Offer 3-4 Million for Light Plant

Lowell City council and Light & Power board confronted with the problem of serving the great increase of power needed to serve the Attwood Corporation plant now under construction, have several solutions under consideration. One solution is selling to Consumers Power Company who, it was mentioned at the council meeting, have made a verbal offer to the city of $750,000 for the entire plant.

Discussed at the meeting of the council on Monday night by King Doyle, chairman of the Light & Power Board is the value of the power plant to the citizens of the city. In a first stage report to the power board by their engineering firm, it was pointed out that more power would be needed by July 1, 1961, to handle the Attwood load plus the growing needs of the community. To furnish this additional electric energy the board has met with Consumers Power Co., Wolverine Electric, R. E. A. officials and their own engineers. The solution is being considered as to what is best for the entire community.

Attwood Signs With Consumers
Attwood Corporation engineer, Edward Ward, has clearly indicated that he does not feel Lowell Light & Power can adequately serve the great demand of their plant. Acting on this the company has signed a contract with Consumers Power Co. to furnish the power at the new plant.

Consumers Power Company on Wednesday were connecting up the Attwood plant with temporary service. This line is being run across the river from Consumers' lines in Vergennes township.

Lowell city council at their meeting Monday night expressed their concern of having Consumers Power sign a contract with a corporation inside the city limits; the city contends that they have no franchise to serve. Their concern was to be expressed to the utility in a letter from city attorney VanderVeen.

Reverend John Rumorh, Episcopalian missionary, who recently returned from Africa, will be the guest speaker this Saturday evening, October 8, at the meeting of the Co-Wed group of the First Congregational church.

An article about the Rumorh family appeared in the Grand Rapids Press in July describing his work in the Belgian Congo. Saturday evening Mr. Rumorh will have with him slides to show the group what life in Africa is like. His talk should be of particular interest at this time when Africa is the center of attention in the world.

Mr. Rumorh graduated from Belding High School and while attending college in Canada he met his wife who was born there. During their stay in Leopoldville, both he and his wife taught school. His wife taught the African girls to sew.

The Rumorh's have three children, a boy 5 years old, and two girls 3 years and 18 mos. old, both of whom were born in Africa.

Robert E. Wolfe, 30 Seriously Injured In Sunday Crash

Robert E. Wolfe, 30, 4243 Humberger Drive, Grand Rapids, was seriously injured Sunday morning at 12:30 a. m. when his car crashed into a tree just west of the Lowell City limits on M-21.

Also suffering minor injuries in the accident was Leone M. Carigan, 47, Rte. 2, Lowell, who was riding with her husband Harry W. Carigan, 31, of the same address. The third car involved, but not participating in the accident was driven by Don H. Rink, 21, 6953 Burger Drive, Grand Rapids. Riding with him was Miss Barbara Court, 703 N. Washington St., Lowell.

Deputy Sid Frazier who investigated the accident reported that it occurred when Carigan who was going West on M-21, attempted to make a left turn into Dee's Restaurant; Wolfe also going west struck the rear of the Carigan car, veered into the pathway of the Rink car that was going east, and then went across the highway, smashing the right side of the late model car into a tree, bending the car into a U shape.

Rink drove his car off the road way into the ditch to avoid the Wolfe car but was not hit by the vehicle only gravel and stones from the skidding car.

Council to Order Complete Appraisal Of Entire City

At the meeting of the city council on Monday evening it was indicated that the appraisal firm of Doane & Co., who had a bid of $6,600 for the job of giving a complete real estate appraisal of the city, would be given a contract for the job. This is expected to take about 4 months and will mean a complete check and survey of every piece of real estate in the city.

In the collection of 1960 taxes, Mrs. Esther Fahmi, reported that she has collected all but about $4,100 of the over $60,000 billed. Much of the money has been paid. It was revealed, on the special Main St. street lighting special assessment, Friday, October 7, is the last day to pay this assessment before interest is charged.

Town Grips Aired
With the new city manager, Bernard Olson, present at the meeting the council aired many gripes of the community to have action taken. Burning of the dump south of Recreation Park on the day of a home football game was the first mentioned. This will be stopped and the dump will only be open to city residents on certain days.

The manager who has full authority over all departments was asked to see what can be done to put a new fence along Riverside Drive where the old wood fence has rotted away. He was asked to see about getting garbage cans and rubbish burners off the streets.

