YOUR DOG'S NOSE

By E. M. Gildow, D.V.M. Director, Friskies Research Kennel Your dog's nose is his most up to date with what's going on n the neighborhood. A walk with his nose to the ground is equivalent to our watching TV, a movie or reading the daily paper, for the various scents he picks up along the way tell him all sorts of intriguing tales. To many owners, their pet's nose is a barometer. They rely on the cold-wet and hot-dry nose their dog's health. This is a fallacy. A perfectly healthy pup can have a warm nose, especi-ally after he's been asleep. Many dogs snooze with their noses buried between their front paws or under a fold in their blankets. Conversely, a very sick pup can have a cold-wet nose. "A dog's nose, however, can inmean simple irritation from dust, nasal parasites, or irritat-ing fumes. When a single nostril is involved, it may indicate some foreign material such as a gra s awn lodged in the nostril or an abscessed tooth, sinus infection, or a tumor. A runny nose, accompanied by a discharge from the eyes and evidence of not feeling well, may mean distemper. If a temperature (above 103 degrees via rec. guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Pot-
