C. W. Bemer Speaks Rotary Here Joins In Celebrating International Anniversary Wednesday

C. W. Bemer

The Lowell Rotary Club, 60 members strong, sat down to a special "Golden Anniversary" dinner Wednesday, stood up to sing "R-O-T-A-R-Y", and thereby officially inaugurated the 50th year of Rotary International.

As a small cog in the Rotary wheel of service, the Lowell club paid its tribute to the international organization, as 8,000 clubs throughout the world simultaneously joined in the celebration of this event.

Honored guests from 14 Lowell civic organizations, and the Lowell teaching staff were on hand in their recognition of the local celebration. Jay Boelens, chairman for the event, introduced the guests, and Charles White, President of the Lowell Teachers Club, answered the introduction on behalf of all guests present.

Highlighting the celebration, C. W. Bemer, Superintendent of Schools from Muskegon, addressed the group on the "Virtues and Responsibilities of Rotary."

Mr. Bemer, a former District Governor of Rotary, stated that "To be a true Rotarian, man must help his fellow man in his upward pull and outer reach. He must put into service the common principles of Christian ethics." He added that special emphasis and aid must be given to the children of the community, by their teachers and by Rotarians and other service club members to instill in coming generations guiding principles to build a better world.

Lowell's 20th In conjunction with the parent organization's celebration, the Lowell Rotary club also observed its 20th Anniversary. Founded in February, 1935 with a membership of 17, the Lowell club has enrolled 115 member since that time.

Of the original 17 founders, 10 of the charter members are still active in Lowell Rotary, including Frank Coons, Harry Day, Ernest Foreman, Walter Gunser, Robert Hahn, Lee Lampkin, Douglas Oatley, Theron Richmond, Wesley Roth, and Carlton Runciman.

Chairman Boelens gave recognition to these charter members at yesterday's celebration, and also to the two charter members who died while still active in Rotary, Earl Hall and Remick Jefferies.

The Rotary anniversary will continue to be observed throughout the coming year with programs emphasizing the history, accomplishments and objectives of the international organization and the local club.

AN ERROR: MR. DEMING IS PARTNER, NOT DRIVER

Last week The Ledger ran a story about the $400,000 damage suit being brought against the Berg Brothers Elevator, and others, of Alto, by the widow of Wayne E. Taylor; Mr. Taylor is alleged to have died from injuries sustained in an auto-truck crash in April of 1954, involving the Taylor car and a Bergy truck.

We would like to apologize to Charles Deming, who we erroneously listed in our story as the driver of the truck. Mr. Deming is actually a partner in the Alto elevator with Floyd and Walter Bergy, and is named in the suit as such; the driver was William Foster, of Alto, also named a co-defendant.

Council Approves State Project to Improve Highway

Plans of the State Highway department for the widening and improving of Main street in the village of Lowell were approved at the meeting of the village council on Monday night.

Right-of-way purchases have been completed and interested parties have held meetings with the Highway Department Project Engineers to make such changes as were felt necessary.

Bids for the project may be let this spring but work will not begin until the utilities have been moved. Village authorities are optimistic, however, that the project may be started this year.

Campfire Girls Plan Programs for Birthday Month

Now in their 11th consecutive year in Lowell, the Campfire Girls and Blue Birds are planning a spring program full of activity. Since March is their National Birthday month, emphasis will be placed at that time on the birthday theme, "Let Freedom Ring." The girls are preparing for window displays, brief talks before the various service clubs, and a recognition day in all the churches to bring the focus upon the portion of the Campfire Law which reads, "Worship God." A Dad-Daughter Dinner, so successful in former years, will be held late in April, to be followed by the spring Council Fire.

The Boy Scouts have very kindly offered to make their lodge available to the Campfire groups and cook-outs and overnight hikes are being planned by the older girls.

First Group in 1916

A record book from the Methodist Church has been found to include some information about earlier Campfire Girls in Lowell which is of interest to past and present members. The first group was started by Mrs. M. C. Greene in 1916, four years after the national organization was founded. Mrs. Belle Chaffin Coe, lar was the leader, and the Methodist Ladies Aid sponsored the group. Mrs. Doris Roth and Mrs. Mildred Englehardt were the leaders of an active group through the early 1920's, and Mrs. Ann Roth also worked with these girls when she first came to Lowell to teach.

