than 100 years ago James Fenimore Cooper in one of his famous novels, "The Oak Openings", writes of the trip he made from Detroit to Kalamazoo as he was coming here from New York. One of his comments was, "The whole country was a wheat field, and we now began to understand how America could feed the world."

America has been and still is doing her bit to feed the world and to help the war-torn nations back to normal living.

Frank McMahon who sat on the Michigan State team players bench during the classic Notre Dame game last Saturday could well have brought a little of the "luck of the Irish" to the Spartans.

Notre Dame didn't need any.

Editor R. G. Jefferies and Mrs. Jefferies are expected home from Ann Arbor Friday.

Mrs. Jefferies has made a fine recovery from her recent serious operation.

Mrs. Etta Rickner who last week underwent major surgery in a Grand Rapids hospital, is now convalescing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rickner at 15 Caledonia St. N.E., Grand Rapids.

We like what Rebecca Gurris in "Your Life" says about going to church: "I go to church for the simple pleasure and satisfaction I get from going to church."

I don't go to church to issue God His orders. Neither do I go to demand that all my problems be solved miraculously. I don't go to church to wangle for myself a favored spot in Heaven.

I go to church for one reason only. I go because I want to get down on my knees, bow my head and say, "Thank you, God. Thank you for creating this wonderful world, and for permitting me to live in it."

"Thank you, thank you."

This is the time of the year when it is well to be sure all chimneys, flues, gas burners and basement water heaters are clear and completely safe, to guard against the deadly monoxide gas.

Last fall and winter, 42 Michigan people—37 men and 5 women and girls—were accidentally and unnecessarily killed by carbon monoxide fumes in their cars, in their homes, in their garages or in tourist cabins.

Carbon monoxide is a colorless, tasteless and odorless gas. It cannot be seen, smelled or tasted and it does not irritate the eyes, nose, or throat. It has about the same density as air and readily mixes with air. It is caused by incomplete combustion of carbon compounds such as gasoline, fuel oil, heating gas or coal.

Get carbon monoxide conscious before you become carbon monoxide unconscious.

Mild Temperatures Beon to Coal Users

The mild temperature of the past few days has been a great boon to those who are short of fuel. It may be generally known that the coal strike has lasted so long that many coal users are getting low on fuel. This is not only a local problem but a universal one.

In Grand Rapids alone there are an estimated 40,000 coal users as compared with 14,500 gas and 8,000 oil users, and the percentage is greater in the areas where there is no gas. Lowell and other villages and cities are rating about the same in proportion of coal needed for the winter months, and many dealers have very little left.

Unless the strike is settled and miners again get to work in the mines very soon the situation may become critical. Even after the settlement if will still take a week or two to get the coal delivered to the various areas where the supply is depleted, or at least limited.

We can only hope the cold weather may hold off until there is some fuel in sight.

REQUIRE FLASHER SIGNAL

The Kent County Road Commission has asked the State Public Service Commission for a hearing on a flasher signal at the Grand Trunk crossing at Oberly Drive.

This has been a hazardous crossing for years and especially so since so many of the trains are now through trains. It was at this crossing where Mrs. Anna McCaul and her son, Frank C. Balcom, were killed on July 14, 1947, while returning home from work.

New Advisory Board Named by President For Zoning Lowell

Peter Speerstra named the advisory board for the zoning of the village of Lowell at the meeting of the village council Monday night. This board will be called together with the village attorney Roger O. McMahon to lay the ground work for a planned community.

It was also suggested at the meeting that the Township of Lowell might be interested in cooperating with the village in setting up zoning in the township at the same time to make the planning more effective.

Zoning advisory board named by President Speerstra and confirmed by the council are as follows:

Phil Davenport, Earl Maloney, Peter Mulder, W. A. Roth, William Helm, Roger McMahon, Jay Bensen, Harry Day, N. E. Borgerson, King Doyle.

