

Help Lift Curtain For World Freedom By Signing Scroll

Citizens of Lowell are having an opportunity during this week and next to enroll their names on the Scroll for the Declaration of Freedom.

The Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc., accepted the sponsorship for Lowell at their meeting Monday night and have placed a scroll at the Ledger office for your convenience in signing before the deadline—October 13.

On October 16, the scroll along with the thousands of others from America, will be airshipped to Tempelhof Airport in the free sector of Berlin. On October 24, United Nations' Day, it will be enshrined in the base of a huge monument topped by a 10-ton Freedom Bell. The ceremonies, presided over by International leaders, will be broadcast throughout the free world and beamed in behind Stalin's Iron Curtain.

This is a dramatic demonstration of American faith in what we and the people outside and inside the Iron Curtain are fighting to achieve and preserve.

Declaration of Freedom

I believe in the sacredness and dignity of the individual. I believe that all men derive the right to freedom equally from God. I pledge to resist aggression and tyranny wherever they appear on earth.

I am proud to enlist in the Crusade for Freedom. I am proud to help make the Freedom Bell possible to be a signer of this Declaration of Freedom, to have my name included as a permanent part of the Freedom Shrine in Berlin, and to join with the millions of men and women throughout the world who hold the cause of Freedom sacred.

Every red-blooded American will want to help lift the Iron Curtain Everywhere!

Pass Pension Plan Voters Are Advised

The proposed village pension plan to be voted upon at a special village election on Tuesday, Oct. 10, 1950, should be passed, members of the Common Council agreed at their meeting Monday night, but the plan should not be placed in operation until after Social Security plans for village employees is studied by local officials and employees.

The action was agreed upon after the report of Village Attorney Roger O. McMahon who had conferred with state officials in Lansing last week. State officials in the attorney general's office and in the welfare department which would be given the job of handling the collection of moneys from local government units which would come under Social Security advised Mr. McMahon reported, that Lowell should pass the proposed pension plan, and then wait and see how soon village employees could come under Social Security before putting the plan into effect.

If Social Security was available early in 1951 then with the consent of the village employees the local pension plan could be disregarded and all employees could come under the federal plan.

There is little doubt that Social Security as set up by the federal government will be made available to governmental units which do not have a pension plan. Mr. McMahon felt that the fact that Lowell had voted for a local pension plan but had not placed it in effect would still allow the village employees to come under the Social Security plan.

Business Man Endorses Village Pension Plan

The Ledger has received from the King Milling Co. the following letter which reads:

Yours very truly,
King Milling Company,
King Doyle, President.

PTA News

Mrs. Grotfely asked each person at the parents' table to stand and tell his name and then Mr. Gummer introduced the teachers, describing each one with a very clever riddle in a grand march.

Stirring milk with a rod during the cooling process may be introducing unwanted bacteria. Don Murray, Michigan State College dairyman, suggests that tight covers and an occasional rocking of the can gives the same results as stirring and keep out bacteria.

Arrows Lose to East To Play Grandville There Friday Night

The East Grand Rapids Pioneers grabbed an 18 to 0 verdict over Lowell's Red Arrows, but the plaudits of a multitude of fans went to a stubborn Lowell eleven who fought a heavier, more experienced rival down to the final whistle.

The Lowell cause suffered immensely when Faulkner, their running ace, was injured and removed from the game on the second play of the contest. Bill Roth at this time filled the gap by playing a fierce defensive game till he too was injured and taken out during the second quarter.

With these two stalwarts out of the East, last year State Champions, could do was score six points during the entire first half.

East playing a rough brand of ball scored twice during the second half, one of these being in the nature of a gift in the form of a pass interception which was good for a touchdown. The East outfit this season lacks the championship sparkle of last year. However, Grand Valley fans will wait quite awhile before seeing a better scaback than East's Rusty Swaney.

