Five Pounds of Budget Figures Presented for Congress' Approval

Last week the White House sent to my office a five-pound book bound in a soft brown cover with contents which will affect not only the lives and welfare of Americans today, but the lives and wellbeing of generations yet unborn. It was President Eisenhower's balanced budget for the fiscal year 1957 which becomes effective July 1.

Our national budget is not just a large book of cold facts and impersonal figures describing fiscal operations. It is rather a comprehensive plan expressing the scope of federal activity in terms of dollars and cents for meeting our national objectives. These objectives may best be defined as: 1) a continued dedication toward permanent world peace; 2) to sustain and achieve newer and greater heights of prosperity, and 3) safeguard the financial strength and stability of the dollar, not only for the present but future generations as well.

President Eisenhower feels that these objectives can be met satisfactorily in fiscal 1957 with a budget which recommends appropriations totalling $65,865 billion. For this same period the president estimates revenues at $66,300 billion which leaves a $435 million surplus. The President's balanced budget rests on two main conditions. They are reduced federal expenditures resulting from government economies made during the past three years and greater tax revenues generated by higher levels of national prosperity.

Now up to Congress

The President's budget is actually a series of estimates and requests which he makes for Congressional approval. Now it's up to the Congress whether more or less than the budget requests are to be made available. Already in the Congressional chambers there is talk of more, not less spending than proposed by Ike and at the same time one hears suggestions for a tax reduction. There is little if anything being said in some quarters about the public debt which stands at about $279 billion and the $7 billion in interest payments which must be made each year. Or the fact that the government has been in the red 22 of the last 25 years.

Two areas absorbing substantial portions of the budget for 1957 deserve special note. One involves the 61 per cent linked to the national security. This includes funds for the military, mutual security, atomic energy, and stockpiling. We can hope and pray that world affairs may soon be less strained so it is possible to reduce this sum and divert portions of it into more constructive channels of human endeavor.

Another ingredient of the budget is that of annual interest payments which total 11 per cent of our vast national debt of $7 billion. It seems logical enough that reductions in the national debt would serve to reduce this heavy annual interest load and thereby make smaller budgets possible. This of course would permit a legitimate federal tax reduction.

Social Security Change
This past week I introduced a bill to change social security provisions which would allow a widow with minor children to earn up to $3,600 a year without losing survivorship benefits. Presently the earning limit is $1,200 a year which hardly seems adequate for a woman in such an unfortunate position to provide for her children.

My bill has been referred to the House Committee on Ways and Means for consideration. Your Congressman was prompted to introduce this legislation after talking with a widow with children at Belmont last fall while conducting my "mobile office" tour.

By Gerald R. Ford M. C.

We've received several cards from Lowellites traveling in the warmer climates. Mr. and Mrs. Norton Avery enjoyed their 2020 mile trip to Phoenix, Ariz., in a short 3 1/2 days. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lampkin are now at Delray Beach, Florida. And Mrs. Bella Murphy sent us a colorful card from Mexico, where she is enjoying wonderful weather with "no quakes" so far on her trip.

Your notes to the Ledger are very much appreciated and bring some warmth and sunshine to us via the mail as we shovel snow, and sit by the fire.

Ray Parker of Keene called on the Ledger Friday, with a picture taken of his wife during a homecoming day parade in Lowell in 1913. The float on which she was seated, depicted the cold-pack canning process, and was built by Mr. Parker.

He also drove the team which pulled the float in the parade.

Attendance Records For Grade School Students

Second Grade students of Lowell Public schools who were neither absent or tardy during the first semester were Patricia Hockenberry, David Rogers and Jacqueline Shores in Mrs. Williams' class and Robert Connors and Kirk Jelferies in Miss E. A. Ahehart's room. Seven Third graders also attained this fine record. They are Arlist Stauffer, Jacky Sturgeon, Jim Fisher, Carol Jean Bailey, Jane Ellis, Darroll Kelley and Gary Kropf.

Four Fourth grade students, Terry Dawson, Edith Fuller, Marjorie Graham and Dennis Sisson were neither absent or tardy during the first semester; this grade also has 15 students with perfect records for the last six-week marking period.

Donald Dilly was the only 6th grader with a perfect record for the semester, but nine other fellow students were not absent or tardy during the last marking period.

The seventh grade records include Elsie Backstrom, Maribeth Dabakey, Tom Evans, Sandra Gibbs, Larry Keiser, Darlene Mayou and Allen Seeley in 7 (2) and Sheran Flynn, Candace Rich, Sandra Staal, Craig Starkweather and David Thaler in 7 (3).

