About Our Servicemen

Every now and then an interesting scrap of paper comes to light; this week it was W. C. Hartman who cleaned out his desk and found a small handbill he has been hoarding all these years since 1888. It was a political handbill with a picture of U. S. Grant holding the American flag in his left hand and his silk derby hat in his right and at the base of the flag is the horn of plenty, while on the opposite side of the picture is a chain with the slavery bracelet broken. The caption is: "Grant and Colfax" beneath the picture, "Let Us Have Peace."

Names of the presidential electors were given as were also names of state and county officers.

Eighty-four years have elapsed since that time and we are still crying, "Let Us Have Peace."

Jokes, jests, jabs, and jibes just by Jeff: We hear a lot of talk about money these days, just as all generations have done before us. One youngster asks, "whose making money, anyway?" His experienced father answered, "The mint makes it first and we try to make it last."

The sassafras trees and shrubs and the wild sumac are turning yellow and red—a sure sign of the coming of autumn. In a short time the roadsides will be a riot of color and people will be planning week end drives in colors tours.

In checking over our Ledger files of ten years ago we find nine of the Lowell Public School teachers then are still on the faculty, and doing a fine job. They are: Supt. W. W. Gumsier, R. B. Avery, Anna Mae Roth, Orval Jessup, Byrd Beachum, Chas. B. White, Carroll Burch, Marian Bushnell and Anne Borgerson.

A patent has recently been received from the U. S. Patent office for an automatic soldering machine which has been originated and perfected at Lowell Manufacturing Co., by Otto Wisner, who has been in the employ of the company for some 27 years.

The machine has been in use at the plant for about four years and has helped to increase the productive capacity.

The Cary's Weekes Store which has recently been enlarged and completely remodeled, has been further improved this past week by the addition of a ventilated metal awning across the entire front of the double store.

Mr. Stiff has progressive ideas and sets a good example for all who have faith in the future of Lowell business.

While you are noting improvements along our Main Street, look around the corner on Broadway and see the fine new front door at the Ledger office, equipped with the latest metal slot for the convenience of correspondents, advertisers and others who wish to drop off some copy after closing hours.

Lowell village hostess has been busy welcoming new families into our community the past few weeks. Some of the more recent ones are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tapp and little son, Kerry, who have moved into the Dell Kroff house on East Main St., from Moline. Mr. Tapp is at the Cities Service Station.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Robison, recently of Oklahoma, are making their home at 83 1/2 W. Main St. Mr. Robison is the new manager of the Cities Service propane plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fairlamb and family came here recently from Detroit and will make their home at 1225 E. Main St. Mr. Fairlamb is connected with the Brickcrete Associates Inc., Grand Rapids.

Former Lowell Woman Rescued from Drowning As Pleasure Boat Sinks

Friends here have received word of the rescue of Mrs. C. G. Fisher and party from near drowning when their yacht sank in choppy waters 300 feet off Ft. Sheridan, after an hour and a half of floundering. The boat returning with a picnic party had become lost in dense fog and was damaged when it struck submerged pilings.

A young man and young lady aboard the 42-foot cabin cruiser were able to bring the whole party, three women and three children safely to shore, using life preservers to keep them afloat. The children were tied together with a rope and towed ashore and the couple swam back to the wreckage and brought in the three women.

Mrs. Fisher is the widow of the late Charles G. Fisher, bank official, and lives at Evanston, Ill. She is the former Nina Wisner and is well known in Lowell, having lived here in her girlhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gasper, 27, at St. Mary's hospital, a son, Gordon Richard, weight 8 pounds, 11 1/2 ounces.

A total of 150 persons to volunteer to give blood is needed from the Lowell area to fill the quota set for the clinic to be held at the City Hall Monday, Sept. 22, from 2:00 to 8:00 p. m.

The clinic is operated jointly by the Kent County Red Cross Chapter and the Michigan Department of Health, which furnishes qualified medical personnel to supervise the giving of blood at the clinic.

Mrs. Elmer Schaefer is general chairman for arrangements and will be assisted by members of the Woman's Relief Corps, V. F. W. Auxiliary and Business and Professional Women.

