Sub-Teens and Parents Discuss Mutual Problems at P.T.A.

Everything from TV problems in relation to studies and allowances in relation to duties around the home was discussed by this panel of eighth graders and parents at the regular monthly meeting of the Lowell Parent-Teacher association held Monday night at the school. Pictured, standing left to right, are Larry Keiser, Glenn Fletcher, Francis Campau, Richard Schieritzauer, and R. L. Court, panel moderator. In the front row, seated, are Lola Lee Alexander, Sandra Staal, Mrs. Kenneth Fletcher and Mrs. William Doyle. Most children receive $1.00 a week allowance, it was discovered, although smaller children generally should get only 50 cents, it was felt. It was generally agreed by students and parents that the child should "do something" for his allowance, that is, help with the duties of the household. About television, it was generally believed that it should be a matter of conscience to the student, whether he should watch television before arranging time for his school work. Winners of the parent-attendance award were Vera Morse's eighth grade class; Mrs. John Troy's seventh grade group won second prize. Next month's meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the swimming pool project being promulgated in Lowell. Eugene, general chairman of the Lowell Lions club committee on the pool, will be in charge. Also, at the April business meeting, a report will be heard from the nominating committee concerning next year's slate of officers.

"Angelic" Citizens Keep February JP Report Low

Apparently this area was filled with "angelic" and law-abiding citizens for the month of February, if Justice of the Peace Howard J. Rittenger's report for that month is any criterion. Only 28 matters were handled by the court, and they netted a slim $317.20 in fines and costs. Of course, we realize that February was a short month—only 28 days—but this sum is so much below the reports of the past year that it is worthy of note. Fourteen cases were concerning state law, and brought $180.40; the village matters involved 11 violations, which cost the violators $136.80. The biggest offenders were speeders. One warrant involved a breaking and entering charge; another was for operating a motor vehicle without a license; and the third warrant was issued to a party for being under the influence of liquor and using abusive language.

School Mystery Chosen For Play

An intriguing mystery about a trial of a school janitor by the pupils and parents, etc., has been chosen for the annual senior class play, which will be presented the first week end in April. "The Remarkable Incident at Carson Corners," by Reginald Rose, adapted from a novel by Kristen Segel, has been seen by many of one of the veteran television playhouses—it has been televised at least twice. A cast of 28 will take part in bringing this fascinating mystery to the Lowell senior's proud parents, friends and relatives. The cast includes: Larry Wittenbach, Cara Lee Croninger, John Alderink, Carol McWhinney, Chuck Dykhuizen, Roberta Thompson and Jim Bibbler. Also Nancy Yahnke, Eugene Chamption, Carol Kaufeld, Carol Denkema, Dan DeGraw, Jack Nash, Virginia Lewis, Ruth Ann Bloomer and Marcia Keech. Others taking part are Judy Fletcher, John Haggar, Judy Wollett, Sally Winko, Bernard Collins, Larry Hoffman, Jim Eickhoff, Jim Trumble, Barbara Kelly, Bruce Place, Leonard Fase and Barbara Court.

Kent Library Offers Study of County Role

Kent County Library Branches in fourteen areas of Kent County will have copies of "Our Metropolitan County," a study of local government in Kent County. Prepared by the Grand Rapids League of Women Voters, the booklet reflects the many changes in our county since the 1955 edition. Your community branch librarian will be glad to loan you this, and other materials on your local government. For information on the hours and services of the Kent County Library Branch nearest you, call CH1-4479.

"Together We Make Tomorrow" Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds Plan Celebration of 47th Birthday

As their part in the celebration of Camp Fire's forty-seventh birthday as a national organization, Lowell Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds will entertain their fathers at a Dad-Daughter dinner on Monday, March 18th. It will be held at 6:30 p. m. in the all-purpose room of the Runciman Elementary School. The birthday theme of "Together We Make Tomorrow" will be carried out in the decorations

Bailey School District To Vote March 26 on Annexation to Bennet

At a special meeting called for Tuesday evening, March 26, the Bailey school district will vote whether or not to annex their district to the Bennet school district, to which they have been sending their first through sixth graders for about 20 years. The meeting will be held at the Vergennes town hall, and approval by the voters of the annexation is expected, according to Adelbert Odell.