Their Golden Anniversary is Jan. 31

The above picture was taken two years ago of Mr. and Mrs. MacRaymer at the time of their 48th wedding anniversary. On Tuesday, January 31, this couple will have been married a half century, but because of Mr. Raymer's illness they will be unable to hold a celebration. On January 31, 1906, in Ionia, Rev. Moore married this couple who had a fine family of ten children, eight of whom are now living. They are: Mrs. Elizabeth Vennema, Miss Inobel Raymer, Harold, Oliver and Ellsworth, all of Lowell; John of Whitnor Lake, and Allison and Gerald of Salem. They have twenty-three grandchildren, and fourteen great-grandchildren. Mr. Raymer was born at Saranac, and Mrs. Raymer in Keene. They are both 82.

Fenders Dented Saturday In 2 Minor Accidents

Fenders were dented and tempers on edge in two minor accidents on Lowell's Main street Saturday. The first accident occurred in the morning at 9:40 in front of Vic's Auto Service when a car driven by Peter Baurman, 23, of Grand Rapids, turning into the station, was struck by a truck driven by John K. MacFarlane of Foreman Drive. Officer George DeGraw issued MacFarlane a ticket for failure to have his car under control.

The second collision came Saturday evening at 7:05 at the corner of Main and Riverside dr., when a car driven by Harold Carigon, Jr., 19, of Clarksville, was struck by a car driven by Floyd Hall, 40, of Covered Bridge rd. Hall was issued a ticket by Officer George DeGraw for failure to yield right-of-way.

$3,000 Fire Set By 5-Year-Old

A fire, started in a bedroom by a five-year-old girl, caused an estimated $3,000 damage to the home of Leo Hardin, 8908 Vergennes rd. this past Monday afternoon. According to Dick Systma, Ada fire chief, little Linda Hardin was playing with paper and matches.

An unidentified man who has a baked goods route in the area, turned in the alarm from a neighbor's house when he saw smoke coming from the Hardin home. The firemen fought the blaze for three hours.

Linda's mother stated that she did not notice the blaze until she saw smoke seeping from under the closed door. She opened the door, allowing air to reach the room and the burst of smoke and flame drove her back.

Hardin stated that Linda, after questioning, admitted starting the fire and said that she went out of the room, closing the door behind her. Fearing punishment, she did not tell her mother about it.

Bedroom furnishings were completely destroyed and a large quantity of clothing and personal effects were also lost in the blaze.

District Junior F. B. Meets at Bowne Center

The Kent County Junior Farm Bureau was host to a district meeting held Thursday January 19 at Bowne Center Hall. Ionia and Kent Counties were represented, although Allegan and Barry Counties are included in District IV.

A Kent member, Jean Ford, was named district secretary at the business session, and a planning board and committee were selected to draw up laws for the district. District meetings will be held the third Thursday of every other month, with Ionia as host for the April 19 meeting. A box social and square dance has been planned.

Special guests at the January meeting were Dick Root of State Junior Farm Bureau and Lois Schmidt, State Secretary.

Next regular meeting of the Kent County Junior Farm Bureau will be at Vergennes Hall on Thursday, February 9, at eight o'clock.

Floating Fuel Tank Finally Buried at New School Building

It wasn't as easy as it looks from the above photograph to bury the 10,000 gallon fuel oil tank at the site of the new elementary school building. The plumbing and heating contractors ran into a little trouble last week when they struck water about 10 feet down; as the cavity for the tank had to be 13 feet deep, it was necessary to put some oil in the tank to weight it down and keep it from floating. This was accomplished finally, and the hole filled in; now a concrete slab will be placed over it and another job in the construction of the new 7-room elementary school building will be completed. The school's ultra-modern radiant heating system is unique in that no floorspace is used in the classrooms, all heat coming through and being reflected by perforated aluminum ceiling tiles; every corner of each room will be heated equally. Another advantage will be that all parts of the system will be readily and easily attainable for service and repair. The furnace will also easily accommodate additional classrooms when the building is expanded in the future.

"Honored Teen" Is Sandra Fonger With DAR Award

Sandra Fonger, a Senior at Lowell High School, has been chosen as this year's outstanding citizen by the students and faculty, and will receive a certificate of award from the National Society of the D.A.R. The basis of qualification rests on four main points: Dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism, and on these points three girls were designated by the class. The girls' names were considered by the faculty and of the three candidates, "Sandy" was chosen.

As Lowell's Good Citizen, Sandra will attend a tea in Grand Rapids and will be qualified to attend the state convention in Jackson where on the basis of questionnaires filled out by the girls, a State Good Citizen will be chosen, who will receive a $100 bond.