Persons 18 to 60 years of age, in good health, may volunteer as donors. Half of the blood donated is used to meet needs of the armed forces and for defense requirements, including shipments of certain types of whole blood direct to the fighting front in Korea.

The remaining half of the blood donations is processed into blood plasma and made available for use through local hospitals to any resident of Kent County.

New $136,000 Dial Telephone System For Lowell Jan. 8

Kenneth L. McKee, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, has announced that Lowell's new $136,000 dial telephone system will be placed in service January 8.

In an announcement before the Rotary Club yesterday, McKee said that Western Electric Company installers would begin placing the intricate dial switching equipment in Michigan Bell's new central office building on Hudson street at the end of this month.

Installation of this central office equipment, he said, would require about 11 weeks to complete. After the apparatus is in place it will be put through a series of rigorous tests by Michigan Bell engineers before being placed in service.

All Lowell telephone numbers will be changed coincident with the conversion to dial operation. The new four-digit telephone numbers will be listed in a new directory to be distributed prior to the cutover.

Michigan Bell workmen will begin changing the telephone instruments of Lowell subscribers to the dial type next month. McKee said that this job, which involves some 1,600 instruments here, will be completed by the first of the year.

"Human Behavior"

At Lowell Rotary Club luncheon last week Wednesday, the Rev. Norman G. Woon, program chairman for the day, introduced Carl Martenson, D.D., pastor of Park Congregational Church as guest speaker.

Dr. Martenson entitled his address "Human Behavior" or "How to Live Happily With Your Neighbor," in which he mapped out a guide to better living and indicated ways to respect our neighbor's opinions, which sounded very much like an expose of the fundamental principles of Rotary International.

Dr. Martenson's sparkling delivery combined with his hearty good humor held his audience spellbound.

Lowell Rotary Club is having the opportunity of hearing some exceptionally fine speakers at the regular Wednesday luncheons.

MIDNIGHT OIL AT U-M IS ELECTRICALLY FED

It takes a lot of electricity to keep the lamp of knowledge glowing at the University of Michigan. In fact, the University consumes as much electricity each year as the two Michigan cities of Sturgis and Charlevoix. The electricity is steam-generated at the U-M power plant as a by-product of heating buildings.

Your tractor is valuable; guard it with a fire extinguisher.

Lowell Board of Trade Organizes a Community Development Corp.

At the meeting of the Lowell Board of Trade on Monday night the Lowell Community Development Corporation, non-profit, was organized by the vote of the membership.

The idea of this non-profit corporation was given to the board by a speaker two years ago and the final steps to the organization were taken this week. Its purpose is to further the community interests, encourage local industry, commerce and trade and to raise money for such purposes. To buy, sell and lease real estate for community development and public improvement of the Village of Lowell.

The membership also voted to place the $1,000 in government bonds now held by the Board of Trade in the new corporation. For the present the Lowell Board of Trade officers and directors are the officers and directors of the newly formed organization.

As predicted a week ago, the overall school registration at the beginning of the second week broke all records with a grand total of 868 in all grades. This was in spite of the fact that several non-residents had to be denied admission because of excessive enrollments in certain grades.

The high school, consisting of the upper four grades, has a total registration of 388, made up as follows: 9th grade 104; 10th grade 104; 11th grade 96; and 12th grade 85. The ninth grade reached a peak of 120 two years ago and dropped to 110 last year.

All teachers have fitted into their duties very well. The new "Ag" department is functioning very well in their new quarters. The new combination room, consisting of grades 4 and 5, is well liked by the youngsters. The new headquarters for household arts is the scene of much hard work on the part of the girls in charge of Miss Thielan.

The state supervisor suggested that the girls be given a practical demonstration in the art of home-making, and so with zest and enthusiasm the young ladies are making curtains, washing windows, removing old wallpaper and doing everything to put the finishing touches on the job so efficiently started by workmen. The house should be complete in every detail within two weeks.

At the Association meeting held recently members of both leagues voted to increase the amount for bowling and dues to $1.35 per night. Each bowler is reminded to be prepared to pay to their captain $1.00 per bowler sanction fee next Tuesday.

