There will also be two Christmas selections sung by the varsity choir which is directed by Miss Ann Bloodgood.

Varied Program

Everyone who comes is certain to enjoy himself as an interesting and varied program has been planned. The bands will play overtures, marches, novelty numbers and, of course, Christmas music to put everyone in a holiday mood.

Piano Solo Featured

Ann Marie Alexander will play a piano solo which the band will accompany and the Senior Band majorities will do a twirling act.

The prices for the concert will be 35 cents for children and 50 cents for adults. The band will use this money to pay for the many band expenses which arise during the year, and if any money is left over it will be put toward the new uniforms that the band members have been working for this year.

Walter Gumser To Attend Conference On School Finance

School officials from the Lowell area are expected to attend an important conference on school finance at Michigan State University December 2 and 3.

School superintendents and board members from across the state will participate in this fifth annual joint conference at Kellogg Center on the Spartan campus. Representation from more than 100 school districts is anticipated because of the timely topic.

"Financing Michigan Schools" will be discussed at the evening program, December 2. Supt. Walter W. Gumser, superintendent of schools for Lowell, will be one of the panel participants, along with Lynn Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction; Supt. Samuel M. Brownell of Detroit, Supt. B. J. Bukema of Grand Rapids, and other Michigan leaders in education and government.

"This discussion may lead to suggestions and a general approach to action for state aid in the next legislature," points out Sid Sixma, executive secretary of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

This continuing education project is sponsored by the M. S. U. College of Education and the Michigan Association of School Administrators and the school board group.

According to Mr. DeVinney, the phone will serve three major purposes. It will permit persons who need to get someone in an emergency who is attending church on Sunday morning, when both he and his wife are at the church and no one is at the parsonage, to do so.

Free Deer Caught in Fence On Clark Farm

A hunter reported a button buck caught in a fence on the Floyd Clark farm in Vergennes township Sunday. Frank Stephens, accompanied by Wayne Hoag and Haskel Martin, went to the scene and freed the deer from its trap. Stephens reported the deer ran off like the wind once its legs were pulled free.

The school lunch program will receive another button buck found shot on the Sherm Rowland farm in Lowell township last Wednesday.

Frank Biggs Passes At Home in Vergennes

Frank Biggs, 70, died Wednesday, November 20 at his home in Vergennes township after a long illness. Mr. Biggs had resided in this area ever since he was born and had been farming for many years.

Survivors include his wife, Helen; four sons, Morris and Robert, both of Lowell, Charles, of Shreveport, La., and Jesse, of Farmington, Michigan; one daughter, Mrs. Adelbert Simington of Union City, Michigan; a brother, Art C. Biggs of Lowell, a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Walker of Grand Rapids; and thirteen grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Roth Funeral Home with Rev. L. J. Maxim officiating. Interment in Alton cemetery.

Annual Christmas Workshop Dec. 9 At Methodist Church

The second annual Christmas Workshop of the Methodist Church will be held Monday evening, December 9 under the auspices of the Commission on Education. Mrs. David Coons, chairman of the Commission, reports that the workshop is intended for the enjoyment of the entire community. There will be no admission charge, she reports, nor anything to buy or sell. All displays, she added, are intended to give those who attend ideas regarding "what can be done within the home in preparation for Christmas."

Mrs. J. Marion DeVinney, Workshop chairman, reports that the number of booths and displays will be increased this year and that both floors of the Church House will be used for display purposes. She added that punch and cookies will be served and that movies will be shown the children while the adults are looking at the displays.

The Workshop hours are 7:30 to 9:00 p. m. Individuals and families attending the workshop may come and go at their convenience.

Methodists Install Phone For Members' Convenience

A phone has been installed in the local Methodist Church, Rev. J. Marion DeVinney, pastor of the church, in making the announcement Tuesday reported that the phone will be listed in the new books under "Methodist Church." It is located in the small room at the extreme South-West corner of the church house. The number will be TW 7-7514.

According to Mr. DeVinney, the phone will serve three major purposes. It will permit persons who need to get someone in an emergency who is attending church on Sunday morning, when both he and his wife are at the church and no one is at the parsonage, to do so.

The installation of an additional bell in the basement, he explained, will make it possible for women who are working in the church kitchen to hear and answer the phone and will make them accessible to members of their families who need to reach them.

And finally, he added, it will make it possible for persons who have been working, dining, or attending meetings at the church to call home and report that they are ready for husband, or father, to come and get them, or to inquire of the baby sitter how the children are.

