Car Demolished As Brakes Fail Peter Timinskis Hits Freight Train Near Moseley Wednesday Morning

Peter Timinskis, 31, of Route 1, Lowell, suffered a fractured leg, foot and arm, and cuts and bruises, when his car crashed into a C & O freight train, about 8:15 a.m. Wednesday morning. The accident oc-urred at the Lincoln Lake road crossing, just south of Moseley. Mr. Timinskis was taken by Roth ambulance to Butterworth hospital. His car was completely demolished. Frank Stephens, Lowell police chief, and Kent County deputy, said that Timinskis, who was driving north on Lincoln Lake road, told him he saw the train coming but his brakes failed and he tried to avoid the train by heading for the ditch, but did not make it. He crashed into the third freight car from the engine.

Last week the Ledger had a new column entitled "From the Bench" and written by "Duck" Gotschall. He will cover various aspects of the sports world from hunting to football, and of course, we are sure he will have a lot to say about basketball, being the Lowell High coach.

We know you will enjoy this extra news about sports in general.

DANGEROUS COOKY

I'm "Cooky," the fire that lives in your stove.

I hate being caged there; I wish I could rove!

My chance sometimes comes — when a curtain close by I can zip up the wall in the wink of an eye.

Or whenever the broiler has grease splattered in it.

I can flare up and out of control in a minute!

But keep the stove clean, curtains out of the way.

And I'll cook your meals safely — you'll find it will pay!

Remember Fire Prevention week is October 9-15.

Mrs. Kay Myers and her little daughter, Renee, 6, have taken the Avery apartment at 319 North St.

They moved here from Grand Rapids, and have been properly greeted by our village hostess, Glad Bergin.

Both of the new partners have served in the Marine Corps and attended Lowell Schools. Mr. Schneider is a graduate of Michigan State, and Mr. Doyle of Hillsdale College.

Who's Got the Hives? Bee Stealers Hit Here

Two bee hives, each containing about 80 pounds of honey, were stolen Tuesday night from the Lawrence Precious Apiary on Vergennes st., near M-91, north of Lowell.

Neighborhood children had noticed someone at the apiary and thought it was Mr. Precious working there; but suspicious actions led to a call to Mr. Precious at his home, and on his arrival it was discovered that one hive was missing, and another had been dropped in the road.

It was placed back off the road, and Mr. Precious went back home. However, a check Wednesday morning revealed that the thieves had apparently returned later in the evening, and taken another hive.

Two persons are suspected to have taken part in the theft and we are wondering if the police are going to be aided in their search for the culprits by examining suspects for bee stings or hives?

October Will Be Membership Month For Lowell P.T.A.

With an enrollment of over 1,000 pupils in the Lowell public schools, it is felt by the P.T.A. board that membership in this organization should be substantially larger than it is now. There was an excellent turnout at the first meeting with 134 members signed up and it is hoped that the next meeting will bring out even more interested people and that the membership list will be increased.

A membership committee has been organized with seventeen mothers who have volunteered to phone people reminding them of the coming P.T.A. meetings. Also anyone wishing a ride to P.T.A. may call any one of these women and a ride will be provided for them. This group will also sign up any new members. These volunteer workers live in all sections of town and in surrounding areas, so are accessible to anyone wishing transportation.

By using this method, P.T.A. is trying to enlarge its membership without adding to the already heavy load of the teachers by asking them to collect money for us. The dues are only 50¢ a person, or $1.00 a couple.

The members of this committee are: Chairman, Mrs. H. C. Elzinga; treasurer, Mrs. John Jones; Mrs. Edward Denkena, Mrs. Albertine Haggai, Mrs. Wilbur Wittenbach, Mrs. Florence McFall, Mrs. Ray Alexander, Mrs. Herbert Harris, Mrs. Charles Posthumus, Mrs. Robert Wotell, Mrs. N. I. Grimwood, Mrs. Glendon Bovee, Mrs. Dave Clark, Jr., Mrs. M. Jack Fonger, Mrs. Paul Kerekes, Mrs. David Miller, Mrs. Stephen Nisbet, Mrs. Henry Koewers. Don't hesitate to call any one of them if you need a ride, or if you wish to sign up for P.T.A.

