Ground Bad Drivers, Save Lives, Hare Says

Nearly two times as many conviction-prone Michigan motorists have had their driving licenses cancelled, revoked, or suspended this year than during the same period last year.

Michigan State Safety Commission Chairman James M. Hare today released figures showing that 18,062 vehicle operators who had 12 or more conviction points against their record in Lansing lost their driving privileges so far this year. During the same months in 1959, only 10,312 lost their licenses.

"The record of the past five years shows that when violation-prone and accident-prone drivers are taken off the road, even for 30 to 90 days, the rate of highway fatalities decreases," Hare said.

Find Truck That Hit Power Pole, August 13

Careful work by Lowell police with the cooperation of county and Grand Rapids officers have paid off in the arrest of Nick Lake, 18, driver of a produce truck owned by the Hagga company. This truck and driver knocked down a light pole on East Main St., Aug. 13.

With only a little evidence to go on the police, after many inquiries, discovered that the Hagga company had purchased a truck with a rack from Muller Bread Co. Pieces of the rack found at the scene of the accident were checked against the trucks until the right one was found.

Lake was let off easy with a fine of $25 and costs for leaving the scene of a property damage accident in Justice Rittenger's court, Monday morning. The produce company will have to make good on the damage to the power pole.

Graduates From Nurses School

Patricia Wittenbach will receive her diploma as a graduate nurse this Friday evening, September 16, from the Butterworth hospital school of nursing.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wittenbach, 946 Lincoln Lake Avenue, Lowell. She was graduated from Lowell High School with the class of 1957 and was awarded the Dr. Shepard scholarship to study nursing.

Honors and diplomas will be presented at the St. Mark's Cathedral in Grand Rapids. Having taken her training at Butterworth hospital and in Traverse City, Miss Wittenbach, upon receiving her diploma will undertake her new duties in the Psychiatric ward at Butterworth hospital.

During her training, she was selected as a delegate to the National Student Nurses Convention in Miami, Florida. In May of 1958 she was capped in a candlelight ceremony.

Snow Community 4-H

Snow Community held its last meeting before the fair on Aug. 2. Demonstrations were given by Mrs. Hadden's flower group. Jo Bevier showed how to plant seeds. Kathy Koster transplanting plants.

Mrs. Bloomer's cooking girls prepared and served lunch for refreshments. On Aug. 25, we had a campout at Camp Vining, the 4-H Camp. When all of the children arrived we went swimming. Then we had supper with all the parents and leaders. We had a short business meeting after supper. Then we went swimming for another hour.

Later in the evening the group gathered at the campfire and thanked the leaders for all their work helping them on their projects. Friday morning at 6 most everybody got up and went down to the lake, but only a few went swimming. We had breakfast a little while later and everybody was gone by 9.

September 6 we had a business meeting and signed up for the winter projects.

Proposal to Include Other Organizations In Showboat Management Voted Down

At the annual meeting of Lowell Showboat Inc. on Monday evening at the Runciman Elementary School, a proposal to include Rotary, Lions, VFW and the City Commission in addition to the League and the Board of Trade in the Board of Directors of the corporation, failed to meet the approval of the membership. The vote on this only important controversy of the meeting was on a motion to table a minority report made by Dr. Robert Reagan. The broadening of the management proposal was tabled by a vote of 93 to 63.

In a hand vote all but the make-up of the board of directors was passed. The report of the committee on revision of the by-laws consisting of W. W. Gumsier, Frank Stephens, Dr. Robert Reagan and George R. Cook is printed in full below.

Action on the floor of the meeting added a new member to the board of directors, by making a member of the city commission, to be named by the council, to serve a one year term, a member of the board. The report of the majority of the by-laws committee was accepted by the membership by a vote of 130 to 25. This approved the same make-up of the board, with the addition of a member from the Council.

The meeting with an attendance of 92 members of the Lowell Board of Trade and the Clark-Ellis Post, American Legion gave the parliamentarian of the gathering, George Cook, a good workout. Robert's Rules of Order were referred frequently and a discussion on rules of procedure sparked the meeting. The American Legion Commander Frank Stephens voted 63 proxy votes in addition to his own, which accounts for the 155 votes cast.