An ordinance calling for keeping this type of container on the house-holders own property except on the day of pick-up may be necessary. Also the burning of rubbish and leaves in the streets, especially on the blacktop roads must be stopped.

The council also asked for bids on converting the City Hall to gas heat.

Demand Settlement with Twp.
The city attorney was given authority to take legal steps to reach a settlement with Lowell township a division of assets which has to be done after the separation from the township by the village, now the city. So far in the six months of negotiating, both are far apart in the division of some $8,000 in cash and the township building.

City attorney VanderVeen says the law calls for a division on the basis of assessed value in the new city as compared to the old township; this would give the city 67 percent of the township assets.

Township attorneys newest offer of settlement is 20 percent of the assets. The city has indicated that they do not want the township cemetery.

Red Arrows Suffer First Conference Loss Against East Friday Night, 13-7

The Lowell Red Arrows dropped an important game to East G. R. Friday night after leading through most of the game. Lowell took the lead in the first quarter as Dilly took a pitchout around the left end and outtraced the East secondary for a 78 yd. scoring play. Fullback Larry Miller added the extra point going over right tackle giving Lowell a seven point lead.

Lowell was forced to punt late in the second quarter. On three running plays and a pass East carried the ball to the one foot line. East's halfback Kingwell then scored with just one minute left in the first half. The Lowell defense stiffened and the try for extra point was no good leaving the score at the end of the first half Lowell 7, East 6.

The third quarter was a scoreless defensive battle. Lowell lost the lead midway in the fourth quarter as East's big end Moser grabbed a pass for a touchdown. A fake kick and run by Bolhouse added the extra point giving East a 13 to 7 lead. The Arrows fought hard and made a desperate last minute attempt to score but failed leaving the final score 13-7.

The closeness of the game may be demonstrated by the fact that the East Pioneers had possession of the ball for 56 plays, 7 first downs, and a total net yardage gained of 196. The Arrows had possession of the ball for 57 plays, 7 first downs, and a total net yardage of 202. (Unofficial statistics)

Women's Relief Corps Founded in 1885

The Joseph Wilson W. R. C. No. 49 founded here in 1885 is celebrating the 75th anniversary of its founding this year. Last week the Ledger referred to this group as the auxiliary of the G. A. R. which we were told is not so. So we are sorry to cause any confusion. It was our belief that since they had the same name as the G. A. R. Post here "Joseph Wilson Post" that is what they would be best known as.

We have also discovered a roster of the organization in a book published in 1893 when 42 members were named. Officers of the organization were listed as Mrs. Hattie Painter, president; Mrs. Olive Taylor, sr. vice-president; Mrs. Phebe A. Newton, jr. vice-president; Miss Winnie Painter, secretary; Mrs. Martha Adams, treasurer.

Play Grandville Friday

John Sawka received a shoulder separation and Dale Green suffered rib injuries. Whether they will be able to play is still in question.

SOIL and WATER CONSERVATION

By Your A. C. D. Directors
DONALD BLANE, S. O. S. Editor
 Farm plans have been completed so with Donald and Roger Wright, Curran, Two Roger, at MSU Short Course graduate, is interested in conservation farming as is his father. Forty acres of good cropland were purchased on Shiner Rd. last year. Here a grassed waterway will be used for surface drainage. Two tile drainage systems are needed if suitable outlet can be secured. Pasture improvement is planned on the low-lying bottom land on the home farm. Bromo grass, and Ladino clover or Birdsfoot Trefoil may be used for more and better pasture.
 We would like to point out the value of a soil map as a valuable guide when farm land is bought or sold. The possibility of or the lack of adequate tile outlets increases or decreases the value of crop land where drainage is needed.
 Another young part time farmer who has a conservation plan is Thomas Williams, formerly of Rockford. Tom purchased the former Jacob Clelland 80 acres in Byron Twp. which has a variety of soils. About 30 acres of this farm is good muck land, although a better outlet is needed for more open ditch drainage. The rest of the land is mostly heavy clay loam with "C" and "D" slopes, well adapted for a wheat-bay rotation. About eight acres of rough, sandy loam are adapted for tree planting. Terrace diversions on the rolling, heavy clay loam are planned if corn is to be used in the rotation. Such a variety of soils and conservation farm management is typical of many Kent County farms. Continuous corn or truck crops are adapted to the muck soils. Maximum use of this muck could be a full time job just on this part of the farm. These are some of the decisions Thomas and his wife must make for the completion of their farm plan.
 Weather conditions play an important part with our celery and onion growers on the muck land. "Seeders", where celery grows up with a broom like top is a problem this year," says Byron Twp. cooperator John Wulfbeling. The cold spring weather helped to cause this type of growth. When we last visited John, a soup company had just cancelled a celery order. Pickers had been hired and were on hand, when the cancellation was received. Such are some of our muck growers' problems, even with good drainage and with good irrigation set up. The District hopes that more muck growers can improve and can keep up their good muck land with the use of suitable green manure cover crops. Such crops, not only prevent wind erosion but slow up the subsidence or the lowering of the muck through loss of organic matter which causes muck to "settle" over a period of years.
 We have been pleased to work with the following cooperators with their conservation farm plans: Frank Conrad, Archie Wiedenfelder and William Silvernail of Byron Twp. More about their conservation plans and accomplishments next week.

