Editor Shows How To Save $10,000

The editor of the Ledger at the council meeting on Monday night pointed out that instead of the city spending $10,000 for a new street sweeper Kent County Road Commission would do the job on a contract.

Checking with Leonard E. Kaufman, secretary-manager of the road commission he said that the county would send a crew of men with a sweeper into the city and do a complete job for $200 per sweeping. He said that the city would probably need this done about three times a year, and pointed out that the interest on $10,000 would pay this cost, saying nothing about the labor and other equipment involved.

The county has a sweeping crew of several men that operate a sweeper, loader and truck to haul the dirt away, and could be scheduled to come to Lowell at once. It seems that we should get the county on the job here as soon as possible.

Gordon Hill called the attention of the council to the fact that dirt was piled up on the street several inches deep and clouds of dust and paper make a dirty mess out of the business district.

The Road Commission Secretary also said that the county would assist the city in maintaining some of the roads outside the built up area of the city proper, eliminating the need of purchasing an additional truck which was put up for bids on Monday night at the council meeting. This could be an additional savings of over $6,000.

It was mentioned at the council meeting Monday night that it would be far better for the city to contract many of its jobs to cut down the specialized help necessary for equipment only used a few times a year.

At the try-outs last week, Richard McNeal, 306 Elm St., was selected to serve as an endman on the 1961 Lowell Showboat to replace Bernard Kropf who announced that he would be unable to serve this year.

McNeal who moved to Lowell last year and is a salesman for a Grand Rapids company, will add a new talent to the Showboat; he is an accomplished musician and they say plays a mean "honky-tonk piano."

The other endmen led by senior member of the cast Forrest Buck who is going into his 19th year on the Showboat are: Ron Holst, Stephen Nisbet, Phil Kropf and Dr. Robert Reagan. The inter-locutor will be Dr. Roy Westcott.

Lowell Nine Annex Second Valley Win

Last Tuesday, April 25, coach Vern Morse's baseball team annex their second win in as many starts in the Valley as Don Dilly pitched a one-hitter. The Arrows defeated Wyoming Park 5 to 1.

The Arrows drew first blood in the fourth inning on singles by Dilly and Witherell. Larry Miller got on base on an error and John Claus sacrificed two runs in. In the sixth, Ken Witherell started things off again on a walk. Don Dilly singled, Larry Miller walked and Tom Bigelow singled in two runs, and scored one himself on a wild pitch. Don Dilly pitched perfect ball up to the sixth inning when he allowed his only hit of the game. Don struck out 16 men, walked 5, and made every putout of the game except for 2. Besides this, Don went 2 for 3 at the plate. Tom Davis also got two hits.

Surplus Food Depot Here

A meeting was held in Lowell Tuesday to study the possibility of setting up a surplus food distribution center here for Grattan, Vergennes, Bowne, Ada, Cascade and Lowell township and city.

Rupert Kettle, director of Kent County Social Welfare met with Lowell Supervisor Walter Gumsier, city manager Bernard Olson, and chamber of commerce president, Harold Ball, to discuss the possibility of using the city hall for a distribution center. Mr. Kettle said Wednesday that it appears that the center will be able to go into operation in June. There are now 230 families and individuals in the Lowell area receiving surplus food, but the department feels that there are many in the community who are eligible to receive this food, but are not able to go to Grand Rapids for it.

Elderly citizens on old age assistance or social security may qualify to receive food each month and there may be as many as 2,000 in the area who could come to Lowell and pick it up.

The food valued at $3.89 per month for each individual consists of butter, lard, dried milk and other staples. If the Lowell city hall is used the distribution days would be the first Wednesday and Thursday of each month. An announcement will be made in the Ledger as soon as details are complete.

'Y' Plans to Sponsor Edition of Ledger

Anyone not contacted to help is encouraged to call the local YMCA office and volunteer their financial assistance.

Lowell Jaycees Come to Aid of Street Workers

Members of the Lowell Jaycees turned out Tuesday night to come to the aid of the overworked Lowell City Street Department and mark the cross walks for the safety of our children and other pedestrians.

The crosswalk lines obscured by dirt and wear were repainted by a crew of about a dozen members of this new service organization. On hand to compliment them on their public service was William Jones, mayor and city manager Bernard Olson.

The spokesman for the group said that they want to be a real service organization in the city, and when ever they see something that needs doing they will donate their time and effort.

Another important project the Jaycees have going is selling flags to every Main St. merchant and business place so that the city can properly celebrate Memorial Day. The men in the organization will take on the job of putting up the flag and taking it down and storing it for a year along as part of purchase price of the flag.