In considering Sandra for the award the faculty was doubtless impressed with her achievements at Lowell high school. Her dependability and unselfish interest in family, school, and community is a byword with her fellow students.

And, as for her leadership and service, it would be hard to find anyone in her class who has held more offices and participated in more varied projects. Class secretary in her sophomore year, student council this year, president and vice-president of Y-Teens in freshman and sophomore years respectively, and vice-president and president of Girls' Club her junior year and his year. Sandy has interspersed these jobs with additional activities such as junior and senior play, prom and homecoming committees, girls' basketball, and G.V.S.C.

Even during the summer, Sandra keeps busy counseling at Camp O'Malley for needy children, and helping care for her family. As for the future, Sandy, following in her older brothers' and sister's footsteps sees teaching as a career, and with her excellent character and leadership ability coupled with her fine sense of humor, we feel sure that Sandra will make her mentors proud.

Sixteen Hour Hunt Ends in Detroit Tuesday As Missing Pair is Found

Lowell's Police Chief Frank Stephens looked a little haggard and in need of sleep when we talked to him Wednesday morning, but he was glad to give us his version of the "kidnap" hunt which was touched off Monday night at Elmdale.

It all happened when George Koenig, a 17-year-old parolee from Boys Vocational School in Lansing—who makes his home at the Leonard Johnson farm, Nash av., Alto—left the farm shortly after 8:30 p.m., taking the Johnson's son Dale's 1952 car. Mrs. Johnson immediately called Mr. Stephens' home in Lowell, and left word that the boy had broken his parole. When Mr. Stephens contacted the boy's parole officer in Grand Rapids—who incidentally had been a supper guest that evening at the Johnson home—a report was being prepared for the Grand Rapids radio stations for an all-state alert. Sheriff's department and State Police were also busy working on the matter.

Fear Kidnaping

It was not until later that the authorities were notified of the "possible kidnaping" of a 16-year-old Alto girl, Faith Anderson, from her foster home in Elmdale. Mrs. Johnson called Police Chief Stephens about this later, when the girl's foster parents started calling neighbors and friends about Faith's disappearance.

Mr. Stephens then called the girl's foster parents, and learned that C-orge had stopped at their Elmdale home, and told Faith her boy friend was out in the car and wanted to see her. She had gone outside with him, got in the car, and they had driven away.

As the parents indicated Faith had gone against her will Stephens said he immediately notified the Sheriff's department of this development, and also called the State Police, suggesting that they contact their Ionia post inasmuch as the boy had often threatened that if he ever got his hands on a car he would head for Detroit and his uncle's home.

Gun Missing

When they called Mrs. Johnson back to tell her a message was being readied to be broadcast to all police in the State, she stated she could not find George's shot gun, and she believed he might have taken it with him. They then added to the radio report that the boy was armed.

Nick Kloosterman told the Ledger photographer Monday that he was only late to work twice in the thirty years he served the United States government. Mr. Kloosterman, who is now retired, was a driver in the Postal Vehicle Service of the Grand Rapids post office, where he worked 29 years and 7 months; an additional 5 months in the Army during World War I rounds out his 30 years of government service, for which he received a citation from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, and a personal letter from the Regional Manager of the Postal Vehicle Service, C. S. Raymond of Chicago. Kloosterman was honored at a party given Saturday, January 14.

In the meantime it had been learned that Koenig had changed a tire on his car at the William Geldersma home on 60th st. about 9 o'clock. It was learned later from Koenig that he had gone directly from the Johnson's to Elmdale to see Faith, but when he found she was not home he drove towards Alto. The car struck a culvert, ruining the right front tire and he stopped at the Geldersma home to change the tire, driving later to the corner of US16 and M91, got some gas, and returned to Elmdale. This time he found Miss Anderson at home; he told her that he had her boy friend in the car, and that he wanted to talk to her. Koenig was alone, however, but the girl told authorities that she got in the car to talk to him; then he asked her to go for a ride, she reported.

After they started driving the girl told police, he asked her to go to Little Rock, Ark. to be married. She said she refused and they drove aimlessly for a while and then headed toward US-16. On a side road, she said, they stopped while he unloaded something from the trunk of the auto.

Abandon Car

They ran out of gas at Fowlerville, and abandoned the car there, where police found it, and also recovered a loaded .22 rifle. Koenig states it came from the Johnson farm but this has not been verified as yet.

Miss Anderson and Koenig then hitchhiked a ride in to Detroit with a truck driver, and he took her to the home of his uncle.

