BOY SCOUTS

America has her "youth movement," known as the Boy Scouts. This is a volunteer group that builds character and is a strong influence for better citizenship. Their ideals and practices fit in with a democracy. They believe in patriotism, faith in God, clean living and doing a good turn daily. Their creed is not to despise men but to respect men.

Our "youth movement" dedicates itself to responsibilities and rights of citizenship, to be tolerant and humane with others. We owe much to the men who give of their time and ability to teach the Boy Scouts, who keep them interested and who help prepare them for a more serviceable and respected manhood.

WHAT DO YOU OWN?

None deny that Americans enjoy the highest standard of living in the world. We are grateful for the good things but not boastful. It is just a fact, a statement. How much better off are we, materially? The Federal Reserve Board, through the University of Michigan Research Center, sent out trained questionnaires for answers from all kinds of people all walks of life. Here are some of our "findings":

Even where heads of family were under 25 years, about 3 in every 5 families have an auto. One in 23 families, have two.

Four in every 5 families possessed something worth $500 or more as, bank accounts, government bonds, life insurance, real estate or securities, interest in a business or a 1940-1949 auto.

Stock in corporations is owned by about 1 in 12 families. One in 24 families has stock worth more than $1,000. One in 50 families has stock worth more than $5,000.

Three in every 4 families have at least one member carrying life insurance. When incomes are under $1,000, in 2 families have insurance. Two of every 5 families with life insurance pay premiums averaging more than $100 a year.

One-half of all families had indebtedness but only one-fourth of families debts run over $500. There is much more to the list but this gives us an idea of what we own, in a small part.

WE MIGHT ADVERTISE

Present fears and confusion make us reluctant to look beyond the horizon. We shrink from tomorrow, uncertain of our destiny, perhaps because we have lost faith and determination. But such a lack never made us a great nation. History shows it took strength and an exhilarated spirit for America's tomorrows to bring her to glory. It took faith in order to achieve.

Today we aren't entirely hopeless, completely defeated, but neither are we so optimistic. To progress and build for a better world, we can't be indifferent. When we lose the will to believe in better things, better people, we are lost.

The underlying fear, the calamity we feel that is beyond today's horizon, is war. Strange we can't live in the belief that peace is as possible to attain. Maybe not so strange, either. But there are so many nations that want peace, millions of people who desire good will, that theirs is the largest army, the most powerful influence against war. What is their weapon? Faith is not enough, deeds speak louder in times like these.

A friend suggests the force of advertising. He reminds you that they sell washers, sheets, soaps, permanent waves, advertising, that you can secure real estate, securities, courses, used cars, advertising. Why not have a world-wide advertising campaign for peace?

Repeat and, repeat, emphasize and exhort. Sell peace as a competitor sells war. Cover the globe with advertising, in every tongue. Such intensified campaigns have been known to put many a man out of business.

RECORD MISSING SINCE SHOWBOAT TALENT NIGHT

Mrs. W. Jensen of Grand Rapids has brought to our attention and to that of the officers of Lowell Showboat, Inc., that a record she brought to Lowell last July for talent night has never been returned.

The record is one of her son, Jack Jensen singing; it was entered in the contest because Jack could not be here and after the contest in some way or other the record disappeared.

If anyone has the record or knows where it is, please bring it to the Ledger office or let one of the Showboat Inc. officers know.

Newspapers Offer Twenty Advantages To The Advertiser

1-The newspaper is the only medium of advertising in which great numbers of people, as a matter of custom, look for advertisements of merchandise or service which they are about to purchase. Every newspaper includes in its circulation many readers who shop through its pages in much the same way they shop when they go to a large department store. This shopping, by the way, is not necessarily influenced by price alone to any greater extent than the shopping in the stores. Style, durability, prestige, artistry and other qualities are all as potent factors when people buy or illusions as in the merchandise itself.

2-Newspaper circulation are definitely known—there is no guessing in your purchase of opportunity to reach a great, stated number of buyers through the newspaper.