In the fall of 1944, Mrs. David Coons, then a teacher in the High school, saw the need for extra-curricular activities of this nature for the grade school and junior high girls. With the aid of the staff of the Grand Rapids-Cent County Council several groups were started and leaders were recruited, mostly from among the teachers. The program has been continuous here since that time.

100 Girls Benefit

At present, about 100 girls benefit from it, for there are seven groups from the 2nd through the 7th grades. Most of the leaders are mothers, and in the fall of 1954 the PTA was asked to be the sponsoring organization. Mrs. Coons now acts as chairman of the leaders' committee.

This Friday Lowell will travel to Rockford to play their last conference game of the 1954-55 season, starting at 7:00. Close Game Friday

Anyone who missed the game played with East Grand Rapids on the home court last Friday missed the most exciting game to date. East finally won the tussle by the score of 67-66, thus securing their first Valley Championship since 1947. But the huge East fan crowd, expecting the usual win by their team, was almost demoralized when the Ar-

Enoch Carlson Wins Supervisor Nomination

In the primary election held Monday in Bowne township, veteran supervisor Fred Pattison, after 20 years of service, was defeated for the Republican nomination by Enoch Carlson. The vote was 80 to 77, which amounts to election as there was no Democratic candidate.

In the April election Joseph Flynn, Democrat, will compete against Republicans Alex Winger, and Ken Sinclair, for the two trusteeships open.

It is interesting to note that of the 173 total votes cast 13 were disqualified because the voters used both the Republican and Democratic ballots. There can be no split tickets in a primary election.

Ada Vote Light

In Ada township, the only other in this area having a primary contest, just 176 voters turned out. The contest was for the position of Trustee, in which Grover Hill with 146 and Carl Keena with 88 won the two positions open over James Cooper, who received 81 votes.

This Friday is World Prayer Day

The World Day of Prayer will be held in the Congregational Church at 2 o'clock, Friday. This is the sixty-eighth successive year that the United Church Women have sponsored the event. Miss Gorgelina Sozaga, of Buenos Aires, Argentina, has written the 1955 service. The theme is, "Abide in Me." Beginning with sunrise services in the Tropical Tonga Islands, through 125 countries to St. Lawrence Island in the Arctic, one continuous prayer service will be held. There will be at least 19,000 such meetings in the United States alone. Never was there a time when people were so conscious of the help and comfort that can be found in prayer. Men and women of all faiths are cordially invited to attend—for just one hour out of your day.

Auto Overtakes in Creek Accident Near Elmdale Takes Life Of Clarksville Twin; 4 Injured

Miss Margaret Zook, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Zook of Route 2, Clarksville, was killed instantly in an automobile accident near Elmdale Saturday evening about eight o'clock. The car, in which she was a passenger with several other persons, went out of control on Tyler hill on 76th st., near Freepport road, and plunged through the north railing of the Tyler Creek bridge, landing overturned in the creek in about two feet of water. Margaret suffered a broken neck.

Her twin sister, Marcellus, was among the four passengers injured and rushed by Roth ambulance to Ionia County Memorial hospital. She suffered a broken collar bone; a sister, Beulah, 15, was treated for a fractured nose; a brother, Faye, 19, who was driving the car, received back injuries; and Mrs. Grace Carigan, 61, of Clarksville, suffered a pelvic fracture as well as a deep head cut. Mrs. Carigan will be in the hospital for a few days, and Faye's injuries, although first considered minor, now appear to be a bit more complicated and he is still hospitalized. Beulah was released Monday from the hospital, and Marcellus was to come home Tuesday.

The other two passengers in the car, Mrs. Carigan's son, Harold, 17, and Martha Schrock, 15, of Clarksville R-1, were unhurt, although Miss Schrock was stunned by a severe blow on top of her head, and was taken to the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Tobias Schrock, to recover. Faye Zook, in spite of his injuries, and Carigan, who was unhurt, assisted in helping the other passengers from the wrecked car; also a passing motorist Joe Willis Stahl, stopped to render assistance.

The group were enroute to a revival meeting at the Calvary Brethren church at Logan Lake when the accident occurred, Miss Zook's father is a farmer and minister of the Mennonite church in Bowne township, near the scene of the accident. Her mother was visiting another son, Keith, in Wichita, Kansas, at the time, and was called home Sunday by the tragedy.

Funeral services were held for Miss Zook Wednesday afternoon, at the Mennonite church, Rev. Schrock officiating. Interment in the cemetery there. Pallbearers were Sanford Christophel, Harold Carigan and Dale, Dana, Wayne and Marlin Kauffman.