Next meeting of the Lowell P.T.A. is to be Monday, October 10, and the program will center on safety. The name-drawing feature will be continued, and a lucky parent who is present, may have his or her name drawn; this means that person's children will each receive a gift of $1.00 from the P.T.A.

Join the P.T.A. now. October is an important month to this organization — it is "membership month".

Christians to Observe World Communion Oct. 2

Cross Country Team Off to Good Start Three Wins, No Losses

Monday night the Lowell cross country team defeated Grandville to the tune of 35 to 23, chalking up their third win of the 1955-56 season. This group of fine athletes is certainly off to a fine record if present indications hold true, as they have yet to see defeat.

Bob Carigan set a new conference record of 10 min. 10 seconds; other runners besides Bob who finished were George DeVries, Toby Waters, Loren Barton, Ken Canfield, Bill Hoffman, Noel Smith and Ernie Wiegler.

The Lowell Cross Country team opened their 1955 season a week ago Monday by defeating Rockford in a very tight battle 27-30. Then on Thursday the Red Arrows met Wyoming Park, one of the stronger teams in the Conference and convincingly whipped them 24-31.

Leading the team thus far has been Bob Carigan, a lanky junior, who toured the 2 mile course in 10 minutes and 18 seconds for the top time of the year.

Following Bob this season respectively, have been George DeVries (who is pressing Bob closely), Toby Waters, Ken Canfield (who has been looking particularly good in recent practices), Loren Barton, Ernie Wiegler and Bill Hoffman.

Bernard Collins and Art Litschewski have been pressing the other seven and before the season is over will make their presence known. There are nineteen boys out for cross-country. DeVries, rep.

Rebekah Lodge Observes Anniversary

An interesting meeting of the Lowell Rebekah Lodge was held last Tuesday evening, opening with a good attendance at a potluck supper. The long table was beautifully set with flowers and colors of the Lodge.

After a delicious supper, a program commemorating the anniversary of the founding of the Rebekah Order was presented by the committee. Instrumental music was furnished by the Geelhood girls and a fine paper on Rebekah Order was prepared and given by Noble Grand, Mrs. Chas. Clarke.

The regular business meeting of the Lodge was called at 8 o'clock p. m. A former Lowell resident, Mrs. Wynn Freeland, who now resides in California, was a guest for the evening.

Plans were made for committee meetings and activities preparatory to the District meeting in November.

The plaque is a symbol of honor to this Lowell firm for its record of working a full year with a minimum of compensable industrial injuries. Mr. Schaefer, works manager of the firm, in accepting the safety award, attributed the fine record to the combined effort of each and every employee, and specifically commended Melbourne Hartley, in charge of plant safety, for his fine job. Neither team scored again until the last few minutes of the game when Lowell recovered their own fumble behind their own goal line and Wyoming added a 2 point safety making the final score Lowell 6, Wyoming 14.

New Mercury Here At Runciman Motors; Many New Features

Exciting new body styles featuring a low-silhouette in all three series, three new Safety-Surge engines with major improvements in performance, and distinctive changes in exterior and in interior trim and fabrics are introduced by Mercury for 1956.

The new cars will be displayed at C. H. Runciman Motor Sales on Thursday, September 29.

"A total of 13 models in Monterey, Monterey and Custom series will enable Mercury for 1956 to penetrate further into all levels of the medium-price car market", said Jay Boelens, general sales manager.

This is the first new model introduced since Mercury became a separate division of Ford Motor Company some six months ago. Further emphasizing the wide selection offered prospective customers, Mercury for 1956 will have a total of 15 attractive body colors and 60 two-tone combinations.

A new low-price two-door sedan called the "Medalist" is one of six cars in the expanded Mercury Custom series. The "Medalist" was designed specifically for those who want big car performance and feel, yet at the same time require low cost transportation.

In offering a choice of three high compression, overhead valve, V-8 engines, Mercury has designed its power plants and its transmissions to complement each other.

