Question is how much money a unit in the vicinity of his home should Uncle Sam spend each year for the Army, Navy and Air year for the Army, Navy and Air Force and how many citizens induction under Selective Service.

Another alternative would be business administration directly. There are some who say the federal government should spend many more "billions than we are now in order to build a "Maginot ring of steel" around the Nation and simultaneously cover the skies with aircraft. Such a policy would cost upwards of $75 billion annually.

Other contend the U. S. should spend far less, stripping the Armed Services of sufficient personnel and letting the Army, Navy, and Air Force fall behind in the development and production of new equipment. This pattern would follow the U. S. policy prior to World War II and before Korea. In both instances America was not alert to the imminence of danger and as a consequence serious and avoidable losses in manpower and material resulted. To determine the proper balance between the "extremists" on both sides would require the ulitmate in wisdom. Of necessity certain calculated risks must be assumed. Moderation is the key to fun and safety! Remember those you love, who aren't at the party are waiting for you to return home safe and sound. "One-for the road" is a potential "murder weapon" in traffic. If you insist on driving to the party, don't hesitate to let someone else drive you home if you're feeling the slightest bit "gay." You may be happy when you leave the party, make sure others stay happy by not turning yourself into a "traffic menace." Never forget that your responsibility is for others as well as yourself, whon you drive. Remember. little errors cause big accidents.
