Rifle River Trip Ends 'Y' Summer Program

Twelve boys accompanied by "Y" Secretary Bob Forst and Robert Bruinkins, trip counselor, returned yesterday from a three-day 65 mile canoe trip down the Rifle River, north of Bay City.

Boys making the trip were: Dick Rollins, Ty Wessell, Tom Davis, Tony Myers, Steve Ayres, Bob Spoelhof, Ken DeJong, Dave Marsh, Bob Marsh, Keith Anderson, Noel Christoff and Gary Kropf.

The boys are now planning to form a Tenn-Age Outing Club which will meet monthly under the auspices of the YMCA. They hope to take an Upper Peninsula canoe trip next summer plus several winter camp trips. Anyone interested should contact one of the boys.

30 Turn Out For Football

Thirty boys were issued football suits Monday and twice-a-day practice started to prepare them for the opening game, September 16 at Ionia. Coach Charles Pierce and new assistant coach Gary Rivers gave the boys a hard work-out in two sessions to start the week.

Only four regulars are returning along with two other letter winners from the 1959 co-championship team. This year's senior class is one of the smallest in many years. Don Dilly, fast moving half-back of the '59 team will have to handle the ball carrying load. Dilly is 15 pounds heavier than last year and shows great promise.

Frank McMahon, weighed in at 185 pounds and is faster than last year when he made the Grand Valley all-star team. As line backers on defense he will be expected to inspire his less experienced companions to the same fine defense efforts that stood out in the '59 season.

Two other fine line men John Wakefield and Dale Green regulars last season will be back.

Other letter winners of the '59 team returning are Charlie Ford and Randy Johnson. There are several boys who are juniors who look promising. For size they top candidates we have had for several years.

Coach Pierce hopes to mould them into a team that will have a respectable record in some tough conference competition.

Labor Day At Belding

Labor Day, 1960. To many it means traveling to the lake, closing the cottage, thinking about storm windows—fall. In Belding this year as in the past 54 years it means the annual Labor Day celebration.

Belding bids adeau to summer and welcomes the coming of fall with a carnival atmosphere somewhat akin to the Mardi Gras of New Orleans fame.

For many weeks ahead of time, committee chairmen are busily rounding up willing workers, contacting various talents and making the many arrangements so necessary to such a successful homecoming.

Things will really get underway at 10 a. m. Monday, September 5. A gigantic parade will start the celebration off with a bang that can be heard in three counties. So far there are 31 entries ranging from bands and floats to ponies and fire trucks.

Besides the parade there will be a pony pulling contest, two baseball games, canoe race on Flat River, balloon ascension and a street dance.

Plans are well under way for a special event in September, which will be the twentieth birthday of the Society. The birthday "party" will be held on Thursday, September 29, according to Mrs. Arle Leeman, Secretary of Promotion, and will be a day of recalling fond memories for those who helped combine the old Ladies' Aid and Missionary Societies into one well-organized whole back in 1940.

Bernard C. Olson Named Lowell City Manager

The Lowell City council this week announced that Bernard C. Olson has been named Lowell's first city manager. Olson, 36, is presently city manager of Rockford where he has served since 1958; before coming to that city he was administrative assistant in Escanaba and Sturgis.

Bernard Olson, whom Rockford calls, "its friendly city manager" was born in Gladstone, Michigan, September 24, 1924, living in that upper peninsula city until graduating from high school in 1942. He worked briefly in Detroit before entering the Army in April of 1943. While serving in Europe in World War II he lost his right leg.

He returned to his job in Detroit after being discharged from the army and married Christine Diotte in June of 1947. He entered Kalamazoo College in 1958, graduating with a bachelors degree in education. After completing his formal education in public management he served as assistant to the city manager in Escanaba and Sturgis.

Rockford Operation

Coming to Rockford in September of 1958 he took over the operation of this community that has been a city since 1835. Rockford, Olson says, is just completing a program of blacktopping all the city streets along with extension of utilities to the entire area.

At Rockford Manager Olson also has the title of City Clerk and Assessor. These duties are handled with a secretary who carries the title of City Treasurer and Deputy Clerk. His office bills and collects all the water and sewer charges, handles all tax notices and billings, besides the regular bookkeeping details and elections. Rockford that is fortunate enough to have a State Police post located there gets along with two full time police officers and a part-time man.

Other departments are well organized to handle the city with a maximum of efficiency and economy.

