Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Weill are owners of last week's mystery farm, located on Parnell road just north of M-21, on Route 1 out of Ada. Mr. and Mrs. Welll have just taken over the eighty-acre plot which has been farmed by several persons in the many years passed. As you can see from the aerial photo, extensive bulldozing and clearing has been done, and the Weills are looking forward to retired farming, mainly beef cattle and pasture. Mr. Weill at present is employed in Grand Rapids as an engineer. They formerly lived on Conservation rd. Pine trees are to be planted, and they hope to make use of the fine little lake on the back of the property and the spring-fed creek. Among the former owners of this property are Harry Tichlaar, Mr. Slomski, Gottlieb Althaus and the Matthews. First to phone the Ledger correctly identifying the Weill farm were their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. William Roth, who will receive a gift subscription from the Ledger. Other calls were from Lens Lehman, Dan Byrnes, and Everett Wittenbach. Be sure to check the mystery farm picture this week, and see if you can identify it.