Bailey voted in favor of such a move a year ago, but the union was not approved by the State Department of Public Instruction. The Law

This year state law declares all school districts not operating a school must become annexed to some school district operating a school by June 1, or else allow the County Board of Education to transfer the closed district to another with an operating school. Therefore, Bailey district desires to join the school district to which it has been sending its students for so many years, and following the election on March 26, approval of the State will again be sought. Bennet has already approved the move. They are presently receiving seven pupils from the Bailey district.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Edward Yaeger was pleasantly surprised on his birthday, Thursday evening, when twelve of his friends gathered at his home for a social evening. Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Stolen Car Hits Two Alto Autos — One a Policeman's

If you are going to run into two parked cars—while driving a stolen one—you really shouldn't pick a policeman! We imagine that is how Jack E. DeCamp, 26, of Cascade rd., feels about now. Jack was apprehended Wednesday (March 6th) night about thirty minutes after a hit-and-run accident in Alto. He was found by Joseph Metternick and Deputy Bill Reynhout from the Kent County Sheriff's department, about a half-mile north of Alto on Bancroft avenue, where he had abandoned his car. Grand Rapids police were holding DeCamp Wednesday on charges of stealing a car owned by Gerrit Sharpshorn, Route 2, Grand Haven, which was parked in downtown Grand Rapids; DeCamp admitted to the theft, according to Deputy Reynhout. Sheriff's department has been holding DeCamp in the county jail on the hit-and-run charge.

Accident Details According to Reynhout, the accident occurred when DeCamp swerved into two autos parked in front of the Albertine Haggar house in Alto Wednesday evening, about 9:00. The cars belonged to Peter White and Nick Treviso. The latter is a Grand Rapids city police officer.

The Treviso car was damaged to the extent of $125 and White's about $50, according to the Sheriff's department report. DeCamp's stolen auto was damaged so severely that he was unable to drive it more than a half mile from Alto, where he was apprehended.

William C. Klahn, a life resident of Bowne and Lowell townships, passed away Saturday at his home on US16, following an illness of 15 months duration. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, at the Roth funeral home, Rev. Clifford Edwards officiating; interment is in Merriman cemetery.

Mr. Klahn was born October 14, 1871, in a log cabin in Bowne township on the farm now known as the Henry Klahn place, and he spent his entire life in this vicinity. His parents, Charles and Mary Klahn, were pioneers of this part of Kent County, coming here from Germany and building their home in pioneer style.

Until his illness Mr. Klahn was active in the work on his farm, which is mainly fruit, dairy and beef, as well as general farming. He was a member of the Alto Methodist church.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Nora; two sons, Carroll of Warsaw, New York, and Clarence of Lowell township; a daughter, Mrs. T. J. (Frances) Flower of Whitehall; a sister, Mrs. Paul Averill and a brother, Henry, both of Grand Rapids; six grandchildren and one great grandchild; also several nieces and nephews.

Lowell Draws Ann Arbor For Mayor-Exchange Day

Lowell Village President Peter Speerstra will preside as honorary mayor of Ann Arbor on Monday of Michigan Week, May 20, and the Ann Arbor mayor will visit in Lowell as our honorary chief executive on that day. The exchange of mayors day drawing was held Monday in Lansing, and, although Mr. Speerstra is vacationing in summer climes and unavailable for comment, we believe he will be much more willing to accept this drawing than he was last year when Lowell drew a town in the northernmost extremities of the upper peninsula. A second drawing sent our president to Watervliet, and we enjoyed a visit from that town's mayor on the mayor's day of the 1956 Michigan Week celebration.

The men of the Lowell Congregational church have decided to give mom a "night out" on Tuesday, March 26, when a country style dinner will be planned, prepared and served by them at the Runciman Elementary building all-purpose room.

The men have selected their favorite meal—Prime Ribs of Beef, and all the trimmings—for the menu of the night, and they promise you can have all you can eat.

Purpose of the dinner is to raise funds toward dispensing of the debt of the church for recent repairs to the roof and supporting beams over the sanctuary.

New Law Sets Saturday For Township Meeting

New Michigan law, enacted last year by the legislature, has established Saturday preceding the first day of April for the annual meeting of townships. Heretofore the township meetings were held on the first Monday in April, which every other year coincided with the biennial spring election.

This year the annual meetings will be on Saturday, March 30. The various townships in this area will have notices in the paper next week and the week following concerning the exact time of their particular meetings that day.

Law requires that they be held between 11 o'clock p. m. and 8 o'clock p. m.; the time and place of such meeting shall be determined by the township board.

Services For Maj. T. L. Doyle Will Be Saturday

Funeral services for Major Thomas L. Doyle, 42, a former Lowell resident, will be Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Lowell Methodist church.

Chaplain Col. John O. Woods of Fort Bragg, North Carolina, a personal friend of the deceased, will officiate at the funeral services, along with Rev. J. Marion DeViney.

Arrangements are being made by Roth Funeral Home, where friends may meet with the family Thursday and Friday evenings between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Major Doyle, who died Wednesday, March 6, in Germany, is being flown to this country, and the plane is expected in Detroit this morning (Thursday). The deceased had been studying at the Institute of Social Studies at The Hague in Holland. He had been ill about a month.

