

Twenty-First Lowell Showboat Opens Here Monday Night

When the spectacular Lowell Showboat makes her 163rd trip down Flat River next Monday night, July 23, there will be a chorus of 100 voices singing "Here Comes The Showboat" at the tops of their voices. Forty-four of these chorus members are Lowell residents, the others coming from Alto Saranac, Ada, Grand Rapids, and even Kent City. Pictured above are the Lowell members, starting, left to right, with the front row:

Bonnie Howard, Vince Jeluso, Deanna Swanson, Gary Eickhoff, Ida Merklinger, Bob Whitaker, Joan Clouse, Chad Walter, Boni Bryan, John Bergin, Judith Schneider.

We are very happy to see the petunia tubs back on Main street, flowering gaily for our Showboat visitors, and for us too. The Lowell Showboat Garden Club started this fine project many years ago, but it was discontinued last year.

By popular demand, however, the ladies put them out again last week-end, in time for Spruce-up Day.

The W. A. Large residence was moved from the corner of Vergennes and Main streets Monday morning, completing the three-home move to make way for the new supermarket on this corner. This home, the largest of the three, was placed on a lot at the corner of Vergennes and Grove.

The Donald MacNaughton and Howard White residences were moved to neighboring lots on North Hudson street last month.

Spruce-up Day Monday found a new coat of paint on the Radio Service Shop front, and also at their neighbors, The Cranberry Urn. The King Milling Company office also has been repainted. Wednesday morning, bright and early, the street crew was out painting new white parking lane lines on Main street.

And, have you had the chance to look at the attractive Showboat window display at Cary's? Other shops on Main street are also readying for the big week in Lowell. Be sure to see the unusual display at the Ball Floral Shop.

Just in time for Showboat—one of our venerable old light posts, on Main st., at the northwest corner of Riverside dr., was topped very rudely by an errant automobile early Tuesday morning of this week. The car, driven by Roy Ed. Rood, 214 N. Washington, didn't come out too well either.

Good, who fell asleep at the wheel, did not have a driver's license, according to night patrolman George Henderson, who ticketed him for reckless driving.

Showboat Headlines Zany Carpenters

Do-it-yourself fans—don't miss the educational display at the 1956 Lowell Showboat on how to build a house. Willie, West and McGinty know a lot of short-cuts, and a few tricks of the trade that the amateurs could really benefit from. This act, one of the headlines of the annual outdoor show scheduled for July 23 through 28 this year, has appeared on stage, movies and television.

"We're going to have one of the best shows we've ever had" says Mr. Showboat himself, the veteran intercomer C. H. Runciman, when we talked to him early this week. The 103rd performance of the gala outdoor event, the biggest minstrel show in the country, will be presented next Monday, July 23, bringing six fine professional acts, songs by the six local endmen and a local chorus of over 100 voices.

Curry, Bird and Leroy, a trio consisting of two men and a girl, perform a hilarious dancing act, in which musical comedy centers around a ballroom scene. This is sure to tickle the funny bone of the most particular audience.

It is said that music hath charm, and Ving Merlin and his Violin Beauties prove this point in another fine act on the Showboat program.

Schedule Three Games Per Week In Lowell Junior Baseball Program

Eighty-five youngsters have been actively participating in the junior baseball program sparked this summer by various civic organizations of Lowell. Coach Bob Perry, who has directed this program, has five teams, and games are played each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Recreation Park.

The boys age 8 and 9 are divided into two teams, and play each Tuesday evening at 6:30. They call themselves the Lions and the V. F. W.—the latter team being victorious in the last contest on July 10. The score was 19 to 18.

Local Ag Teacher Will Attend Conference

Carl Hagen, Lowell vocational agriculture instructor, plans to attend the 37th annual conference of Michigan ag teachers to be held at Michigan State University next week, Monday through Friday.

Over 300 vocational agriculture teachers are expected to attend the workshops and general sessions, which will offer professional assistance and the latest technical information.

The conference will also attract teachers of institutional on-the-farm training, and will provide the opportunity for teachers to advance plans for the Future Farmers of America leadership training camps, fat stock schools, broiler programs, and other FFA activities.