The girl then stated that after an argument with Koenig Tuesday morning she managed to call her foster parents in Elmdale and tell them where she was and that she was unarmed. They then called the Ionia State Police post, and the information of their whereabouts was relayed to the Detroit police, and the two were picked up.

Of course, all this time police were checking everywhere for the couple. Mr. Stephens said he was relieved about 3:30 a.m. Tuesday, but when authorities here were notified that the couple had been apprehended in Detroit, he accompanied Deputy Clair A. Duffrey of the Kent County Sheriff's Department and State Trooper Marvin L. Teskha of Ionia State Police Post to Detroit to bring them home. The boy is being held in the Kent County Jail to answer charges of unlawfully driving away an automobile. Miss Anderson was returned to the home of her foster parents in Elmdale.

One take-off for traffic
-and two for the road

You ought to try Variable Pitch Dynaflo Now!

The light is red and you're ready. It flashes green and you go—but quick. And that's when you discover the Number One news about Buick's new Dynaflo... That it gives you brilliant new getaway response for city traffic at only part throttle—even before you switch the pitch of this airplane-principled transmission. (And think of the big gas savings that means!)

Next comes the Number Two discovery—out on the road. For here—still without switching the pitch—you have plenty more nimble acceleration to surge or spurt ahead, to climb hills, to do with almost effortless ease all the things normally called for by highway driving.

But comes an emergency—the need to get out of a tight spot—and you discover the Number Three news... That you can do what a pilot does. That you can switch the pitch of your Dynaflo blades—just by flooring the pedal. And that you get, instantly, a full-power take-off from cruising pace—an electrifying burst of acceleration—the most thrilling safety measure on four wheels today.

This is performance too good to pass up—and you really ought to try it. It's performance sparked by the whispered might of big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engines raised to record highs in power and compression. It's performance that goes with the best ride yet, the best handling yet, the best interiors yet, the best styling yet—and, literally, with the best Buick yet.

Come in and see—and be shown—and learn, in the doing, about prices that make these '56 Buicks the best buy yet.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Chemical Replaces Spring at MSU

The "soil bank" plan proposed by the Eisenhower administration will give farmers a more purchasing power but it won't control production or surplus for long. That's the opinion of Dr. Arthur Mauch, a Michigan State University farm economist.

But the soil bank plan, said Mauch, stacks up as one of the best choices for the taxpayer, consumer and the farmer to get a good return on the investment.

The plan calls for storing soil fertility for a future use instead of storing grain and other products in government store houses. That includes seeding land to soil building grasses and legumes.

And that, emphasized the economist, is one reason the plan won't control production. The soil removed from cash crop production will yield even more when it is again cultivated. That in addition to more knowledge in getting bigger yields will boost production higher.

So, Mauch said, no one should expect the soil bank plan to solve the farm problem.

C. L. Hamner shows how he and G. B. Wildon, another research horticulturist at Michigan State University, made a second spring for petunias—chemically. The scientists were able to make petunia plants bloom again in the greenhouse long after flowering had stopped in the fall. TIBA, the chemical they sprayed on the petunias can be used in the spring to boost the bloom date, too. This new find, they say, holds many possibilities for speeding up plant breeding and production. (MSU Photo)

Save $$$ on CHICK STARTER

The greatest concentration of cherry trees in America is on Old Mission's Peninsula near Traverse City, where the trees grow 20,000 to the square mile.

You can make your own Chick Starter and save money doing it. To feed 100 chicks for 8 weeks—simply mix 400 lbs. of your own yellow corn and 200 lbs. of Mearns' "Cock-Cut" Chick Starter.

You get 600 lbs. of the highest-quality, lowest fiber chick starter obtainable anywhere—and your only "out-of-pocket" cost has been for the Mearns. Two-thirds of your ration is feed you raised yourself.

Here are extras you get in a Chick Starter ration—

- All the vitamins your chicks are known to need for body building
- Vitamins A, D and B-12 to promote rapid growth and good health
- Vitamin K to protect against hemorrhagic conditions
- Antibiotics to help fight disease
- An ingredient to help control coccidiosis

Let me show you how to make more high-energy, low-fiber Chick Starter for less! Write for literature.

Children Need: "Something Better To Throw Than a Rock"

"A child is a creature that stands about midway between an adult and the TV screen."

Light but strong interesting, to say the least, is the new use of foamed polystyrene as a structural material for walls, roofs, and floors. A variety of uses claimed by the manufacturer include durability, vermin resistance, high insulating value, and light weight. One hundred and eighty board feet weigh only 20 pounds. A one-inch coating of cement on each side will make a five-inch-thick wall. The manufacturer claims a cost of 85 cents per square foot and compares it with $1.25 for a four-inch brick veneer-and-insulation wall.