After graduating from Lowell high school in 1934, Major Doyle attended Simpson college in Iowa, Northwestern university, and graduated from the latter's Theological seminary in 1940.

He was ordained a Methodist minister in 1940, and accepted a pastorate in Lanark, Ill.; he was later transferred to Des Moines, where he became a member of the Iowa National Guard. Maj. Doyle was in military service 15 years, retiring in 1956 because of poor health.

Military Service

Major Doyle's first active military duty was at the Brooklyn Port of Embarkation in New York, where he served as chaplain; later he was stationed aboard troop ships returning servicemen from overseas. After the cessation of hostilities of World War II he was assigned in Germany for 3 years, and while there was known as the "flying parson" inasmuch as he traveled to many military outposts in a small 2-passenger plane.

After being stationed at Mercy Army hospital, Waltham, Mass., he went to Korea, during which service he earned the Bronze Star Medal for heroic achievement in conflict. He returned to this country in 1953 and served as chief of chaplains at Fort George G. Meade, until his retirement from service.

Major Doyle is survived by his wife and two children, Thomas and Donna, of Freeport, Ill.; a brother, Charles Earl of Lowell; and several nieces and nephews. Interment will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Congregational Men Plan Prime Rib Supper

The men of the Lowell Congregational church have decided to give mom a "night out" on Tuesday, March 26, when a country style dinner will be planned, prepared and served by them at the Runciman Elementary building all-purpose room.

Showboat Gives Program Franchise To Lions Club

At their regular monthly meeting Saturday evening, the directors of Lowell Showboat, Inc. voted to grant the franchise for the 1957 program to the Lowell Lions Club, to help them earn funds for the swimming pool fund.

The Lions Club has taken the construction of an outdoor swimming pool in Lowell as one of their major projects, and asked for the program franchise so that they may bolster this drive.

The group must pay for the printing costs of the program, but they will retain all funds earned from the sale of complimentary advertisements.

For many years the program has been handled by Joe Golden, a veteran of 30 years on the professional stage, and now residing in Grand Rapids.

Damages: Ice Cream Cone, Two Right Front Fenders

Under "damages" in an accident report made out Sunday by Lowell patrolman George DeGraw, along with two right front fenders of two separate cars, Mr. DeGraw could very well have written an additional item: One ice cream cone.

It seems that this latter item was really the cause of an accident on Chatham street Sunday afternoon at 3:10. Miss Bonnie Bryan, 16, of James st., was driving west on Chatham, with a youngster in the car with her—said youngster eating an ice cream cone.

But when the cone fell to the floor of the car, you can imagine the little one felt pretty bad, and Bonnie tried to recover it, losing control of her car, which ran up the curb on the south side of the street, and struck a car owned by Jack Crawford, which was parked near his driveway, on Chatham. Both cars have damaged right front fenders. No one was injured. Bonnie was ticketed for not having her car under control.

Mrs. Acheson, Former Nurse in This Area, Dies Saturday Morning

Mrs. Annie Acheson, 81, was buried at Merriman cemetery Monday, following funeral services at the Roth chapel, conducted by Rev. Norman Woon.

Mrs. Acheson was well-known in Lowell, having worked as a practical nurse in this general area for many years. She is the widow of Sam Acheson, who passed away 38 years ago. While living in this area she was a member of the Ionia Geographers, and when residing in Isabella County she was very active in the work of the Rebekah Lodge.

The deceased had made her home in Lansing for the past eleven years, with a daughter, Mrs. John Allen. She passed away at her daughter's home Saturday morning, following a heart attack. Other survivors include a son, Arthur, of Grand Rapids; a brother, William Murphy of Lowell; and several nieces and nephews.

GRASS FIRE WEDNESDAY

The fire broke out at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday sent the firemen out to the Charles A. MacFarlane farm on Foreman road. A grass fire was the cause of the alarm. The ground surely dried up quick after the soaking we had Monday.

Six Grass Fires In Seven Days

Monday's spring-like rain may alleviate the situation, but six grass fires inside of seven days' time is quite a busy workload for Lowell's volunteer firemen.

Although we mentioned in our paper last week after the first grass fire of the season had been reported (at the Charles Gould place on Emery drive)—that extreme caution should be used in burning rubbish, etc., from Thursday afternoon until Sunday morning five more grass fires sent the volunteers away from their jobs, to protect property from fire.

Thursday, about 4:30, burning rubbish started a grass fire at the Nash Havers, 823 Avery; the same thing happened Friday, just before noon, at the "Sam" Yeters, Lincoln Lake road, just north of the Lowell city limits.

Two calls Saturday were of the same nature: Marvin Anderson, Kissing Rock road, called the department at 12:30 in the afternoon, and two hours later the department was summoned to Obery drive. Mrs. Frank Graves' place.