3-Newspaper space affords opportunity for effective illustration—often a most important feature—as in brief space an illustration often conveys a more adequate impression of merchandise than would be possible for verbal description.

4-The newspaper is one medium of advertising which is sure to reach the interested attention of an audience in excess of the circulation for which the advertiser pays. The newspaper's advertising rate is based generally upon copies sold—rather than upon the number of readers, even though, conceivably, the number and kind of actual readers may exercise some slight indirect influence upon the rate.

5-In the newspaper you get the greatest definite circulation at the least cost.

6-The newspaper permits with minimum effort frequent changes in your announcements, each change variable in size in proportion to the importance you attach to the message.

7-The element of art, mechanical and other costs involved in the preparation of your announcements is relatively insignificant in newspaper advertising, as compared with the costs involved in changes in your announcements through other media.

8-The newspaper is the only media available to advertisers which affords the convenience of the reader. Your advertisement in the newspaper lives for many hours—and frequently for days.

9-The newspaper is the only major medium of advertising which enters the home under conditions assuring to the advertiser that every communication included in it will be available to every member of the family at a time of his or her own choosing.

10-Newspaper advertisers have the advantage offered by few regularly established retail advertising media of printed registration of the advertiser's name, address and telephone number, in form convenient for preservation without need of memorandum.

11-Newspaper advertising has, by use, the overwhelming endorsement of the greater number of successful advertisers everywhere.

12-Newspapers are one of two major media for which readers pay. They possess the unique distinction of a medium wanted, sought, and paid for.

13-Newspapers reach all classes of people regardless of social advantages, prejudices or culture.

14-Of all the media of advertising newspapers are the most quoted in the daily contacts of people everywhere.

15-Newspapers are concerned with every human activity and are looked to for guidance.

16-Newspapers are the longest established regular medium for the dissemination of facts.

17-There is in America no community of any important size, without its newspaper.

18-Every issue of every newspaper has something of interest or importance for every reader in the family.

19-Newspapers serve the triple function of instructions, guidance and amusement.

20-Every newspaper worthy of the name possesses institutional prestige and authority which, in some extent, are reflected to the merchandise advertised in its columns.

MacFARLANE BABY DIES BRIEF ILLNESS AT HOME

Kathleen, 24-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacFarlane, 400 1/2 E. Main St., passed away quite suddenly Monday afternoon after an illness of but a few hours. Funeral services were held at Both Chapel Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock and burial was made in Oakwood cemetery.

Leon Weeks, 65, Said Recovering from Fumes

Leon Weeks, 65, who lives in a trailer house near Murray Lake, was taken to Blodgett hospital Friday noon after being found in an unconscious condition on Monday. He is apparently recovering though he had a very narrow escape.

Mr. Weeks was found by Clyde Condon, a neighbor, says Deputy Frank Stephens, when Mr. Condon called at the trailer to get Mr. Weeks to go fishing with him. When he got no response from within he looked in a window and saw the man still in his bed. Being unable to arouse him Mr. Condon drove to Parnell and notified Mrs. Ella Hurley, Mr. Weeks' daughter, who came at once and they broke a window to gain entrance to the trailer, finding a kerosene heater was giving off carbon monoxide gas and Mr. Weeks was overcome by the fumes. Dr. K. K. Vining was called and had Mr. Weeks taken to the hospital and was under an oxygen mask during the trip and for some time after his arrival.

Dairyland Creamery Passes Resolutions Re-elects Directors

An interesting and genuinely entertaining talk on the methods of dairying in Europe was presented before more than 900 assembled members of Dairyland Cooperative Creamery Co. during their annual meeting in Carson City Friday, Jan. 27.

Manager Fred Walker reported on 1949 business and a miscellaneous program was followed by business session.

Three incumbent directors, Waite Stephens of Edmore, B. A. Pomeroy of Middleton and William Akin of Sumner, all were re-elected, each for three year terms.

The members passed two resolutions by unanimous vote. Most noteworthy was authorization for deduction of one cent per pound of butterfat from producers' accounts for at least three months of the year. It is to become effective at some future and as yet undetermined date. The money is to be used for advertising and sales promotion of both Dairyland's Valley Lea Brand products and general dairy advertising.