Olson who is planning to come here October 1 or sooner if possible should be a great help to bring our stumbling efforts of operating a city to a higher level of performance, with the economies we thought possible when the matter was voted upon over six months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson have four boys and a girl, are members of the Assumption Church of Belmont and plan to move here as soon as possible. Olson is a member of the American Legion, Rockford Rotary Club, Elks and International City Managers Association.

Be Careful With Finish On Your New Furniture

Be fussy with your new furniture. Don't give it a bath in furniture polish or furniture wax until you know exactly what it should have.

Jessie Marion, home furnishings specialist at Michigan State University, says wood furniture is available in a variety of finishes, and the same method of care does not fit them all. For instance, the manufacturer of one table declares no wax is necessary. Just wipe off the surface with a clean cloth. A second manufacturer suggests a thin coat of paste wax rubbed to a hard finish. Another recommends an oil mixture which will add beauty to his hand-rubbed surface.

Ask the retail merchant for detailed care instructions when you buy a new table or chest. He should be familiar with the specific finish.

Doris A. German, Donald DeGood Exchange Vows

Miss Doris Ann German, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Lee, Shady Shore Drive, exchanged her wedding vows with Donald DeGood, son of Mr. and Mrs. John DeGood, 738 Pettis on Friday evening at 8 p. m. in the Eastmont Reformed Church.

Rev. Lester Muller officiated at the ceremony. The organist, Mrs. Lester Muller accompanied the soloist, Dan Barker.

The bride wore a full length net and lace dress and a waist length tulle veil with a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolus and ivy.

The maid of honor was Marlene Tubergen, who wore an aqua street-length dress and matching hat and carried a bouquet of aqua tinted gladiolus. The bridesmaids were Ruth Ann VanderSloot, sister of the groom, and Judy Shear. They wore pink street-length dresses with matching hats and carried bouquets of pink gladiolus.

Jim DeGood, brother of the groom assisted as best man and the ushers were Jud Barker and Clark VanderSloot.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shear were master and mistress of ceremonies at the reception held in the Ada Town Hall. Mary Lee, Sandy Smith, and Barbara Lee assisted. After a northern trip the couple will reside at 738 Pettis Road.

Michigan Again Lumbering Center

Michigan no longer deserves to be called the "cut over, burned over, devastated forest land state."

Dr. Paul A. Herbert, chief of the Michigan Economic Development department's research division, emphatically points out that this once familiar reference to Michigan's vast northern areas and the Upper Peninsula is no longer true.

In 1959 for the first time, Michigan led all of the Great Lakes states in the production of pulpwood, according to a report just released by the U. S. Forest Service. And even then, Dr. Herbert said, only half of the state's annual production is being cut.

Michigan mills used 699,000 cords of pulpwood in 1959, an increase of 27 percent over 1958. Of this 603,000 cords came from Michigan forests, 86,000 cords from Canada and 10,000 cords came from other states.

The report shows that 51 percent more pulp was cut from Michigan forests than was used or imported by Michigan mills. In 1959 the cut in Michigan was 1,053,000 cords. Of this total 447,000 cords went to Wisconsin.

"Even with this excess of cut from Michigan forests to meet the requirements of Michigan and Wisconsin mills, Michigan forests are now producing twice as much pulpwood annually as is being cut," Dr. Herbert said.

One of the chief reasons for Michigan's bright pulpwood picture is that Aspen, once considered a useless species, is now a desirable pulpwood. Over one-third of the pulpwood now cut in the Great Lakes states is Aspen, and 39 percent is cut in Michigan.

"This is a far different picture than that of a few decades ago when the state had millions of acres of cut over and burned waste land, a situation that followed the ruthless days of lumbering operation," Dr. Herbert said.

"Michigan today is green, and its excellent conservation practices are keeping it that way. In fact a big job today is finding new uses for our vast forest resources," he concluded.

Owners of Septic Tanks Cautioned

With the vacation and resort season in full swing, owners of rural homes and cottages may be deluged with offers to clean their septic tanks. Citizens are cautioned to make certain they are dealing with a reputable operator rather than itinerants, some of who are likely to charge far in excess of a reasonable rate for his services.

J. L. Littlefield, chief of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's foods and standards division, which is charged with enforcing state weights and measures laws, warns citizens against the questionable tactics of a few septic tank cleaners who misrepresent septic tank quantity. Itinerant operators generally agree to clean a tank at a set rate per pound for waste removed, suspecting that the owner has no idea of the capacity of his tank or the quantity that might be removed. Some owners of tanks have been charged as much as $300 for a few hours of service computed on the basis of weight or volume removed that could not be substantiated by the cleaner.