The sixth call came from Jack Lusk, Nash Avenue, 10:30 Sunday morning.

Fire Chief Frank Baker states that most of these fires were apparently caused by the wind blowing burning objects from a trash can; it is not enough to be sure that things are burning in a container, but the container must be watched—particularly on a windy or gusty day.

Mr. Baker feels that the rain Monday will afford his men a well-earned rest, so they can catch up on the work they had to drop when the fire-alarms sounded. These firemen came promptly when they were called, but let's all try and see if we can't do everything in our power to prevent fires—don't be careless!

Lowell to Host District Extension Group Meeting

The southeast district meeting for the Michigan State Home Demonstration groups will be held March 28 at the Methodist church in Lowell.

Southeast district is composed of the groups in Cascade, Lowell, Caledonia, and Bowne townships. The meeting will be a pot-luck luncheon at noon, with coffee furnished. All those attending are to remember they must be prepared with a "Bell Ringer" for the planning meeting.

This Lowell meeting is only one of five being held in March, at which Miss E. Eleanor Densmore and Mrs. Alfreda MacGulre, county agents, will be leaders. The meetings are held from 10:00 a. m. until 3:00 p. m., and the purpose is to develop a program for the coming year—and ascertain which phases of home management concern the members most.

St. Patrick's Day Sunday, March 17

No matter if the cold wind's keen Each Irish heart is gay; The Shamrock's sheen is Spring-time green, And warm's the smile of each colleen. For this is March the Seventeen—And good Saint Patrick's Day. * * *

This is a little off Main st., but most people along Main street have radios, and if they were tuned to one of the Grand Rapids stations last Saturday afternoon they would have been surprised to hear Mrs. Cousin Ed Denkema taking over as disc jockey for her husband on his 1 1/2 hour show. While Cousin Ed was piloting four busloads of country music fans on a trip to Nashville, Tennessee, to witness a Grand Ole Opry performance, someone had to take his place, and he chose Mrs. Cousin Ed. Mrs. Denkema works in Lowell, at the C. H. Runciman office.

Season Ends With 4-13 Record Arrows Eliminated in District Finals After Winning Opener With Belding

After narrowly beating the Belding Redskins, 64-61, Friday, the Red Arrows were eliminated in the District finals Saturday night by Greenville, 60-51.

This concludes the '56-57 cage season and athletes turn to track, baseball, and tennis for the Spring. The Arrows finished the court season with a 4-13 record.

Against the Redskins of Belding, the Arrows led 15-13 at the first quarter and 35-33 at intermission. This margin was whittled to 54-53 at the three-quarter mark.

During the final canto the Redskins pulled ahead with eighteen seconds of play remaining, 61-60. With seven seconds remaining, senior forward Jim Carr calmly meshed a jump shot to put the Arrows ahead.

A wild Redskin pass gave the Arrows possession of the ball with one second to go. On the pass inbounds, Orison Abel was fouled and made two charity tosses after time had run out, making the final score 64-61.

Orison Abel tallied 20 points as he led his team to victory. He was followed by Jim Carr with 14; Len Fase, 13; Bernie Collins, 12; Chuck Ryder, three; and Don Dawson, two.

Against Greenville the Arrows did not fare as well. Hitting only 17 per cent of their first half shots, the Arrows trailed 17-13 and 36-20 at the first two periods. Coming back strong in the second half the Redbirds narrowed the gap to 44-39 as the final period began.

However the Yellow Jackets' advantage paid off as they pulled out to win, 60-51.

Their Final Game Seniors playing their last game were Leonard Fase, Orison Abel, Bernard Collins, Jim Carr, Keith Fase, and John Norton.

