Work was started this week on the final 8.6-mile section of the Fortland-Cascade link in the Detroit-Muskegon expressway, from the Kent-Ionia county line west to Whitneyville road, southeast of Cascade.

Letting of this stretch means that 70 miles of the future 165-mile long, $331 million US-16 superhighway will be either opened to traffic or under contract.

BUCK SHOT

by Norman Gotschall

Want to take a trip to Canada? Come along on my trip and if you like it—try it next year. Write to the Algoma Central Railway at the Canadian Soo for general information.

After learning that our trip entailed several portages, we selected our equipment and food. Helping to plan the menu was John Alderson from Evanston, Illinois. John is a school counselor and was featured in Saturday Evening Post last year. He has an athletic build, a philosophical calm, a sense of humor, a big appetite, and a lust for fishing. For our equipment we chose: a 13-ft. aluminum canoe, 2 jungle hammocks, 2 sleeping bags, hatchet, knives, mess gear, spinning rods, spinners, spoons, waterproof matches, camera, 2 pack sacks, rope, 6-12, soap and toothbrush, 2 changes of under clothing, and either canvas or jeans shoes, jackets, pants and cap.

Knowing that we would be carrying all of this several times we tried to carry food which would not weigh heavily but that would satisfy us for 10 days. We bought the following: oat meal, brown sugar, a very large package of dried milk, pancake flour, 7 packages of powdered soup, cheese, peanut butter, 2 packages rice crisp, 2 packages triskets, 2 packages powdered potatoes, instant coffee, 5 packages dried fruit (apricots, peaches, prunes, raisins), instant pudding, 1/2 lb. margarine, salt, 2 lbs. bacon (the only meat), and the hope of fish.

We left about the 6th of August at 10 p. m., drove to the Canadian Soo, and boarded the train at 6:00 a. m. By 3 p. m. we were in Oba, 240 miles north of the Soo. The train is a slow one and will stop any place to board or discharge a passenger. I believe the fare for round trip was $11.

Unfortunately, however, there was no water at Oba so we began our first portage of 1/2 mile. On the way we passed the Conservation Department, and bought licenses and maps. By 5 p. m. we were on the KB (abbreviation is used as this paper is only 4 ft. wide) River. The river was deep and sluggish. From the very first we saw big fresh moose tracks. By 7 p. m. we were sleepy so stopped and strung our hammocks.

When you enter a jungle hammock, you take a few mosquitoes in with you. We soon learned the technique of early exposing a tender morsel of yourself, and in no time you could kill all within the netting. On the outside of the netting would perch 40,000 mosquitoes who chorus would soon lull you to sleep. Each mosquito tried a different method of entering the netting. Dare I say that their different approaches to this problem reminds me of my students? Some would rear back and fly furiously at the netting; others would simply stick their long beak as far through the net as they could, fix you with a greedy stare and lick their chops; while still others would feel about methodically searching every inch of the netting. It was the latter group which found a small hole, by my left arm 37 times, supplied me with recreation the entire night, and taught me to carefully inspect the netting on subsequent nights.

L. W. Edison, of Grand Rapids, was the low bidder at $3,175,402. The contract calls for grading, drainage and dual, 24-foot-wide concrete pavement and four bridges. The bridges will carry Segun, Nash, Morse Lake and Whitneyville roads over the expressway, with an interchange at the Nash road structure.

Close M-50

First work on new super US-16 will begin next week with the closing of M-50 from old 16 to 52nd St. for construction of the overpass for M-50. A detour will be set up on Segun Ave. and 52nd Street to carry the traffic around. The new bridge is expected to be finished by November 15th and open for traffic, according to George Littell, Highway Department Project Engineer.

The work of clearing trees and grading is expected to start early next week from the Ionia County line toward M-50. Farmers having fences still standing in the highway department right-of-way are asked to remove them if they wish to salvage the wire before construction starts.

Many Condemnation Suits

It was also revealed this week that the State Highway Department has started condemnation suits against thirteen farmers along this 8.6 mile stretch. Several are as follows: Ernest & Doris Roth, Howard O. & Alice Messmore, John Winger, John T. & Amelia Brush, John & Alvina Tesch in Lowell Township.

The Segun road bridge, located two miles west of the Ionia county line, will be 229 feet long and carry one 26-foot-wide roadway and walks.

The Nash road bridge, 7 1/2 miles southeast of Cascade, will be 227 feet long and carry a 30-foot-wide roadway with walks.

The Morse Lake bridge, 5 1/2 miles southeast of Cascade, will be 227 feet long and carry a 30-foot-wide roadway with walks.

The Whitneyville road span, 2 1/2 miles southeast of Cascade, will be 225 feet long, carrying a 26-foot-wide roadway and walks.

It will be of concrete slab and plate girder construction. The other three spans will be of concrete T-beam construction.