Stilbestrol is Efficient Gain Booster

Most Michigan beef cattle feeders are now convinced that stilbestrol in the fattening ration is an efficient gain booster. They came to this conclusion following the fall Cattle Feeders Day at Michigan State University, according to M.S.U. animal husbandmen. Dr. Wise Burroughs of Iowa State College told the feeders about extensive research findings on the use of the hormone in cattle feed. He said tests results from most of the nation's experiment stations gave the conclusion that: Cattle will gain up to 20 per cent faster with the hormone in the ration. And they will make their gains on 13 per cent less feed. There is no difference in cooler shrink or carcass quality between those fed stilbestrol and those not fed the hormone. Stilbestrol can be used effectively on all fattening cattle, including heifers.

Free Trees and Shrubs Offered by State

Southern Michigan farm operators desiring free trees and shrubs under the state's farm game habitat program can apply now by dropping a card to the Conservation Department's game division at Lansing, 26. About 1,333,000 trees and shrubs will be shipped in late October to farmers who asked for the plantings earlier this year. Hunters pay for the stock to provide more food and cover for small game in southern Michigan. The money comes from taxes on hunting equipment, distributed under the Pittman-Robertson program. Farmers gain by getting trees for field windbreaks, multi-trunk trees for "living fences", and other erosion-stopping plantings. After planting, farmers are not obligated to let hunters use their lands.

A big man is not one who makes no mistakes, but one who is bigger than any mistake he makes.

HELP Your Safety Patrol

Michigan's 43,000 safety patrol boys guarded their posts last year without a single school child fatality at a school crossing. They couldn't have performed the feat without the cooperation of the public. Therefore, Automobile Club of Michigan asks parents to urge their youngsters to help their safety patrols by continuing to cooperate. Auto Club also reminds drivers to be extra cautious near schools, at both patrol-guarded and unguarded crossings. To bring this message direct to the Michigan school children, Auto Club has distributed almost 11,000 full-size copies of this poster to educational institutions throughout the state.

Game-For-Tips Tips Offered

Want to know how the experts would prepare Hunter Hubby's pheasant or duck for a tasty treat? The answers are in a bulletin, "Good Eating From Woods and Fields." It's free from the county extension office. It tells about various tested methods on preparing pheasant, rabbit, grouse, wild duck muskrat and other wild animals. The publication, Extension Bulletin 252, was prepared jointly by Michigan State University and the Michigan Department of Conservation.

REASONING PROPOSAL Needs New Petition

Fifty people came to the public hearing before the Cascade Township Zoning Board Saturday evening at the town hall on the question of rezoning the Walker property on Laraway Lake road from Class B residential to Commercial purposes.

MacDonald-Owner Post No. 451 American Legion is buying the fifteen acres and proposes to build a clubhouse for legion and community meetings, and to open the grounds to civic and youth groups. Some adjacent property owners oppose the change to commercial rating on the ground that such zoning, once acquired, means loss of long-range control of the area's use.

Opinion seemed to be about equally divided. Decision of the zoning board was to ask that interested persons circulate a new petition, containing restrictions on the use of the property.

WEEKLY COMMUNION REASON FOR TELECAST

Cascade Christian church was chosen to have its worship service telecast over WOOD's this Sunday morning, from 9 to 10 o'clock, because the day is World Communion Sunday, and the local church is a member of the Disciples of Christ, observing communion every week.

Purpose of the telecast series of church services is to give viewers an idea of how the various denominations worship. Each church appears in rotation to conduct regular service. The Cascade church, in observing communion, will be following its customary procedure.

The Woodland chapel service started last winter by the Grand Rapids Christian association in conjunction with the radio station, is held weekly in the large studio in WOOD's new building on College Street. The chapel service, made locally, installed to make a sanctuary.

The chapel holds a congregation of 200 and as large a group of worshippers as possible is desired for an effective telecast. Admission is by ticket only. Tickets may be obtained from Paul Slater, and a few will be distributed at the studio door, which closes at 8:45 a.m. Cascade Christian church will hold no Sunday school services this Sunday, and no other church services.

Let's take a walk around the NEW '56 FORD!

It's the fine car at half the fine car price!