Elect Officers
Under the new by-laws the following were elected as members of the board of directors:

American Legion: one year term, Lawrence Chesboro and Louis Kingsley; two year term, Roger Bieri; three year term, Dave Clark Jr.

For the Lowell Board of Trade: one year term, Bernard Kropf and Gerald Roth; two year term, Theron Richmond; three year term, C. H. Runciman.

By-Laws Report Approved
Your committee is of the opinion that the By-Laws as presently constituted are, subject to certain minor changes, adequate. Your committee feels that any misunderstandings that may have arisen through the last several years stem basically from two causes:

1. Failure to observe the provisions of Article I(c) of the present By-Laws. Your committee is of the opinion that the Board of Directors of the Lowell Showboat have not followed the provisions of Article I(c) and that the failure so to do has resulted in the improper, or at least questionable, diversion of Showboat profits.
2. A certain failure upon the part of some of the members of the Board of Directors to realize that as directors of the Lowell Show Boat Corporation they owe a fiduciary duty to the corporation as such and not to any other organization, person or group. Directors stand as trustees in their relationship to the corporation, and they should, at all times, act for the good of the corporation which they represent and not feel that they are bound to represent the interest of some other organization, person or group.

If the above two matters are clearly kept in mind by the Directors of the Lowell Show Boat, your committee believes that the unfortunate misunderstandings of past years will not recur.

Proposed Amendments
1. That the words "City of Lowell" be inserted wherever the words "Village of Lowell" are presently used.

2. That Article IV(a) of the By-Laws be amended to provide for a Board of Directors ten in number, four of whom shall be members of good standing of the Lowell Board of Trade, four of whom shall be members in good standing of the Clark-Ellis Post, and that the terms of the Directors be staggered so that four of the members serve for one year, two of the members serve for two years, and two of the members serve for three years. In addition, the Commander of the Clark-Ellis Post 153 and the President of the Lowell Board of Trade shall be ex-officio members of the Board of Trustees with vote. In addition one member of the Lowell City Commission shall be a member of the Board of Directors.

3. That the Board of Directors be permitted to vote by proxy.
4. That no money may be paid out by the Board of Directors at any special meeting unless there has been forty-eight hours written notice of such special meeting.

5. That the words "Common Council" be amended to read "City Commission."

6. That to the language of Article I(c) there be inserted the following: "Any lawful purpose, providing it is for the public improvement of said municipality, or for the purpose of helping any non-profit local organization which is educational, charitable or scientific in its nature and operation, may be designated."