The bowling alleys are in fine condition and are ready for open bowling. After the leagues get started next week there will be open bowling each afternoon from four to six Monday through Friday, and from 1:30 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. each Saturday and Sunday.

Gerald E. Cudney, 28, Injured in Car Crash

Gerald E. Cudney, 28, of Freepoint Rd., suffered head injuries and a severe leg cut when his automobile left the road early Sunday morning and struck a tree beside Naah Ave. on Sixteenth St., south of Lowell. He was reported in good condition Monday at St. Mary's hospital where he had been taken in Roth's ambulance.

Sheriff's deputies said Cudney was unable to tell how the accident occurred but reported he became unconscious from the car and landed in a ditch. He had apparently fallen asleep. No one was with him when the accident occurred.

A child's forgetfulness or carelessness is a poor excuse for a boy or girl being struck down by a ton of steel in the hands of an adult. It will also prove a small comfort in the case of a crippling or fatal accident.

ATTENTION, LOCAL BOWLERS

There will be a meeting at Clarkville Community Memorial building Thursday evening, Sept. 11, at 8:00 o'clock for all bowling team captains. Also anyone wishing to bowl this season to fill in please report at this meeting.

Lowell B & P. W. Club Plans Expanded Program Meets in New Quarters

The Lowell Business and Professional Women's Club were guests of the Lowell Board of Trade at the Annual Showboat Dinner Meeting held at the City Hall September 8, 1952. After a delightful dinner and an entertaining program, the Showboat meeting adjourned and the Business and Professional Women met at the Legion Memorial building to inspect the room which has been offered to the club as a permanent meeting place. The members of the Lowell Business and Professional Women's Club wish to thank the American Legion for making it possible to have their own club room without cost.

An interesting program for the coming year was outlined by Program Co-ordinator, Muriel Abraham and plans were discussed for several meetings which will be of general interest to the public. With the facilities available at the Memorial building it will be possible to have a more expanded program than in the past.

Kent Soil Conservation Builds Grass Waterway On Near Farm Friday

Kent County Soil Conservation Districts sponsored a grass waterway demonstration on the Edgerly and Robert Near farm near Caledonia on Friday, Sept. 5. An old gully was worked in and a new channel shaped to carry away runoff water safely by a more direct route to make the field more convenient to work.

By making a wide, almost flat bottom in the waterway the water is spread out and slowed down so that the danger of gully erosion is reduced. Above the head of the waterway, a concrete dam was constructed to protect the newly-seeded waterway until the sod becomes well established. The waterway and diversion terrace were designed and staked out, and the construction supervised by Henry Swartz, John McLean of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Implement Dealers Help

Most of the actual work of construction was done by local implement dealers who donated the use of their equipment to help make the demonstration a success.

These dealers included: Crider Implement Co., Middleville; Bill Meyer, Inc., and Nelson B. Good and Co., Caledonia, Michigan. The waterway was manured and fertilized, and will be seeded to a mixture of Kentucky bluegrass, redtop and domestic ryegrass to provide a good grass sod to carry the runoff water from approximately thirty acres of land.

Mrs. O. K. Graham Earns Diamond Cloverleaf Pin

A writer on the Ledger staff says she feels like the school girl who copied from a classmate's paper which had the wrong answer. "Last week's" paper stated that Mrs. O. K. Graham possesses ten years' leadership in 4-H work. Really she has had twenty years in clothing, food preparation and canning. She will receive her diamond-set Clover Leaf pin this year, and at the Fair she was presented with the Kiwanis club award.

(Our sincere apologies to you, Mrs. Graham.—Editor)

Youthful Bike Riders Painfully Injured in Bicycle-Car Collisions

Two youthful bicycle riders have met with accidents resulting in painful injuries in the last few days.

Sunday afternoon Raymond Murray, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Murray, 191 South Pleasant St. was riding his bicycle on Mt. Pleasant street when he was struck by a car going east. According to witnesses the car, driven by Stewart F. Snyder, 24, hit the youngster as he attempted to make a turn in front of the car. He is in Butterworth hospital with a broken leg and bruises.