- We'd like to show you some of the things that make the Ford one of America's finest cars... though it's one of the lowest-priced. Let's start with these long, low lines. Looks like it hates to stand still, doesn't it?
- Here, on your left, is the inspiration for the styling of the '56 Ford—the famous Ford. Look at those broad, flat hoods, for example. Here is styling that will stay in style.
- Here's what you ride on. This frame has five cross-members including a special K-bar member up front. It can really take it! By the way, the control arms of Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension are angle-mounted to cushion out the head-on as well as the up-down shock of bumps.
- The new 202-h.p. Thunderbolt V-8 will give you a new lease on driving enjoyment. It's available in Fordomatic Fairlane and Station Wagon models. You can have the "GO"-packed 176-h.p. V-8 in Fordomatic Mainline and Customline models, or Ford's new 157-h.p. Six is available in any model.
- Note the deep-center design of this new LifeGuard steering wheel. The wheel rim is over three inches above the post to help cushion the driver in case of an accident. It's a feature of new LifeGuard Design which Ford spent over two years developing... to give you added protection in case of an accident.
- Here's Ford's new LifeGuard door latch. It is another member of Ford's new LifeGuard family. A double-grip locking engagement reduces the chance of doors springing open under unusual strains of impact. Accidents are less serious injury in accidents are less when passengers remain in the car.

Well, that covers the important points. But there's a lot more. So we'd like to invite you to come in and see the new '56 Ford for yourself. Then you'll see the colorful new exterior and interior, the quality workmanship that is an evident everywhere. Then you'll learn the full story. When you do, you'll know that Ford is the fine car at half the fine car price.

Many Alaska GI's Wile Away Leisure Panning for Gold

GOLD IN THAT THAR CRACK!—Week-end prospectors' soldiers stationed at Fort Richardson, Alaska, pan for gold in nearby Ship Creek, an area about 100 miles from the post. Prospectors are looking for gold in the East which has been hit hard by the recent floods there caused by the hurricane.

The program which has been planned by these combined groups can be highly successful, states Post Commander Richard Blumens. He says the public will assist them. The groups are asking for clothing of all types and sizes, in clean usable condition, plus any financial aid that you may care to give to this worthy cause.

The Post club rooms on the east side of the Lowell City Hall will be open daily from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. on October 3 through 8, and on October 15 for receiving any gifts and donations.

Service officers Jim LaDuc, Fernie Kelley and Cora Troy are the committee in charge of this worthwhile project. Commander Blumens states that Mr. LaDuc has written the State Department of the V.F.W. in Connecticut for help in selecting a town for adoption by Lowell, a village about the same size of Lowell, and in need of assistance. But, in the meantime, collections will be made so that help can be given as soon as possible after receipt of the name of the town.

Old-time gold prospectors who tramp the snow-capped mountains of Alaska during the spring and summer months with pan, pick and shovel are faced with a friendly invasion. The weekend soldier-pro prospector is on the march.

None of the soldiers has struck it rich yet but many are panning enough of the precious metal—current value $36 an ounce—to the tune of $10 a day. Some of the old-time prospectors report that times really have changed since the days of the gold wars. The old-timers, working on the theory that there is enough ore left for all, are encouraging their younger counterparts and teaching them the tricks of the trade.

Sergeant Fred R. Rowley of Headquarters Company, 8350 Army Unit, has made prospecting a family project. The Rowleys, whose state-side home is in Jacksonville, Fla., can really cover an area; there are six of them—the sergeant and his wife and four children. They are using the favorite equipment of the soldier-pro prospector—pie tins for pans—they pan the stream bed in one "hole" using tweezers to pick the fine gold dust from the pan. Then, when the holes are thoroughly cleaned, the clan moves a few yards upstream and repeats the process.

Rowley doesn't expect to grow rich but as he says, "you never can tell. Just finding the stuff is thrill enough to keep my family at