Cites Need for Skills in Mathematics in Country
 The United States needs mathematicians—especially those with Ph. D. degrees. The need was pointed up at the national meetings of the American Mathematical Society, the Mathematical Association of America and the Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics, held on the Michigan State University campus.
 Employers in government, industries and universities listed about 150 openings with the organizations, but only 65 mathematicians indicated they were looking for new jobs—and most of these were already employed and would create new vacancies by a job change.

Pontiac for 1961 has combined dynamic new styling concepts with significant engineering advances to present the most exciting new car in its 53-year history.

Fifteen new eye-catching models in four versatile series are precision designed to set new standards in car beauty, reliability, performance, and motoring comfort.

The new Pontiac is as much as 3 1/2 inches lower, four inches shorter, and 2 1/2 inches narrower. Yet important passenger compartment dimensions have been improved.

Also cited is a new perimeter frame, new front and rear suspension systems, and a lighter weight, more efficient V-8 engine among the car's completely new engineering features.

4-Cylinder Tempest Following years of intensive research, development and testing Pontiac is proud to announce the completely new Tempest series, which we feel introduces the newest engineering advances in automobile design ever to be offered by our Division.

Unique in conception and fresh in styling, the Tempest is an entirely new personality for the motor world; and Dr. Russell H. Seibert, vice president of academic affairs, Western Michigan University.

Dr. Young will present the topic "Teachers Who Teach"; Dr. Van Til will speak on "Social Development Influence the Curriculum"; and Dr. Seibert's speech.

New Mercury on Display Now

Mercury for 1961 substantially increases its coverage of the low-price field by introducing two all new lines—the Meteor 600 and the Meteor 800.

The dramatically lower price of the new Mercury Meteor places it squarely into competition in the low-price field. It was announced by Jay Bolens of Jay Bolens Ford Inc., 249 S. Hudson, Lowell.

"We have completely restyled and engineered our products to compete in the low-price volume market," Mr. Bolens said. We have shortened our cars by 4 1/2 inches and made them 1 1/2 inches narrower, yet we have retained Mercury's interior comfort, riding qualities and luxury styling.

The move down into the low-price field marks a wide departure from Mercury's traditional competition in the medium-price market. The Mercury line for 1961, which consists of 14 models, is identified as the Meteor 600 series, which is priced with the middle series in the low-price field; the Meteor 800 series, priced with the top series of the low-price field; and the Monterey series, at the top of the line.

LOOK WHAT DODGE HAS DONE FOR COMPACTS

The name, Lancer, one hardtop; one 2-door sedan; two 4-door sedans; two wagons. What kind of cars are they? This kind: two feet shorter; many pounds leaner; a couple of hundred dollars less in well rounded road with amply. Park obediently. More reasons to buy? Read on. The interiors are rich, but simple. Shed soil, wear well, feel good. The engine is highly spirited, but extremely light on regular gasoline. One more thing, Lancer is built by Dodge. Our name is on it. This means Lancer will stay nice and shiny. How so? The body is rustproofed by an exclusive Chrysler Corporation process. Enough talk. Meet Lancer at your Dodge Dealer. Now.

Methodist Church News

On Monday evening, September 26, a Mothers' Tea, the first to be sponsored by the Alto Commission on Education, was held in the church basement. After refreshments were served by Mrs. Orlo Hostetter, there was a time of informal discussion, focused mostly on the relationship of the Church and the home. Mrs. Walter Wieland had attractively arranged a display of the work of the Primary Department. Following a filmstrip on the subject "The Church and the Family," there was an opportunity for questions and discussion. Though the attendance was small, the common opinion was that a similar program should be held in the coming months.

