SAFETY RULES

TO KNOW WHAT TO DO WHEN A WARNING IS RECEIVED. OR A TORNADO IS OBSERVED, MAY MEAN THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH!!

There is no universal protection against tornadoes except caves or underground excavations. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave, or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas, or debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.

If you are in open country:

2. If there is no time to escape, he flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

If in a city or town

2. In homes: The southwest corner of the basement usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame houses. People in houses without basements should find other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar, although a depression, such as a ditch or ravine, can offer some protection. If time permits, electricity and fuel lines should be shut off. Doors and windows on the north 3. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection

If in schools

2. In rural schools that do not have strongly reinforced construction, remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

If in factories and industrial plants:

On receiving a tornado warning, a lookest should be posted to keep affety officials advised of the termedo's approach. Advance preparation should be made for shutting off electrical circuits and fuel lines if the termedo approaches the plant. Workers should be moved to sections of the plant offering

Keep calm! It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places is a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "just in case."

Keep tuned to your radio or television station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio and television stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

lower than its predecessor. The Princess weighs 42 ounces, nearly three pounds less than most current desk models. Designed to take a minimum of space on bed headboards, dressing tables, coffee tables, or wall shelves, the phone is a result of five years of research by Henry Dreyfuss, industrial designer, and Bell Telephone Laboratories. The premium priced phone comes in five colorswhite, beige, turquoise, pink, and blue. It is equipped with a dial that lights when the receiver is lifted, or glows as a night light at the flick of a switch.

Now displayed at local Bell telephone business offices, the Princess represents the sixth major telephone alteration since Alexander Graham Bell's original invention in By 1882, the earliest table and wall "voice boxes" were converted to a slightly more simplified and efficient unit placed on the wall. It had a heavy receiver and loose, dangling wires.

It is based upon the life, suffering, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ as our substitute. The recipients of His finished work must believe this

THE PRINCESS PHONE. It's not very often that we devote a whole column to a single subject, but it's a thrill to introduce to you the beautiful new Princess Phone. It's one of our most exciting new products and we want to tell you all about it!

WHAT'S SO WONDERFUL

about the Princess Phone? Everything!

IT'S LITTLE! Small enough to fit easily on top of the narrowest night table (and leave enough room for the alarm clock, too!). The Princess Phone is the most compact telephone you've ever seen.

IT'S LOVELY! Five attractive decorator colors: white, beige, blue, pink, and a brand new color for telephones-turquoise. There's a pretty Princess Phone to go with every color scheme-in every room in your house.

IT LIGHTS! With a dial that glows in the dark so you can find it quickly, the Princess Phone lights up brightly when you lift the receiver.

THE PRINCESS PHONE with its glamorous new features costs only pennies a day after a one-time charge. It goes beautifully

* in the bedroom where the light-up dial is