They are, among other things, house builders, and there have never been such carpenters before! Also appearing with the professionals are the Antonettes, a daring acrobatic team. Such acts always thrill youngsters and adults alike.

Two acts will share the star position this year. The Four Step Brothers, and Willie, West and McGinty. The former are billed as the world's greatest tap dance team, and have appeared on the best television variety shows. They dance with precision and agility, and with male quartets being so in vogue these days, perhaps they will also sing?

The other starring act is a three-some of hilarious comedy who have a long history of stage, motion picture and television appearances.

He was rushed to Blodgett Hospital by Roth ambulance, and was treated for numerous cuts, bruises and abrasions. Authorities stated Wednesday morning that he was also suffering a crushed chest. He is coming along satisfactorily, however, and expects to return home in a few days.

-His car was a total wreck.

The Saranac boy's car had the green light at the intersection, and the Grand Rapids boy stated he did not see the traffic signal light, Grand Rapids Police Department accident bureau reported.

A Lowell boy, Donald L. Dawson, 16, of R-3, was involved in another accident at Fulton and Jefferson. Donald was driving a vehicle which struck a 5-year-old Grand Rapids child, Kris Denis Knudson. This accident occurred at 9:30 a. m.

The child was treated at St. Mary's hospital, and released. Donald told Grand Rapids police officers that was confused by a green flashing arrow signal, and thought it was a green light. He was ticketed for disregarding a red light.

Donald stated he saw the child, but was unable to stop in time, according to the police accident bureau.

LOWELL, MI SHOWBOAT JULY 23 THROUGH JULY 28

Pictured are three of the six amateur acts which will share a spot on the 1956 Showboat program, when the annual outdoor event opens in Lowell next week. At the top are the "Flat Tops" from Rockford, a barbershop quartet, who will appear as the amateur act on Saturday evening, the final night of Showboat. Next, Grand Rapids friends who attend the Wednesday show will see talent from their town on the night set aside to honor the Furniture City. They are, left to right, Jim Estill, Marlow Winters and Loretta Almerigi, who cleverly portray the story of "Frankie and Johnny". Tuesday audiences will have a chance to see a fast moving dance act by Al Slayton and Sandra Gramer, of Flint.

When the Robert E. Lee XXI steams around the bend of Flat River for six visits to Lowell, she will carry each night a brand new star who will perform with the professionals.

These six new acts were chosen at the annual Talent Night contest held last Saturday evening at the Showboat dock. Sixty-nine entries vied for those coveted six spots.

Judges, who had the difficult task of choosing the six top acts, were Wendell Spencer, state editor of the Grand Rapids Press, Bonnie Kronberg of WOOD radio and television, Cousin Ed Denkema from

Area Wheat Growers Vote Friday on Referendum

Growers, who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1957, are eligible to vote, stated Mr. Storey.

On Friday evening, the special talent act will be the Alva Hartman family of Lansing. This is a novelty act provided by a mother, her two daughters and a son. One very interesting point about this troupe is that the mother was on the Showboat program once before, appearing here in the 1930's in an act called "Ma Fritz and Her Youngins". Now she has returned with her own family to perform for our "big show".

For the final show, the Flat Tops of Rockford will perform. They are a male quartet that is guaranteed to make all young ladies swoon with delight if their Talent Night success is any indication. The Flat Tops who have been singing together for two years have appeared on television many times and are currently the Kent County Barbershop Champions. The first tenor is Jack Randall, 19; lead tenor, John Krause, 17; baritone, Ken Kyburz, 17; and bass, Les Bloomfield, 17.

Walter Gumsier Well Qualified

There are three candidates in the Republican primary for members of the State legislature in the second district, which consists of Lowell, Down, Cassada, Caladonia, Paris, Gans, Wyoming and Byron townships, the southern two tiers of townships in West County.

We believe that Walter W. Gumsier of Lowell merits the nomination.

Conditions in the legislature are not any too good these days. The record substantiates this statement. Perhaps a newcomer could do a lot for us in the legislature this coming term. New blood, new thoughts and energetic action should be welcomed.

Walter W. Gumsier, the newcomer, is a public spirited citizen of distinctive worth. His training, his experience and record of achievement in his work among the youth he has served, is outstanding. We believe he would make a hard working legislator.

