

Charge Lowell Council With Unfair Labor Practices

The Lowell Village Council met Tuesday night with State Labor Mediator Phillip Malarney of Muskegon, at the City Hall, along with representatives of the Utility Workers Union of America, C.I.O., and employees and discharged employees, who have filed a petition with the State charging the Village with not paying a fair wage and with attempting to prevent the workers of the village from organizing.

Clem Lewis, national representative of the Utility Union from Detroit, told the Council and State Mediator that an employee of the village had approached Wesley C. Freeman, a Consumers Power worker and Grand Rapids representative of the Utility Union, and asked about organizing the Lowell Municipal Utility.

Mr. Freeman met with other workers and before a petition of recognition could be filed with the Village, the action was taken firing several employees.

Now the union spokesman asks the State Labor Board to require the Village to rehire, before the union will petition for recognition of the union for village employees.

Mr. Lewis told the council that the union has signed up a majority of the employees of the entire village force of some 21 men, not including the clerical and supervisory personnel, and will represent them.

Lewis also told the Ledger representative that the discharged employees had or were filing a complaint with the Kent County Prosecutor, Stuart Hoffius, claiming that these men were fired for attempting to form a union.

No Service Interruption

People need have no fear of interruption of electrical service because of a strike in this dispute. Under State Law, strikes in electric utility plants are prohibited.

This whole problem must be solved through process of mediation.

Need More Proof

In a phone conversation with A. Dale Stoppels, assistant prosecuting attorney, Wednesday morning—the Ledger was informed that representatives of the village employees called on him on February 19th.

Call For Hearing

In the dispute with the village the union representative announced that he will ask the State Labor Board for a fact-finding hearing as soon as possible to determine if the charges are based on fact.

This hearing will be conducted here in Lowell and evidence will be presented by both the union and council, under oath, to support the claims of both sides.

The date for this hearing has not been set.

Statement From Council

Speaking on behalf of the village council, President Pro-tem William Jones, Jr., made the following statement to the Ledger Tuesday evening, following the meeting:

"The reason for dismissal of the three village employees is only for reason of economy. Detailed examination of financial history for more than a year shows increased costs and lower net income. The month of January showed a loss of $1,700.

"The street department work was not dismissed, but laid off, and will be used as necessary. It is expected that he will be rehired full-time next summer.

"The financial figures will be published in the Ledger dated March 7, 1957.

"2. The employees who were dismissed will not be replaced. There are no funds with which to pay the wages of those men dismissed.

"3. The Village Council is determined to continue operation of the light and power plant, and it is hoped that the rates will not have to be increased. Anything that would force the village to increase expenditures at this time would mean an increase in rates."

When truth stands in your way it is time to change directions.

Truck Burns; Fiery Grave For Livestock

A truck loaded with 150 cattle and hogs crashed into a tree a mile east of Lowell on M21 Wednesday morning at 5 a. m. and burst into flames.

Lowell fire department put out the fire.

Cattle, burned and injured, were thrown from the semi-trailer and scattered along the road; the injured cattle had to be shot by the police. Other cattle disappeared into the darkness and they were still being sought out Wednesday morning.

Investigating the accident were John Voss and Clifford J. Ellis of the Rockford State Police Post. Lowell Police Officer William Richard assisted in disposing of the cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ryder Receive Centennial Farm Plaque

Mr. Downes became interested about a year ago in the fact that over 30 farms in a small area in Ada, Vergennes, Cannon and Grattan townships.

Family Has Key

In a letter to Frank Ryder, written in January of 1954, from Mrs. R. F. Thompson of St. Petersburg, Florida, she writes that her father (who was born in the log cabin) once took her to see where the old log house was. She said her father gave her the key to the old log cabin, which she writes was "gone before my time", as a family treasure to be kept and handed down to the family descendants.

Two persons were taken to Blodgett hospital by Roth ambulance Tuesday morning after a three-car accident on US-16 at Bancroft av., which occurred about 10 o'clock.

The other driver was Peter Van Eycyk, 62 of Holland, who was not injured. All men were driving along in their respective automobiles.

The East Lansing man is still hospitalized, and in fair condition, suffering possible chest injuries. Mr. Heeter was treated for head cuts and released. Deputies are investigating.

Currently they have been invited by the Lion's Club to join with other groups to promote the Lowell Swimming Pool.

Moose Lodges and Chapters are dedicated to the support of Mooseheart "The Child's City", near Chicago, Illinois, which provides a fine home and complete educational opportunities to orphaned children of Moose members; and Moosehaven, home for the aged, in Florida.

Everyone should visit Mooseheart and Moosehaven to understand the humanitarian aims and accomplishments of this organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ryder Receive Centennial Farm Plaque

Edward J. Downes, of McCabe road, is pictured left above, presenting to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ryder a certificate from the Michigan Historical Society designating their Bailey drive farm as a "Michigan Centennial Farm". Mr. Downes became interested about a year ago in the fact that over 30 farms in a small area in Ada, Vergennes, Cannon and Grattan townships.

of the other Ryder homes, on Cumberland dr., which has since been vacated as a Kent county road, but is marked on the County map in broken lines.