BUCK SHOT

by Norman Gotschall

Pound for pound the "huntingest" athlete in the Grand Valley is Doug Olson. He proved this in wrestling and in now demonstrating that the little guy can still be a valuable man in football. Doug is a sophomore, and unless he grows, he will be one of the smallest athletes in Lowell football history.

Back a few years, Earl Wieland was another hard hitting diminutive guard. Leonard Fose and Orson Abel were two other backs who were quite small but filled with hustle. Leonard's only 5 ft. 6 in. tall but has a real football build. He is one of Alma's stand-out backs this year, and is perhaps headed for MIAA honors.

Last year Michigan bagged its second largest deer crop. Many people are afraid the deer were thinned a little too much, but this coming season will tell the tale. All states which support deer have some type of antlerless season.

Last year in the Lower Peninsula only four out of one-hundred hargers bagged their deer, which proves that the bow and arrow is not a very effective way to harvest meat. We have decided to do a little hunting around Lowell this year. If anyone knows a good spot for some lively deeraction, give us a ring.

By 1963 the majority of the seats in the United Nations will be held by nations who have colors of skin darker than white. This fact poses the dilemma in which the United States finds itself (the dilemma of professing equal opportunity, but in reality practicing discrimination to a considerable degree) should bring to the attention of the people the importance of changing attitudes of prejudice. At one time it was considered one's own business as to whether he was prejudiced or not. This can no longer be.

Last week some hotels in New York made it difficult for some of the representatives to get hotel reservations (other than Chickenservings Castro). Some restaurants have also refused to representatives. We are proposing to send these people (who are prejudiced and who discriminate) to the Antarctic to colonize (with due apologies to the little penguins and the seals).

The First Congregational Church of Lowell has a brand new kitchen! Work was started on the project this summer and completed in September at a cost of $3,740.

Plans for the remodeling were drawn up by Howard Threlk Jr. of Detroit, Wm. Collins and Henry Kiossterman. Henry Kiossterman, Clark Fletcher, and Ed Steffens did most of the work.

New birch cupboards were built in around the room and extending out over two islands in the middle creating pass-through work areas and increasing the storage space.

The islands contain a double stainless steel sink, an extra deep single sink, and a built-in oven. All the countertops are covered with beige formica flecked with gold.

A second double stainless steel sink was installed in the far end of the room. By this arrangement separate work areas were created for coffee making with cups, coffee, and urns within easy reach; for food preparation with kettles nearby; for serving; and for dishwashing.

Three new double cooking units were installed in the countertops. The stove that was used previously will still be put to use in the coffee-making area. Other new additions include a hot water heater, new fluorescent lights, an exhaust fan over the stove, and two large cutting boards of birch set into the countertops, creating a kitchen that the women of the church find a joy to work in.

A work party of church members headed by Dick Rutherford, last Saturday decorated the vestibule of the parish house leading to the kitchen and also painted the new siding on the outside.

The remodeling of the kitchen marks the second large project completed by the church members in the last two years, including the building and decorating of eight new Church School classrooms.

The Gospel Based on Facts

The gospel of Jesus Christ is based on facts. As to Christ, we have the facts of His eternal deity, His incarnation by way of the virgin birth, His sinless life, His atoning death, His bodily resurrection, His ascension, and yet to come. His personal return. Omit those facts and you may have a religious service, but you are not preaching the gospel.

Need Close Check Of Foreign Ships

Greater need for more adequate inspection of foreign ships arriving at lake ports through the St. Lawrence Seaway was emphasized recently at a Senate hearing held in Detroit by a committee headed by State Senator Arthur Deibel of Unionville, Ocean going ships are not now adequately inspected.

Two other meetings are planned in the future to familiarize persons connected with the state's agriculture with the problems.

The initial speaker at the hearing was Director G. S. McIntyre of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. He said the wide benefits to the state and middle west because of the Seaway outweigh the dangers, but steps should be taken to check the threat of the introduction of foreign insects and plant and animal diseases. Inspection of foreign ships is primarily a federal responsibility, but the state has interest in this and has responsibility after the cargo is unloaded.

Others who testified at the hearing were Eugene Rogers of Washington, Director of the Plant Quarantine Division of the United States Department of Agriculture; Dr. Claude A. Smith, Washington, Animal Inspection and Quarantine Section, USDA; Guy Lewis, Detroit, Assistant Regional Supervisor of the USDA Plant Quarantine Division; Donald Fletcher of Minneapolis, Executive Secretary of the Crop Quality Control Council; C. A. Boyer, Chief of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division; and Leo Gruff, Bay City Harbormaster.