Mr. Littlefield suggests that citizens could avoid being overcharged for such cleaning if they would employ the services of an established local reputable operator and agree on a definite charge before the work is started. The charge could be computed either by the quantity removed or by the job, but there should be a definite understanding before the cleaning is begun, he advised. Citizens should know the capacity of their tank.

IN APPRECIATION

I wish to express my sincere thanks for all the lovely greetings I received on my 90th birthday.

SOIL and WATER CONSERVATION

DONALD KLINE, S. C. S. Editor By Your S. C. D. Directors

Through the cooperation of District Director, Milton Wylie, the District assisted Tyrone supervisor Norman Freeman and his brother Carl with a Conservation Plan for their 216 acres of farms. Their farm was walked August 24 to record their conservation practices. Some tile drainage is planned in the next few years. The Freemans including their father William have been doing a pretty good conservation job over the years.

Nyblad Brothers' Soil Capability maps and their Conservation plan maps have been received. We will walk their orchards and fields late this fall, just before they go to the "Porcupines" for their annual trek for deer—about the only time they will have from a busy farm crop, orchard and feeder program.

Thanks to Milton's interest in Soil & Water Conservation and his practical application on his own farm we find above average interest in this township.

USDA Leaflet Puts New Light on Gully Problems

GRASS WATERWAYS, the first line of defense against gullies in farmland, get a thorough going over in a new leaflet just released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Authors are M. Donald Atkins, plant materials specialist, and James J. Coyle, agricultural engineer, for the Soil Conservation Service.

Most farmers eventually reach the conclusion that it has to be either grass or gullies in those low places where water collects and runs off their crop fields. But getting grass established can be difficult and expensive. Some of these depressions are steep and long. They may handle a large volume of water. Soils may be erosive and low in fertility. And a big "gully-washer" at the wrong time can put a dismal finish to hours of careful shaping, fertilizing and seeding.

The new leaflet brings together the results of twenty years of experience in establishing grass waterways under varied conditions in all parts of the country. It tells which grasses are best adapted to our soil and area, what to do about fertilizing, how to get the proper shape on waterway. It includes all the latest wrinkles that help to "heefup" the insurance against failure.

In the Kent County Soil Conservation Districts most waterway failures come from faulty design and from poor seedings, according to Lester Mark of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Many good examples of properly shaped waterways can be seen from the road in all parts of the county. Lester said. Examples of properly designed and well constructed waterways to be found in the Districts are: Don Carpenter, Byron Twp.; John Spangenburg, Sparta Twp.; Neil Vander Peerle, Ada Twp.; Charles Morse, Alpine Twp.; and Lyle Clark, Solon Twp.

Copies of the New leaflet can be obtained at the Soil Conservation Service office, 269 Northland Drive, Rockford, Michigan.

Michigan State Police Experiment With Dogs

An experiment in the use of dogs to trail or track lost persons or criminals is being undertaken by the Michigan State Police, which has been given a German Shepherd that has been accepted for training beginning August 22 at the canine training school of the St. Louis, Missouri, police department, it was reported by Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

The two and one-half year old pedigree "Dago Von Liebestraum" is the gift of Grant E. Mann, of the Liebestraum Kennels, Southfield, Michigan.

The St. Louis police department periodically has a 14-week canine training program supervised by five trainers. In the case of the State Police, the purpose is to train its dog for trailing or tracking only and not for attack because its principal value will be in searches such as in the woods, many such instances occurring each year.

By courtesy, the St. Louis department will train the dog at no cost except that of its upkeep. A State Police officer, however, must accompany it at the school and this assignment is being handled by Trooper Richard A. Abbott, of the Erie post.

The department has never owned dogs, but it is recalled that it had them available many years ago when the State Corrections Department owned bloodhounds that were trained by inmates at Jackson prison and then at Marquette prison. Their use was later discontinued.

Where the Bible is received, and believed, and preached, not as the word of man, but as it is in truth, the word of God.
Starved and Ironed, But Never Been Washed
Such is the case with many people. They have been starved and ironed, but they have never been washed. They have religion, but they do not have Christ. The Bible tells us that the blood of Jesus Christ God's Son cleanseth us from all sin. (1 John 1:7.) The Bible also tells us that apart from shedding of blood there is no remission, (Hebrews 9:22.) Have you been washed in the blood of the Lamb of God, Jesus Christ?