Men of Mr. Gumsier's caliber, when they offer their services to the electorate, should be given serious consideration. A vote for him will be a vote for progressive action. There is no substitute for experience. He is equipped to perform like a champion.

Our state government is faced with many problems and only men of the experience of Walter Gumsier seem to accomplish very much when problems are to be met in government. His fine record as the administrator of our schools and in many contacts he has made throughout his years in public work with people in government equips him perfectly for the task he will meet up with in Lansing.

Corn and Oat Silage to Be More Popular

A Michigan State University farm economist expects a greater proportion of corn to be harvested as silage in the future.

Ray Haglund points out that corn silage yields in 23 to 40 per cent higher nutrient yields per acre than when harvested as grain. Also, the field chopping method has taken the drudgery out of harvesting corn silage and cut labor costs.

More Use of Alfalfa Haglund expects to see an increased use of alfalfa or alfalfa-grass mixtures. Alfalfa yields a third more and costs less per ton to produce than clover-timothy. Even when alfalfa stands are left only one year, they are still more profitable than clover stands. Hogland maintains that in Michigan, alfalfa acreage increased 40 per cent from 1945 to 1954.

More first crop alfalfa and other legume crops will be harvested as grass silage, too, Haglund believes. This year, southern Michigan dairy farmers will harvest 25 per cent of these crops for grass silage. By 1956, this acreage will be doubled, he expects.

Oats as Grass Silage The farm economist also foresees the harvesting of more oats as grass silage. Dairyfarm can increase the yield of feed nutrients by 40 per cent and lower the costs per feed unit 20 per cent in harvesting oats as silage rather than as grain. This change in harvesting has the same effect as adding more land to the farm, Haglund says. Seedlings will also be improved.

Spealecta Anchor A source of eyestrain, with resultant headaches and nervous tension, is said to be caused by the necessity of tilting eyeglasses which permits them to slide down on the nose. The result is continued fiddling with glasses to push them back up where they belong. To eliminate this annoying state of affairs, new featherlight, soft durable, and elastic plastic attachments which quickly and easily attach to the temples of eyeglasses, are now available. They are made of a special plastic material which is both strong and flexible. They are also very light and comfortable to wear. They are available in a variety of colors and designs. They are sold in most optical stores and drug stores.

It's a Great Time to Buy a Buick!

Switch the Pitch - And you Zing like a Bird

You can do it only in a Buick. Only with Variable Pitch Dynaflo* can you switch the pitch like an airplane pilot does. Only with Dynaflo can you get a safety-surge of extra power that's smooth as a soaring bird.

Only the newest version of Dynaflo gives completely smooth, swift acceleration—even at the first gas-saving inch of pedal pressure.

Trying to believe—this new 1956 Dynaflo is years ahead of any other transmission. And it's just one of the great new features that you're missing if you're still driving an older car.

So why wait for your present car to become another year older—and considerably less valuable as trade-in—when you can take advantage of today's prices? And enjoy a car so excitingly new?

Just look at Buick's new styling—styling that will still look fresh for years to come.

Just try the newest Buick ride. It's the steadiest yet. Based on deep-coil springs, deep-oil cushioned shock absorbers, torque-tube drive, and a long list of new developments not even Buick has ever had before.

And to say that this is a great time to buy a Buick is really an understatement. Come see the sensible, down-to-earth prices of Buick's tremendous range of models. Come hear the deal we can give you.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick build today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Miss Parsons Wed In Home Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Boomers opened their Ada home Saturday evening, July 7th, for the marriage of their niece, Miss Carole Elizabeth Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Parsons of Lowell, to George Howard Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Anderson of Ada.

Mrs. Robert Moore was Matron of Honor, and little Julie Mettermick, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. The bridegroom's brother, Robert Anderson, attended as Best Man.

Rev. Glen Condon performed the marriage rites before the beautifully decorated fireplace of the Boomers home. Other assisting in the service were Clark Parsons, brother of the bride, and Robert Moore, who seated the guests, and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Parsons, who presided as master and mistress of ceremonies.

Prior to the wedding service traditional wedding music was provided by Jerry Boomers, a cousin of the bride, at the organ; also Miss Merleen Condon sang "O Promise Me", "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Wedding Benediction", accompanied at the organ by her mother, Mrs. Glen Condon.