Johnson Farm Yields Giant Silage

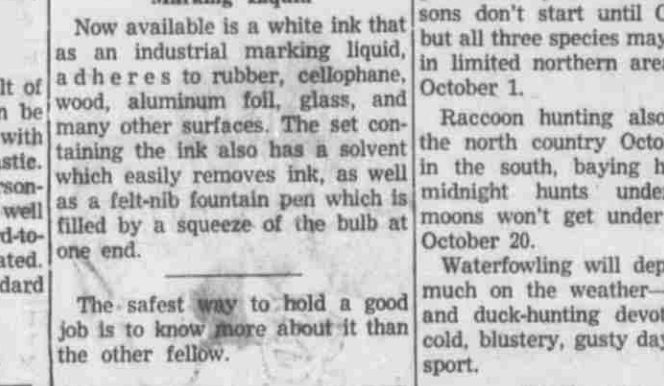

Arthur Meyers, of 2023 Nash ave., (left) and George Koenig, lived near Johnson and Johnson, and his son Dale, are holding giant '11' and '1979' tall stalks of sorgho from a 5-acre field of silage planted by the Johnsons this year on one of their farms near Alto.

A desire to try something new has yielded more than a 90-ton silage crop from a 5-acre field of sorgho and soybean silage at the Johnson farm near Alto, Mich. The Johnsons, Arthur Meyers, George Koenig and his son Dale, are holding giant '11' and '1979' tall stalks of sorgho from a 5-acre field of silage planted by the Johnsons this year on one of their farms near Alto.

They purchased through Bergy Brothers Elevator in Alto, was Black Amber sorgho and Blackhawk soybeans. For planting Dale states he mixed 90 pounds of soybeans and 25 pounds of sorgho for each acre. He put down 300 pounds of 4-6-16 fertilizer per acre. This would have also been done if the field had been planted in corn for silage. The cost of planting, therefore, was increased only by the cost of the seed, which was $15 higher than the Alto farm would have cost in corn.

Conservation Department workers throughout the state are staking park equipment for the winter months. Here a crew in one of the state's 58 public parks stacks picnic tables to reduce weathering action.

Arthur Meyers, of 2023 Nash ave., (left) and George Koenig, lived near Johnson and Johnson, and his son Dale, are holding giant '11' and '1979' tall stalks of sorgho from a 5-acre field of silage planted by the Johnsons this year on one of their farms near Alto.

A desire to try something new has yielded more than a 90-ton silage crop from a 5-acre field of sorgho and soybean silage at the Johnson farm near Alto, Mich. The Johnsons, Arthur Meyers, George Koenig and his son Dale, are holding giant '11' and '1979' tall stalks of sorgho from a 5-acre field of silage planted by the Johnsons this year on one of their farms near Alto.

They purchased through Bergy Brothers Elevator in Alto, was Black Amber sorgho and Blackhawk soybeans. For planting Dale states he mixed 90 pounds of soybeans and 25 pounds of sorgho for each acre. He put down 300 pounds of 4-6-16 fertilizer per acre. This would have also been done if the field had been planted in corn for silage. The cost of planting, therefore, was increased only by the cost of the seed, which was $15 higher than the Alto farm would have cost in corn.

Great Danger In Oil Stoves And Small Heaters

Portable oil stoves and space heaters last year took a terrible toll of lives.

With the coming of cold weather, when stoves and heaters operate full scale, it is very important to understand that most fires caused by oil stoves and space heaters start for one of these reasons:

1. Careless handling.
2. Allowing wicks to become dirty or uneven.
3. Spilling fuel.
4. Tipping or knocking over the heater.
5. Overfilling tanks.
6. Placing heater too close to combustible material.

There is also the danger of asphyxiation if the appliance is used in a tightly closed room.

Aware of the dangers, some cities have passed ordinances prohibiting the use of these appliances. Where their use is permitted, the National Board of Fire Underwriters urges the following safety measures be taken:

1. Thoroughly inspect and clean the heater or oil stove before putting it into operation each season.
2. Be sure it is set level.
3. Keep it clean and free of dirt at all times.
4. Never place it near curtains, tablecloths or other hanging material, or where such material may be blown over it.
5. Place it out of the line of traffic.
6. Never fill or carry it while it is lighted.
7. Never use it in a room with all the doors and windows shut.
8. Don't leave a heater unattended after it is first lighted. For at least 15 minutes watch the flame and adjust it so that it produces no smoke, because as the heater warms up its flame often increases.
9. Refill it outdoors. Keep the fuel supply outside. Wipe up all spillage.
10. See that the latch holding the top part of a tip-over type heater to the lower parts hold them securely together.
11. Use the proper grade of oil.