Some Outstanding Play

With their offense slowed down by injuries the Arrows' defense was aided by some outstanding play by Bob Packer at tackle and Clark Parsons and Phil Kroft at guards. Lowell fans will be hearing more from the backs, Jack Friessner and Karl Kutschinski.

This week the Arrows will travel to Grandville to mix with a rough building outfit who is finding the sledding tough in Conference competition. Grandville dropped a close decision to Lee last Friday. Game time is 7:30 at Grandville.

A word of praise is due to Bud Howe's second teamers who took a 6 to 0 win over East's seconds at Grand Rapids last Thursday. East never came closer than 25 yards to the Lowell seconds' goal line.

Grandville's second team will play Coach Howe's second stringers at Recreation Park this Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Bergy Bros. Sponsor Laying Flock Study

There are many people who feel it has been difficult to make money from chickens this past year because of unfavorable egg prices and feed costs. While Bergy Bros. Elevator at Alto know that these factors affect poultry profits, they also know that there are many other things that affect the amount of money a farmer can make from his laying flock.

Because of this, they have planned the second in a series of discussions in cooperation with McMillen Feed Mills. This will be a laying flock management meeting on Wednesday night, Oct. 18th, at Alto Grandville hall at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be Fred Watson, from McMillen Feed Mills, Fort Wayne, Ind.

The ladies are particularly invited and refreshments will be served following the meeting.

It is hoped this meeting will give the farmers in this area some useful and worthwhile information to help make their general farming operations more profitable.

Sunny Acres Farm Bureau

Our September 28th meeting opened with the group singing several songs, led by song leader, Case Heemstra. Our speaker of the evening, Mr. Buskirk, of Paw Paw, introduced by Addie Dalstra, on his experience in Europe. His explanation of the misunderstanding of the small farmer was, quite frankly, "I am not against the small farmer, I am for him. This country's welfare is built around the small farmer. I am against the man who works in town and runs his farm week-ends, who thinks he is a farmer and ruins a good farm by trying to do it in his spare time. Farming is a full time job."

I did not meet Mr. Buskirk's speech, but he must have talked for an hour. It was so interesting that I am sure the entire group would gladly have listened for another hour. Those who did not come certainly missed an interesting and informative evening.

After this talk and while lunch was being prepared, Mr. Buskirk talked with members of the group of which we had 37.

National Newspapermen Follow Slogan, 'Truth to A Free People'

This week, October 1-4, has been designated as National Newspaper Week. President Truman has sent a letter of congratulation to American newspapers on the occasion.

Many other noted personages have sent Stanford Smith, chairman of National Newspaper Week, letters of congratulation and good wishes to the entire American newspaper fraternity, and commended the choice of the slogan this year—"American Newspapers—Truth to a Free People," as a true statement of the newspapers' stock in trade in the present world crisis.

Bernard Baruch, elder statesman and former presidential advisor, says: "I stand with Jefferson who wrote:

"The basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right. Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

The press in our conscience, our guide and our informant. We cannot act intelligently unless we are intelligently informed. Life without newspapers would be mouldy.

Pilgrims Brought Germ

The Pilgrims brought with them the germ of a free press and through the generations this spirit of freedom has prevailed. Newspapers consistently fight corruption and incompetence in government. Colonial newspapers were the mainstay of the movement for independence. History shows that the press has been uniformly on the side of the common people.

The first successful newspaper in the colonies was started with the permission of the royal governor of Massachusetts in 1704, and had a circulation of 300 after 15 years of publishing, in 1719. It was the editor of this early Boston newspaper that organized public meetings and demonstrations in favor of forming a United States with its activities did much to cause Massachusetts to ratify the Constitution.

The war years have done much to create an interest in newspapers and at the close of the American Revolution there were 43 newspapers in the colonies, even though numerous colonial newspaper editors were forced to flee before the advancing British army.

The public during the American Revolution acquired a vast respect for the press and for the principle of press freedom.