A reception for the wedding guests followed the ceremony, and was held in the Egypt Grange Hall, where the beautiful wedding cake, circled with flowers, was served with punch, ice cream and coffee.

Assisting at the reception were the ladies of the Egypt Grange, and the Misses Nancy Potter, Jean Ford, Merleen Condon, Mary Alice Dey, Angela Cherry and little Marcia Mettermick, a cousin of the bride, took charge of the guest book. Shirley Anderson, sister-in-law of the groom cut the wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left on a northern wedding trip, and are now making their home on Long Island, New York, where Mr. Anderson is stationed in the Armed forces.

The Printing Industry is spending more than $300 million dollars annually in plant and equipment improvements and additions.

Parents, when at the beach watch your children very carefully. The only water they are afraid of is the soapy kind.

THIS SCARRED veteran of many a baseball campaign well remembers his 1934 season with the New York Giants when we were leading the league by something like half a dozen games on Labor Day, yet blew the pennant to the St. Louis Cardinals on the final day.

The Cards went on to quash the Tigers in the World Series but that isn't the point of this story.

The point is that we were all veterans of the championship 1933 team and certainly knew what the game was all about. Yet we went into an unexplained slump, nothing we could do was right, and the next thing we knew we wound up trailing the Cardinals.

Similar difficulties befell the Tigers, although under less acute circumstances, when they suffered their recent 10-game slump. It was the fault of no individual, it was something that was (and is) difficult to explain and little or nothing could be done about it except to keep giving everything you had every day.

Still in "Contention"

I still believe that should the Tigers ever get all the parts clicking at once, and keep them that way, they're going to be a very tough team to keep out of the first division.

This was proved on the last Eastern trip when they posted a highly commendable 11 won-5 lost record while whipping the Yankees three straight.

Despite the absence of Ned Garver, the pitching staff was going along smoothly. The batters were coming through in the pinch. And the defensive play was superb.

The team returned to Briggs Stadium full of confidence. If they could do so well on the road, wouldn't they do even better at home? Naturally.

Trouble—All At Once

Then the roof fell in. Harvey Kuenn, who'd been injured in Boston, failed to respond to treatment and remained out of the line-up. Frank Bolling, whose play at bat and at second base had been outstanding since his return on leave from the Army, had to go back for his discharge.

Bill Tuttle went into a slump. Ray Boone's ailing knees acted up. And, as if all this weren't enough, bad luck seemed to dog those who remained. A fielding misplay that ordinarily wouldn't have mattered turned out to be a crucial play. Or the batters simply couldn't drive in important runs, no matter how hard they tried.

Such a combination of circumstances is enough to make anyone discouraged. But the Tigers weren't discouraged, only disgusted, particularly over blowing the close ones during that 10-game ordeal.

Finally it came to an end. The ailing players recovered, the absent player returned and the team started hitting and fielding again. That's the way it goes in baseball.

Fluoride To Be Painted on Teeth

Fluoride will be painted on the teeth of about 35,000 Michigan children this summer in a cooperative campaign against tooth decay. Fluoride applications will be given in 160 centers in 41 counties by 54 students from the University of Michigan and University of Detroit—all junior dentists and dental hygienists.

Supervised by dentists and sponsored by local health departments, schools, and civic groups, the program is made self-supporting through a nominal fee paid by parents of each child treated. This is the seventh year of the summer fluoride program. To get maximum benefit, children have their teeth painted with fluoride four times, and this process is repeated at three-year intervals.

Dr. Fred Wertheimer, department director of public health dentistry, said that, "By following this schedule, you can expect about 40 per cent less tooth decay." He said that the summer fluoride project, plus year-around programs in many communities, now serve 300,000 Michigan youngsters. Dr. Wertheimer said that use of fluoride directly on children's teeth and, even more effective, the fluoridation of public water supplies, "represent the greatest advances ever made in preventive dental health."

Because Michigan has encouraged the use of fluoride to prevent tooth decay, Dr. Wertheimer added that, "The current generation of Michigan children can look forward to far fewer decayed and lost teeth, less painful trouble with their teeth, generally lower dental bills and all the advantages—both social and nutritional—which come from having sound, white teeth."