A fifth bridge along this section, to carry the expressway over the C&O railroad at the Kent-Ionia county line, was let in a separate contract. Owen-Ames-Kimball Co., of Grand Rapids, was low bidder at $227,976. This bridge will be 166 feet long and carry two 42-foot-wide roadways. It will be a twin structure one to carry each roadway. Pre-stressed concrete beams will be used in construction. Completion date for the railroad bridge is October 15, 1959. The entire section is scheduled for completion by July 31, 1960.

New Series Encourages Industry

Expansion of existing local industry affords every community its best opportunity for improvement of the area's economy.

This is emphasized in the third of a series of advertisements on industrial development being carried by this newspaper and 300 other daily and weekly newspapers in Michigan as a public service.

This week's advertisement features the drawing of a hand holding a bird, with the caption "A Bird in the Hand is Worth Two in the Bush," carried below. It stresses the importance of existing industry to every community.

The entire ad is directed toward the appreciation of present industry and efforts to assist it to expand. It stresses the fact that industry located in any town is more important than industry located somewhere else which the community might like to attract.

"It's a hundred to one that the best opportunity your town has for more industrial payroll lies in expansion of its present industry," the ad states.

The local industrial payroll is referred to as a "priceless possession" that other towns would like to get.

"Don't take the industry in your town for granted. Show your pride in it."

BARBARA HANCROFT HONORED AT SHOWERS

Miss Barbara Hancroft was honored with two bridal showers last week. The first one, a miscellaneous shower, was given by Mrs. Ray Linton and daughter, Joan, on Tuesday evening. About twenty friends of Barbara attended, and she was certainly "showered" with lovely and practical gifts for her new home. After the gifts had been unwrapped, the hostesses served delectable refreshments.

The shower on Wednesday evening was given by Miss Hancroft's aunt, Mrs. Cecile Croninger of Cascade Road, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Janet Johnson and Mrs. Roger McMahon, Mrs. Croninger's granddaughter, Susan Campbell. This was a personal shower and the guest of honor received myriad gifts of lovely articles that will all be very useful. Contests and games of an interesting type furnished the entertainment for the guests present. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Miss Hancroft will become the bride of Gary Forsberg of Saranac, on September 12. The marriage will be solemnized in the Ada Congregational church.

Bowen Center WSCS Welcomes New Members

The Bowen Center Women's Society of Christian Service met at the Hall, Wednesday, September 3. A potluck lunch was enjoyed at 1:30, followed by a business meeting. There were twenty adults and about that many children present. Four new members were welcomed into the fellowship: Joyce Hawkins, Gertrude Glidden, Martha Wellfare, and Helen Wenger. Each was presented with a tree-sage and a large open Bible. Following this, Gerry Craig and her class of Juniors entertained us with a demonstration of what they had learned about the homes and customs of the Japanese. Everyone was very much interested in the miniature Japanese home they had constructed of cardboard, complete with furnishings.

Several cans of fruit brought by members will be taken to the Clark Memorial Home this week. The next meeting will be Wednesday, October 1, with a dinner at 12 noon at which we will serve the school children. Members will bring articles to this meeting to be sent to the Methodist Community Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Haver and children of Kalamazoo, were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Haver's mother, Mrs. Lucy Huntington.

Census Bureaus To Collect Polio Information

The United States Public Health Service needs to know how much polio vaccine will be required for the 1959 season.

To assist the Health Service in estimating requirements, information on polio shots will be collected in the September Current Population Survey, it was announced today by Supervisor John E. Tharadison of the U. S. Census Bureau's regional office in Detroit. This office will participate in the survey, which is conducted on a sample basis throughout the Nation.

The questions, to be asked of all persons under 60 years of age are: Have you had any polio injections or shots? How many shots have you already had? When did you get the latest shot?

These special questions on polio immunization will be in addition to the usual inquiries on employment and unemployment which are asked each month of the 35,000 "sample" households covered in the Current Population Survey.

Current Population Survey information will be collected locally during the week of Sept. 15, by Mrs. Elisabeth H. Peterson.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor,

This letter is written to express a teenager's opinion of the library. The library does mean a great deal to the teenager.

The library is a source of education as well as personal enjoyment. During the school year many teachers will give assignments that will concern the library. The high school library has reference material, but it is not adequate for the number of students who use the library. Therefore the student must turn to the public library. Since the public library is affiliated with the Kent County Library, the students and teachers are able to order the materials which they need.

If the Kent County Library is closed the public library would probably use some village funds to purchase books and other materials, and I personally do not feel that these funds would be adequate to supply the patrons with the needed up-to-date material.

The library also offers a change from the usual school work. Most teenagers become bored with the usual hum drum assignments and wish to read for pleasure. Because the public library gets a large selection of books from the county, the library can obtain many new and interesting books, which a village library would not be able to purchase.