Lowell Pre-School Round-up, May 5

Lowell Area Schools will hold their pre-school Round-Up for kindergartners at the Runciman Elementary building on Friday, May 5th. Those families in the Alto area will have their Round-Up on Tuesday, May 12, at the Alto school. In Lowell, parents are requested to enroll as follows: Those whose last names begin A through E at 9 a. m. to 10 a. m.; F-L from 10 to 11 a. m.; M-R from 1 to 2 p. m. and S-Z from 2-3 p. m. Alto parents should enroll the children—A through L from 9 to 10 a. m.; and M-Z from 10 until 11 a. m. Parents unable to meet the above appointments may come at a more convenient time, but to insure less waiting, should endeavor to come at assigned hours.

Mrs. Noah, the school nurse, will meet with parents from both areas in order to obtain a health record on each child, and to hand out health and dental report forms.

Parents should also bring their child's birth certificate at the time of enrollment. On May 5th, the regular Lowell kindergarten children will not attend classes, due to the pre-school Round-Up.

Baptist Church Leading in Campaign Parade

Lowell Baptist is leading as we approach the half-way mark! Yes, we are leading, but by a very narrow margin. The other churches are coming up fast and we need your support by your presence.

Many have said that they would like to join the Campaign Parade to "Crown Christ King In Everything" and I am sure that they are planning to come. Won't you come this, our third Sunday.

Some give the Bible equal authority with Church Creeds, Tradition or Scholarship. In our Sunday School the Bible is the final authority and to us it is the inspired Word of God. Trust your future to His Word, the Bible, obey it, and you will never be disappointed or be cast off. "In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my Gospel." Romans 2:16.

Rev. John Wilson, professor in the history department of the Baptist Seminary will be ministering to us Sunday, May 7, at all of the services. We invite you to hear him as he opens to you the message of this wonderful book, the Bible.

Build Track Here for Tri River Meets

Plans were discussed in a joint meeting between the Lowell Area School board and the city council Monday night to build a running track around the football field early this summer so that Lowell can be the host school at all Tri River meets next year. The cinder or new composition type track of a 440 yard oval and a 220 yard straight-away is expected to cost some $12,000. In addition to this chain link fence would be built around the entire track area to protect the running surface. This might bring the cost to $16,000.

The school board proposed that the city finance the installation from pledged shares of the Lee fund which would be redeemed by the school on an annual rental plan. The city council agreed that this could be handled by this method. Councilman Carrol Burch who is also athletic director of the school, was requested to have estimates ready by the next council meeting.

Work on the track must be completed before football practice starts in the fall, so steps will have to be taken soon to get the project started.

Act to Get Bonds Approved

Secretary of the school board, Dr. Thomas Hill, completed signing the necessary forms this week to apply to the State Municipal Finance Commission for permission to sell the $300,000 in bonds to build the Alto elementary school. Approval is expected in 8 to 10 weeks.

In a resolution to the Kent County Road Commission the Lowell School Board asked to have the condition of 36th St., where two Lowell students were killed and five others injured, considered for improvement. Lowell School buses use this road regularly and the narrow road at the top of the hill is considered very dangerous.

These are the choice, or calibre students. Most of them have made plans to further their education.

Some plan to attend Western Michigan University, Junior College and Central Michigan University, while others have been signed up to attend Michigan State, Hope College, Olivet College and New Mexico Military Institute. Four of these honor students remain undecided as to the future and one plans to join the Navy following graduation in June.

This year's class can be proud of its honor students, and the fact that they number close to a quarter of the senior class. These are the young people who have excelled in their school work, sportsmanship, school activities, and to be sure, in all that they do.

These students will receive special recognition at the commencement exercises, which will be held on Thursday, June 8, at Recreation Park. Gold honor cords will adorn their traditional graduation gowns to designate this honor.

Collect $850 For Cancer Fund

The people of Lowell are to be congratulated for the generosity shown in the recent drive for funds for the American Cancer Society. Chairman Bedell and Heilman report that $850.00 has been turned in to the Kent County Unit of the American Cancer Society, and expect that an additional amount will be collected before the Victory dinner on May 4th, when it is hoped the goal of $1,000.00 will be reached.

The Lowell Business & Professional Women's Club wishes to thank each lieutenant and worker for the effort put forth in behalf of the Cancer Drive. Each one is entitled to attend the Victory Dinner and it is believed that Lowell will be well represented there. The cooperation was outstanding, and the results gratifying.

The Lowell B&P.W. Club contributed $10.00 to the Cancer Fund in memory of Mrs. Berenice Smith a charter member, and an additional $10.00 to the B&P.W. Revolving Cancer Fund in her memory. During the time she was active in the local club she was a loved and loyal member who is sadly missed.

Again, to the people of Lowell, thank you, one and all.