Monday afternoon near Bennett School on Lincoln Lake Rd. Billy Roth, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roth, met with a similar accident near the school grounds when he collided with a car driven by Mrs. Edson Shippy. His injuries are reported to be minor.

School Property In Segwun to Be Sold at Auction

In accordance with a mandate from the people as expressed by a vote of 95 to 2 on July 14th, the Board of Education will offer the South Ward school property for sale at public auction on Thursday, September 25th, at 3:00 p. m. on the premises. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The school has been used only for storage purposes for several years and the property has deteriorated.

Before abandoning the school years ago, a new pump and floor were installed and other improvements had been made. However, the school which served so many boys and girls of Segwun for so long and so well, was abandoned so that the children could enjoy the same facilities available to the other children of the district. This was made possible by the advent of the transportation system.

The school building was offered to various groups as a center for their activities, but not a single organization was interested. And so it is probable that the school will be transformed into a home. The site in no way would be adequate or desirable for another schoolhouse, if the need should ever arise for a structure in that part of the district.

Stray Dogs Ravishing Whole Flocks of Sheep

This seems to be the season of the year when there are more stray dogs or else they become more noticeable in the work of destruction they are doing. In some cases whole flocks of sheep have been ravished overnight.

Recently a flock of sheep was badly injured over South Boston way, and two weeks ago a pack of dogs, like wolves, attacked a flock of 25 sheep belonging to Herbert Borum, in Keens township, leaving only two. The other 23 were so badly mangled they had to be shot.

A nearby farmer says people often drop small dogs out in the country when they tire of a pet. These often develop into sheep killers and are a liability to farmers.

Two Lowell Travelers Arrive at Anchorage

Letters have been received from Bob Christiansen and Hugh Young who arrived safe and sound in Anchorage, Alaska, August 26, making the trip in 13 days and report most of the time the weather was ideal. They enjoyed some beautiful scenery, especially going through Glacier National Park. In spite of all the dire predictions about the roughness of the Alcan Highway, the only trouble they encountered was two flat tires, and one blowout.

They write that Anchorage is a booming town of 33,000 population and much building going on. The wage scale is high. They both want to work at once as electricians for a large contractor.

They looked up Don Kaiser of Lowell at Fort Richard-Dean and he showed them all over the air base. They said it was beautifully equipped, with modern tile kitchens, large steam pressure cookers that cook beans in 45 minutes; also large recreation rooms.

The young men write that food is high at Anchorage. Eggs flow in are $1.25 a dozen; milk is 49 cents a quart and hamburger 90 cents a pound. But the boys are beating the high cost of living by doing their own cooking and they get a real break when a carpenter who had put up a two-story building for himself said they could have a room and place to cook free, for wiring the building in their spare time.

Ring-Necked Pheasant Popular With Hunters Season Opens Oct. 20

As the season for birds opens in Michigan Oct. 20, the beautiful ring-necked pheasant will undoubtedly be the most popular of the hunters, both in point of sport and quality. The pheasant has become more plentiful in this area in recent years through the efforts of the Michigan Department of Conservation. The pheasant is a game bird that farmers who hatch and feed the birds through the growing season.

Ring-necked Pheasant
Ring-necked pheasants were first introduced to Michigan from Europe and America. When on their own, pheasants hunt for themselves. They are very hard to raise in captivity. Conservation Pledge: I give my pledge as an American to have and faithfully to defend with me the natural resources of my country—its soil and minerals, its forests, waters, and wildlife.
Specialists Make Study
Conservation department specialists are making a study in Lenawee and Eaton counties to determine whether or not the pheasant populations are related to buying operations.

Record-Breaking Trout
Believed to be the biggest brown trout ever taken in Michigan is a 17 pound and five ounce fish caught in Houghton creek, Ogemaw county, the conservation department reports.
Hooked by Harold Crawford of Chas. City, the trout broke the brown trout record which has held for 22 years. Largest previous brown of department records is 15 pound and six ounce taken in Dowagiac creek, Berrien county, June 1940, by Burrell C. High of Niles.