The other resolution, to be sent President Truman and other high government officials, "viewed with alarm" the current court action against A & P Tea Co. and expressed satisfaction with 15 years of continuous business relations with A & P.

Lowell Loafers Form Saturday Night Club

The Lowell Loafers club was organized Saturday evening, Jan. 21, in Eustis, Fla., at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Himebaugh, 730 Magnolia Av. All members are from Lowell or vicinity. They will meet every Saturday night, in Eustis, and continue the meetings in Lowell through the coming summer. All are neighbors in Eustis and belong to the All States Tourist club, while spending the winter in Florida.

The purpose of the club is a weekly get-together for visiting, swapping yarns of old times, potlucks and a game of pedro. The members will also band together for sightseeing trips to interesting parts of Florida.

The officers selected were as follows: Blanche Himebaugh, president; Flossie James, secretary and treasurer; Anna Laux, scribe, all of Lowell; and Glenn Martin of Ada, club manager.

The charter membership is as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Story, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Himebaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Carl James, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. W. Laux, Mrs. Minnie Pinkney and Glenn Martin. Honorary members are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bartlett of Lakonia and Mrs. Hulda Finley, also of Lowell.

A planned potluck dinner will be held Saturday evening, Jan. 28th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Story at 20 Key St., at six o'clock.

Before leaving Florida in the spring for their homes in Michigan the club members will hold a banquet at some interesting place.

Snow Com. Farm Bureau

The Snow Community Farm Bureau met at the hall Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown in charge.

Discussion was led by Seymour Heache, the topic being "Who Sets Farm Prices?" Every farmer present knew for sure he isn't able to do so. The majority thought the Government should not. It should have control of the weather and demand would work better if we could lay-off the cows, hens and pigs as the manufacturer does his employees when he has a surplus he does not receive cost of production. The price of farm products has declined twenty-one percent in the last year, retail prices have dropped less than five percent.

The cost to produce a hundred pounds of fluid milk in Michigan in 1948 ranged from $2.92 to $7.41 according to feed cost and labor.

We voted to have our annual banquet in March. Committees to be appointed later.

Mr. and Mrs. Menno Baker and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Richards were given a vote of thanks for the nice Christmas party they gave.

New members were Mr. and Mrs. John Baker and Mr. and Mrs. John Cox and son Fred. Mrs. Lester Antonides, Publicity Chairman

Local Franks Store Sold to Founder's Son

The local Franks 5 and 10c Store which has been operating in Lowell for more than 20 years, has recently been sold to W. M. Schieritzauer by his father, Frank M. Schieritzauer who was organizer, president and trustee of the Franks Stores Inc.

Frank Schieritzauer who has been managing this store in the past months plans to return to school in the coming fall.

It was in August, 1929 that the store opened in Lowell and ten years later the company purchased the Dr. S. S. Lee building which was razed and a new modern and attractive building was erected and is the present home of the store.

The store now owned by W. M. Schieritzauer will be operated and managed by his son, Richard and will conform to the same good business practice as has been the policy of all Franks stores. The new owner will take a semi-active part in the operation of the business but will continue to reside in Ionia.

Richard expects to make Lowell his permanent home and will move his family as soon as satisfactory arrangement can be made.

There is quite an interesting history connected with the founding of these Franks stores. Frank M. Schieritzauer first started in the business in Ionia in 1922, later purchasing a store in Belding and also one in Greenville and in 1934 opened a store in Carson City. Both the Portland and Greenville stores were abandoned last year and, only last week he sold the beautiful Belding store which had been moved into the former the three building where the spacious building was an excellent opportunity to display merchandise.

With the sale of the Lowell and Carson City stores to his sons W. M. at Lowell and R. E. at Carson City the Franks Stores are now all within the family circle and yet each has his own business with no trusteeship or corporation connected.