These are a few reasons why the closing of the Kent County Library would be a great loss to Lowell and all other communities which have Kent County Library branches.

Sharon Kingsley

Editor of the Ledger

Dear Sir:

We the readers of the Ledger were quite amazed and put out at the letter Dr. Thomas Hill put in the Ledger concerning the closing of the library.

In the first place the voters were told that the 1½ mills which was voted down was to have been used for welfare purposes and not for library purposes. I wonder how many more of our taxes are going for things that they were not intended for.

Secondly, it seems there are a lot of extra help the school could do without. There are a lot of high school girls that are taking a commercial course that could work in the office, and it would do away with some office help that are being paid big wages. It not only would be good experience for the girls but would leave that money paid the women for the library.

Third, I'm sure the folks of Lowell will agree that the police force have a lot of men it can get along without. Also we can't see why they need a new police car and, I'm sure if the president and council would only look around they could find a lot of unnecessary corners that could be cut instead of trying to put the blame on the taxpayers for voting down another tax and getting more taxes from a people that are taxed to death now.

Let's start thinking about the little folks a bit now and not try to bankrupt them by taxes.

An Irate taxpayer

DEAR IRATE TAXPAYER—We are sorry we do not know your name. You are confused, but in these times of high taxes who isn't.

The Michigan State Police are reminding motorists that a new Michigan school bus law, effective September 13, requires stopping when overtaking as well as meeting a school bus stopped to receive or discharge school children. The old law required stopping only from the rear. Cars may not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or the school bus driver signals other drivers to proceed or the flashing red lights on the bus are no longer actuated. State Police are urging motorists to be exceptionally cautious to avoid rear end collisions during the changeover in the law.

Twenty-Nine June Grads Enter College

Twenty-nine June graduates of Lowell High School will be entering various colleges around Michigan this fall. Most will be leaving some time during the next two weeks for orientation periods before classes actually begin.

Stephen Nisbet, high school principal, said that he believed the class of 1958 had the largest percentage of students entering college. Nine of these college freshmen have been awarded scholarships to partially cover the cost.

Grand Rapids Junior College will enroll a large per cent from Lowell, nine altogether. Mary Alexander, who received the J. C. scholarship, and Joan Bishop, who was awarded the nursing scholarship, will begin classes September 10, after orientation and registration.

Joan and also Imogene Overholt will study nursing in connection with Blodgett Hospital.

Others attending Junior College will be Albert Zigmont, who plans to take a mechanical engineering course, Richard Connors, Alfred Weigle, Dan Himebaugh, Jack Hartley and Frances Burtie.

James White and Ann Stirling Mullen will enter The University of Michigan September 14, when orientation and registration begin.

Jim will study electrical engineering. Ann Stirling, who received the Regents-Alumni scholarship, plans to major in journalism.

Five from Lowell plan to register at Michigan State University September 21. Sandra Bozong, recipient of the M. S. U. scholarship, and Frances Tilstra plan to study mathematics and Bonita Bryan will major in advertising and commercial art. Tony Stormand's field of study there will be automotive engineering, and Peter McPherson will study political science.

Several of them went to orientation period during the summer at the college.

Margaret Court will attend Western Michigan University on a State Board of Education scholarship. She will seek a degree in teaching as will Robert White, who also received a stipend to study there. Ann Marie Alexander was awarded a band scholarship, and will study in the music department.

Two others, Norma Wieland and Stanford Wingeier, will attend Western Michigan University.

Three boys from the class of '58 begin classes soon at Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton. Kerry Shoemaker, John Schroder and Leon Wenger are seeking degrees in engineering.

James Hall and Ace Fairchild, former L. H. S. art students, will study at Kendall School of Design in Grand Rapids.

Judith Ellis will be a student at Alma College, where she plans to major in psychology. She is the recipient of a tuition stipend.

Richard Rutherford has already begun classes at Davenport Institute, and is planning a career in business administration. Kathleen Kyser is taking courses at the Grand Rapids School of the Bible and Music.

For these twenty-nine students begins a new world of concentrated learning, plus the chance to meet new friends and new opportunities.

B&amp;PW Officers Attend North Michigan Meeting

It's the set of the sail and not the gale that determines where we go. Lydia Johnson, Chairman of District 4, Rita Martin, president, and Peg Bedell, vice president of the Business and Professional Club of Lowell, set their sail for Boyne Mountain Ski Lodge last Friday afternoon.

The week end was spent in riding the large ski lift, swimming, golfing and relaxing in the Northern resort. The work outlined by the State group included a study of Michigan's Mental Health laws, the revision of the State Constitution, a report on Human Rights as set forth at Manheim, Germany, by the International B & P W and a report on the Biennial at Seattle, Washington in August.

This International Organization is working for the good of all working women, whether you are a professional woman or just a plain everyday worker, whether you live in Michigan or Pakistan. Your working conditions are their concern.
