Parents Warned, Child Moltestation Season Here

Because warmer weather always brings an increase in child molestation cases, Sgt. Gordon Hanthorn of the Rockford State Police Post, has issued a timely reminder to parents to warn their children now against talking, walking, or going anywhere with strangers.

"The best rule for children is to avoid strangers completely," Sergeant Hanthorn emphasized. "Caution them often to beware of strangers while outdoors at play. or on the way to or from school. Tell them to report any strangers who make offers or promises of candy or gifts for going for a walk or a ride with them."

Child molestation cases investigated by the State Police last year totaled 581, an increase of 15, or 2.6 percent, compared to 1959.

The offenses reach a peak in the summer. The high month for 1960 was August with 84 while July was second with 80 and June third with 67. The peak month in 1959 was August with 76, June was next with 73 and July third with 61.

The Michigan State Highway Department reports traffic volume on US-10 (Woodward Ave.) north of Eight-Mile Rd, in Detroit nearly doubled between 1950 and 1960 when it increased from 38,000 to 75,000 vehicles per day.