Parts of the foundation of his log cabin were still around until the last few years when the land was cleared for farming.

Family Has Key

In a letter to Frank Ryder, written in January of 1954, from Mrs. R. F. Thompson of St. Petersburg, Florida, she writes that her father (who was born in the log cabin) once took her to see where the old log house was. She said her father gave her the key to the old log cabin, which she writes was "gone before my time", as a family treasure to be kept and handed down to the family descendants.

Mrs. Thompson, one of three daughters of James Lyon, second owner of this property, sent the key along with her letter, so that her nephew's family could have it, as a memorial.

Mrs. Thompson passed away in March, 1954, only three months after writing the Ryders.

The Morgan Lyon family lived in the old log cabin homestead until the second home was built, a large frame structure on the south side of Bailey drive, across the road from the present Frank L. Ryder home.

This second home is about 75 years old, and at one time had 16 rooms; but parts of the building have been torn down.

The brick home, where the centennial farm owners now live, was constructed in 1946.

Family History

The ownership of the tract passed from Morgan Lyon, on his death, to his son, James. When James died, his three daughters inherited the property, and these three sisters sold the estate to Frank Ryder, sr., the son of Matilda, the eldest daughter of Morgan Lyon.

Frank Ryder, sr., died in 1912, and his farm was sold by his widow, Anna, to her son Frank Lyon Ryder. Anna Ryder now makes her home in Lowell with her youngest child, Mrs. Nelson (Cora) Stormzand.

Other children of Frank Ryder, sr., are: Ed, of Ionia; Frank, and Fred, of Lowell; George, in California; Sam, and Lena Peckham of Lowell; Anna Hyder of California; and Louise Winks, of Lowell.

The present farm owners, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyon Ryder, have two daughters, Geraldine, a nurse at St. Mary's hospital in Grand Rapids; and Bernadette, a sophomore at Michigan State University.

Many in Area

As we said above, there are many other centennial farms in this area. Of the 37 located through the efforts of Mr. Downes, this farm, the Ryders', is the oldest.

A "Centennial" farm is one on which a family has lived for over 100 years.

It must be handed down through the years from one member of a family to another.

Those in Ada township besides Mr. Downes are: Carl Keena, Andy Farrell, Pat Farrell, John Abraham, Jim McCaul, Eugene Pettis, Mrs. Cody Ward, Leo Steel, Chas. Cramton, and John Platte.

In Vergennes township are: Vincent Cary, Ralph Howard, Clare Anderson, Adelbert Odell, Donald Anderson, Ed Mueller, Ed Byrnes, Ansel Fairchild and Leonard Kerr.

There are 8 farms in Grattan township: Loyal Malone, John R. Hefferan, Henry Sullivan, Jim Gahan, Leo Byrne, Justin McCarty, Mrs. George Hurley and Alfred Byrnes.

In Cannon township Mr. Downes lists: Cam Hefferan, Elizabeth Hefferan, James McCabe, and Eldon Ladner.

Neighbors of the Roth Funeral Chapel complained Monday when a blaring automobile horn was apparently stuck—it turned out to be the ambulance, parked in the chapel garage. They had been having trouble with the horn sticking, but thought it had been taken care of.

It is a good thing there wasn't a service scheduled for 1 o'clock that day.

"Mystery Farm" Picture Squeezed Out This Week

Because of the fast breaking of unusual news items this week we found it necessary to postpone the running of the "mystery farm" picture until next week.

Last week's farm was the Tyrus Wessell place, Peck Lake rd., in Boston twp., and was identified by Mrs. Richard Stewart of Route 2, Lowell. (See complete story next week).

charge of conducting the boys around the stage.

The Winners!

As each of the seven cub dens modeled their robots, four were selected in the following categories: Most mechanical, funniest, outer space, and most original. Then these boys were again judged, in a group, and these are the results:

Rickie Bopworth, most original; Paul Kropf, outer space; Mike McMahon, most mechanical; and Tommy Hagen, funniest. These four boys received special prizes and all boys participating in the robot parade were given a collapsible cub scout drinking cup.

The newly-organized Webeloes, under Al Goodwin, presented a color guard, led by two members of the Boy Scout Explorer unit—these 12 boys led the entire assembly in reciting the Pledge of Alliance. Bill Dawson is an assisting leader in this new group.

Following the banquet cub scout awards were presented to all the boys who had completed certain phases of the cubbing work. Group singing was led by Gerald Rollins, with Don Mullen at the piano. And then the final event of the program was an address by Deputy Sheriff Clarence Randle, who spoke on civil defense, and showed very educational and entertaining movies.

Present $100 to Scouts

The cub scouts were also very happy to present a check for $100 to the Boy Scouts for use in their building fund, inasmuch as the cub scouts do make use of the scout cabin, and wanted to help with the cost of its maintenance. The boys, incidentally, made $185 on their street sale of cub flags during Scout Week.