McKee Home at Ada Featured in Magazine Remodeled for Living

The newly remodeled home of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. McKee of Ada was featured this month in Better Homes and Gardens with four pages of story and pictures of how to remodel an old home.

McKee purchased the former Martin Oseward's home in Ada and remodeled it extensively in 1948, this home was about 90 years old and had no central heating or bathroom facilities. What it did have was a beautiful setting with large trees. The home was remodeled under the direction of Architect Ralph Demmon of Grand Rapids.

It's completely informal, with an outdoor play space of four-year-old Mary and with outdoor living and entertaining space for the McKees.

According to the magazine the McKees learned a secret in remodeling an old home, that you "spend your money on the inside of the house. Room arrangements in old houses are not adequate for today's living standards, and it is a mistake not to make changes as soon as you buy. But a house that requires extensive remodeling work on the exterior walls is rarely worth the money you pay for it."

March of Dimes Fund Reaches Nearly $1,000

The Lowell Rotary Club sponsors of the March of Dimes, with David Coons as local chairman, reports a response of nearly $1,000 to the call to fight polio with dimes and dollars. This proves a good campaign has been waged in Lowell.

Wednesday morning Mr. Coons received a letter from the Foundation extending Kent County's time of reporting one week. Many other counties were unable to complete their campaign in the allotted time. Mr. Coons feels that most people in this territory were contacted and that most of the money is in, however, if anyone was missed or anyone wishes to add to Lowell's fund he will be glad to receive contributions right up to the new deadline, midnight Tuesday, Feb. 7. Please leave money at Coons' store or call about it.

Raymond J. Kleefisch Dies from Injuries

Funeral services were conducted here Saturday morning, Jan. 21, for Raymond J. Kleefisch, 50, and burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery at Lowell.

Mr. Kleefisch was a life-long resident of Chicago, Ill., and had been in business there several years. On Sunday, Jan. 15, he suffered fatal injuries when his car hit a tree, and he was removed to Jackson Park hospital where he died a few days later. A passenger in the death car was Thomas Sison, 55, who received only minor injuries.

Surviving besides his widow, the former Dorothy Howard, are two daughters, Delores and Janet Kleefisch; a son, Raymond Jr., of Lowell; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kleefisch of LaPorte, Ind.; three brothers, Joseph of Chicago, Franklin of LaPorte, Ind., and Henry J., of St. Louis, Mo., and one sister, Mrs. Thomas C. Harberg of Chicago.

Arrows Bow to East To Grandville Friday

The Lowell Red Arrows dropped a 67 to 39 decision to East Grand Rapids on the suburban's home court last Friday night. The East Enders boast one of the better teams of the Conference, having only one point defeat in Conference play and that at the hands of the undefeated Grandville five. The Pioneers boast victories over the Grand Rapids Christian and Catholic Central so far this season, and many fans believe that East will reverse the verdict when Godwin and East meet on the East floor.

The East team jumped to a 12 to 9 lead over a plucky but short Lowell team at the end of the first quarter. This lead was built to 33 to 18 margin at half time. The Arrows managed to hold down Dave Nash, East's scoring ace, only to see McLaughlin turn in 17 points to Nash's 13. Scoring for the Arrows was evenly divided with Ron Collins and Bob Kline each scoring 9 points and McMahon 8.

Having completed their games with the league leaders, Godwin and East, the Arrows will tackle the lesser lights of the Conference for the remainder of the season. Thus Friday they will travel to Grandville, where they will meet a team whom they defeated earlier in the season. The Grandville lads are always tough on their small home court, and Coach Howe's boys must be hitting on all five if they are to register a victory.

40 Lowell Folks Reserve a Table At Lincoln Dinner

Lowell will be represented at the 63rd annual banquet honoring Lincoln's Day by forty residents of this community who will be seated at one table, reports Dan Treleven who is in charge of ticket reservations here. Only a few of the tickets are left, says Mr. Treleven.

This promises to be the largest Lincoln Day banquet ever held in Grand Rapids where more than 1,200 are expected at the dinner at Civic Auditorium Saturday evening, Feb. 12. Mayor John A. Collins of East Grand Rapids reports ticket sales indicate an early sell out.