Last year 101 overseas ports in 48 countries were served by ships out of Detroit; only one of the Michigan ports engaged in the import-export trade because of the Seaway. This trade is expected to increase, and with it the threat of foreign plant and animal diseases and insect pests unless adequate inspection of ships is assured. Khapra beetle, one of the greatest destroyers of stored grain, has been found on five vessels at Grand Lake ports.

Over 200 Heat With Gas Here

To date over 200 homes in Lowell have installed natural gas to heat their homes. Consumers Power Co. officials announced this week. Natural gas is entering its second year in the community and local heating contractors cooperating with the gas company has brought this one cost heating fuel to a third of the homes and businesses.

The availability of the natural gas has brought this one cost heating fuel to a third of the homes and businesses.

There is still time for Lowell residents to have natural gas for this winter; the company spokesman said; local contractors are able to make the installation in most cases with little delay.

Popularity of natural gas as a home heating fuel has been largely responsible for this growth and for the phenomenal sales reported by gas utilities all over the country. Take a look at the way gas heating has grown in the Lansing division of Consumers Power Company.

In 1936 when natural gas was first introduced to the Lansing area, replacing the manufactured variety fewer than 100 homes there were heated with gas. This winter natural gas will furnish heat for some 50,000 homes, schools and factories in the same area.

Lowell's founder, Captain Daniel Marsae was the area's first settler, having arrived in the territory in 1838.

Small Game Hunting in Michigan

It won't be long now before some 650,000 eager small game nimrods take to their favorite hunting haunts in Michigan. Whether they'll be bent on bagging pheasants in the farm country and woodcock on northern Michigan forest lands, or downing ducks at Pointe Mouillee good. Pheasant hunters should hit their 23-year average of slightly more than 1,000,000 ring-necked quails, a moderate increase is forecast over last year's take of 379,000 ruffed grouse and home nearly 327,000 birds... last year's total bag of 24,500 grouse should be matched or better.

Rep. Ford Hailed For Voting Record

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Jr., of Michigan, today was hailed by Americans for Constitutional Action as "a consistent advocate of the long-term best interests of the American wage-earner, homemaker, business man and young people."

ACA, a voluntary non-partisan political-action and education group headed by Adm. Ben Moreell, USN (Ret.), said its year-long research of voting behavior showed that Representative Ford earned a rating of 88 percent on critical issues which tend to strengthen rather than weaken American Constitutional government.

"This means," Kenneth W. Ingvalson, Executive Director of ACA, pointed out, "that Congressman Ford voted 87 percent of the time for sound money and against inflation; 82 percent of the time for economy in government and against waste; 90 percent of the time for the private-competitive market and against government interference; and 100 percent of the time for national security, for local self-government and against government ownership, for individual liberty and against coercion."

The ACA official said that Ford, by his voting record over the past three years, has "played an important role in the fight to preserve and strengthen our political, moral and economic system."

The Congressman's earned rating was contained in the official, copyrighted ACA-Index.

Teenagers Need to Win Arguments, Expert Reminds

Let your teenager win an argument once in a while, advises William H. Mills (Ph. D.), University of Michigan, speaking at a meeting of the Michigan Education Association.

"If a child is always on the losing side in the home battles then he stops battling at home and carries it outside," Mills says. "Parents can help by acting as a sparring partner. So strong is the teenager's need to be victorious once in a while in a home argument, it might even be a good idea occasionally to introduce a controversial subject and let him win the argument."

Mills advises parents not to be too disturbed by the teenager's occasional lechery. These periods, he says, are offset by sudden bursts of energy upon which parents should capitalize.

Teenagers are very concerned about their social skills, he emphasizes. "They need help from parents in developing confidence in proper handling of the social amenities. They should be given a chance to develop proper manners at home in a friendly situation before they are forced to use their knowledge of social usages in the open. They should not always be shuffled off while mother and dad are having a party."

Mills notes that "More than anything else youngsters like to be told what to do. They like to find out for themselves how to do things and this can be an opportunity to provide them with situations in which they can learn the necessary skills without being embarrassed."

"This goes for school work too. We shouldn't tell them how we used to do it but should rather suggest ways of seeking their own solutions."

"A major problem for adults is to help adolescents free themselves from fears and inhibitions, and to establish a relationship whereby young people feel free to talk their problems through."