Spinal Column—That which keeps you from being legs all the way up to your shoulders.

"We give a kid something better to throw than a rock," says Arthur Burger, executive secretary of the Boy's Clubs of Boston. "We give him a basketball. His reward is the yell of his pals as he makes a basket—more fun than busting a street light. Character is caught, not taught. If a boy doesn't catch it from his parents, it rubs off on him from other boys and club leaders."

More than 425 Boys' Clubs throughout the United States, with over 400,000 members, are providing basketball, baseball, boxing and other sports, woodworking, drawing, checkers, pingpong, stamp-collecting and libraries—as substitutes for rock-throwing and other teenage mischief and crime.

In a February Reader's Digest article William L. White emphasizes that while the Boys' Clubs successfully salvage problem boys every day, the boys who are "bad" form only a minute percentage of total membership. The 400,000 youngsters whom the Boys' Clubs keep busy, happy and out of trouble come from every background, race and creed. In some areas the majority are from underprivileged homes; in others 80 percent or more of all boys are members. Boys' Clubs of America sel-brates its 50th anniversary this year. Each club is directed by leading citizens, and operating funds are contributed locally. Members, however, must pay dues, though the amount may be as little as 25 cents a year. "Otherwise," says Herbert Hoover, national chairman, "they wouldn't feel it was their own club."

The Season for Baked Beans is Here

Had any hearty Michigan bean soup lately or any of those good old-fashioned Michigan baked beans with salt pork and molasses that our mothers and grandmothers took such pride in preparing?

If you haven't there are a lot of bean growers in the state who hope to add Michigan bean dishes to the family menu this winter. The state's marketable navy (pea) bean crop last autumn was 40 per cent larger than the small harvest of the previous year and nearly a quarter bigger than the average crops of the past 10 years.

This is the report of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service at Lansing, which indicates that 97 per cent of all the navy (pea) beans raised in the country in 1955 were raised here in Michigan, mostly in the "Thumb" area and the Saginaw valley.

The marketable crop totals 4,668,000 bags. One-hundred pound bags, that is. If moved by rail, the usual car loading is 800 such bags. And if we want to try and visualize how big a crop that is, try thinking of 5,710 box cars. Or 57 train-loads of 100 cars each.

Michigan is the only state which permits a manufacturer the option of paying personal property tax on either the inventory value as of December 31, or on the average value throughout the year.

"The difference between law and custom is that it takes a lot of nerve to violate a custom."

Army Has Voice-Powered Telephone

The power of the human voice known to sway multitudes, influence the course of history and tie up party lines—has been tapped by the Army Signal Corps Engineering Laboratory here to operate a new radio-telephone device.

Completely independent of wires and batteries, the voice-operated equipment weighs only a pound and a half and continues to operate as long as the user keeps talking into it.

The technique employed puts the voice to work so that it both runs and operates a transistorized transmitter. After speech syllables strike the microphone, part of the voice is filtered to operate the radio-telephone, while the rest passes "intelligence" into the signal it sends out.

In short, voice-energy is substituted for electric energy in transmission. At the present stage of testing this new kind of energy does a competent job up to 600 feet.

Further development plans call for a companion receiver weighing about three ounces, which could be powered by the same source.

Voice energy would be built up and stored in the set when sending and used later for receiving by buttoning and fishing parties, newspaper reporters, firemen, and others who must be in constant communication with headquarters.

And what more ideal gift for a teen-ager? White Suse and John use voice-energy to their heart's content, mother and dad can enjoy a benefit all but forgotten—exclusive use of the battery-powered telephone.

Military applications of the device are obvious: Transistorized transmission could eliminate batteries in both walkie-talkies and hand-held tactical radios, cutting their weight in half and easing the soldiers' burden.

As for civilian uses, engineers here look forward to the day when small, self-contained radio-telephones will be used by the businessman to call his office while walking along the streets, by policemen operating in pairs, by hunting and fishing parties, newspaper reporters, firemen, and other who must be in constant communication with headquarters.

As the health department tells the story, some time later, proud-ly wearing his new "ear" the boy clambered aboard the school bus and perched on his seat. As the bus moved past a herd of cattle in a roadside field, one cow raised her head and mooed. The boy turned to his seat-mate. "You know," he exclaimed, "I always saw them open their mouths that way, but I never knew what they were saying."

After a footnote to the story, Dr. ... said: "A whole new world opened up for this boy. Now, for the first time, he will hear the crucial sounds of Christmas. And one day, ... The Commissioner said it was the best Christmas card he had ever received by a properly designed hearing aid.