This board selected from all sections of the village to represent their area in planning the development and control of business, industrial and residential districts is very important to the future of Lowell. Much building in the residential areas of Lowell has been prevented because most loaning companies and the FHA will not approve loans in non-zoned communities.

While zoning for Lowell is late getting underway and long overdue the effect of a zoning law will do much over a period of years to make Lowell a better place in which to live. Most home owners here are eager to support this project and the advisory board is expected to have their report ready in the near future for the first public hearing.

Eastern Star Officers Installed Thursday In Impressive Ceremony

Newly elected officers of Cyclamen Chapter No. 94 O. E. S. were installed Thursday evening, Nov. 3, in a beautiful ceremony held in the Methodist church parlors. The rooms were decorated with mums. Mrs. Lygia Johnson, P.G.M., was installing officer and was assisted by Mrs. Florence Snay, P. M., installing marshal; Mrs. Elia Purcuse, P. M., chaplain; Mrs. Pauline Bowman, A. Mrs. Nellie Timpon who will be her daughter's chaplain, was escorted to her station, her grandson, John Robert Timpon, presented her with an arm bouquet of pale pink mums.

The star point ceremony with appropriately colored flowers for each point, was particularly impressive in that it embodied the teachings of these five great virtues.

The "Lord's Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer" by Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Duell sang appropriate songs for the first three line officers.

Mrs. Timpon's corps of officers for the 1949-50 year are:

U. B. Church Supper Was a Big Success

The United Brethren Church at West Loell is quite well pleased with the response they received at their chicken supper last Thursday evening. This church has not been doing much of this type of work for the benefit of their church property until the need of lowering the ceiling became evident. The supper was a big success in every way and the workers feel well repaid for their efforts. The new ceiling may be started any day now.

People came from far and near to enjoy this meal and to help the church. Richard Perkins of Grandville, who won the door prize a very lovely handmade quilt drove over from the neighboring town with a carload of friends for the supper.

The success of the supper is largely the responsibility of Rev. and Mrs. Moxson, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Place and the Neals.

Funeral services were held at Bowne Center Church Saturday afternoon for John A. Nash, 63 of Alto, the Rev. G. F. Boitth officiated, assisted by Rev. John McCue, and burial was made in Bowne Center cemetery.

Mr. Nash was born April 12, 1886 and had lived most of his life near Alto where he died on Nov. 1, 1949. His self-imposed death was caused by monoxide poisoning according to coroner Paul Bloxson who was called Wednesday morning, and said Mr. Nash had been dead approximately 12 hours.

A neighbor, Ralph Fox found Nash's body in his car in one of the fields, when Fox noted the car had stood there some length of time without being moved, and went to see if there was anything wrong.

WEDDING BELLS

Heasley-Shaffer

Virginia Ann Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shaffer, Alto, Mich., became the bride of Roger S. Heasley, son of Mr. L. E. Heasley, Holland, Mich., Saturday evening, October 29, at St. Memorial Chapel, Grand Rapids, Mich., in a double ring ceremony. Rev. Orville L. Malah, District Superintendent of Michigan District Church of the Nazarene, officiated before an altar decorated with baskets of chrysanthemums. Nell Morse of Holland, accompanied at the organ by Miss Helen Hawes, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white taffeta gown styled with a snug basque bodice, deep round lace yoke edged with a ruffle, long sleeves which tapered in points at the wrist, and a cathedral length train. Her finger tip length veil of illusion net was edged with wide French illusion lace and held in place by a pearl tiara. She carried two Hybrid Cattleya orchids with white orchid lips fashioned on a white Bible in a cascade arrangement of white satin glimmer leaves and streamers of sweetheart knots and white pinnocchio pompon chrysanthemums. The maid of honor, Lois Heasley, sister of the bridegroom, wore a coral taffeta gown styled after the bride's dress with short sleeves and matching mitts. She wore a headband of pale yellow Frenched chrysanthemums and carried a cascade arrangement of chrysanthemum and white yellow Frenched chrysanthemums.