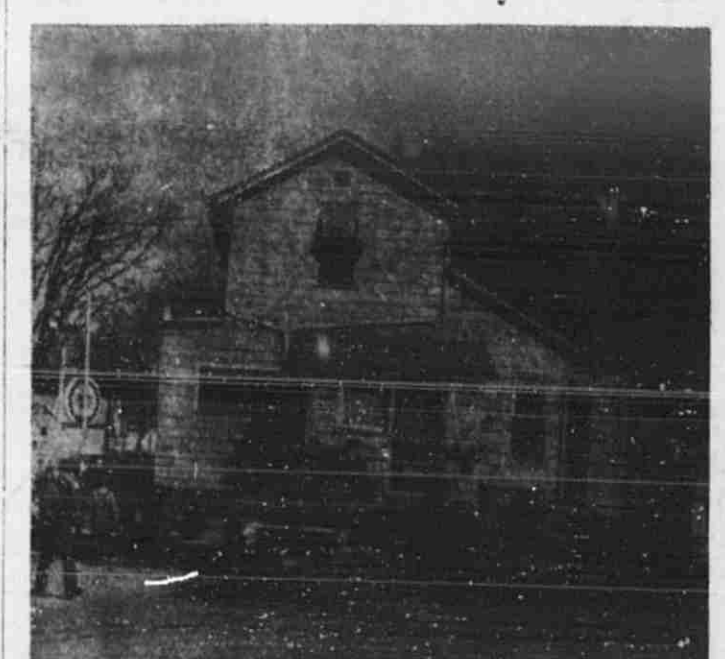

Sophomore Chuck Ryder led the Arrows with 13 points. Abel hit for 10 and Carr scored nine. Storm-zand meshed four and Len Fase, Norton, Henderson, and Wayne Miller each had two.

Bernie Stars Perhaps the outstanding player of the tournament was 5-ft. 8-in. Bernie Collins who, when he himself could not get a rebound, would tie up the opposing player and obtain a jump ball with boys ranging from six feet to 6-ft. 5-in. These contributed greatly to the Arrow cause.

Next week we will conduct a season review with scores, statistics, averages, etc.

House Moved to Make Way for Station

When Mrs. Ada Nixon sold her property on North Hudson street, just off Main, to the Standard Oil company, C. J. Place bought the house which had to be removed from the premises. On Friday, last, the house made a journey down Hudson street to Maple, where it will now reside, next door to the Place residence. This scene caused a lump to form in the throat of Frank McMahon, former Lowell municipal utilities superintendent, who lived in the house for fifty years. His wife, Lotia Sayer McMahon, was born there. Frank and Mrs. McMahon lived here when they were first married, and cared for Mrs. McMahon's grandmother, Mrs. McWilliams. The four McMahon children were born here. Mr. McMahon recalls that many additions and modernizations were made in the old house, which had been in the McWilliams family for 75 years. Frank said he hated to think how long ago it was that he served the village as treasurer, but he does recall that all the salary he earned for this job he turned into the improvements of the old house.

TRAFFIC COURT

before it's thrown at you

For example, traffic everywhere is required to keep to the right; drivers are forbidden to pass on hills, curves, and other unsafe places. Many the regulations which vary among states and localities, are posted on signs which should be read by all drivers," he emphasized.

"Of course, drivers who pull house trailers, or the drivers of trucks, are sometimes subject to special regulations. However, the average driver, by knowing the regulations of his home state, by observing the traffic signs where-ever he travels, and by exercising ordinary care, a common sense, and courtesy behind the wheel, should be able to drive safely without running afoul of the law."

Keep your driving knowledge up to date as your car," Baird-
 Smith concluded.

Rules of the road is the theme of Michigan Trucking Association's paign.

G.O.P. Sets Plans Toward Winning April 1 Election

Under new leadership and with a team of candidates devoted to a program of progress in Michigan modeled on President Eisenhower's program of progress for the nation, Republicans set out this week to win the April 1 election.

One of the chief planks in the Republican platform is a program to speed up road construction through full use of the Revenue Bond Act and accomplish in 7 years what now is scheduled for 13 years under the Federal aid act. This can be done without additional state taxes and in addition more money could be made available for rural roads and city and village streets by redistribution of present highway funds, the platform declares.

Details of the program will be unfolded as the campaign develops, said George M. Foster, of Lansing, Chief Deputy Highway Commissioner and nominee for Highway Commissioner in the April 1 voting.

Republican candidates will tour every area in Michigan in a "Town meeting" type of campaign, said newly-elected State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindner, 35-year-old Southbridge resident.

Preliminary plans call for 10 regional meetings, with the candidates and nominees for Highway Commissioner in the April 1 voting.

"This election will be no school-in and we are going to have to fight for every vote," he declared.

"We are going to take our program, the issues and our candidates to all the people of Michigan. I believe the people want the type of progress presented by our candidates and program."

Republicans nominees for the spring election are:
 Dr. Edgar L. Harlan, President of Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette and former dean of Continuing Education at Michigan State University, for State Superintendent of Public Instruction.
 George M. Foster, of Lansing, chief deputy Highway Commissioner and an outstanding engineer, for State Highway Commissioner.
 George W. Dean, of Detroit, President of the Michigan Federation of Labor and member of many advisory committees on education and the White House Conference on Education, for State Board of Education.
 Alfred B. Connable, of Kalamazoo, incumbent seeking re-election, and Mrs. Ethel Watt of East Lansing, for Board of Regents, University of Michigan.
 Frank M. Decker, of Deerpark, farmer and Frederick H. Mueller, of Grand Rapids, incumbent seeking re-election, for the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan University.
 Michael D. O'Hara, Menominee attorney and Robert E. Childs, Detroit attorney and professor of law

How come the new Ford rides so smooth and solid?

