Lowell trunk line sewers on the east side are being dredged free of sand by a crew who have taken several truck loads from the sewer lines. It is hoped this cleaning process will allow the sewers to carry more water during storms and prevent the backing up into basements. The last time this was done was about nine years ago, after several lines were almost completely plugged.

And maybe you've wondered just what that

Well, it means a brand-new principle in transmission design. A new way to make whirling oil add to its own velocity and produce fast torque build-up at only part throttle.

What does it do for you?

It gives you a quick new getaway response right in the first inch of pedal travel - right where you do most of your normal drivingand right where you get better gas mileage every inch of the way.

It gives you more safety-surge breakaway when you floor the pedal and switch the pitch -more electrifying full-power acceleration to pull out of a tight spot. And it gives you all this with absolute smoothness-because no gears ever shift in Dynaflow.

But if you think this great new getaway is > What it all adds up to is the Best Buick Yet, by far. And you'll find all these new thrills packaged in a price that makes any '56 Buick you choose your smartest buy yet. Can you come in this week?

A simple way to get more money for your eggs is to encourage your hens to produce more Grade A eggs. A study conducted by the USDA in 13 major egg-producing states in the midwest showed that seven flock management practices will definitely increase the number of top-grade eggs. These are:

. Confine laying flocks. 2. Provide clean, dry floor lit-

3. Provide clean, dry nesting material.

4. Gather eggs frequently.

5. Gather eggs in wire baskets. 6. Cool eggs before packing and keep them cool.

7. Maintain proper humidity in storage rooms.

The study showed that producers who followed all seven of the practices marketed eggs that averaged 90 percent Grade A quality. Those who followed none of the practices marketed eggs that averaged only 55 percent Grade A.
