Future of Dairying, Topic At Adult Farmer Meeting

Mel Oesterle, field representative of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, will speak to the Lowell Adult Farmer Forum this Thursday night on the future of dairying in our changing times.

His extensive experience in the milk producing industry qualifies Mr. Oesterle to shed much light on a subject foremost in the minds to raise $1,500 to completely pay of many prominent farmers in this area. An open discussion will follow his remarks, and many inletter meeting.

Along with our standing invitation to attend these meetings may we add the suggestion that you bring a neighbor as your guest.

YOU PROBABLY aren't conscious of it-but chances are you're using your telephone more than you were, say, 10 years ago. How busier here at the telephone com pany handling your calls. For example, 10 years ago our Michigan customers made 9,762,000 calls during the average day. In 1960, we were handling 14,881,000 calls on the average day in Michigan-a 52% increase! Much of this results from new customers, of course. But quite a bit comes from the fact that you're picking up your phone more often because you can call more people, and more people can call you. It makes us happy to know your telephone is working harder for you—saving steps, making life easier and more pleasant.

MICHIGAN IS AGRICULTURE

Michigan is rich in food stuffs. In fact, no state is richer and this is another reason Michigan ranks high in industrial opportunities.

By the variety and volume of its agricultural production, Michigan fills the family table and the A state which is built on such a sturdy and steady pantry shelves more completely than any other state. Michigan is among the first 10 states in 30 agricultural commodities, and of course stands first in several of these.

Michigan is a rapidly advancing leader in food research — an ideal location for the research laboratories of nearly all food processors.

MICHIGAN IS EVERYTHING FOR INDUSTRY

cour write-up for next year's basketball team.

After our regular season, the basketball boys played an interclass tournament. The winners were the Juniors who incidentally scored a total of 226 points in two games.

Leading the Juniors to victory were Don Dilly and Rick Beimers who could provide an unusually outstanding nucleus of a team next season. Don was the only Lowell candidate to make the Detroit Free Press All-Conference Team, By mid-season, Don was grabbing as many rebounds as a center, and he developed the ability to convert these into a fast break. He finished the season with a 45 shooting percentage.

Rick finished the season a 6 ft. 4 in. rebounding power. His improvement was especially gratifying. As Rick gained confidence, he began racking up double figures. He will be a player long remembers of the pasketball team.
