We also discovered we could smoke fish on John's shale rock. We dried and smoked about a dozen fillets and stocked them in our food packs as snacks.

We then packed and loaded up for our half mile portage which took us to the foot of the outlet rapids. The fishing here was miraculously good; Two thirds of our cast produced fish. However, we were eager now, and pushed on. The river was again sluggish, but at 1/4 to 1/2 mile intervals, there would be roaring rapids and falls. We developed a technique of "lining" which was leading and easing our canoe over the rapids with ropes attached to the canoe. This eliminated many portages. Five nights had passed when we found the camp of two old prospectorsthese were the first people we had seen. They had been flown in by their company and were making a geographical survey. They served us tea and cookies and we had a long conversation springing up as each was curious about the way of life of the other. When we left, they gave us a present of a loaf bread and a pound of good Canadian butter.

To our Oldsmobile friends-

I would just like to take a few minutes of your time to tell you that I have just returned from a preview of the all-new 1959 Oldsmobile. General Motors must have a special place in its heart for this automobile, for it is, in my opinion, one of the finest looking and engineered automobiles they have ever produced.

Some of our competitors will be showing their new lines before the all-new 1959 Oldsmobile goes on display October 3rd, and I wish to ask you to hold off buying a competitive make until you've given yourself the opportunity to see the all-new 1959 Oldsmobile.

You will be welcome, as always, at our showroom, and all our personnel, with whom you are more than just a customer, will be on hand to greet you, to show you, and to demonstrate to you, the all-new 1959 Oldsmobile on October 3rd.

Won't you please pay us a visit.

Yours truly,