In any case, thanks to Michigan people, no one will need to tell him about the spirit of Christmas—he will hear it for himself."

Still Higher Compression

The race is on among the automobile makers to be first out with an engine of 10-40-1 compression ratio, which is giving petroleum scientists plenty of headaches since these high-compression engines require high-antiknock fuels. The average compression ratio is 8-40-1 this year, although a 9-40-1 has been the tops. It is predicted that 1956 will see 9.5-40-1, while 10-40-1 ratio probably are in the near offing. Octane ratings average 88 for premium gasoline now, and they should reach 98 by 1958, and 100 soon thereafter.

Take It Easy Doctors Advise

Now is the time to take it easy, protect your heart during the winter months—that's the timely advice from I. Paul Ralph, M. D., of Grand Rapids, President of the Michigan Heart Association, who warned that heart attacks strike more frequently during the winter months than at any time during the year.

Many people do not realize that during the winter almost everything a person does requires additional effort and consequently causes added strain to the heart. Wearing heavier and bulkier clothing, overcoats and rubbers, bracing against the icy blasts of wintry wind, holding tense against slippery sidewalks, and even the mere effort of the body in fighting the cold, make the heart work harder and faster. High pressure living, worry, emotional strain, overwork and insufficient rest can also work undue hardships on the heart.

This advice applies particularly to people over 40 who are not accustomed to strenuous exercise or undue physical exertion. Even though the sidewalks must be shoveled to keep them free from ice and snow, learn to do it wisely. Don't try to finish the job all at once. It may take longer but take time for a rest before you become over-tired—then go back and finish the job.

Although it is one of the strongest and hardest working organs in the body, the heart should not be subjected to more of a work-load than that to which it is ordinarily accustomed.

The Michigan Heart Association, United Fund Agency, makes these suggestions to protect your heart during the cold winter months:

1. Avoid over exertion. Physical activity rarely, if ever, can strain a healthy heart, but over-exertion can aggravate damage that already exists. Especially for people over 40, strenuous exercise in the cold outdoors should be avoided. Exercise in moderation should be the general rule.
2. Avoid over-weight. Keep your weight down to normal—don't let those extra pounds make your heart work harder.
3. Get plenty of rest. If a winter vacation is not possible, relax as much as you can. Aim for eight or more hours of sleep per night. Avoid habitual late hours.
4. Avoid infections. Do your best to protect against illness, particularly respiratory infections. Should you become ill, seek treatment promptly. Immediate attention to "strep" infection is most important to guard children against rheumatic fever, which can lead to rheumatic heart disease.
5. Avoid self-diagnosis. Have a periodic health examination so that if necessary, you can receive prompt treatment for any disease that may be revealed. If treatment for heart disease is indicated, your doctor of medicine will advise you what precautions to take to protect your heart. If your heart is sound, needless anxiety can be avoided. Don't worry. Worrying causes or prevents nothing, but it can place a load on an already damaged heart. Instead find out the facts about your heart and do all that you can to protect it by following your physician's advice.

Efficiency to Key Food Costs in '56 A&P Head Declares

There should be plentiful supplies of food for America's recovery, according to A. P. & C. head declares in 1956 with retail prices continuing about as low as in 1955. Ralph W. Burger, president of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, said today.

Mr. Burger said that food prices in 1955 were 1.5-2.0 lower than in 1954 and 5.8-6.0 below the post-World War II peak reached in 1952. The over-all cost of living in 1955, he noted, was down only four-tenths of one per cent.

"Present forecasts show that food production during the new year will come close to the record 1955 level and that prices to consumers will remain about the same. With average weather, there should be adequate food supplies to meet consumer demand," Mr. Burger said.

"A recent and an outlook that the food industry can be proud of," Mr. Burger declared. "It shows that the orderly downward trend of food costs continued without interrupting in 1955. It also shows that the nation's farmers and food distributors are meeting the heavy food demands of our rapidly expanding population."

The A&P president warned, however, that "if we are going to continue to hold the price line and at the same time assure farmers of an adequate return, we must be alert to resist inflationary trends developing within the industry."

"Food is one of the largest expenses of the body in fighting the expansion and the unhealthy competitive practices of the 'boom psychology' can raise the cost of eating in every American home."

"Long store hours with night and Sunday business, give-aways and premiums were scrapped by the food industry years ago, because they raised food prices," he continued. "Now, however, we are in danger of reviving old costly patterns."

One service the consumer is entitled to can be improved without cost, according to the A&P president. "The cost of courteous service is part of the price charged the customer," he said.