Oldest Fox Squirrel
What may be a new age record for a wild fox squirrel is reported by the conservation department's station near Lansing.
Squirrel number 2689, a female at least seven years old, again has been caught in a live trap on a 200-acre tract near Lansing. She was seven years old when she was first caught in 1946, and she has since been recaptured several times. She is now in the 200-acre station.

Rate of Growth Good
Study of the rate of growth of rainbow trout plants in these lakes reveals that the fish are making themselves right at home, and are finding in the food they eat all the food they need. And surprisingly enough, the warm water lakes in the southern part of the State are yielding just as big if not bigger fish than those 200 miles north.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

TIP TO FALL FISHERMEN
One of the best available fishing in Michigan is being completely overlooked by a few hundred thousand anglers seeking red and blue fish. The rainbow trout fishing in scores of inland lakes widely scattered over the state.
For a good many years the fish division of our conservation department has been planning rainbow trout in inland waters deemed suitable for their living quarters—and it's apparent from late results that what started out to be an experiment has firmly established a completely new sport for the Michigan angler.
Most of the lakes chosen for rainbow planting have an abundance of springs, are fairly deep, well-supplied with a rainbow trout population, but reveal a definitely limited population of fish in the same place. "Cove-bells"—that 3 foot string of splines terminated with a hook and "live ball"—are sometimes used. But in most instances a single spliner ahead of the hook will do the trick.
In late fall you'll find rainbow willing to rise to a fly along to the end of the line, and that's sport to remember. Four Fishing Rules and Regulations supplied free by the Conservation Department lists all trout lakes. Check 'em over soon. Pick one near you, and go on another fishing thrill too long ignored in Michigan Outdoors!

52 Kent Bookmobiles Surpass 1952 Record On Summer Schedule

When the two Kent County Library bookmobiles completed their summer schedule of community stops on Friday, August 22, they had recorded 30,889 circulations of books. This surpasses last summer's total of 25,051 by 25%.
1,018 people registered with Kent County Library for the first time at bookmobile stops this summer. 30 stops were made every week during June, July and August in every township of the county not served by a local library.
After an interim period for re-evaluating and reloading the two bookmobiles known to the county users as "Pat" and "Van" will begin direct service to the rural schools. A third bookmobile, "Mike" will be used for service to the large graded schools.
The staff of Kent County Library has received hundreds of requests for continuation of community bookmobile service through the winter months. The staff members tell us that they have more time to read in the winter.
Mrs. Ruth Waracke, Kent County librarian, said, "We know that year-round service is usually needed, but our present budget will not cover that and school service, too. Our goal for the future is to give everyone in the county equal access to books no matter how far they may live from the advantage of the city."

Hay Fever Isn't The Proper Name U-M Doctor Says

Whoever named "hay fever" must have been a poor judge of humor because this seasonal ailment is usually neither caused by hay nor accompanied by fever, according to a University of Michigan physician.
The most common causes for hay fever are ragweed, grass and tree pollen, and fungus spores. Dr. Kenneth P. Mathews, assistant professor of internal medicine, explained.
He points out that goldenrod pollen is blamed as a major cause for hay fever simply because this weed is judged from the bad company it usually keeps. It is not more polliniferous than other plants, but it is more common in the rural areas.
The staff of Kent County Library has received hundreds of requests for continuation of community bookmobile service through the winter months. The staff members tell us that they have more time to read in the winter.
Mrs. Ruth Waracke, Kent County librarian, said, "We know that year-round service is usually needed, but our present budget will not cover that and school service, too. Well Balanced School Day Lunches

Michigan waterfowl hunters may find some changes in their favorite Great Lakes hunting spots this fall because of high water levels, the conservation department reports.
Many marsh areas have shifted with rising water levels, some of former years being changed to open water, others being created where low ground had existed before.
High water probably has not damaged waterfowl habitat and the department specialist says the change may be beneficial. With each year's shift in the water level, certain plant growths are wiped out or replaced, thereby not allowing a single growth to take over an area.
New brooms sweep clean but an old one is best for sweeping up solution to kill bacteria in crevices in lion houses.