Gall E. Beck, Madison, Wis., assisted the bridegroom as best man and the ushers were William Cannon, Jr., Grand Rapids and John Huff, Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Huff presided as master and mistress of ceremonies at the reception in the church parlors. For the occasion Mrs. Huff wore an aqua taffeta, fallie gown with a shoulder corsage of white pinnocchio pompon chrysanthemums and yellow rose buds. Also assisting at the reception in charge of the gifts, were Alma Pratt, Nancy Hannah and Thelma Bazley.

The bride left the reception in a black gabardine suit with winter white and black accessories and orchid corsage. The bridal couple left for an eastern wedding trip after the ceremony.

Out of town guests were from Flint, Detroit, Lowell, Hastings, Comperville, Ada, Holland, Madison, Wis., Clarksville and Alto.

STORY GOLDEN WEDDING TO BE CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Story will observe their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Nov. 13, at their home in Boston Township with "open house" from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9, to which all are invited.

Ralph Story and Kathryn M. Oberly spoke their wedding vows Nov. 13, 1899, in Lowell, before the Rev. J. H. Westbrook and have spent their entire married life in Lowell and Boston Township, the last thirty years in their present home near the Ware school.

Deer Out of Season Is Also Out of Order

A deer with a nice bunch of antlers has been seen often in the area east of Lowell and near M-21 during the past few weeks but until last Saturday night had not made any disturbance and was rather a welcome sight in farm yards and fields.

As Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wheaton of Saranac were coming towards Lowell on Saturday shortly after dark, they spotted the buck with the largest rack of horns either of them had ever seen, standing at the side of the road. Mr. Wheaton slowed his car down not wishing to scare the deer away, when it suddenly charged and crashed into the new car and then bounded off through the woods on the Harold Haakins farm leaving some of his fur on the bumper, but was apparently not injured. Mr. Wheaton attempted to track the buck but was unable to do so. A trip to garage revealed that $100 damage had been done to the car.

Get New Snowplows For Kent Co. Roads

Kent County Road Commission at the Ada Garage is better equipped than formerly for the winter job of snow clearance in this area, having received one of the six new giant Duplexes which Kent County has purchased at the approximate cost of $54,000 and will place in the six district garages in the county.

The high V-type snow plow has an underbody scraper and a seven ton truck for power and is a big addition to the strength of the snow-battling equipment.

Ada has also acquired a new crane to be used in sand, gravel and other road work, which replaces the old worn-out crane.

According to L. E. Kaufman, secretary of Kent County Road Commission, the 2200 miles of roads they have to maintain in this county requires the larger units and six of the old smaller trucks were turned in toward the new ones.

Kaufman explained that during the war this type of equipment was not available, and that the Commission is now bringing its fleet up to date as rapidly as possible. The Commission still has 38 trucks which are more than eight years old—normal life for this type of equipment.

Flood Control Survey Well Underway Here

During the past few months hearings have been held and surveys conducted to determine the feasibility of improving Grand River and its tributaries for flood control and other purposes.

At the present time L. B. O'Leary, Civil Engineer, from the Milwaukee District office, is making a reconnaissance survey of the Grand River Basin to collect ready available flood damage and engineering data to be used in the preparation of a report.

Lowell Women Form New Business Club

The charter members of the Lowell Business and Professional Women's Club were honored at a dinner meeting held at Lone Pine Inn, Monday evening, Nov. 7, by the presence of state officers and officers and members of Grand Rapids, Ionia, and Greenville clubs.

The purposes of the meeting were the presentation of the charter from the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Inc., and the installation of officers.

Mrs. Esther Goodson, R. N., President of Business and Professional Women's Association, Inc., of Grand Rapids, the club sponsoring the Lowell chapter, presided at the meeting and presented the charter to the club's first president, Mrs. Mary Ann Gwatkins. Her welcoming remarks were heartwarming and her summing up of the principles and aims of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs and each of its units was concise and enlightening.

Mrs. Helene M. Rawling of Greenville, 2nd vice president of the Michigan State Federation, gave an interesting short talk and presided at the installation of the club's first officers: Mary Ann Gwatkins, president; Clarice Leonard, vice president; Muriel E. Abraham, recording secretary; Helene E. K. Fahni, treasurer.