It's the new inner Ford that gives you a big-car ride at low Ford prices

• Rolls just naturally low Ford's sleeker silhouette. And they love Ford's new Thunderbird V-8's and Mileage Maker Six. But the thing that really got 'em buzzing is Ford's new ride. In the new kind of Ford, vital riding features team up to give you the smoothest going in the whole ride world. For example:

More weight and length

MSU Singers In City

The concert of the Michigan State University "State Singers" at Grand Rapids, Monday, March 25, and Tuesday, March 26, will feature an interesting program of folk songs, motets, spirituals, madrigals and selections from opera.

Also appearing on the program will be an 18-member instrumental ensemble and the M. S. U. Madrigals Singers.

Among the selections announced by director Richard L. Klausli were "Glory to God," a beautiful featuring fourth century Greek melodies; "Pange lingua," a 13th century hymn by St. Thomas Aquinas set to music by Kodaly; and Chopin's "Sonata for Cello and Piano."

Prunes, almonds, brown sugar and butter. Any plain muffin batter takes on personality with the addition of prunes. For better flavor use the liquid from the prunes for some of the milk in the recipe. Prunes are good in pies, too. Just substitute prunes for raisins in your recipe for sour cream raisin pie.

NEWS NOTES

Final Call for Trees
 Kent County have already placed orders with the Extension Office to fill their tree planting needs for the coming spring, according to Bill Rupp, county agricultural agent.

Trees have been coming from the Michigan Department of Conservation and Michigan State University. According to last reports, trees still available are red pine seedlings and transplants, jack pine seedlings, white spruce seedlings and transplants.

If you're interested in placing an order, or being put on the mailing list for future tree orders, call or write the Co-operative Extension Office.

When ordering trees it's necessary that you have a complete tax description of the property on which the trees will be planted. Trees can be shipped directly to you. However, in the past a truck has been taken to the nursery and the trees delivered to a pickup point for you in the county.

If you're interested, get now. If the trees will be sold out shortly.

Stain Removal
 The rule for success in removing a stain is to start with the stain is fresh, even before it dries. If possible, avoid Evonox Densmore, county home demonstration agent.

Try simple methods first. For a non-greasy stain, sponge with cold water. For a greasy stain, avoid hot water sets many stains.

Often the method of cleaning is as important as the cleaning material chosen. Use removers sparingly. Many brief applications are better than one long one.

Use light, brushing motions—never rub a remover into the stain. Spread a liquid remover evenly into the cloth around the stain. Rub rapidly to help prevent rings.

An absorbent can be used to remove a greasy stain. Chalk, talcum powder or cornstarch will work well on light, freshly-made spots of grease or splatters of salad oil. Larger spots, or stains that have become set, may require a different method.

To use an absorbent, lay the stained material on a table and sprinkle a layer of the powder over the stain. Spread the powder evenly and allow it to become dry. Gently shake or brush it off. Repeat several times, or until the stain disappears.

If after several treatments the stain still shows, place the stain between clean white blotting papers and apply a warm—no hot—iron for several minutes. Stains made by solid fats, such as butter, must be melted before the blotters can absorb them.

Lawn Fertilizing Time
 Now's the time to put on your most important fertilizer application of the year. An application of from 10 to 20 pounds of a 10-6-4 or a 12-12-12 analysis fertilizer to one thousand square feet should be applied in the very near future. Be sure to get this fertilizer applied before growth starts.

There is a general recommendation. For those of you who have had lawns in for over five years, county agricultural agent Bill Rupp suggests you take a soil sample to the Extension Office for an analysis.

If you've been fertilizing with complete fertilizers for a period of years, your lawns may have built up the phosphorus content and it has become toxic to the grass. In cases where there is high phosphorus, a straight nitrogen fertilizer is all that the lawn would need.

Easiest way to eat a prune is right out of the box—a good candy substitute for you and your family.

Prunes are now being "tenderized", which means soaking is not necessary. In fact, you don't even have to cook them.

Just fill a glass jar or covered dish with prunes and add boiling water to allow to stand in the refrigerator forty-eight hours or longer. The fruit will be tender and soft. Allow to stand in the refrigerator forty-eight hours or longer. The fruit will be tender and soft.

Prunes add interest to many food dishes. They combine well with meats such as pork chops, ham or sausages. They can be stuffed with cream or cottage cheese for individual salads, or flavored gelatin blends well with maddened into gelatin salads. Lemon with prunes.

For quick breads, combine prunes with plain coffee cake batter and top them with sugar and cinnamon. Fillings can be made for coffee cakes from a mixture

 By Buck Gesehall

Getting beat by a team with the record of Greenville is certainly not disastrous. Our boys looked the pole that is gained from years of basketball, but no one denies their fighting spirit.