Hunting Accident Law To Stand Court Test Affects All Michigan
A test case is looming at Rogers City on the constitutionality of a law that prevents persons involved in hunting accidents from suing a hunting license for five years after the accident.
A hearing on the issue is tentatively slated in circuit court of Presque Isle county September 22.
Willard Schoben, who accidentally shot his brother, Duane, in 1900 was fined and sentenced to 1803 in Justice court after he brought a suit against his brother. The law provides that because of the accident in 1900, Schoben was not entitled to because the license until late in 1950.

How Many Deer Will We Take?
Everybody else is talking about the new deer-hunting regulations, so we'd better register our opinion while the subject is "hot." With the northern part of the lower peninsula wide-open for killing any deer, buck, doe or fawn on the last three days of the season, mortal damage might be done to our deer herd if three or four hundred thousand hunters took to the woods with a determined gleam in their eye. However, fortunately for the deer, a few psychological factors are working against this possibility.

Record Army Will Start
Let's begin with opening day, November 19th. Probably a record number of hunters will open the season. Opening day falls on a Saturday. There'll be more deer in the Michigan woods that day than any battle in history over produced. Lots of deer will be killed and they won't all be bucks. The horned variety shot by "trigger-happy" hunters will be left to rot in the woods, and the culprits who escape will tell their conscience: "Oh well, they'd be shot the last 3 days anyway, so why should I worry?" Many of these hunters will still consider themselves sportsmen. That's desirable!

New Curriculums As U. of M. Opens

New buildings, new curriculums and new departments will help to highlight the ever-changing scene on the University of Michigan campus when the Fall semester opens on Monday, September 22. Registration starts September 17, giving a week for orientation.

President Harlan Hatcher, who is head of the University, and his administrative officers prepared an operating budget for the coming year, saying, "No more hunting. Populists will have no more. That leaves 100,000 more or less strong."

The last 3 days fall on a week-end. That's bad for the deer. But deer get smart. All that noise has made them college-educated. They won't even produce a kill proof enough to bring to level of the herd as much as 400 deer, with and without horns will be killed in 3 days—and that many only if the weather is good. A customary late November snow storm will not even produce a kill proof enough to bring to level of the herd as much as 400 deer, with and without horns will be killed in 3 days—and that many only if the weather is good.

The new structure is a $1,788,000 out-patient clinic at University Hospital. This provides modern and expanded facilities for handling patients who receive treatment but do not require hospitalization. This unit also is another step toward a centralized medical center and will help the Medical School provide the necessary training for 100 more students than it has had to train prior to 1952.

MSC Dairyman Explains Dairy Law Amendments Effective Sept. 17th

Two items in the amendments to the milk law recently passed by the legislature are of particular interest to dairymen who sell milk and cream for direct consumption or bottling purposes.

The amendments which become effective September 17, 1952, have to do with milk house and equipment. A self-closing door is required between milk house and stable in place of the vestibule which was required by the amendments.

Quality standards are that milk must not be less than three percent butterfat. The bacteria count must not be more than 100,000 per cubic centimeter.

Lift truck boosts profits for fruit growers

Fruit growers who handle 10,000 crates a year can realize generous savings on labor and equipment costs by using a fork lift truck. A recent study by agricultural engineers of Michigan State College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture revealed this saving. In 1950, without a lift truck, a 25,000-bushel apple crop was moved from orchard to storage by 2 tractors, 4 orchard trailers and 7 men. In 1950, a similar crop was handled by a lift truck with 2 tractors and only 2 trailers and 3 men. Savings on loading and unloading operations alone amounted to $1,000 during the harvest season. Your County Agricultural Agent can give you further advice on mechanizing your orchard operation.

Beautiful Crop Michigan Peaches Being Harvested

Michigan's peach crop is a good one and home-growers should take advantage of the situation according to the Michigan Peaches and Apples Extension Specialist, Miss Hershey. The fresh crop was shipped to the Michigan State College and the University of Michigan. This provides for the necessary training for 100 more students than it has had to train prior to 1952.