Besides her parents, and the brothers and sisters mentioned above, Miss Zook is survived by two other brothers, Edwin and Donald, and two sisters, Mrs. Jo Ann Suttler and Mrs. Evelyn Troyer, Jr.; her grandmothers, Mrs. Fannie Zook of Clarksville, and Mrs. Lucy Stahl, of Illinois; and several nieces and nephews.

Margaret was a student at Lake Odessa high school, and a member of the Mennonite church.

Wa-Ha-Ka Campfire

The Wa-Ha-Ka Campfire girls held a meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 22, playing a few games, and holding a short business session. They also talked about symbol stories.

A few years ago a different kind of extra curricular activity was formed at Lowell in the shape of a language club. This club, which deals with the life and speech of the Spaniards, is under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Doyle, pictured above. Her twelve years in this field include dairy (1 yr.), wild flowers (2 yrs.), canning (6 yrs.), clothing (6 yrs.), flowers (4 yrs.), and vegetable gardening (2 yrs.).

The presence of Mrs. Doyle in the picture is to call your attention to the unsung heroes of the extra-curricular activities at school—the faculty advisor. Without them and their co-operation there would be no clubs, no choir and no variation from the humdrum routine of school life. Mrs. Doyle and Barbara are shown discussing the Spanish Club activities, past and present, which include a Pep meeting, the annual Square Dance to be held in May, and the Spanish Banquet, to which members of the club will bring assorted Spanish foods.

Barb, who is an honor roll student, plans to go on to school after she graduates this June, (which, when you think about it, isn't too far away.) She is considering Junior College in Grand Rapids, or Western Michigan in Kalamazoo, where she will work toward becoming a nurse of an elementary teacher.

Outside of high school Barb serves her community as a Sun-

Your Congressman favors the enactment of the Trade Agreement Extension Act. The bill is flexible enough to give the President authority to meet emergency situations and yet rigorous enough to guarantee reasonable protection for American industry and agriculture.

Discuss Causes of Epileptic Seizure

Epilepsy is far more common than people think. Approximately 900,000 individuals in the US suffer from it. In a recent radio talk over the University of Michigan broadcasting station, WJUM, Dr. Donald E. Forbeck, a senior clinical instructor in the UM's Department of Neurology, stated that epilepsy is not only a curable disease but is still one of the least understood among the public.

Said Dr. Forbeck: "People no longer adhere to the idea of witchcraft as the cause of epilepsy, but the horror and mysticism with which many regard epilepsy still remains to be dispensed." Many persons think that because epilepsy is related to the brain it is akin to insanity. "This impression is erroneous, and I should like to dispel such a notion," he declared.

There are some who think that because of the involvement of the brain, that epilepsy is akin to low intelligence. Actually, indicated the physician, studies show that 67 per cent of the epileptics are above average in intelligence. What then seems to cause an epileptic's seizures? The UM neurologist lists a few: "Scar tissue in the brain as a result of an injury; infections such as 'sleeping sickness' or 'brain fever'; brain tumor; severe kidney infections; low blood sugar; and possibly, heredity."

"Do-it-yourself" activity in American homes, with the citizenry having more and more leisure time after work, was a $6-million business last year.

Navy Has Submarine Shutter-bugs

With the exception of submarine sailors, most men who follow the sea waves prefer to do it above water, not below. But Thomas H. Vaughn, Jr., photographer's mate second class, USN, of 8 S. Broad st., Penna Grove, N. J., has done more work under the sea than on top of it... without benefit of a submarine.

Tired of Potatoes? Try Shunk Cabbage

Cuts like crisp and cows like cowpats, but shunks won't go near shunk cabbage.

Odor is not the problem. Shunk cabbage smells like any other plant until it is crushed or bruised. Then it gives out a sharp, acrid scent that would make any polite feel at home.

Skunks, and most other animals except man, avoid eating shunk cabbage because it is mildly poisonous in the raw state, according to Dr. Marion T. Hall, biologist at Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills.

A relative of jack-in-the-pulpit, shunk cabbage has other distinctions besides its smell. It is popularly called "the first flower of spring," and has a built-in furnace hot enough to melt several pounds of fat.

Pointing out that several plants, including dandelions, may occasionally, if necessary, Four beans to baking pan. Remove the onion, if desired. Score the rim side of the salt pork, cutting about 1 inch deep. Bury all but the rim into the beans. The liquid should come just to the top of the beans. Sprinkle with the granulated sugar. Bake at 300 degrees until golden brown and some of the liquid is absorbed.