We felt Greenville looked quite bad, but the reason of course was Lowell's pressing defense. We heard several times that we were not big enough; this however was not the case. We took 31 high percentage shots the first half and hit 17 per cent of these.

The fact that we could get 31 good shots means that the pressing defense made up for our lack of ability on the bank boards. Although all the boys looked good at certain times we suspect that the defense of Leonard Fae, while he was guarding Greenville's 33 was rather outstanding as this boy was rated very highly.

Although next year's team will be very short on experience it will probably average about 6 foot thus ending a two year period of Lowell fielding a team which was shorter than any of its opponents.

It's spring sport time. The high school competes in Grand Valley competition in track, tennis, and baseball. Last year the track team finished second in the league and won the regional, the tennis team placed 3rd, and the baseball team placed 3rd.

Each of the sports have their own merits. Tennis has a high carry-over value, baseball offers team type competition while track provides a premium on physical conditioning and individual performance.

Lowell needs practically all of its male students to go out for a spring sport in order to do well in Valley competition. This sometimes puts an unusual strain on parents, but we who know the value of athletics feel that the training is second to none. We feel that the athlete is a better son and a better citizen of tomorrow.

WOMEN DISCUSS "HOW TO LIVE WITH TEEN AGERS"

The Lowell Home demonstration group met with Mrs. Don Dickerson Thursday afternoon, February 28. The lesson, "How to Live With Your Teen Ager" was presented by the hostess in a very comprehensive manner.

A delicious potluck luncheon was enjoyed at 1 o'clock.

NEWS NOTES

Final Call for Trees
 Kent County have already placed orders with the Extension Office to fill their tree planting needs for the coming spring, according to Bill Rupp, county agricultural agent.

Trees have been coming from the Michigan Department of Conservation and Michigan State University. According to last reports, trees still available are red pine seedlings and transplants, jack pine seedlings, white spruce seedlings and transplants.

If you're interested in placing an order, or being put on the mailing list for future tree orders, call or write the Co-operative Extension Office.

When ordering trees it's necessary that you have a complete tax description of the property on which the trees will be planted. Trees can be shipped directly to you. However, in the past a truck has been taken to the nursery and the trees delivered to a pickup point for you in the county.

If you're interested, get now. If the trees will be sold out shortly.

Stain Removal
 The rule for success in removing a stain is to start with the stain is fresh, even before it dries. If possible, avoid Evonox Densmore, county home demonstration agent.

Try simple methods first. For a non-greasy stain, sponge with cold water. For a greasy stain, avoid hot water sets many stains.

Often the method of cleaning is as important as the cleaning material chosen. Use removers sparingly. Many brief applications are better than one long one.

Use light, brushing motions—never rub a remover into the stain. Spread a liquid remover evenly into the cloth around the stain. Rub rapidly to help prevent rings.

An absorbent can be used to remove a greasy stain. Chalk, talcum powder or cornstarch will work well on light, freshly-made spots of grease or splatters of salad oil. Larger spots, or stains that have become set, may require a different method.

To use an absorbent, lay the stained material on a table and sprinkle a layer of the powder over the stain. Spread the powder evenly and allow it to become dry. Gently shake or brush it off. Repeat several times, or until the stain disappears.

If after several treatments the stain still shows, place the stain between clean white blotting papers and apply a warm—no hot—iron for several minutes. Stains made by solid fats, such as butter, must be melted before the blotters can absorb them.

Lawn Fertilizing Time
 Now's the time to put on your most important fertilizer application of the year. An application of from 10 to 20 pounds of a 10-6-4 or a 12-12-12 analysis fertilizer to one thousand square feet should be applied in the very near future. Be sure to get this fertilizer applied before growth starts.

There is a general recommendation. For those of you who have had lawns in for over five years, county agricultural agent Bill Rupp suggests you take a soil sample to the Extension Office for an analysis.

If you've been fertilizing with complete fertilizers for a period of years, your lawns may have built up the phosphorus content and it has become toxic to the grass. In cases where there is high phosphorus, a straight nitrogen fertilizer is all that the lawn would need.

Easiest way to eat a prune is right out of the box—a good candy substitute for you and your family.

Prunes are now being "tenderized", which means soaking is not necessary. In fact, you don't even have to cook them.

Just fill a glass jar or covered dish with prunes and add boiling water to allow to stand in the refrigerator forty-eight hours or longer. The fruit will be tender and soft. Allow to stand in the refrigerator forty-eight hours or longer. The fruit will be tender and soft.

Prunes add interest to many food dishes. They combine well with meats such as pork chops, ham or sausages. They can be stuffed with cream or cottage cheese for individual salads, or flavored gelatin blends well with maddened into gelatin salads. Lemon with prunes.