Mr. Collins says when Gov. Harold E. Stassen comes to Grand Rapids to speak at this Lincoln Day dinner he will be following a long line of distinguished speakers who have made the Kent County affair outstanding in the nation for more than a half century.

Recalling the large banquets of the past, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg praised the Kent County Lincoln Day plans in a letter to Mrs. A. Hubble Loomis, county chairman.

"I am delighted to know that you are going to put on a 'big show' at the Civic Auditorium," he wrote. "It will be reminiscent of the good old days when our Lincoln dinners were the most famous in the country."

"I am happy that you have obtained the consent of Governor Stassen to be your speaker and I have indicated to him my own enthusiastic endorsement of your invitation and extended to him my total hospitality in this connection."

The address will be broadcast over the air on a national hookup with NBC, according to Mrs. T. Hubble Loomis, county chairman.

Stassen will give his major Lincoln Day address at the Grand Rapids banquet, Mrs. Loomis said. It will be his only Lincoln Day appearance in Michigan.

He retired recently from school work and came back to Saranac for his permanent home.

Feeding, Sanitation Approved Practices
Approved feeding and sanitation practices will do much to prevent scours in calves this winter, according to Richard Machile, county agricultural agent. Prevention of scours is the number one job. The agent lists these pointers which come from the American Foundation for Animal Health. First, remember that there are two types of scours. One kind is called "summer" scours, while the other is contagious, and may sweep swiftly through a herd.
The non-infectious type usually is brought on by overfeeding, feeding from dirty utensils, irregular feeding, sudden change of food, or chilling. In some cases, it is caused by the milk itself.
At the first sign of trouble, owners should obtain a veterinary diagnosis to determine which type of scours is present. As a safety measure, the scouring calves' rectums should be cut in half, until a course of treatment is worked out.
Infectious or white scours is much more dangerous than the type caused by digestive upset. The healthy calves should be immediately isolated from the sick animals which have scoured with a fly solution, and the stools be buried.
Gerritza Mueller, in charge of the Michigan State College laboratory, reports that washing methods used by professional dairymen are extremely effective in destroying bacteria. The scientifically operated power laundry is definitely a valuable guardian of public health.

YOUR WASHINGTON REVIEW
Yes, you saw it—cherry blossoms in January! Winter sports enthusiasts in Washington are having just as tough a time as folks back home. No snow, no ice, no mufflers or mittens. Well, if there was we probably crab about that too.
And speaking of winter, here's a fact I never knew. It seems the original ground hog hails from Puncnutown, Pennsylvania.
Representative Gavin called to the attention of House members the other day when he arose to say he wanted to register objection to West Virginia's effort to grant the fair name and fame of Panjtanawny, Pennsylvania, Puncnutown to the home of the great prognosticator of the weather, the groundhog, and you will hear from him on Feb. 2, Groundhog Day.
We heard, yes, but after a minute or so it was all over. It seems to me it will take more than a groundhog to say this thing's comin'.

Keith Bowman reminded us last year that we failed to finish the job on Measles by not getting the best preventive for this disease and that is the pen type barn. We definitely help, such as less danger from injury to sows by other cows and also less chilling of the sows because of no contact with cold air. There are many pen type barns in the county and most of the farmers using them are fully satisfied.
Attended the South East Kent Proved Sire Association this past week at Lowell. Enjoyed a talk on animal diseases by Dr. Siegel. The group was very much interested in Bangs and Measles. Met the sire assessor for this association. He is a very good connoisseur and is on call for the past month in the Lowell area. Anyone interested in attending the artificial breeding service call B. H. Scott of Lowell.
Bangs testing by the State Department of Agriculture will start in Kent County sometime within the next few days. The testing work is being completed in Ottawa County and the next move will be to Kent.