Women of Moose Help in 'Toys For Christmas' Project

The Women of the Moose will assist the Lowell Moose Lodge in its yearly project "Toys for Christmas" by the purchase of new toys and pretty packaging of gifts. At the meeting December 4th there will be gift wrapping, and on or before December 18 each member is requested to deliver to the Moose Lodge a new fifty-cent gift for children. The response to the request for toys has been excellent and the cooperation of the public is appreciated.

Chapter night and initiation will be held Wednesday evening December 4th, with the Social Service committee in charge.

A Christmas party will be held Wednesday evening December 18th. Each member is requested to bring a gift to exchange in addition to a new toy for the "Toys for Christmas" event.

Junior Graduate Regent Jo Willard received a letter of commendation for achievement as Senior Regent from Representative Jerry Ford, in recognition of the high aims and objectives of Mooseheart and Moosehaven as carried out by its many workers.

A rummage sale to raise money for Chapter charities is being planned for next March, as is a bake sale for near the Christmas season.

Teen of the Week Ann Alexander to be Soloist at Concert

Ann Marie Alexander, who will be the piano soloist at next week's band concert, has been chosen "Teen of the Week." A senior this year, she is an outstanding musician, having studied piano for nine years and cornet for seven.

Mrs. Wm. Delaney Passes Thursday

Mrs. Blanche Delaney, 59, wife of William Delaney of Lowell, passed away unexpectedly Thursday evening, November 21, in Blodgett hospital. She had suffered a mild heart attack the previous Sunday but was believed to be in satisfactory condition when she died.

Besides her husband, William, she is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Peter Mitchell of West Branch, Mrs. Leonard Lewis of Sunfield, Mrs. Roger Lachmet of Clarksville, Miss Rosemary Delaney of Hastings, Miss Colleen Delaney of Lowell; one sister, Mrs. Lenna Erickson of Twin Falls, Idaho; two brothers, Harry H. Wood of Laramie, Wyoming, Ernest Wood of Pacific Grove, California; twelve grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The Rosary was recited Sunday evening and the Funeral Mass was held Monday morning at St. Mary's church, Rev. Speer Strahan officiating. Mrs. Delaney was buried in Oakwood cemetery.

Basketball Season Opens Here

After battling Ionia Tuesday, November 26, the Red Arrow basketball squad plays host to the Caledonia Squads next Tuesday, December 3. This will be the Arrows' first home game of the 1957-58 season.

This meeting will be the first in several years for the Arrows and the Scotties, a Class C Barkenall League member. The two schools met many times in athletic contests many years ago.

Arrow Coach Norm Gotschall is hoping that the combination of DeVries, Lawrence, and Heintzelman can offset Caledonia's advantage in height and experience.

The Arrow cagers are handicapped by the fact that they were only able to practice six days before their opening game due to the late football season.

December 6, the Red Arrows travel to Rockford for their first Grand Valley conference game.

Police Report Accident And Hub Cap Thefts

Frank Stephens reported Monday that he was called to investigate an accident on Montclair Av. on the Kent-Ionia County line Road, Sunday morning about 12:15 a. m. It is reported that Roger Conner, Sayles Road, Ionia County ran off the road and struck a telephone pole.

Police in Lowell are looking for the thieves responsible for the removal of a set of 4 spinner hub caps stolen from a car at Jackson Motor Sales. Several other car owners have reported hub caps stolen while parked on the streets. Anyone with information regarding these thefts is urged to contact the police.

United Fund Nets 94.6% of Quota

The final report of the United Fund-Red Feather-Red Cross drive for 1957 indicates that $5,204.88 has been received to date. Co-chairmen Charles Hill, Clinton Cristoff and Dan Walker report that 94.6 per cent of the quota of $5,500 has been collected for the village and township combined.

The total for all Kent County amounted to $1,383,951—about $68,000 more than has ever been contributed in a United Fund campaign.

The many men and women in Lowell who worked so hard on the Drive, generously contributing their own time and effort to help others less fortunate, deserve the thanks of all of us.

New Super US-16 Coming Close Next Year

Among State Highway projects to be let in bidding on December will be a stretch of the new super US-16. This 8½ mile section will be from M-66 the Ionia road to Nash Highway, the Clarksville road. Completion date on this project is set for July 31, 1959, but if this project goes as fast as the section east of Portland which is six months ahead of schedule the road may be finished by the first of 1959.

In this 8½ miles of divided highway on US-16 from near State road (M-66), about eight miles west of Portland, west to Nash highway, will be three grade separation projects located at Jordan Lake road, Nash highway and Morrison road. They will be similar in construction, each about 239 feet long with 26-foot-wide roadways.