7. That Article I(a) be amended to provide that the Show be in July and/or August rather than in August.

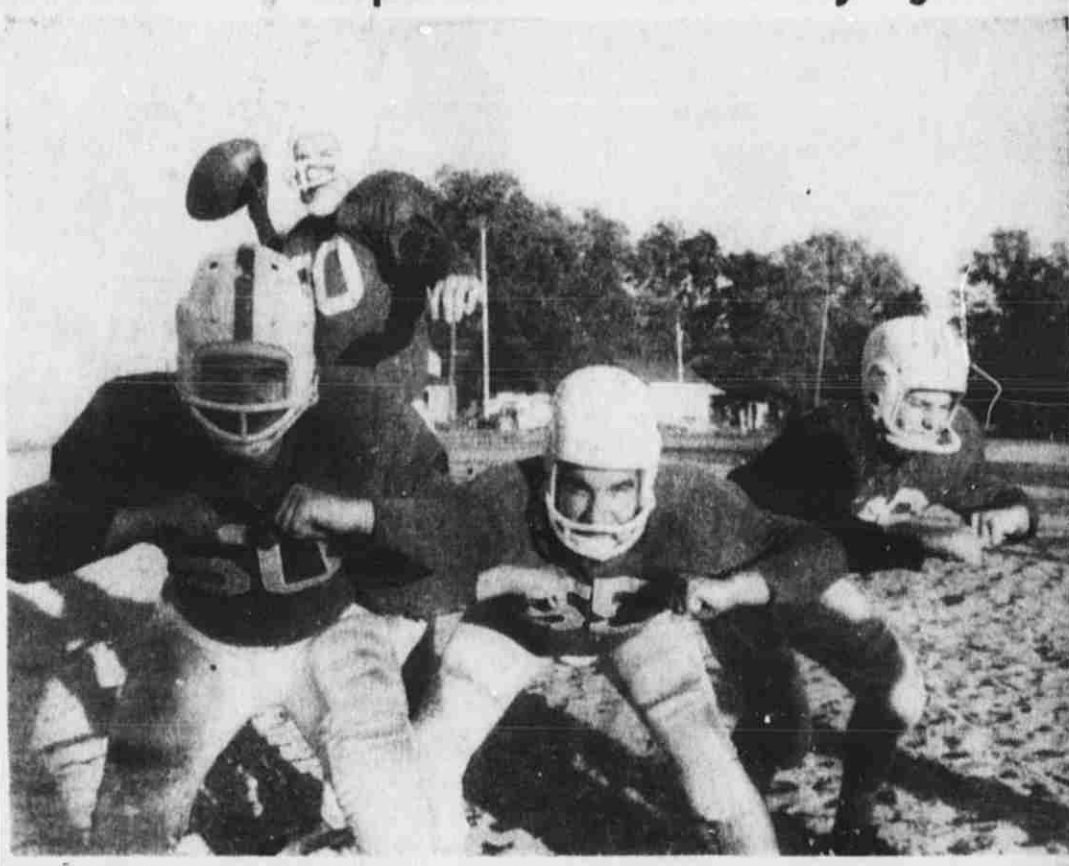

8. That to Article II(a) be added the provision that the President of the corporation shall designate the meeting place.
9. That wherever the word "Charles W. Clark Post" is used it may be amended to read "Clark-Ellis Post 152."

Annual Reports
Reports of the secretary and treasurer D. A. Wingeier and Louis Kingsley were read and accepted. The treasurer D. A. Wingeier reported that the 1960 Showboat had income of $30,656.43 and expenditures of $30,839.83. Gifts of $12,700 were made and now on hand was a total of $733.03 in cash and $17,042.00 in government bonds and bank savings certificates. Also a promissory note from Clark-Ellis Post American Legion for $3,000. The secretary, Louis Kingsley reported on expenditures for 1960 show listing them as follows:

Lowell Red Arrows Open Season at Ionia Friday Night

Lowell YMCA Sponsors Football for Young Boys

Robert G. Forst, Executive Director of the Lowell YMCA, this week announced that football will be sponsored for young boys in grades four through eight, beginning Saturday, September 17, and ending Saturday, October 29.

Registration, fundamentals clinic and team organization will be held on Saturday, September 17, at Recreation Park at 9 a. m. for 4th, 5th and 6th grade boys and at 10:30 for 7th and 8th grade boys. The meeting will be conducted at the football bleachers.

Boys are not to bring or wear any football equipment. All necessary equipment will be provided. This is not a tackle football program. It is a game where bodily contact is kept at a minimum and yet one in which the basic fundamentals of football can be learned. Coaches and referees will be former Lowell High School football players.

There will be a program fee of $2.00 or $1.00 to YMCA members. Boys may become Lowell YMCA members for one year for $2.00. Make application at the Lowell "Y" office. A family membership is available for $12.00 which includes each individual in the family.

During the year it will pay to be a member of your Lowell YMCA for a program of fun, fellowship, citizenship training and savings.

Here is what is expected to be the back-bone of Lowell's 1960 football team offense and defense, regulars from '59 co-champs Frank McMahon, John Wakefield and Dale Green with halfback Don Dilly. The squad of 30 will meet its annual rival, Ionia High School, on the Ionia field at 7:30 Friday night. A good turnout of local team fans is expected to be on hand for the game. The Ionia team, at least on paper, appears to be weaker than the near state champs in Class B last year.

Sunday, September 18th Methodist Crusade Day

"The Road Ahead" will be the subject of the Rev. W. Arnef Roberts' sermon Sunday at the Methodist church. Mr. Roberts will preach at both the 8:45 and the 11:00 o'clock services.