Sort Clothes For Best Washing Results

You may be in a rush to get those soiled clothes into the washing machine, but don't overlook sorting them.

When sorting, place those articles together which call for the same kind of washing, the same temperature of water and have the same amount of soil, reminds Lucile Ketchum, home management specialist at Michigan State University.

If articles are colored, be sure the color is fast before placing them with white or pastel colored clothes. Wash white cotton, nylon and dacron alone since they easily take up color.

Soil may be just plain dirt, like snot, sand and mud, or it may be food, such as milk, eggs, gravy, fruit or vegetables. Miss Ketchum explains that the former calls for hot water, a good detergent and vigorous action. The soil from food often calls for special treatment before washing.

The longer food stays on clothing, the harder it is to get out. Stains may result which call for special care and also may cause the fabric to deteriorate. Check and remove stains, cautions Miss Ketchum. Hot water and detergent set some stains so they can never be removed.

More Powerful Transistor

A transistor is now being made that is more than 100 times as powerful as previous commercial models, and has output sufficient to operate motors, valves, relays, and other equipment previously impossible to operate with transistors. The development is described as a major contribution to the advancement of transistors. The power unit has already been incorporated into a prototype aircraft electronic fuel gauge, and is now in commercial production. The key

While waiting for the judges' decision at Talent Night last Saturday, Norm Borgerson told the audience he was going to see to it that the last one to arrive at Sunday's meeting of the directors bought the coffee. Guess who bought the coffee? Norm got caught in his own trap! "My alarm clock was an hour slow," he wailed when he arrived a half hour late. However, the meeting began at nine o'clock, which is pretty good after a late Talent Night the evening before.

All the gentlemen of the chorus will again be elegantly outfitted in white jackets this year—complete with boutonnières. The coats will be distributed after Thursday's rehearsal, which, by the way, is the last one before the rehearsal with the band Monday morning. Cary Stiff, Jr., who is handling the distribution of the coats this year, urges all the men to turn in their jackets promptly. Arrangements will be made whereby the coats may be turned in at the Showboat Dock immediately following the Saturday night performance.

We hate to bring up an unpleasant subject, but in case of rain, here is what to do: Don't spread rumors! Cast and crew, as well as members of the audience, should wait for an official announcement from the Showboat Directors, who will assemble in the Ticket Office immediately. In the event of a shower, Jerald Roth, president of the Lowell Board of Trade, has asked local merchants to open their stores to provide shelter for the thousands of people who will need it. Needless preparations, aren't they?

WHISTLE TOOTS!

A newly-acquired ambulance, owned by the Explorer Scouts of the Lowell Boy Scout Troop 102, will be put into service for the first time Monday night when transportation is provided to the show for patients of Mary Free Bed. Scout leader Jim Droeger recently went to Chicago to pick up the ambulance, a second-hand Cadillac given to the Lowell troop by a dealer there. During Showboat week Explorer Scouts will man the ambulance, headed by adult leader Charles Armstrong.

Justice has finally caught up with Endman Forrest Buck! After twenty-four years behind the counter of a local grocery store, he is now in Ionia behind bars. Sounds bad, but don't get excited, he is now working for the prison in Ionia. The only rap they could ever pin on Bucky is a grand larceny charge for stealing laughs during Showboat week.

Ernie Foreman has made all the arrangements for the pre-Showboat entertainment. The Charles Sligh water skiers are going to appear again this year. Ernie has lined up the ski jump, and a crew of local boys, headed by Terry Shepard, will keep it washed down.

Ernie and Doug LaDae were out in a boat last week, cutting weeds out of the river in a rather novel way. While one-managed the boat, the other held a scythe below the surface of the water. The cut weeds were then allowed to float downstream. Ernie says he feels like Father time.

Ernie W. W. Gumser appeared on Dr. Willis Dunbar's "Michigan Unlimited" program Tuesday afternoon over WKZO-TV. During the interview Walt talked of this year's Showboat and showed several pictures of the attraction. The pictures were part of the group of both color and black-and-white blow-ups that Cary Stiff has used in the Showboat window of his store this year.