Also to be let at the same time will be 2.7 miles of 4-lane, divided highway on US-16 from Market road and the Grand river, at the south limits of Portland, west to Portland road. Included in this section will be the construction of four grade separations. One will carry the new highway over the Grand river and Market road; two others will carry Knox and Keeler roads over the new highway; and the fourth will carry the highway over Portland road.

The Grand river and Market road structure will have two bridge decks separated by a 32½-foot-wide open median. Each roadway will be 30 feet wide and have two 2½-foot-wide sidewalks. Length of the structure is 414 feet. The Knox road grade separation will be 251 feet in length, having a 26-foot-wide roadway and two sidewalks. The Keeler road structure will have four spans totaling 277½ feet in length and also have a 26-foot-wide roadway and two sidewalks. The grade separation over Portland rd. will have two bridge decks, each supporting 42-foot-wide roadways.

The 142-foot-long grade separation will have a 48½-foot-wide open median. The completion date for this project is July 31, 1959.

Senior Will Be Named In Campus Who's Who

Richard DeVinney, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. Marion DeVinney, will be listed among the 23 Albion college seniors named in the 1957-58 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." This book is a national directory of undergraduate leaders which is published in Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

Selections have been based on personality, scholarship, character, leadership and campus participation, according to Academic Dean Emil Leffler of Albion College, who made the announcement.

Frank Newell, Lowell Manufacturer, Dies Sunday Following Heart Attack

Frank M. Newell, president of the Newell Manufacturing Company and active in many civic affairs died Sunday afternoon following a short illness. Mr. Newell suffered a heart attack on Monday, November 18 and was taken to Butterworth hospital where he died.

He was born in Pittsburg, Pa. on December 21, 1897; before coming to Lowell he was engaged in the sales department of several industries. He worked in the sales division of the Lowell Manufacturing Co. and was instrumental in organizing the former Universal Manufacturing Co., in Saranac. Mr. Newell organized the Newell Manufacturing Co. here in 1940 and began business in a Main Street store building; the next year the Lowell Board of Trade purchased the old West Ward School from the Board of Education and leased it to Mr. Newell and I. O. Altenberger, who were associated together in the business of manufacturing door closers and other door hardware.

TB Christmas Seal Campaign Begins

"Tuberculosis Christmas Seals from the Kent County Tuberculosis Society have reached homes and business places of this county in 86,000 letters which we mailed last week," according to Willard Schroeder, chairman of the 51st Annual Christmas Seal campaign.

Mr. Newell was active in Rotary Club, was chairman of the Lowell Congregational Church board of trustees and end-man on the showboat for seven years. He was also a member of the Masonic Lodge, No. 90, F&AM and was a thirty-second degree member of Saladin temple, Scottish Rite, in Grand Rapids.

He is survived only by his wife, Helen, whom he married in 1931. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2:00 p. m. at the Lowell Congregational Church. The body will lie in state at the church from noon until the time of the services. Mrs. Newell will meet friends at the chapel on Tuesday evening. Burial will be in Grace-land Mausoleum.

4-H's to Start 3-Day Chicago Trip Nov. 29

Twelve outstanding Kent County 4-H Club members have been selected to make the annual award trip to Chicago. Chaperones for the group will be Mrs. Anna Kelley and Kenneth Cranmer, 4-H club leaders from Grand Rapids.

All of the club members making the trip were selected on the basis of their outstanding 4-H club records. Those taking the trip from this area are Carol Aldrich, Joan Bishop, Patti Ellis, June Preston, and Jerry Trumble.

The group will leave Grand Rapids by plane Friday morning, November 29 at 7:45. Visits to the Livestock Show, Chicago Planetarium, Museum of Science and Industry, and a tour of Downtown Chicago, including Chinatown, are scheduled. In addition the Kent County winners will have Smorgasbord at "Bit of Sweden", attend the stage play, "My Fair Lady", and see "Cinerama" — "Seven Wonders of the World". The delegation will return to Grand Rapids by train Monday evening, Dec. 2.

Last year our staff gave tuberculin skin tests to 52,910 people in Kent County and found 9,825 people whose tests became raised and red, which is called positive. These positive reactors have become infected with TB germs and carry the living germs in their bodies, stated John S. Sluyter, M. D., chairman of the society's Medical Committee. It does not necessarily mean that they have active tuberculosis—only the chest x-ray can tell us then and that is why we use both the test and x-ray when adults come to our Christmas Seal x-ray bus. However, a positive reactor may become an active case in the future.

A great deal of follow-up service was given to all cases by their physicians or at the Out-Patient Clinic of Sunshine Hospital after education by nurses on the staffs of our health departments. When you buy and use TB Christmas Seals you help to continue such preventive services.