From School to School
Since last week Kelloggville school has voted on a $200,000 bond issue for two new elementary schools. In this election, which was held Monday, Jan. 23, the bond issue and the 15-1/2 mile school district were approved by a majority of nearly eight to one. My congratulations to the Kelloggville community for this forward looking step.
There has been a great deal of argument recently as to whether we are in the first half or the second half of the 20th century. So far as I have seen no real arguments given on this question. Perhaps the real facts should be presented.
January 1st of the year one was the beginning of the first century which did not end until December 31, 1901. The year 1901 ended the first century. Our 20th century, which will not end until December 31, 1950. We are still in the first half of the 20th century.
It may surprise a great many people to know that school boards are not official and not a municipal or county official.
Michigan law has given the power to set up a public school system. The legislature may change the law at any time. A long list of the court decisions has confirmed the fact that a school board member is not an official and not a municipal or county official.

Sunny Acres Farm Bureau
The Sunny Acres Farm Bureau met on January 26 at the Sunny Acres hall. The meeting was called to order by chairman, Addie Dalton. Each one present answered a roll call by guessing number of beans in a jar. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buttrick winning the prize.
A fine discussion was held on the topic, "Who Sets Farm Prices?" The date for the pancake supper was set for Feb. 14, beginning at 6:30, at Sunny Acres hall. Tickets can be had from any member of the group.—Reporter.

Peet's Nursing Home
Caledonia, Michigan
We have two more patients, Mrs. Anna Fischer and John Hoover received a letter from a friend in Jackson, who had not heard from her in a long while. It was through the Peet Nursing Home news in a local paper that she located this patient. Isn't it gratifying how much happiness can be gleaned from a few lines in a local paper? Mrs. and Mr. Fred Bonner's granddaughter Betty called on Mr. Bonner's sister, Mrs. Baker, James Redford and son Jim. Mrs. G. Hansen and daughter Randa came to see Mrs. Hensch. They had a real good time seeing her, getting so nicely.
Sunday services were greatly enjoyed by all called at the home. Mr. Korstang and Mr. Baker with the help of Mr. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith, Mr. Mackis, Mrs. VanderHeld, Joyce and Jimmy Port, gave them a very enjoyable afternoon. Mrs. VanderHeld was at the piano, Mrs. Smith sang. Austin Forward of Standish was glad to see Grandma McConnell feeling better. Mrs. and Mrs. Ellen and Mrs. Arthur Fischer called on Mrs. and Mrs. Fischer.
Callers to see Mr. and Mrs. Schantz were Mr. and Mrs. Elan and Mrs. Mrs. Don Fischer came to see Grandma Fischer and Grandma and Grandpa Schantz. It is pleasant having Mr. and Mrs. Schantz and Mrs. Fischer here, as they are very good congenial people. Also relatives of each are friends of the other.

Comfortable Childbirth
Doctors can't promise painless childbirth or even a childbirth entirely without fear, but through psychological treatment they say you can be a comfortable expectant mother. You read about it in "Comfortable Childbirth," an article of vast importance to all women in this Sunday's (February 6) issue of the Detroit Sunday Times.

EVERY DAIRYMAN wants high milk production. Most dairymen know that continued high milk production is largely a matter of correct nutrition. When you feed for high production, you must also make sure your cows receive adequate vitamins and minerals to help protect them against "burning out", and nutritional deficiencies. To use dairy feed deficient in essential vitamins and minerals may be courting disaster. It is vitally important that your dairy feed have an abundance of all essential vitamins and minerals, not only the common enrichments, but also those many other vitamins and minerals which are sometimes omitted by manufacturers of other feeds to keep costs down. Many satisfied dairymen know that all essential vitamins and minerals are contained in

NEW WOOD-BURNING STOVE
SHOWN AT MSC FARM WEEK
One of the features of the Forging exhibit, during Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, January 30 to February 3, is a revolutionary new wood-burning heater. This heater is three times as efficient as a conventional type wood burning stove, burns at its own smoke and operates an entire day on a single filling of wood. It is thermostatically controlled at a choice temperature depending upon requirements of the user. Any kind of wood, green or dry, may be utilized, although dry hardwood gives the best results. The size of the heater is 21 inches in diameter and 40 inches tall, and it is connected to the chimney by standard six inch iron top or side.
Tip for Spring
A top dresser shows numerous dresses sporting aprons as a type of overalls. The aprons may be light or dark, and may be lined and unlined. They may be slitted fitting or flaring to fall in ripples on the side. The aprons are used on evening and cocktail dresses. They may be of contrasting color, be decorated or plain.