Popularity Increased

Every war has brought out something new in newspapers and has because of the good work done by these hard-working editors. It was during the Civil War that "ready print" and "patent inks" were devised because of the labor shortage.

The two World Wars increased the appetite for foreign news in the United States, and though radio and television have played a great part in the news of the world, it is no longer a man's world and there should be good material to select from in Lowell who could fill these places of trust and intelligence and satisfactory ability.

The new tax was another subject of discussion and also the Pension Plan for village employees which will be voted on Tuesday, Oct. 10.

The village has gone to a big expense to hold this special election and it is important that everyone who is a qualified elector get out and vote. It is time for the women of Lowell to vote regardless of whether or not they have a home.

The point in this election whether to adopt a pension plan, or wait for Social Security to take effect sometime after January 1st.

The village pension plan would enable employees now 65 years of age to retire at once with a minimum of $30 to a maximum of $100 per month according to their years of service.

After January 1, 1951 every business man will be self-employed and must pay Social Security and all employees if now 65 years of age, by working 18 months, at the end of that time could retire and draw $30 per month for life. The wife reaching 65 could draw for life $40 per month. Thus the decision was left to the discretion of the voters.

The club voted to meet the second Tuesday of each month at 12 o'clock for a luncheon meeting.

Lowell B. & P. Women Takes Active Interest In Important Matters

The Business and Professional Women held one of their most interesting and informative meetings of the year last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Alice Dennis. The club members each enrolled on the Freedom Scroll and placed it in the Ledger office for others to have opportunity to sign during the week. When more scrolls arrive they will be placed in advantageous places in the village.

A report of the Safety committee was given by Mrs. Wm. Smith, teacher of the eighth grade of Lowell high school, from which grade the safety patrol guards are chosen. Mrs. Smith stated that much thought and work has been put into this problem of safety for our school children and that with the cooperation of Deputy Frank L. Stephens safety zones have been marked off along Lafayette where there are no sidewalks and teachers and parents are united in their efforts to teach the children to keep within the marked areas.

Before the deputy and school officers provided parking regulations in the congested area back of the stores here, one noon hour it happened two freight trucks were unloading at the same time and the street was entirely shut off. Small children and grade pupils were seen crawling under the trucks to reach Main street.

Now the picture has changed and patrol guards with their white belts are found at every corner. Where before there was congestion and confusion on the part of both drivers and pedestrians there is now order and safety.

The Conservation committee reported the state department has completed plans with the Conservation club in Lowell to purchase some nearby land, planting native shrubs and stocking birds for a fine game reserve.

Miss Phyllis Thielan reported on local government, village officers and their duties, committees, how elected or appointed and term of office. Much discussion arose as to the timely consideration by the men as well as the women, in placing a woman on the council and the school board.

It is no longer a man's world and there should be good material to select from in Lowell who could fill these places of trust and intelligence and satisfactory ability.

Charles Hill Named Region 7 Chairman Red Feather Drive

Charles A. Hill has been appointed Community Chest chairman for the 1951 Red Feather Campaign in Region Seven, and he indicates that everything is just about set for the drive starting October 5.

The goal, incidently, $788,480, is the highest yet set in the peacetime history of the 33-year-old Chest. It's about $100,000 higher than the amount raised last year.

Aids Our Armed Forces

Much of the increase is traceable to a $45,125 item marked for the Associated Services for the Armed Forces, an organization similar to World War II's USO. That amount is on a par with other countries in the nation of the same size.

"It may be a tough campaign this year," said Hill, "but I'm sure we're going to reach it."

It's already been said in Grand Rapids by H. J. Bryan, General Campaign Chairman, that drive personnel are regarding the big goal a challenge to the superb organization assembled this year.

Region Seven's campaign leaders are sure to measure up to the standards—if they get the kind of help from the community that they are entitled to. It'll be a tough drive, sure, with the increase needed, but it can be done!