At the 11:00 o'clock service Sunday morning a hundred canvassers will take part in a service of consecration in preparation for calling Sunday afternoon. They will return to the church at 2:00 and will call from 3 to 9 p. m. Members and friends of the church are urged to remain at home during the afternoon and evening to receive them.

Mr. Roberts, who will preach Sunday morning and provide the instruction Sunday afternoon, formerly held pastorate in Baltimore and Washington D. C. It was his success in leading his churches in building programs which caused the Board of Missions of the Methodist church to secure his services on a full time basis. Under the sponsorship of the Board he devotes his full time to directing fund raising crusades.

The choir will sing at the 11:00 o'clock service Sunday morning.

Flower Show Friday and Saturday

Plans are now complete for the Y. M. C. A. Fall Flower show, "All the King's Gardens", Thursday and Friday.
The four area garden clubs, the Twin Oaks, Showboat, Garden Lore and Alto have been working very hard the past week to make this kick-off annual affair a success.

Report from St. Petersburg On Storm Effects on Former Lowell Residents

We are all safe, and feeling very lucky. Former Lowell people living here whom I have been able to contact suffered only slight property damage. The eye of the storm passed 50 miles east of us but as you can see we were heavily hit.

Getting ready for an approaching hurricane was a new experience for me, but we were given instructions for two days in advance via radio, TV, and the newspapers. All stores were sold out of lamps, flashlights, batteries, etc., and groceries long before the storm struck. Lumber companies stayed open late to accommodate those who were boarding up windows, etc.

We did not sleep much, and remained fully dressed until after storm had passed. Personally we suffered the loss of two trees, and the roofing from our storage-shed, and were forced to go out at midnight to put boards against the garage doors from which the lock had broken. The David Condons hauled away two truck-loads of broken limbs from their yard but suffered no damage to their home. The Geo. Tanis', tho' not feeling too well, came through the storm OK. I have been unable to contact Mrs. Whit Kiel.

We are truly grateful to be so fortunate, and we appreciate the modern conveniences of radio and TV more than ever before, altho' we had to bring out the old oil lamp for most of Saturday night.

Garbage Dump Customer?

Playing in the summer sun of northern Michigan, Brother Bruin is probably daydreaming about his next meal. Food is not hard to come by for this massive animal, especially where people have created garbage dumps and other feeding stations.

This "catering" service by humans is not as virtuous as it may seem. "Garbage dump" bears soon lose their fear of people although their deep-rooted instincts of the wild remain. Their guile of timidity puts people off guard to serious dangers to life and limb. Michigan tourists are warned by the conservation department to keep their distance when seeing bears in the out-of-doors, particularly mothers with cubs, regardless of how "tame" these animals of the forest may seem.

Adolescents Change Like the Weather, U-M Expert Says

"Mother, did they have parties like this when you were alive?" a teen-age girl asked. This question implies a common adolescent attitude according to William H. Mills, (Ph. D.) University of Michigan assistant professor of education.

"For the adolescent, parents and most other adults are just fringe people. They are there but that's about all, he explains. Teenagers, anxious to establish relationships outside their own family, may express extremely critical attitudes toward home, family and parents; at the same time, they feel they are better off than their other kids. Outside the home they are very supportive of their own family," Mills points out.

"During this period they begin to feel a need to have someone who will listen to them. A lot of the talking they do is really 'thinking aloud.' Parents can be very helpful in lending a sympathetic ear to adolescents when they bring up such subjects as vocations, morals, religion, the opposite sex, marriage and personal appearance."

Contrary to popular opinion, adolescence is not a stage teenagers enter and then pass through, Mills says. "Actually, teenagers shuttle back and forth between childhood and adolescence; they don't move into adolescence in an orderly way and stay," he points out. "One moment they are children and the next adults, and you can't be quite sure which direction they'll take next."

"This is the basic conflict an adult faces in talking with a teenager: the frame of reference is at the time. One child may enter a new stage of development much earlier than another and these marked differences may exist even within a single family."

"For one thing, girls enter adolescence before boys do because their physical growth is faster. Boys are generally more active, more concerned with physical prowess, girls with social aspects of living."

