Tests Show Many Cows Rate High In Kent County

The Northwest Kent has a nev tester on the job so at the present time all associations are operating. M. J. Rambadt is the new tester. The combined summary of the reports to date are as follows, including East Kent, Kent Central and South Kent Associations.

Owners of high rating cows are: Ernest Wittenbach, Belding, Hol-stein; Ray C. Smith, Belding, Holstein; William Post, Byron Center, Holstein; Dayton Hammer, Rockford, Holstein; Alfred Wittenback Belding, Holstein; Kenneth Baldwin, Rockford, Br. Swiss; Robert Hansen, Rockford, Guernsey; Cook & Thomas, Lowell, Holstein; Wes-ley Kraft, Belding, Holstein; Em-met Davis, Rockford, Jersey.

Owners of high herds of five or more cows are: Dr. C. Foshee, Ada, Jersey; Francis Shaffer, Alto, Mixed; Wm. Snyder, Belding, Guernsey; Wesley Kraft, Belding, Holstein; Ernest Wittenbach, Beld-ing, Holstein; Frank Stevens, Belding, Holstein; Floyd Jenks, Beld-Guernsey; Robert Hansen, Rockford, Guernsey; Cnok Thomas, Lowell, Holstein.

The East Kent Testers report that Howard Brownell and Clare Horton can take it a little easier since installing their new gutter cleaner. They also report a 4 per cent increase in dry cows over any month since last July.

According to Art Rosenberger, Actor Smitz and Ac Blaser, have completed installation of a new ventilation system. Should help a great deal on removing moisture and odors.