SHOWN AT MSC FARM WEEK
One of the features of the Forging exhibit, during Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, January 30 to February 3, is a revolutionary new wood-burning heater. This heater is three times as efficient as a conventional type wood burning stove, burns at its own smoke and operates an entire day on a single filling of wood. It is thermostatically controlled at a choice temperature depending upon requirements of the user. Any kind of wood, green or dry, may be utilized, although dry hardwood gives the best results. The size of the heater is 21 inches in diameter and 40 inches tall, and it is connected to the chimney by standard six inch iron top or side.
Tip for Spring
A top dresser shows numerous dresses sporting aprons as a type of overalls. The aprons may be light or dark, and may be lined and unlined. They may be slitted fitting or flaring to fall in ripples on the side. The aprons are used on evening and cocktail dresses. They may be of contrasting color, be decorated or plain.
Inspirational
The shortest and surest way to live with honor in the world, is to be a person who would appear to be all human virtues increase and strengthen themselves by the practice and experience of them.—Scotts.
Indians in Canada are legally classified as minors.
The largest North American rodent is the beaver.

Obituary

Otis G. Henderson
Otis G. Henderson, aged 68, passed away December 21, 1949, at Memorial hospital in Kansas City, Mo., after 25 years' very poor health and two recent serious illnesses.

Seldom able to make the long trip to Lowell to visit his family, he had made all arrangements to give up his business in Kansas City and come to Lowell at Christmas time to remain here. Services and burial were planned to take place in Lowell, but holidays preventing, burial was in beautiful Greenlawn cemetery south of Kansas City.

He leaves his wife, Edna, and son, Edwin, living on Vergennes Road; one sister, Mrs. Harry Bernard and nephews and nieces in Kansas City. All deeply mourn and sadly miss a dear kind husband, father and brother.

To shell pecans put them in a kettle with water to cover and heat until the water boils. Let the nuts remain in hot water for about five minutes. Drain and crack as soon as they can be handled. With a little practice it is possible to get the nut meats out whole, reports Faye Kinder, Michigan State College economist.

In 1911 the first American aviator pilot's license was issued to Glenn Curtiss.

We held a discussion about the Blue Cross insurance for our group, and it was decided to divide our territory into sections and appoint a member to canvass each section. Those appointed were Gottlieb Roth, Edward Anderson, Kenyon Vickery and Paul Wise.

This committee will contact each Granger in his territory and report at the next meeting. We hope to have a better attendance at that meeting.

We had quite a few gifts of merchandise left from our Fair which was held in October. These had been donated by businessmen from Lowell, Alto and Clarksville, so we decided to play games, with prizes, and give the money raised to the March of Dimes. We are proud to announce that we raised $30.40. We all enjoyed our potluck entertainment.

At the next meeting we will have a Valentine dance with music furnished by records.

Our Klitchensires, Ed. Anderson, Bert Hansen, Ira Sargeant and Wesley Keim, will sing at the dedication services at Egypt Grange, Friday, Feb. 24. They also sang at East Lansing Monday night at the State Guernsey Breeders' Association banquet.

Our regular dance will be held Saturday, Feb. 4.

Be sure to come to the next Grange meeting, Saturday, Feb. 11. Bring sandwiches and a dish to pass.—Madeline Vickery, Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS

We extend deep appreciation and many thanks to the relatives, friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy at the death of our mother, Mrs. Rose Wingleier. We are especially grateful for the many floral tributes and deeds of kindness extended, especially to those of the Apostolic Christian Church who journeyed long distances to assist in the services and to the ladies of the congregation who served the wonderful supper. p40