Classical League Roman Feast
Last Monday night, the members of the Junior Classical League (of languages) met in the All Purpose room at the new Runelman Elementary building. The occasion the annual dinner for Latin Club members and alumni. Somehow, the room just didn't look the same. At the door, stood Mrs. Anna Roth in her "toga et pala" to greet all comers in typical Roman style. When all had arrived, the doors were thrown open to disclose the gaily decorated Roman Hall with an array of tables piled high with fruits and decorations. Guests promptly took their place stretching out along the tables, to await the serving of the first course by the chained slaves who ran up and down the tables on errands or on orders from their masters, who, most likely, just wanted to keep them busy. The slaves are the first year members of the Latin Club, and they were of course, owned by the second-year members.
Amidst the strains of exotic music, interpreted by beautiful slave dancers, and various interruptions by gladiators, and a Roman wedding ceremony, the slaves appeared bearing trays of lush fruits and vegetables, meats, fish, and other delicacies.
When the meal was finished, the slaves were assembled for the official proclamation from Rome, stating that all the slaves were to be freed, and were granted full citizenship rights. In the exuberance of the celebration, the freed slaves exercised a "Turn-about" privilege, also granted them by Rome, and forced their masters to repent for all the cruelties committed.
The climax of the evening came with the announcement of the start of the chariot races, whereby the well-fed guests retired to the outside arena for the official starting of the race. At the sound of the gun, the horses-teams of first-year slaves-started, and sped down the track, leaving the spectators wide-eyed and cheering to await the outcome of the match. When the dust cleared, it was plain to see that Tribune had won the honors.
This year's banquet climaxed the year of fun for the Latin Club members. Most of the planning of this year's banquet can be attributed to Sophomore Jill Brower, who, with the assistance and guidance of Mrs. Roth, did a lot of the preparatory work.
Judith Fuller,

State Police Hold Open House
As has been the custom the last several years, the State Police will observe Michigan Week with open house "Hospitality Day" Tuesday, May 23, at all posts, according to Sgt. Gordon Hanthorn, commanding officer of the Rockford post.
Visiting hours at the Rockford post will be from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m., and everyone is extended a special welcome to examine the equipment and facilities and ask questions regarding the operations of the department. Officers will escort the visitors.
"While visitors are always welcome at the post, Hospitality Day offers a special opportunity to look us over and in past years many have done so," said Sgt. Hanthorn. "Those who call on us will learn about the services the State Police perform and how a post functions."
"To those who may not know the location, the post building, which is easily identified, is situated at 345 Northland Dr., Rockford, Michigan. Stop in to see us."
In addition to open house, the State Flag as well as the United States flag will be displayed all week at the post.

Many libraries have a "Friends of the Library" group which is organized to publicize the services of the library, buy books and periodicals not taken care of in the budget, and to give help in various ways. The Lowell Library does not have such a group working for it, but its friends are legion. The Lowell Business & Professional Women's Club is subscribing to Vogue magazine for use of library patrons, and the Child Study Club has offered to buy Dr. Tom Dooley's books for the local collection. Each gift is deeply appreciated, as is the thought that prompted it.
Mrs. Richard Harris gives her services each Tuesday morning to the Pre-School Story Hour, to the delight of the children, and the mothers of the children have been generous with treats, assisting with the games and book selections for the youngsters. Not to mention the hats, coats and overcoats.
The pre-school hour will soon be adjourned until next fall. However, the summer schedule includes a book-reading club for the school children, details of which will be announced in the near future. The summer hours which will serve the most people and children are being given careful consideration, for the use of the library varies with the school year. It is our wish to give the greatest possible service to the most people during the time the library is open to the public. An extension of library hours depends upon two important items, the budget, and the book circulation. Book circulation during April was very good, many new registrations are being added each week. So let's all read and read this summer, and visit the library each shopping trip to Lowell.

Garden Club to Tour Greenhouse
The Showboat Garden Club will meet Monday, May 8, beginning at 7 o'clock at Godfrey's Birchwood Gardens for a tour of the greenhouses and gardens. The meeting will be held afterwards at the home of Lucille Dalstra, 506 Lincoln Lake Ave., with Mary Ann Ayres as co-hostess, Cora Ann Troy is program chairman and Joanne Schreur will give the monthly report on roadside development.
Much interest is being given the bill now in the State legislature regarding billboards along our interstate highways. All of the Federated Garden Clubs in Michigan have written and expressed their feelings of keeping our highways free from obstructions.
At this time of the year the lure of outdoors seems to be universal and all of us are looking for the first wild flowers of Spring. Some wild flowers, like violets are not injured by picking while others, like Arbutus are definitely decreased by unwise picking. This is a good time to read the protected list of the flowers protected by law. They are: Arbutus, Trillium, Bloodroot, Columbine, Bottle Gentian, Fringed Gentian, Adder's Tongue, Cardinal Flower, Holly, Indian Pipe, Ground Pine, Meadow Lily, Pitcher Plant, Lady's Slipper, Indian Moccasin and Flowering Dogwood.
Let us all try to remember the protected flowers and preserve the beauty that exists in our State.