Give Thanks By Giving

Let us "Give thanks this Thanksgiving week by Giving" to the hungry and homeless of other lands, Share Our Surplus.

Thanksgiving week offers us the channel for "person-to-person" American Aid abroad.

The proceeds of the Protestant "Share Our Surplus" drive will go to Church World Service, the interdenominational relief arm of the National Council of churches.

Sponsors say a $5 donation will give bowls of cereal to 500 undernourished children each day for three weeks, and $10 will provide bread for 400 needy persons for two months.

How better can we repay our forefathers in celebrating this tradition by sharing our freedom, our blessings and ourselves.

Kindly call TW 7-9867 or mail to Howard Clack, CROP Township Chairman, if you have gifts you wish to share.

MRS. DORIS DENNISON PASSES Mr. and Mrs. Vern Armstrong of Lowell and William Heaven of Clarksville were called to Coldwater Tuesday night by the sudden death of their sister, Mrs. Doris Dennison who was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage while at work at the Coldwater Industrial Home, where she had been employed as a nurse for the past sixteen years.

During World War II, the Newell Manufacturing Co. purchased the school site and constructed a modern manufacturing plant; an air-fired toy gun was added to their line and this was very popular for many years. Four years ago a warehouse addition was added to the factory, and at the present time, the area of the plant is nearly doubled with an addition being completed. Now the company is engaged exclusively in the manufacturing of door hardware.

He is survived only by his wife, Helen, whom he married in 1931. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2:00 p. m. at the Lowell Congregational Church. The body will lie in state at the church from noon until the time of the services. Mrs. Newell will meet friends at the chapel on Tuesday evening. Burial will be in Grace-land Mausoleum.

Tips For Preparing Your Venison

With deer season here, you may be having venison for some meals. It is one of the most highly-prized of all wild game.

In cooking it shouldn't be necessary to attempt to conceal the flavor of venison.

Like beef and lamb, venison has some tender cuts and some less tender cuts.

Bacon, vegetables or fruit juices may be used in most best cookery for different flavor.

For the less tender roasts you might like to try venison Swiss steak.

Remove meat to platter and make gravy from drippings in the pan. Serve with baked potatoes.

Battle of Bulge Wastes Millions, Dietician Says

"Millions of dollars a year are being spent by the American public on medicines, pamphlets, products and pills which offer very vague, unscientific guarantees for curing illnesses, being healthy and losing weight," says Miss Adeline Beckwees, nutritionist at the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

Miss Beckwees is associate professor of public health nutrition at the U-M and former speaker of the House of Delegates of the American Dietetic Association.

"More and more information on nutrition is being made available from scientific sources, she states and 'more and more attempts are being made to capitalize on this new information by unscrupulous manufacturers of worthless—and often harmful—cure alls, tonics, and reducing pills."

"The truth is that nutrition education and information has not yet even permeated the teacher training levels, so we cannot expect the public to recognize the phenomena,

When people take a bogus medication they see advertised somewhere as a solution and cure for their health problems, she warns. "They not only are going in the opposite direction from competent medical care, but are also going in the opposite direction from possible cure and health."

"It's tragic to see or learn of a person who trusts what some quick in a far off state says is the answer to his own health problems, when a scientifically trained and experienced physician is readily available in his own home town."

"You simply cannot receive medical care by proxy. I recommend that a person who believes he is in poor health see a doctor. If a person is wondering about the truth of statements that 'cure all' will cure all, call the local health department and talk to the public health nutritionist about it."

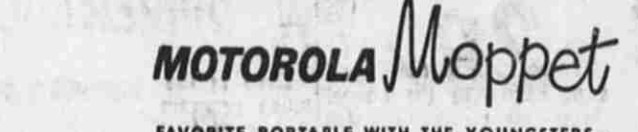

"If none are available locally, there are many places where trained dietitians and nutritionists would be pleased to discuss it, absolutely free—the State Health Dept., for example. There are 3 hospitals in the state which also have training dietitians in graduate hospital dietetics: U-M, Michigan State and Henry Ford hospitals. Detroit is pushing her kids all the time."

Consumer Demands Cause Price Increase

Consumer demands for more services and packaging account for much of the recent increase in food marketing costs.

The result is that the farmer's share of the food dollar has been shaved and is expected to average only about 40 cents this year. Ten years ago, farmers got 47 cents of each dollar the consumer spent for food.

Earl Brown, food retailing specialist at Michigan State University, says as long as today's consumer wants her chicken, for instance, dressed, cleaned, cut up and packaged, the farmer's share of the food dollar is going to continue to be less.

