THIS NEW WEED-KILLING "BLANKET" CAN SAVE YOU $20 TO $90 PER ACRE IN VEGETABLE CROPS

It's Vegadex, and it kills weeds for you in a new way. You spray it only once-at planting time. Vegadex forms an invisible chemical blanket over your soil that smothers weeds. Pesky annual grasses—even tough weeds like purslane and henbit-sprout, touch the "blanket," and die. Because weeds seldom appear, Vegadex can cut labor costs for hand weeding as much as $90 per acre. Your vegetables come through unharmed, with no weeds to fight them for sunlight, water and plant food. And Vegadex won't "build up" in your soil, even if you spray each time you plant.

Before you plant your next crop, drop by your nearest Monsanto Farm Chemicals Dealer. He'll tell you how Vegadex adds extra profits to every acre of vegetables | Ima boans, soybeans, garden beets,

WINTER always reminds us of the famous picture called "Spirit of Service," showing a telephone lineman walking on snowshoes through a blizzard. It may come as a surprise to the folks who mostly see our men riding by in heated cab trucks, but in many Michigan areas our men still must use snowshoes occasionally to reach lines in open country. And those fellows still get a kick out of it because they know they're making it possible for you to phone anyone, any place, any time.

IF HE COULD LIVE THAT LONG, a fellow could expect to work in Michigan Bell's plant department-building lines, installing and repairing phones, and so on—for about 900 years without an injury that would keep him off his job. That's just another way of saying our company's Safety Report for 1957 shows that only 1 fellow out of 900 didn't show up for work because of an accident. Of course, we'd rather have a record of none out of 900 . . . that's our goal. And that's why our Safety Supervisors keep reminding: "make sure the pole's safe before you climb it"; "lift with your legs, not your backs"; "get out of your car on the sidewalk side—not on the side where you'll