Why we pamper telephone poles

Did you know timber for telephone poles is growing scarce? And that the cost of a single pole has more than doubled since 1940? To insure a proper supply, and to help keep costs down, Michigan Bell is using new timber species such as Western Larch. And to prolong the life of telephone poles on the job, telephone engineers constantly take advantage of new and better timber preservatives. Michigan Bell's pampered poles are further evidence of a continuing effort to hold costs down while keeping the quality of telephone service high.

More Liberal Deer Law Means Less Starvation Better Health of Herds

What Michigan hunters took on as the most liberal deer regulations granted in over 200 years is in effect a biological necessity for preservation of the herd.

The conservation commission has stamped its approval on the annual 15-day "back country" season for hunting deer. The final three days in the northern lower peninsula open for the taking of deer are 10, 11, and 12 or fawns. A hunting group of four or more also can take one buck for each year.

Conservation Analysts Plan Checking Stations Coming Deer Season

Placement of about 25 checking stations at strategic points along roadways in the northern lower peninsula is planned during the coming deer season to provide conservation department analysts with hunting information.

The stations will be set up on a voluntary basis. Personnel will urge hunters to help the department by offering information on the age, sex, and place where they killed deer.

Most of the stations will be operated only during the first four and the final three days of the season. A few, however, will be operated during the entire season, as at the Straits, and on M27 near Houghton lake.

Roving checks also will be made during the entire season.

Football Season Opens For Freeprot Huskies 12 Lettermen Return

The Freeprot Huskies, under Coach Edward Shy, begin their second football season with 12 lettermen returning. The team will be very light and lacking in reserve strength. The backfield will consist of Gordon and Philip Humphrey, Larry Vandear, George Miner, Peter Janose, and Don Blough. Others given a good chance to make the first team are Seth Proctor, Eugene Poll, Robert King, Inesmen, and Freddie Durkee and Jimmy Newton in the backfield.

Commenting on the tremendous demand for agricultural journalists, Dr. Burchard concluded his survey by stating, "Educators are gravely concerned over the situation and expect it to get worse before it gets better."

Agricultural journalists have been extremely scarce. It has been hard to fill positions on agricultural publications, in advertising agencies dealing with farm supplies and equipment and in editorial college writing and editing work, college officials reported.

Other Fields for Journalists
Another area where many of these specialized journalists are needed is in radio and television work and on daily newspapers, which have constantly been expanding their agricultural sections. Public relations firms which deal with farm people and equipment also are demanding more people trained in both agriculture and journalism.

Venus Heralds Autumn Will Arrive Sept. 22 Evening Star is Here

Venus is coming, folks! Watch for her.

After an absence of a year, Venus again emerging as the "evening star" and may be seen near the western horizon in the early twilight, setting about an hour after the sun, according to Miss Hazel M. Loeb, associate professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

The astronomer indicates fall will be actually arrive September 22 at 9:24 p. m. That's the time the sun reaches the autumnal equinox and crosses the equator, bringing spring to those south of it.

Booster Shots Protect Against Diphtheria as Disease is on Decline

The need for booster shots for protection against diphtheria increases as the incidence of the disease continues to go down, according to the Michigan Department of Health.

Large-scale immunization and more general recognition of the need for booster shots have been largely responsible for reducing diphtheria in Michigan so that currently it is at the lowest point in the state's history.

"While this is all to the good," says Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the state health department's division of disease control, "if we want to keep it that way, we have to make an intensified effort to keep immunization levels up."

He explains that when people are not being constantly exposed to the diphtheria bacillus they lose their artificially induced immunity faster than formerly and must, therefore, be more vigilant about keeping their defenses up.

EVER HEAR OF BUSES —OR STREET-CARS?

Suddenly getting economy-minded, the Federal Security Agency in Washington, D. C., recently did some figuring on how much it was costing its officials and employees to travel around the capital.

They discovered that a ride which cost 60 cents in a taxicab was costing (the taxpayers) $2.30 in the chauffeur-driven Government cars—of which the FSA, as is the case with about every similar Federal agency, maintains a fleet.

Kent Farm Bureau Aims To 'Get Out the Vote' At the Coming Election

The Kent County Farm Bureau Legislative Committee met at the home of Edward Robinette in Gd. Rapids township Wednesday evening to work out plans to get out the rural vote and vote intelligently in the Fall election.