But he goes on to say that retailers are getting only about 2 cents of the food dollar and that they are working hard to improve marketing efficiency to keep retailing costs from climbing. Brown feels this in turn will mean more of the marketing profits available to producers.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends, the pallbearers and organizations she belonged to and special thanks to Rev. DeVinney for all his kindnesses in the death of our beloved mother and sister, Mathilda H. White.

Winter Birds Can Use Crumbs, Suet

Thanksgiving is a fitting time to think about the rugged little birds that hang on in the face of Michigan's wintery blasts instead of heading for the south.

Charles Shick, extension game management specialist at Michigan State University, says the tu-t-hatches, bluejays, brown creepers, chickadees, juncos, grosbeaks and other birds don't really need any help but a bird feeding station adds color and life to the landscape when many of our birds are off down south.

A feeding station is a good place to learn to enjoy birds and animals. If you start feeding the birds, you are obligated to continue. They become used to being fed, the bird population builds up in the area and if you stop feeding it creates a hardship for the birds.

Cracked corn, suet, bread crumbs, small grains and weed seeds are all good bird foods. Grit should also be available.

A wooden tray can be placed on a window sill or mounted on a post about five feet above the ground. A discarded Christmas tree makes a good place to hang suet or toast.

Shick says there is no better way for children and adults to learn to appreciate and enjoy birds than by watching them at a feeding station.

Pheasants and quail will eat corn and grit scattered on the ground or corn ears placed upright on spikes driven through a board.

Usually the birds have enough food except during rare periods when the ground and brush is covered with ice. During prolonged periods of deep snow covering, birds will try to obtain grit and gravel from roads. Coarse sand, oyster shells or fine gravel should be a part of any feeding program.

To accustom the birds to a feeding program before food becomes scarce, start feeding before Christmas.

If you would like more information on wildlife feeding, write to Charles Shick, 409 Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Roadside Stands Must Be Moved

There's a new law on the books in Michigan which will force many roadside operators to change their locations if they want to continue selling fresh farm products along highways.

Under the law, which was effective September 22, it is unlawful for persons to sell farm products or other merchandise within the right-of-way of any highway outside the corporate limits of a city or village.

The legislature passed the law to promote highway traffic safety, not to discourage selling of such things as eggs, berries, peaches, pears, tomatoes, potatoes, sweet corn, melons and other farm products in roadside stands.

And the law was also aimed at helping the farmers who operate roadside stands since it prohibits itinerant merchants from parking their trucks on the shoulders of highways and competing with the roadside operators.

Of course, some roadside stands will have to be moved because of the law to get them out of the right-of-way. But most of the farmers will be more than happy to move the stands in view of the fact that there will be no more competition from the itinerant truckers.

Generally, roadside stands should be at least 100 feet from the center of a highway since that distance leaves ample room for motorists to pull off the road and park their cars.

County road commission members can be contacted to determine the actual legal right-of-way if a farmer is in doubt.

Danger Possible At Water Fountain

Sewage systems and drinking fountains need to be studied for possible health hazards, report scientists at Michigan State University.

In a test of material entering sewage disposal plants M. S. U. researchers found that poliomyelitis and other viruses are present the year around, even in non-epidemic periods.

"For many years we have known that poliomyelitis can be found in sewage during periods when clinical cases of the disease are present in the community," said Dr. Walter N. Mack, professor of microbiology and public health, "but it was not known that such viruses were present all year."

The studies, conducted at Lansing and East Lansing, found the greatest frequency of virus isolation occurs from July through October.

Although viruses as well as bacteria are being dumped back into the river, "we do not know what happens after the organisms enter the river," Dr. Mack stated.

Other studies reported by Dr. Mack found that virus particles, as well as bacteria, can be recovered from air samples around public drinking fountains.

He cited a 1951 report which said water fountain designs have changed little, if any, since 1931.

"Because of inadequate information there has been no basis for new design to safeguard splashing and contamination," he pointed out. New interest and equipment to study aerosols, or small suspended particles, are expected to help.

Basketball Coaches Attend MSU Clinic

Bob Perry and Buck Gotschall of Lowell High School attended the fifth annual Basketball Coaches Clinic at Michigan State University on November 22 and 23. They were among the 300 coaches from high schools, colleges and universities in Michigan and surrounding states who were given some of the latest coaching techniques in offensive and defensive plays.

They also got a sneak preview of the 1957-58 Spartan cage team at an intra-squad game on Friday evening. H. B. Lee, Kansas State College Athletic Director, and the M. S. U. head coach "Fordy" Anderson headed the clinic faculty. Following the two-day event, the coaches were guests of the university at the Michigan State-Kansas State football game.
