These young business people have been making some important changes in the appearance of the store and are working to maintain a progressive business which will be a credit to Lowell.

Mr. Story says he has been told the first year in business is always the hardest which he hopes it true, but that the entire firm is more than pleased with the success of their first year.

Lowell Rotary Club Members Are Backing 1951 March of Dimes

With the local Rotary Club backing the 1951 March of Dimes in Lowell, the Kent county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is depending on record support from Lowell residents. Shover H. Sarjeant, of Grand Rapids, Kent county drive chairman, said this week.

Lowell is one of two communities in the county where the entire Rotary Club has been enlisted to support the 1951 March of Dimes campaign, according to Sarjeant. The Sparta Rotary Club also has taken over its community "chairmanship."

"We're expecting great things from the Lowell Rotary Club—and we certainly need strong support," said Sarjeant. "Kent county has more than $17,000 in unpaid polo bills, despite an advance of more than $12,000 to the Kent chapter from the National Foundation."

Even though not another person in Kent county should contract polio in 1951, an unlikely occurrence, it will take approximately $30,000 to treat present patients alone.

"Add those figures and our plight is plain," said Sarjeant. "There are $17,000 in unpaid bills; there's $30,000 needed for present patients; and there's that big unknown quantity, the dollars needed to fight 1951's new cases."

Goal is to Make Ends Meet
"Our goal is to make ends meet. Obviously that's going to be a big job, and we'll need more than $100,000."

The 1951 March of Dimes comes in the wake of the two worst polio years in Kent county history. In 1949 there were 85 new victims; in 1950 there were 67. Many of these persons still require help from the polio foundation.

Half of the March of Dimes proceeds goes to the National Foundation where it is deposited in an emergency fund and used for polio research.

Kent county has drawn heavily on the emergency fund the last two years. In 1949 the National Foundation gave $39,000 to the local chapter. In 1950 it gave approximately $12,000 and would have given more, but its funds also were exhausted.

Pleasant Hill School Gets Second Teacher More Pupils Enroll

Pleasant Hill in Spencer has finally found a second teacher. Mrs. Marian Klint, formerly of Huff school and Grand Rapids, is now living in Cedar Springs and has agreed to finish the school year. At last reports seven additional pupils were expected to enroll this week.

At a special meeting last month at the Cascade school the voters asked that consideration be given to the possibility of a union of Cascade township schools. A secondary consideration was the establishment of a Junior high school.

A mimeographed study of the seven schools shows some wide variations. Valuation run from $98,755.00 for Thomas school to $375,246.00 for Cascade school. The valuation per census child is lowest in Whitteville with $2,830.00 per child. It is highest also in Cascade with a per capita of $5,637.00. The per capita cost of instruction is $202.90 in Strong which is the highest and the lowest cost is $146.09 in Townline.

The census shows no particular overcrowding except in Cascade and Whitteville where there is also a large pre-school group of children. It appears that a Junior high school will not be needed for many years since Lowell will be able to accommodate their pupils for a long time. A larger administrative unit might be advisable to equalize school costs and educational opportunity. There seems to be too much variation under present conditions.

We have 44 new teachers of whom 29 are teaching for the first time this year. Practically all of them are doing very well in spite of the fact that many of them are in difficult situations. Our helping teachers are kept busy trying to get these new teachers properly started and help the ten additional teachers that have been added since the beginning of school.

Beautiful New Dodge At Gould's Saturday

Mr. Speerstra invites you to see the new Dodge which is new inside and outside, with a completely new shock absorber system keeps your car on the ground whether you are on pavement, cobblestones or cinder ruts.

This graceful new car is sleek and trim for easier handling and parking and yet there is room to ride relaxed and uncrowded.

Eugene Carr Given Leave of Absence

Eugene Carr, Lowell night watchman for 33 years, has been given a leave of absence by the Common Council. This is the first real vacation for the night watchman in 33 years, having worked for 30 years, seven days a week, with practically no interruptions.

Substituting for Mr. Carr will be Ernest Kaufman.

Belding Redskins Bow to Red Arrows Here Friday Night

Lowell Red Arrows scored their second victory of the week when they defeated the invading Belding Redskins 45 to 33 in the local gym last Friday night. Earlier in the week the Arrows defeated Godwin in a conference tilt at Godwin.

The Lowellites really went to work on Belding when they jumped to a 20 to 10 first quarter lead. During this period Coach Howe's lads gave as pretty a demonstration of shooting and passing as has been seen on the local court this season.

The Arrows continued to display their superiority during the second session to take a comfortable 28 to 20 half-time lead.

Coach Howe gave all of his subs a chance to get into the fray when he cleared the bench during the final quarter to win going away 45 to 33.

Arrow Sub Sorry
In the closing seconds of the contest one of the Arrow subs, either feeling sorry for the losers or becoming confused, dumped a field goal in Belding's basket to contribute two points to the losing cause.

Kline was high man for Lowell with 17 points, followed by Roth with 8 and Topp with 7. Gristman was high for Belding with 11 points.