Kent County Farm Bureau feels that if Western Michigan is to continue to have an equal voice in State government the people must be informed that we must defeat amendment No. 2 sponsored by large labor groups in and around Detroit. This amendment would give control of our State government to 4 counties on the east side of the State.

The Farm Bureau is working for a 'yes' vote on amendment No. 3 which would give a fair and equal voice in our State government to all people in Michigan.

The committee urges other organizations and individuals to help in this "vote intelligently" campaign because it would be a catastrophe for rural Michigan if we lose our representation in Lansing.

The committee consists of the following: Lowell Anderson, Tyrone twp., Edward Robinette, G. R. twp.; Elton Smith, Caledonia twp.; Francis Campau, Cascade twp.; Seymour Hesche, Lowell, President of Board, and Thelma Hellman, Lowell, secretary.

Plynn plans to work his way through college, and commenced work Monday morning for a doctor. Most of the students work 20 hours a week, when carrying a full schedule. Classes started on Wednesday, Sept. 10.

WHAT WE CANNOT BE VERY PROUD OF

We Americans have many things to be proud of, but our voting record isn't one of them. In Europe, particularly since the war, people seem to value the franchise more than we do here—perhaps because, since they lost their freedom during many occupations—they appreciate it now that they have it again.

In our last Presidential election, only 54 of every 100 eligible voters cast ballots. Yet in a recent Italian election, 94 out of 100 voted. A Dutch election drew 89 per cent, and in Great Britain 83 per cent voted. Sweden, Norway, Denmark and France each held elections in which 78 per cent or more of the eligible voters cast ballots.

Nearly twice as many workers die from office-job accidents as those that occur during working hours.

The annual State Farm Management Tour of 1952 will be held in the vicinity of Reed City Tuesday, Sept. 23. You probably recall an excellent educational tour in Kent County last year. The stops scheduled for this year's tour are: 10 a. m.—Forest Randall and Son, 13 miles west of Reed City on old U.S. 10; 11:15 a. m. Ferris Leach (Harvey); 12:15—lunch at Evert Fair Grounds; 2:30 p. m. Davy and McLachlan (Evert).

Airplane seeding demonstration at the last stop—Davy and McLachlan. This year promises to be an excellent tour. Better plan to spend the day.

4-H and FFA members can secure some good project animals from three livestock sales coming along in the next few months. On September 13 the West Michigan Guernsey breeders will have their fall sale. On October 4, the West Michigan Angus breeders' sale will be held on November 1, the West Michigan Swine Breeders will hold their annual fall sale of open gilts and boars. There will be some excellent 4-H and FFA animals at these sales, so better plan to attend.

All sales will be held in the new exhibition building on the Lowell 4-H Fair Grounds.

One of the surest ways of damaging an alfalfa stand is to make hay or pasture it heavily during the month of September. The experience of a number of experiment stations indicate the gain you get in a fall crop is offset by smaller yields of hay the next year through loss of stand and loss of vigor. The alfalfa plants about 4 to 6 weeks of growth prior to frost in order to store adequate food supplies in the roots to avoid winter-killing. Replacing the top growth at this period drains out the plant food reserves and leaves it in a weakened condition to face the winter.

Putting up corn silage is still one of the best ways of securing an economical and nutritious dairy feed. The grain in the silage contains the so called lactation factors which increases milk production. Ensiling the corn crop saves more feed units than any other method of harvesting. It's a waste of time to snap off the corn, crib it, and then feed it to the cows. Better put it in the silo.

Temporary silos may be in order if your regular silo is full of grass silage. A trench, snow fence, or baled straw can all be used successfully.

September 18 is the fly free date for Kent County so far as wheat planting date to control Hessian fly.

Fatten Hogs Early For Higher Return

Hogs approaching market weights should be self fed a balanced ration on good pasture, advises Harry F. Moxley, extension specialist in animal husbandry at Michigan State College. Rapid gains are important to early marketing, because the market is glutted and prices break in mid-October or earlier.