The speaker of the evening was Miss Verna Dunlap of Detroit, President of the Michigan State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, and an officer in the National Federation. Her thumbnail sketch of the beginning and growth of the National Federation, which celebrated its thirtieth anniversary this year, and her welcome to Lowell chapter, the 71st club in the State of Michigan, was interesting, personal, and pleasantly touched with humor.

President Mary Ann Gwatkins appointed the following committee: Legislation, Mabel Bibber; Membership, Lita Johnson; News Service, Radio and Press, Frances Jefferies; Program Co-ordinator, Thelma Hahn; Public Affairs, Monica Doyle; Parliamentary, Evelyn Spearstra; Education and Vocation, Marian Avery and Leona Borgerson; Finance, Esther M. Lowell Red Arrows End Successful '49 Football Season

Lowell's Red Arrows who finished with five victories and one loss in Conference play placed three men on the All-Conference first team and two on the second team.

The team chosen by the Grand Rapids Herald, coaches, players and officials were named as follows:

Ends, Frank VanSteenberg and David McLaughlin, East.

Tackles, James Deane, East and Amos Sterzick, Lowell.

Guards, Roger McMahon, Lowell and William Keefer, Grandville.

Center, Don McCobb, East.

Backs, Rusty Swaney and Jon Parrish, East, Richard McCaul, Godwin, Ronald Collins, Lowell.

Kenneth Williams because of his fine defensive play was named as a guard on the second team as was Gordon Sterzick who was named as fullback. The whole conference honor was made up of seniors with the exception of two juniors.

Red Arrows Defeat Grandville

Touchdowns came at a dime a dozen when the Lowell Red Arrows ground the Grandville Bulldogs into the turf to a 38 to 6 tune at the latter's field Friday night.

The Grandville team was pitched high for this tilt, but at no time were they a match for the rugged Arrows. G. Sterzick carried the oval over from the one yard line for the first score midway the first period. Early in the second quarter Faulkner intercepted a Grandville pass to set up a 29-yard jaunt by Newell for the second T. D. As the first half was nearing its end Faulkner scampered over for Lowell's third touchdown. Going into the final period Faulkner smacked over from the 9-yard stripe for another touchdown and then plunged for the extra point.

Grandville made their only score when DeHammer crashed over from the 2-yard line to score. With the game drawing to a close Collins shot a pass to Hall who was pulled down on the Grandville three from where Collins ran it over. Sterzick smashed over for the Arrows final T. D.

This game came as a fitting climax to a fine bunch of Seniors who will be sorely missed when the Arrows take up their football activities next fall.

Lowell ended up in second place in the Conference standings behind East Grand Rapids who squeezed to a 7 to 6 win over the Arrows and the only loss on the locals schedule. Coach Burch and the lads are all to be complimented on a fine season's showing.

Lowell Youths Sue Ionia Co. Officials

Richard Priebe and William Quillan, both of Lowell, filed suit Monday, November 7, 1949, in the Circuit Court of Ionia County for false arrests. The declaration named Richard Dodes, sheriff of Ionia County in 1948, Leo Pepper and George Cowles, deputy sheriffs of Ionia County in 1948 and the New Amsterdam Casualty Co., surety on the sheriff's bond, as defendants.

The declaration alleges that on December 2, 1948, Priebe and Quillan were arrested without cause or warrant by the deputy sheriffs of Ionia County. The declaration further alleges that the plaintiffs were peacefully passing their time at Bud Moore's restaurant when they were arrested, handcuffed and taken to the Ionia County jail and refused permission to notify their parents or their attorneys and next day were told either to plead guilty and pay a fine or return to jail and raise bond money.