"Adolescent changes in height and weight are accompanied by period of acute consciousness of the body. Since this is a time of adding very rapidly to self-concept and of being most concerned about what other people think."

Best times to reseed the thin spots in a lawn are August 15 to September 1 in the southern half of the lower peninsula and August 10 to August 25 in the rest of the state.

COLLAPSIBLE GIANT—This huge, 50,000-gallon collapsible fuel tank for storage of military fuels has been developed by the U.S. Army.

Engineer Research and Development Laboratories of Fort Belvoir, Virginia, the tank, believed to be the largest of its kind, is fabricated of two-ply nylon cloth coated with synthetic rubber. The empty tank weighs approximately 2700 pounds and can be rolled and packed for transport in a canvas carrying case. Weighing the soldier standing alongside, the tank measures 44 feet long by 24 feet wide and stands six feet high when filled to capacity. It is built for the Army by Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

More Whitefish Waiting

A number of Michigan's inland lakes harbor large whitefish populations, the Conservation Department's lake trout egg-collectors of recent years reveal. "Unfortunately, most lake and line anglers are 'missing the boat' in that they are not aware of the specialized sport and the specialized gear which is needed to go after this better second fish. Fishing over baited areas is among the better secrets to success in taking this species which is found in many inland lakes."

Why are some children 'underachievers' Subject For Educators Analysis

by Norma Gotshall

"If your child is intelligent, but not so successful in school as he should be, he may be what educators call an 'underachiever.' As such, he and the thousands of others like him have recently been analyzed, surveyed, researched, and probed and compared with teachers, psychologists, curriculum supervisors and guidance counselors."

"Their purpose? To discover why children of similar intelligence often differ widely in school achievement. The National Education Association has recently been conducting a special Project on the Academically Talented Student. These are some of the things the NEA discovered about the underachieving child and how he gets that way."

More boys than girls are underachievers. One researcher found that twice as many boys as girls fail to do the school work which they are capable of.

Lack of family interest in learning is sometimes the reason for underachievement in children of ability. In one study, a group of children who had failed the first grade were sent into a special room for the next year. During the period of investigation, teachers visited the homes in each year, and the results of their observations was the lack of any kind of reading material in any of the homes. In others, they found that the underachieving children had never visited the public library, only three or four books away. The children had seldom traveled outside of the city.

Underachievement sometimes results from a child's serious emotional disturbances. Underachievers are usually less mature, lack self-confidence and have fewer real and deep interests compared with high-achieving youngsters.

Underachievers have less drive or determination to achieve than the high-achieving group. Boys who succeed best in school have

At a Kent County Staff and Branch Librarians' meeting held at headquarters Monday, Mrs. John Abraham gave a report of the week spent at Library Workshop at St. Mary's Lake. A most interesting week, it will help her to be of more value to users of the library when special problems come up. The Kent County Library headquarters works closely with the branches for the benefit of each library patron.

New hours at the library have been well received and many patrons have expressed their preference for Friday as they are in town on other matters and can include a visit to the library in their Friday activities. Since the library has been open on Thursday for many years, now and then a patron will automatically go to the library on Thursday, not thinking of the change in hours. Once we are through the transition period it is hoped the new hours will serve old and new patrons to a greater degree of convenience.

Additional readers are invited to come in and get acquainted with the many fine books which are available and to use the library facilities: the adult reading room, reference and non-fiction, and the children's room. Enjoy your attractive library and be a regular reader.

Remember the hours: Tuesday, 9 a. m. to noon—1 to 8:30 p. m.; Friday, 1 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.; and Saturday afternoon (only) 1 to 5 p. m.

See you at the library!

Arlene Jones Becomes Bride of Gordon Lee Stark

Florence Arlene Jones became the bride of Gordon Lee Stark, Friday evening, August 26, at 7 p. m. in Fallsburg Park. Rev. Alvin C. Brewer performed the ceremony. The park was decorated with gladiolus.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jones, Route 2, Lowell. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey D. Stark, Sr., 3754 Vineyard, N. E., Grand Rapids, are the parents of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white chiffon over taffeta dress. The dress was fashioned with a white lace jacket. An arrangement of white roses and blue carnations completed her ensemble.