Miss Alexander Wed At Grandparents Home In Afternoon Ceremony

The marriage of Norann Rose Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Alexander, 36th st., and Arnold DeLoof, son of Mrs. Rose DeLoof, Covered Bridge rd., was solemnized at four o'clock Saturday, February 23, at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Watson, 507 King street.

The single ring service was performed by Rev. J. M. DeVinney of the Methodist church, under an arch of white bells and streamers with baskets of pink glads and white ribbons at the sides of the archway.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a pink suit and matching hat and carried a white Bible topped by white rosebuds and carnations.

Attending her as maid of honor was Margie Wood, who wore a royal blue dress, and carried pink and white carnations. Serving as best man was Kenneth Burton.

Immediately following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served. Mrs. Bruce Tower, sister of the groom cut the beautiful three-tiered bridal cake, and Roberta Thompson and Ruthann Bloomer poured coffee. The table was decorated with silver candelabras, Mr. and Mrs. DeLoof will make their home in Fallsburg.

Teachers: "Well, of Course!" Faculty All-Stars Tounce Lions Before Standing-Room-Only Crowd

The Funny Faculty All-Stars (when they must again put their title on the line).

The feature event was a "howling" success from before the opening whistle. The All-Stars paraded in outfits from raincoats and football suits to Bermuda shorts and wives' bathing suits. The Lions were however, having a leisurely time as they warmed-up in all kinds of pajamas.

All-Star spinning center Perch Burch easily won the opening jump (from a 10-foot stepladder) and also scored the All-Stars' first field goal (you guessed it, also from the ladder).

The Lions, using imported talent (namely Bob Grummet, former Arrow star and all-Conference cager and present holder of two G. V. cage records) kept the left off-guard Kemper, who constantly kept the opposition off balance with his unorthodox non-basketball tactics, slipped 19 tallies through the hoop for the teachers. Flying forward Weavie Stevie had a lucky evening as he hit for 14. Little Bob Grummet (6 feet 5 inches) pumped in (literally) 18 points for the Loving Lions.

In other games, the 5th grade "mites" upended the 4th grade "tights", 22-1. Craig Walter had 6 for the Mites.

In a thriller, the 7th grade "mice" were victorious over the 6th grade "lice" by a score of 3-10. Raymor and Miller had 4.

The freshmen "bullies" whipped the 6th grade "woolies" by a 12-4 count, in a bruiser. Wissman of the Bullies and Howe of the Woolies each had 4.

In the final prelim, the FFA (Funny Farmers Association) upset the evening physical education class, 13-12. Stahl scored 7 for the victors.

Although we have given you the scoring winners, the real winners were the athletes who will benefit from the proceeds.

Extension NEWS NOTES

DAIRY PRODUCTION DOWN IN WINTER MONTHS
Many Kent County dairymen are complaining about not getting high production from dairy cows during winter months when cows are being self-fed corn silage. Bob Kelley, dairy agent, says corn silage serves as an excellent dairy cattle roughage—if it's not used as a major source of roughage. Corn silage should be used as an appetizer rather than a basic dairy roughage ration.

Where corn silage is being self-fed, Kelley suggests you limit the time cows can self-feed. This encourages cows to spend more time consuming hay which is of higher protein content than corn silage. Corn silage alone can be used very successfully in wintering beef cattle. Analysis shows corn silage to run from one and a half to two and a half protein.

Where corn silage is the only roughage available, it would be wise to feed the corn silage in the morning after milking up until noon. Then feed the silage again after milking at night. This makes the cows want their grain ration. Grain ration to be fed with corn silage should be of high protein content—in the neighborhood of 12 percent digestible protein. It should be fed at the rate of one pound of grain to three and a half pounds of milk produced.

DAIRY MEETING
On March 13 the annual dairy improvement program will be held at Bostwick Lake, beginning at 10 a. m. and concluding about 3 p. m.
The Kent County Dairy Council has prepared a varied program and will include the following: Bangs eradication program in Kent County; pros and cons of milk price control ordinances; the new Grade A milk law which is to become effective July 1, discussed by Mr. Kenneth Van Patten, dairy products' specialist, Michigan State University and values of roughage in the dairy ration presented by Dr. N. P. Ralston, head of the dairy department, Michigan State University. There will also be time to discuss dairy testing. Mr. Victor Weller will serve as master of ceremonies.

Well-Child Conference
Four members of the Oakfield Home Demonstration Group were on hand for the opening of the Harvard Well-Child Conference.

NATIONAL 4H WEEK IS MARCH 2 TO 9
Kent County's two thousand 4-H club members and 380 volunteer leaders will observe National 4-H Week, March 2-9. They are part of a large national program which includes 2,000,000 members. "Learn to do by doing" is a motto that guides club members, and there are a variety of work projects in which they can enroll. Heading the list of popular projects in Kent County is clothing, followed by conservation and handicraft. Volunteer leaders give much time and energy to guiding 4H club members in completing project work, and, indirectly, in developing citizenship.
