When the Arrows come out on the field this Friday night to meet Godwin in the second home game of the 1956 football season these six lassies will be leading the crowd in the cheers to spur on the home team. Standing, left to right, are Darlene Stites, Judy Wotelf and Sandy Bozung, while Joan Bishop, Carol Denkema and Barbara Court kneel. These girls are the senior cheerleaders, and were selected by five student and five teacher judges. Appearance, personality, ability and leadership were the four points considered. The six junior cheerleaders, also chosen by the judges, are Judi Ellis, Judi Briggs, Mary Dewey, Louise Noah, Sue Keck and Judy Posthumus. All twelve of the girls represent Lowell high school, and its ideals; and they would appreciate your support at all games, both home and away. The girls seem to be saying: Let's all yell!