Miss Darlene Jones, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a flowered nylon over white taffeta dress, and carried a bouquet of white roses and blue carnations.

Assisting the groom as best man was the bride's brother, Ray Jones. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the shelter house of the park. Out-of-town guests were from Lansing, Coral, Barryton, Houghton, Gladstone, Ontario, Canada, and the surrounding community.

Following a northern wedding trip the couple will reside at 13900 28th Street, S. E.

The bride is a graduate of Lowell High School and is employed by C. J. Christoff and sons. The groom is a graduate of Creston High School and is employed in Grand Rapids.

During the middle of November a Civil Service qualifying examination will be given to all applicants to select the two nominees for the Naval Academy at Annapolis, one nominee for West Point, and one for the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

Information for admission to the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Connecticut and to the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, New York may also be obtained from my office. Selection for admission to these schools is on a different basis than for the other academies but all five institutions offer outstanding opportunities to interested and qualified high school graduates.

Publications Available My Washington office has a limited supply of two beautiful publications which will be sent to residents of Kent and Ottawa Counties upon request. The first is an 8-page illustrated booklet entitled "The Capitol" with the subtitle, "A Pictorial Story of the Capitol in General and the House of Representatives in Particular." Filled with pictures, it presents historical and contemporary scenes of the Capitol building and those who work there.

The second, an equally impressive booklet, and privately published, is entitled, "The War We Are In." It is an analysis of our conflict with the power of Communism and what we must do to maintain our superior economic and military strength. Requests for these should be made to me at 351 House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

District and Mobile Offices My district office at 425 Cherry Street, S. E., in Grand Rapids is open daily from 8:30 a. m. until at least 5 p. m. The telephone number is GL 6-9747 and my staff and I welcome your calls and inquiries.

As during the past five years, I will tour Kent and Ottawa Counties this fall with my mobile office. We plan many stops beginning September 26 at Marne and ending November 3, at Byron Center. I hope to see many of you when we come to your community.

This is the last newsletter in 1960. It has been a pleasure to write this personal comment each week while Congress has been in session.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends, neighbors and relatives for their many visits, acts of kindness, flowers and cards I received while in the hospital and during my recovery at home.

Sharon Ellis Reports On Florida Hurricane

Restrictions on telephone calls were relaxed enough Sunday evening for Sharon Ellis to get through a call to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis, 924 Riverside Dr., Lowell and tell them she had weathered her first hurricane. Sharon is a student nurse at the Mt. Sinai hospital at Miami Beach, Fla.

"This is her account: 'The first hint that things might be rough came Thursday, when we students were given instructions on evacuating etc., and told that no outside communication with our families would be possible during the emergency. The girls who lived within a reasonable distance were allowed to go home Friday morning, but for me and Nancy G. from Benton Harbor, who is across the hall it was only the beginning of the nightmare.'

"Because we were the greenest of students (we had just arrived at the school Wednesday), we were given what seemed at the moment, the simplest of jobs, baby-sitting with the children of hospital personnel. Have you ever tried keeping hordes of kids from being scared when your own bones have turned to jelly? Well the worst had yet to come.

The wind started building up Friday night and we were ordered to the main hospital building. Early Saturday morning it had reached a steady 97 miles per hour with stronger gusts they couldn't record. The roar was really frightening but I had no time to think about it for I worked alternately with the children and helping to dish up food for the steady stream of emergency patients coming in. All of the expectant mothers in the beach area, (about 100) were gathered in also, until every inch in the hospital was jammed with wet miserable people.

By Saturday afternoon, after working without sleep for about 30 hours I was told to get some rest. It was then we learned that our nurses residence had really been hit and was, at least for a while, condemned as unsafe. Some of the window shutters had given way to the flying debris, and the floors were flooded and the elevators were shorted out. All of my clothes, books and money, in fact all of everyone's, was completely out of reach. I was given a cot somewhere finally, but after two hours sleep, I was aroused so that someone else might have a turn.

After quieting endless numbers of children and dishing up food that I don't even remember seeing, it was finally over sometime Sunday morning, at least enough so that we were sent over to the other nurses residence to get some sleep. It was quite an initiation into Nurses Training.