Mr. Cook pointed out that officers of Ionia County have no authority to make arrests outside of Ionia County except in certain cases, and this situation was not an exception to the rule. He also pointed out that police officers generally have no right to make arrests without warrants except where misdemeanors have been committed in their presence or when they have good reason to believe that a felony has been committed and that those arrested have committed the felony. The declaration states that neither Priebe or Quillan had done any illegal act and had done nothing to give the arresting officers any reason for suspecting that they had violated the law.

SCHOOL FOUNDER DIES IN HER WINTER HOME

Miss Bertha M. Bentley, 76, resident of Alto, Mich., and Orlando, Fla., died at her winter home in Orlando, Friday.

Miss Bentley was born in Hastings and graduated from Michigan State Normal College, later teaching in Fort Wayne, Ind., Cheney, Wash., Macomb, Ill., and was also a teacher in the experimental school operated by New York City's Columbia University starting in 1910. She founded the Social Motive School in 1915, its name later being changed to the Bentley School. Four years ago she retired as director of this school.

The first night schools in America were established about the middle of the 19th century.

DIVINE RIGHT OF KINGS

According to newly elected Mayor of Plymouth, Perry W. Richwines who came into office after the former administration was recalled there should be many elections. We quote:

"So far as Plymouth is concerned, I do not believe in the Divine Right of Kings. I believe that a charter amendment should be voted on by the people to decide whether or not we, as citizens of the community, want to restrict the number of terms that any person can be elected to a position on our city government.

"It is my personal opinion that after any person who has served two terms, consecutive or otherwise, he should no longer be eligible to seek the same position in our city government. This provision to apply to elective offices only.

This community has a large number of people who could serve as members of the City Commission and there is certainly no reason why this job should be monopolized by one or two examples. It is my personal opinion that every person who serves as a member of the City Commission will become a better citizen and have a better understanding of his community and therefore we should have the largest number of ex-elected city officials possible in this community."

BEGIN AT HOME

Our Secretary of State speaks to nations of the Western Hemisphere, to try to establish peace amongst themselves. Overthrows of government in Central and South America is a menace to democracy, a threat to the welfare of the hemisphere. But, what about peace at home as an example to give emphasis to our speechmaking for democracy?

This country has a nation-wide strike in the steel and coal industries. Can a government condemn uprisings in other countries while they have such controversy between labor and capital, within their own boundaries, that they are endangering their own economy?

Perhaps the smaller nations to the south of us would respect us more, pay more attention to our advice, if we were to set a better example for controlling disorder.

As a Lowell citizen rightly asks, "Why can't disputes such as this with coal and steel, be settled before striking? Can't a lawful process take place? Isn't it possible to come to terms without effecting the entire operation of a nation?" You give him the answers, we can't.

V. F. W. Auxiliary to Sponsor Essay Contest

With the kind consent of Walter Gunner, superintendent of the Lowell Schools, the VFW Auxiliary to Flat River Post 8303, is offering prizes to local students who submit essays to be judged in the local contest in conjunction with the National VFW Essay Contest. This is the 15th such contest offered all over the U. S. by the VFW National organization but this year to be nationally sponsored. Last year's National Award of $1,000 went to a Belding girl.

We feel sure some Lowell student also possesses the ability to write such a prize-winning essay. The subject of this year's essay is "Peace, with Honor, for America." The VFW Auxiliary will offer a first prize of $15.00, a second prize of $10.00 and a third prize of $5.00 and these winning essays will be entered in the State contest and from there, if adjudged the best, into the National contest. All students of the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grades are eligible for participation and are urged to submit essays. These essays must be on 8 1/2" by 11" paper either hand written or double-spaced typed. They must be accompanied by a declaration of original authorship and submitted for judging in the local contest not later than midnight on April 1, 1950. Rules for the contest will be printed next week. As yet the local judges have not been decided on but will be announced soon.

Mr. Jefferies has kindly consented to help all he can through his publication of items and articles pertaining to the contest subject and his help greatly appreciated. The subject has been introduced by the essay chairman of the VFW Auxiliary, Mrs. John Troy, and the teachers have kindly consented to cooperate in getting essays submitted by their students. All interested students are urged to participate.