Lowell Shows Business Increase of 20%

Each January business concerns in all parts of the United States receive from Dun & Bradstreet reports for their annual financial statements. This year the number of requests going out nationwide will approximate three million.

over 5,000 going to Kent County businesses.

The growth and the industrial development of Kent County is reflected in statistics, just released by the credit reporting firm, Kingman Douglas, Jr., manager at Grand Rapids which covers this area, says that this year there will be more requests for financial statements made of business concerns in Kent County than ever before.

The Kent County section of the current issue of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book contains listings of 569 local names comprising manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers. It does not include some of the service and "professional" businesses, such as barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers. The figures for businesses in Kent County would actually be higher than the 569 quoted above.

There was also a discussion on the question of whether this country should be allowed to sell or trade non-strategic goods to Russia.

Archie Thomas Retires from Varied Railroad Career; Started in 1906

Archie S. Thomas, 30th st., retired Jan. 15 from work with the C. and O. railroad after fifty years. Through these years was a considerable interval between his original employment in September, 1906, and his return to the work in 1943, he began and ended with the railroad, which was his first love, and he has seen great changes in rail-roading in that span.

The Thomas family has an even longer connection with the stretch of Chesapeake and Ohio (formerly the Pere Marquette) track that passes diagonally through-Cascade township. Archie Thomas' father, William, now at 91 Cascade's oldest native-born resident, in 1855 helped grade the line for the new road between McDonald and Fox Station, the latter now only a passing track at the western end of the township.

The Thomas farm was at the White neville crossing. Archie Thomas worked three years on this track as a section hand before starting work at the railroad's Wyoming yards, and later fired, and ran, freight and passenger trains that ran over it.

He began in 1906 as a boiler, taking incoming engines from the coal dock, where the engine crew "led them up", to the center pit where the fire was knocked out; or, conversely, bringing starting engines out to a track for the crew to take out. After three weeks he began firing on freight runs between Grand Rapids and Detroit and on the local street car line. In those days you could choose your run. He was a fireman for six years, and was promoted to engineer in 1912, running over the same route for about a year, when he left the company.

There were then six passenger trains daily between Grand Rapids and Bay City, running by way of Elmhole through Lowell. Today there is no passenger service on this line. In 1906 there were carbide lamps and stove heat on coopers and Pullman's cars were wooden and coach vestibules were open. Passengers went from one car to another rarely when the train was in motion, except to get to the smoker. Mr. Thomas fired a switch engine that had steam jacks braked two cylinders under the engine wheels. It took quite a while to stop a train that way. Mr. Thomas remembers.

The Pere Marquette ran a six-car dummy train from Grandville av. street car tracks to the roundhouse, for trainmen, office force, and workmen. It took them to work at 6:30 a.m. and returned them at 5:30 p.m. and at noon took a load to the 8th av. coach yard to eat lunch. The rest of the day and night, it shuttled one car back and forth every fifteen minutes. About 1915 a Railroad Y. M. C. A. was built in the yards, but its usage declined and it burned around 1946.

When Mr. Thomas returned to the railroad by request, in 1943, he was headman, which meant he did everything, and was at one time assistant roundhouse-foreman. The engines had grown greatly in size and power, but were still steam.

The first details were acquired in 1946, and replaced steam entirely on Dec. 1, 1952. The change is economical, and the new engines are clean. It is easy to learn to operate a diesel. But it has a few drawbacks, such as the man in the cab.

And the diesel lacks the romance of steam. "No smoke, no bell, no whistle, no steam blowing off," Mr. Thomas shakes his head. "It's just like running a street car."

It was harder to retire than to start work; ten papers had to be signed at the roundhouse, and four at the Railroad Retirement board, and the C. and O. did not want Mr. Thomas to quit. But he is needed at home, to help his wife in caring for his father, who makes his home with them. Also, there are the two beagles, Meg and Spike, to look after.

Why the Chrysler Windsor V-8

Everything about driving a Chrysler is new! You touch a button on the left (and safer) side . . . and Push-button PowerPilot, the smoothest of all transmissions, goes into action.

From four lengths behind to four lengths ahead of a moving truck going 40 m.p.h. in 8 seconds flat. That's the kind of reserve power you get in Chrysler's great airplane-type V-8 engine.

Full-time PowerPilot Steering does 80% of the work . . . gives you a cat-footed feel of the road every inch of the way . . . requires less pull . . . only 3 1/2 turns from full left to full right.

Our "Sign of Quality" Used Cars—which include many late model Chryslers—are the greatest buys in town!

IS THE YEAR-AHEAD CAR

"PowerStyle" CHRYSLER

Biggest buy in the fine car field!