The Bubbling Pot

1 pound navy bean; 1 medium large onion; 1 1/2 pound chunk salt pork; 1 teaspoon salt; 2 table-spoons brown sugar; 2 table-spoons granulated sugar.

Clean beans well. Cover with water and soak overnight. In the morning add whole onion, salt pork, salt, brown sugar. Simmer over very low heat until beans are tender. Add more water or been blooming in sunny, protected areas throughout winter. Dr. Hall says shunk cabbage gets credit for being "first" because it melts its way through blankets of snow still covering most other vegetation.

A heavy, long lived plant with roots up to 12 feet long, shunk cabbage continues to develop during the cold months, reaching a peak of metabolic action in February and March. This active cell growth causes heat which melts snow for several inches around and above a purple-mottled spathe similar in leaf formation to that of the ordinary cabbage.

This early emergence led green-hungry ladies to seek a means of adding the plant to their diet. They found that boiling the tender leaves and whitish leafstalks three times, pouring off the water each time, removed both the poison and the offensive odor. Today many fine herb-gourmets still like this succulent vegetable seasoned with butter, salt and pepper, and eaten like spinach.

Orville Kellogg attended the funeral of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Estelle Kellogg at Rockford, Sunday. Burial in Ada cemetery.

Laugh a little every day—it is the straight road to the best there is in life.

It's highway robbery!

For sheer fun out on the road, Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

Up to this year, maybe there were reasons for wanting one of the higher-priced cars. If you demanded something really special in the way of driving fun, you simply had to pay a premium to get it.

Not any more! The Motoramic Chevrolet has changed all that. Who could wish for more excitement than the new 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" delivers? (For those who do, 180-h.p. is optional at extra cost in all V8 models.) Chevrolet also offers the two highest powered sizes in its field.

Come in and see how the Motoramic Chevrolet is stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Couple

Lowell Congregational Church was the scene last Friday evening of the wedding of Miss Nancy Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wood, and Ralph Brown, Jr. Mr. Brown's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown of Grand Rapids. Rev. Norman Woon officiated at the double-ring ceremony, before an altar decorated with white gladioli and candelabra.

Mrs. Arnold Wittenbach, organist, played traditional wedding music, and accompanied Miss Judy Schneider, who sang "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly" and the "Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of rose-point pattern lace and tulle, over taffeta. The long torso bodice of Princess style featured a portrait neckline and cap sleeves, with very full tulle skirt flaring from the hipline, sweeping into a short train. She wore long tapered lace mitts, and her imported illusion veil was secured by a Juliet cap of lace embroidered with seed pearls. She carried white roses and stephanotis.

Her only attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Janice Copeland as the matron of honor, and Mrs. Kay Wood as bridesmaid. They were attired in identical gowns of aqua taffeta, with matching headpieces and mitts. They carried pink carnations and stephanotis.

Assisting the groom were Eugene Weaver, as best man, and Ronald Wood, brother of the bride and Marvin Freedman of Grand Rapids, as ushers. Virginia Snyder, a niece of the groom, was flower girl, and wore a yellow taffeta gown with matching head piece. Vance Snyder, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding

Mrs. Wood chose an ice blue dress with matching hat and black accessories. Her corsage was red roses. Mrs. Brown wore a Navy blue silk crepe gown with matching accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

At the reception following the ceremony, in the church parlors, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wood were Master and Mistress of ceremonies. Elaine Weaver presided at the punch bowl, and assisting about the rooms were Pauline Preston, Joyce Williams and Mary Speerstra.

The couple left for a trip to Florida, and the bride chose a navy blue faille dress with pink accessories for her going-away outfit. Her corsage was white roses.

The newlyweds will make their home in Grand Rapids where both are employed.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Dearborn, Adrian, Muskegon, Six Lakes, Ionia, Fenwick, Pawamo, and Grand Rapids.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my mother, Emogene Sargeant.

Dearest Mother, how I miss you, Miss you more each passing day;

I can hear your sweet voice saying,

Just before you passed away: "Blessed Saviour, Blessed Saviour,"

And He heard your humble plea.

You and I both knew, dear mother,

That He was crucified for you and me.

I know you're home in glory.

With our Saviour, face to face.

No one else in this wide world,

Can ever take your place.

Sadly missed by your daughter,

with whom you lived.