Second Team Wins Thriller
The Lowell second team was not to be outdone by the Varsity. Last Tuesday they grabbed off a thriller from the Godwin seconds by a 28 to 27 margin. Friday the second stringers continued their winning ways by taking a 30 to 37 victory over the Belding second team. Grummet was high point man with 16 points.

This week Friday the Arrows will have their hands full when they travel to Rockford for a league contest. Lowell boasts a 51 to 35 victory over the Rams, however, their star Hamilton has returned to the lineup and the Arrows must be at their peak if they wish a repeat victory.

The next home game will be with East Grand Rapids January 26. —"Bucky," Sports Reporter.

Korea and National Situation Discussed by Lowell Rotarians

An open forum on the topic, "Korea and the National Situation," was held at the regular meeting of the Lowell Rotary Club on Wednesday, Jan. 10. The topic had been discussed by the club, and was presided over by Rev. Norman G. Woon, program chairman of the day.

Preliminary to the general discussion the chairman pointed out that since the citizens of America are in reality the government, no man's opinion is worthless, and that it was in just such meetings as this that wisdom must be found to determine the present and future policies of the nation.

Stephen Nisbet, guest of the club from the history department of the school, opened the discussion by locating Korea on a large wall map, to give the club some idea of the size of the country, its relation to continental Asia, Japan, Formosa, the Philippines, China and Russia.

Opinions Varied and Interesting
Walter W. Gummer expressed fear that if we try to fight Communism all over the world we will, as a nation, spread ourselves so thin as to be ineffective everywhere. He also gave voice to a sympathetic understanding of the "bestness" of the western European countries, to join the program of rearmament against their small countries become again the battle ground of a world war.

Ernest C. Foreman regretted the tendency to the chip-on-the-shoulder tactics of some of our national leaders that could embroil us needlessly in war.

Daniel Treleven wondered just who are our friends among the nations, pointing out that Germany and Japan, formerly our enemies, now are friends, and Russia, formerly a friend, now an enemy.

Ed. Randolph quoted a member of Congress to the effect that resistance to possession of Korea by Russia was meant to be only a token resistance according to the Yalta agreement.

Frank Stephens, who was a soldier in the First World War, stated for a time in Russia, spoke of the immense area of the country and of the difficulty of knowing what their leadership is up to.

Veterans Make Comparisons
When asked about possible bomber targets in a war with Russia Ernie McMahon, a bomber pilot in World War II, pointed to the difference between bombing Germany from England, and what bombing Russia would mean. A round trip from England to Germany took six to seven hours and the targets were close together. In Russia they would be far apart.

The underground in the small countries around Germany was so effective that pilots or crew shot down were sometimes back into England in two days. About 80% of them escaped German imprisonment. It would be very different if we were bombing Russia. He does not think the atom bomb will ever be used in a modern war.

Speaking of Naval targets in a possible war with Russia Bruce Walter, who served in the Navy in the recent war, called attention to the handicap in that Russia is so large. The distance between Murmansk on the White Sea and Vladivostok on the Pacific is to be measured in terms of thousands of miles. We do not know how strong Russia is in undersea craft but we do know that they took over the plants and the skills that the Germans had developed in the last war.

Chairman Issues Warning
In closing the discussion it was pointed out that Russia is strong in certain areas, mainly possession of large territory and man power. While the United States and the Chinese are strong in machine-powered fighting equipment; and that we must not allow ourselves to be drawn into a struggle on the basis of our weakness but force the fight, if fight there must be, on the basis of our strength.

It has been possible to report only the outline of the discussion of the Rotary Club. However, the club enjoyed this kind of meeting so well that they have asked for another of similar nature at a near date in the future, for some of the most interesting discussion occurred after the meeting was over.

Much credit is due the Rev. N. G. Woon for the fine manner in which he handled the program.

Motorist Injured As Car Sideswipes Truck

Highways and streets were treacherous the first of the week from the ice and snow, causing several wrecked cars around Lowell, but fortunately no serious injuries to drivers.

On Sunday afternoon about five o'clock Vernon Strouse of R. 2, Lowell, was traveling south on M-91 when his pick-up truck hit a bridge railing and turned upside down on the bridge. The machine was a total wreck but Mr. Strouse was uninjured.

Monday morning around six o'clock Gale A. Blomaster of Maple Rapids, driving an unloaded semi, dived to pull a car out of the ditch about 3 1/2 miles west of Lowell on M-21 when a car driven by George J. Visser of Grand Rapids came along and sideswiped the truck.

Mr. Visser was taken to the office of Dr. Orval McKay in Lowell by Mr. Blomaster and later was removed to a Grand Rapids hospital. He received painful face injuries. The car was badly damaged.

Other minor highway accidents were reported.

Little Girl Too Much For the Psychologist

The visiting psychologist explained that the teacher was not holding the attention of her class and offered to prove it.

After the pupils had filed into the room and taken their seats he asked a little girl for a number. The little girl gave 35 and the psychologist promptly wrote 53 on the board. Receiving this, he wrote 92 and for 82, he wrote 28. After several minutes of this, a voice was heard from the rear of the room, "Sixty-six; let's see what you can do with that!"