Education Key to Advancement, Prof. Says

Education—especially college education—has replaced "free land and abundant natural resources as the best route to personal advancement in America, according to Prof. Algo D. Henderson (Ph. D.), of the University of Michigan.

"College today has become as important to the individual and as essential to the welfare of the nation as were elementary and secondary education at earlier stages of our history," he said in his address.

"Policies and Practices in Higher Education," (Harper & Brothers, 388 pp., $5.75).

"In the present competitive world struggle, the development of our human resources, based upon the talent and merit of each person, is the best means of providing for this country's security and for the further social progress of our people," he says.

"The friends to treasure are the few who 'guess' it's time to go—and do."

Ada Landstrom, that started operation last week, will hold its grand opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 6-7-8 this week. To introduce this new self-serve laundry to the entire area, during the grand opening days, there will be free wash and dry, also free detergent furnished by Anway; this will be from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. The laundry, with 30 of the most modern washers, 7 dryers, an extractor, plus a heavy duty washer, is open 24 hours a day; closed Sunday. The laundry is operated by Jim and Cornelia Heenan; contractor for the remodeling was Dan Vos.

Check Honesty Of Quantities

Consumers of a whole host of products may be accepting delivery of less than the quantity represented on the appraisal work unless purchasers remember the old legal maxim "let the buyer beware," according to weights and measures men in the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

This agency, headed by Director G. S. McIntyre, has the responsibility for enforcement of all weights and measures laws through its Foods and Standards division. Chief of the division is J. L. Littlefield.

The department has recently received complaints that consumers were receiving less than the quantity represented in the sale of various commodities. Many consumers may be paying too much because of this misrepresentation unless they exercise caution.

Mr. Littlefield's division recently prosecuted the owner of a trucking firm for delivering less sand to a construction firm than was represented. Truck drivers were buying eight cubic yards of sand for each truck and then making out another invoice and charging for 10 cubic yards.

Three-fourths of the earth's surface is water and one-fourth is land. It's clear the Good Lord intended a man should spend three times as much time fishing as he does mowing the lawn.

Beware Quack Diets
U-M Dietitians Warn

Information concerning good nutrition and facts about food foods are readily available to help one avoid the "food quack," say dietitians at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Quack diets to lose or gain weight cure disease or prolong life can be a menace to public health, say the U-M specialists.

The American Medical Association, the State Health Department and the American Dietetic Association will all answer questions about foods to help guard against quackery. The public can take advantage of their services simply by writing to them.

Chevy Beautifies, Expands Lines for '61

New Chevrolet on Display Friday at Azzarello Chevrolet and Buick

Top seller of 1960 automobiles, Chevrolet promises to solidify its position in 1961 by significantly broadening its range of passenger cars.

Scheduled for display at dealer showrooms Friday, October 7, are 20 freshly styled conventional models; nine Corvairs including new passenger and commercial models, and the spirited two-place Corvair coupe.

Complete new body styling, which provides easier loading for both passengers and baggage, and establishes new heights in motoring comfort and convenience, is featured in the regular line of passenger cars.

The entire body, from floor to roof and grille to rear bumper, is all new. Prime design emphasis has been placed on functionalism with thrills.

High on the list of advantages of the all-new body are:

1. Easier entrance to passenger compartments.
2. Large, more accessible luggage space, with the trunk loading level improved as much as 10.5 inches.
3. Improved chair height and over-the-hood visibility which will increase the ease of parking and add to driving ease.

Other safety items include improved brakes, overlap electric windshield wipers, and a new placement for the fuel tank which protects it from road hazards such as hard bumps and flying stones.

From styling standpoint, the new models feature gentle curves and smooth lines and a generally cleaner and airier appearance from all angles.

The Corvair models to be unveiled Friday also blossom out into a completely new line of passenger and commercial trucks.

Passenger cars—Club coupes, four-door sedans and a new Lakewood Station Wagon in the '500' and '700' series, plus the deluxe Monza Sport Coupe and the new Greenbird Sports Wagon.

Commercial—Corvan, Rampside and Loadside trucks.

Basic mechanical features of the Corvair—the air-cooled engine, combination of transmission and axle at the rear, and frame-body integration—are continued. So is the basic body styling, although exterior ornamentation provides a fresh appearance and the interiors are completely new.

Significant engineering improvements have been made, however, which will greatly improve lug-

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, "posi-steer" '61 Chevrolet. We started by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide perches for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupe, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—from a rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.