And talk about style! Here's the "PowerStyle" look that is showing its easy tail to contemporary car design. Isn't it time you compared a Chrysler with the other cars in its price class?

Best of all, you can own a bigger, more powerful Chrysler Windsor for the cost of a medium-priced car. Here is year-ahead value that means better resale value for years to come.

FORD BEATS JET IN TAKE-OFF!

Match a Ford in acceleration with U. S. Marine Corps Fury Jet, and the Ford outstrips the jet!

That's the story of a race conducted at the Marine Corps Aviation Base, Cherry Point, North Carolina.

From a standstill, a Ford Fairlane Town Sedan and an FJ2 Fury Jet (flown by a crack Leatherneck pilot) both took off at wide-open throttle.

Ford's take-off was so fast that the jet was still trailing at 200 yards.

"Though you'll probably never race a jet, it's nice to know Ford's Thunderbird Y-8 engine has so much "oomph" in reserve . . . instant response for times when instincts count!

This Thunderbird Y-8 is the standard eight in all Fairlane and Station Wagon models . . . at no extra cost!

And Thunderbird styling gifts wraps Thunderbird GO. Ford's long, low lines of leadership are instantly recognizable

Arrows Take Two More Scalps: Rockford 80-69 and Belding 76-57

Two more basketball scalps, one league and one non-league, have been added to Lowell's already large collection as a result of victories over Rockford and Belding Friday and Tuesday nights respectively.

In the latter game Lowell had no trouble at all in smothering the Redskins of Belding, and with Coach Gotschall substituting freely, all the Lowell players got a chance to show their mettle by keeping the major scoring within a three point spread.

High for Lowell were Leonard Fase and Bernie Collins with 11 each; three boys, Orison Abel, Steve Hartley, and Jim Lind got 10 apiece, and George DeVries scored 9. Lowell led at all the quarters, final score 76-57.

The preceding Friday night Lowell thrilled the home fans with an exciting victory over its arch rivals, the Rockford Rams, and to heighten the intensity of an already hotly contested battle, Lowell's scoring ace, George DeVries was on his way to set a new all-time school and Grand Valley scoring record.

Leading at all the quarters, 18-10 in the first, 33-25 at the half, 58 to 50 ending at the third, final score 80-69, Lowell set a blistering pace and pulled away when it seemed as though the margin was being threatened.

DeVries was high scorer followed by Leonard Fase with 13, Jim Lind 10 and Orison Abel 7.

Breaks Record

In the Rockford game a new scoring record of 42 points in one contest was set by Lowell's popular cage star, George DeVries, this total beating by two points the old record set by one of DeVries' fellow teammates and former outstanding center, Bob Grammett, in the 1953-54 season. With his fellow players feeding and setting up shots, DeVries added to his score with every shot in the book, 30 points coming from baskets and 12 from free throws.

Annual Dinner Precedes P. N. G. Installation

Twenty-five members of Past Noble Grand Club gathered in the Methodist church dining-room Monday evening for their annual installation dinner where the Martha Group of the church served a delicious turkey dinner. The table was beautifully decorated with a floral center-piece and tall tapers. Clever favors and lovely handkerchief corsages were at each place.

After dinner the members retired to the Women's lounge where a business meeting was conducted by Maude Adriane. Under new business installation of new officers was held: President, Maude Freeman; 1st vice president, Minnie Huffman; 2nd vice president, Ina Alger; secretary, Maude Adriane; treasurer, Sarah Chrouch and Chaplain, Mildred Potter.

The new president nominated her several committees, and there was the drawing of the hostess' months for the members to entertain. It was also decided to have the drawing of Secret Pals again this year. Maude Adriane and Clara Fero will be hostesses for the next meeting, in February.

School Hot Lunch Menu

A Hot Pork sandwich with mashed potatoes, bread and butter, are the Monday's fare for next week's Hot Lunch at the school. Also completing the meal are Jello, cookies and milk. Tuesday will be Goulash, bread and butter, fruit, cake and milk. Venison Ground Steak has been planned for Wednesday with vegetables, bread and butter, pudding and milk. On Thursday they will serve chili, crackers, cherry cobbler with butter sauce and milk. Tuna Fish and noodles, vegetables, rolls, butter, cookies and milk have been planned for Friday, completing the week. Of course, the hot dog lunch is still available every day. And, remember, all the bread, cookies and cakes are home made.

Mrs. Ethel Yelzer has returned from the home of her son, Kenneth on Snow ave., where she has been staying for the past two weeks, caring for her new granddaughter, Monica Jeanne, who was born in Butterworth hospital January 11. She weighed 6 pounds, 15 ounces at birth.