For quick breads, combine prunes with plain coffee cake batter and top them with sugar and cinnamon. Fillings can be made for coffee cakes from a mixture

Recalls Waving to Pilot Who Took Aerial View of Farm

Miss Ethel Howard, one of the three owners of the mystery farm pictured last week in the Ledger, recalls that she was out in the farm yard, hanging out clothes, the day the aerial photograph flew overhead in a small plane, and took the picture of their place. She said she saw the pilot wave to her, Miss Howard and her brother Tom make their home at the 190 acre farm located on Five Mile road east of Parnell in Grattan township. Another sister, who also shares in the ownership of the farm which they inherited from their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Howard, is Mrs. Muriel Costello, of Flint. Most of the farm is rented out, and is put in grain. The Daniel Howards purchased the farm back in 1890, combining two farms which they purchased from the Talbot and Flynn families. Can you identify the mystery farm pictured this week, above? If so, call the Ledger Office, TW 7-9261, after 1:00 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, and you may be the lucky winner of a subscription to this paper, if you are the first to call with the correct identification. The owner of the farm receives the original photograph, suitably framed for hanging. In the case of last week's mystery farm, Miss Howard's call was the first received and she, therefore, receives the subscription, as well as the picture.

Committeewomen of Kent Farm Bureau Hear Talk By Juvenile Court Worker

About forty farm bureau committee women met at the YMCA Tuesday, March 6, for their regular monthly meeting.
The speaker for the day was Miss Mary Honton from the Juvenile Court of Kent Co. She cited statistics and interesting facts about children and how they finally wind up as juvenile delinquents, and concluded that there is not too much wrong with our present generation.
Mrs. Honton declares the home, the church, school, television, radio, comics, recreation and playmates are all factors which go to make up the emotions of any child, and if these are bad, they influence them in many ways. Many of our delinquent boys and girls come from homes where both parents work and are never there when they get home from school, consequently they head for the corner restaurant or drugstore.
Most of these children come to them during the adolescent and teen age years, the age when they need security at home, but still want their independence.
There are no organized teenage gangster groups in Grand Rapids but just picked-up gangs who go out and get in a lot of trouble. Drinking is a large factor in their behavior as they obtain liquor cards from unreliable people, or over in the slums of Grand Rapids.
Home for 16-Year-Old
Mrs. Honton's main subject in speaking to the farm bureau women was to try and find a foster home for a sixteen year old boy whose father died when he was two years old. He is a real nice boy and "she will go to bat for him anytime", as he has found his way in life. He is very polite and eager to satisfy. If anyone is interested in giving this boy a home get in contact with the Kent County Juvenile Court. She ended her talk by saying, "We are our brothers keeper", and that it is up to us to help these unfortunate children.
The Farm Bureau also is sponsoring a scholarship fund for nurses, they are giving ten scholarships of three hundred dollars each for young girls who would like to go into nurses training. If interested contact your school superintendent.

Cary Stiff Will Tour With Dartmouth Choir

Cary P. Stiff, Jr., a Lowell high honor graduate with the class of 1955, is among the fifty who have been chosen to go on tour with the Dartmouth College Glee Club this spring.
The glee club consists of 80 members, but only fifty are allowed to make the annual tour; this is quite an honor, and Cary, as well as his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cary P. Stiff of Dogwood Dr., Ada, his classmates, and many friends, are very proud.
It will take two 37-passenger bus coaches to transport the group which will visit the Deep South, according to Cary. In a letter to the Ledger he lists their destinations for the two-week tour; we quote:
"The destination of the two week tour is Atlanta, Georgia, where we will spend two days. . . On our way down we'll stop and sing in Rochester, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Charleston, West Virginia, and Chattanooga. After Atlanta we head for Charlotte, N. C., Richmond, Washington, Wilmington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Glen Ridge, N. J., and then back to Hanover (and books)."
Cary also states that he hopes to be able to visit his brother, Dave, while the glee club is in Philadelphia. Dave is interning there. He also added in his letter that while the group is in Washington it will be cutting a ten-inch long-play record for one of the major recording companies.

Windows are to get in by Burglars, for reasons best known to themselves, often prefer windows to get in by. So it could happen that your furs, jewelry and other precious belongings might disappear by the same route — "right out the window."
Don't risk such a loss. Let us make sure you're adequately protected NOW.

Card of Thanks
I would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every one, who remembered me in so many ways during my stay at Blodgett hospital and since my return home. To Rev. and Mrs. H. S. Martin for their prayers and calls; and for candy, plants and other gifts and the many, many cards received and for offers to donate to blood bank, and to relatives, neighbors and friends for thoughts and helpfulness. Thanks again.
