Bond Holder Delays Sale Of Rural Lines

At the hearing Monday night to discuss with the citizens of the city the sale of the north rural lines of the Lowell Light & Power it was revealed by Chairman of the Power Board, King Doyle, that Carlton Bey, holder of some $150,000 in bonds on the last engines purchased, was threatening to stop the sale.

City attorney Richard Vanderveen has stated that in his opinion the city has the right to sell these lines but if Mr. Bey, a De Moines, Iowa investment broker chooses, he can delay the sale for a long period. The Power Board and the city attorney are attempting to settle this at once to permit the election to sell the lines.

Twenty-eight at Meeting

In attendance at the meeting on Monday night were: Carl Munroe, John Troy, Elmer Schaefer, King Doyle, Jake Callier, Dr. Orval McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kinyon, Mrs. Hartley, Peter Speerstra, William Christiansen, Gordon Hill, Austin Ingersoll, John Gerhart, Stephen Nisbet, George Dey, Sr., Dr. Thomas Hill and Harold Jefferies. A delegation of farmers from the rural area headed by Sam Detmers included Virgil Golden, Fred Bowen, Edwin Roth, and John Brower. Councilmen Gumschur and Townsend were present with the city manager and clerk.

King Doyle presented the case for the Power Board and discussed the reasons why the board has asked to have the lines sold. Sam Detmers of Keene Township presented the case for the farmers in the rural area who want the lines turned over to Consumers Power Co.

Elmer Schaefer discussed his concern with the power needs of the community and the industry of the town. He said he thought further negotiations with Consumers should be made to sell the entire utility.

Walter W. Gumschur came out flatly and stated that in his opinion the entire plant should be sold to Consumers Power to get money for city improvements and make a savings for the tax payers.

Autumn Months Are Dangerous

As the hours of daylight grow shorter in October, November and December the brutal toll of traffic deaths and injuries rises.

James M. Hare, Chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission, urged drivers to take extra care to stem the rising tide of fatalities and traffic accidents in the closing months of the year.

"Despite the fact that there are hundreds of thousands fewer visitors and travelers in Michigan during these months," Hare said, "and that those that are here drive millions less miles than they do in the height of the vacation season, our high way safety problems increase as winter approaches."

Hare pointed out that in October last year traffic fatalities jumped 60 in Michigan, from 125 in 1959 to 185 in 1960.

Accidents resulting in disabling injuries also jumped at the close of the year. "In 1960 we had 7,640 November accidents, a sharp increase above the 1959 total of 5,600," Hare revealed. "In December, the worst accident month of the year, urban and rural injuries jumped from 7,535 in 1959 to 9,040 in 1960."

"If we all take it easy and drive with caution as the days get shorter," Hare says, "more Michigan citizens will be with their families when Christmas comes and not dead or in hospitals with painful injuries."

'62 Plates Are Green on White

Secretary of State James M. Hare today announced that 1962 green on white auto license plates will go on sale at branch offices in all 83 counties on November 1, 1961.

Hare said that the color combination was picked after consultations early this year with Prison Industry technicians at a time when nobody in Lansing was sure if the 1962 plates would be re-reflectorized or not.

"If the reflectorization law passed by the Legislature had not been repealed and if we had been forced to use luminous paint, the white background would have made possible the use of either kind of paint," Hare pointed out. "At first we had a heat control problem with the white paint but the experts in the prison shop soon solved that and distribution to more than 300 branches is going according to plan."

"Few people know that the 35¢ fee we were ordered to collect under the reflectorization law would not have paid for the full cost of reflectorization," Hare said. "If the law had remained in effect, we would have had to ask for an additional $2,451,470 in our 1961-62 budget to cover costs of luminous paints, special equipment and other items needed to process the special plates."

Safety experts who have made visibility tests on hundreds of color combinations give a preferential rating to green letters on a white background. Even under dusty road conditions the green-white offers a desirable contrast, technicians say.

Senior Citizens Recall Getting Ready for Winter

In keeping with the season, the YMCA Senior Citizens reminisced at their monthly meeting last Thursday morning, about getting the fall harvesting done and preparing for winter in days gone by. Halloween prayers played by themselves and others (mostly others) were also recalled, providing a good laugh or two.

Vegetables were buried in pits and covered with layers of straw and dirt and finally a covering of corn stalks. Meat was smoked, canned or salted down in big crocks. The women in the family were busy for many days canning vegetables, fruit and meats for the hard winter months ahead.

It was brought to mind that we in Michigan are very lucky to live in a state where there is such a diversity of crops. Except for the tropical fruits, we could be quite self-sufficient.

The Bailey Church used to have a "Harvest Festival" in the fall with farmers bringing part of their harvest of vegetables and fruits as gifts for their minister and his family.

In order to keep cold air from coming up through the floors, it was the custom to spread layers of straw then stretch the rag carpets over it and tack it down. It was quite a chore when spring came to take up the carpet again and clean it and to remove all the straw from the floors. This also brought back memories of dyeing and sewing carpet rags. Walnuts, onions, wheat, and all manner of herbs and roots were used in making the dyes.

Some of the food products made involved quite a lengthy process, such as sorghum, Swiss cheese, apple butter, and the women were really busy when threshers came to their farm providing the large Thanksgiving type feasts. "Measuring" to see who had the largest piece of pie was one of the highlights of the occasion.

Wintertime and the big snows meant changing from bare feet to boots, wading in deep drifts and packing snow down in the boots until they were almost impossible to pull off. Some had horses trained to go driverless to and from school to leave and pick up the children, giving a ride to neighbors along the route.

On Halloween, buggies and wagons had a way of being found on top of barns, on church steps, in school yards and all manner of strange places. Of course, the old-time outhouses were tipped over or moved to a new location annually. Melon and pumpkin "cooning" was also very popular.

It was concluded that Halloween hasn't changed too much, but getting ready for winter is much simpler today, perhaps losing some of the closeness to nature which reminds us to be thankful for God's many gifts.

Arrows Move to Chance for Title Tie!

The Lowell High School Arrows moved to an opportunity to tie for the Tri-River football championship by beating Comstock Park October 3, and by defeating a fine Rockford eleven here Friday night 13-6. Comstock, who remains undefeated so far this season, will be a real challenge for Lowell.

In the game Friday night Lowell's defenses held the powerful Rockford running attack led by Chad Root. He got only 51 yards in ten carries; he got loose once for 27 yds. that accounts for most of his gain. His 66 yard touchdown run in the 1st quarter was called back on a penalty. In the game the week before against Cedar Springs he averaged 17 yards a carry. This speaks for the outstanding play of the Lowell defensive team.

Lowell's offensive attack was led by Dilly who picked up 186 yards in 19 carries rushing and also got for the point field.

Halloween Holds Hazards for Hoodoo

Pediatricians at The University of Michigan Medical Center have issued their annual warning to parents of inexperienced ghouls, goblins and hoodoos to help them through the uncanny hazards of Halloween.

Low-flying witches or ground galloping ghosts should positively not carry sharp or pointed instruments, caution the University doctors, or they may wind up haunting a hospital.

Demons of all types need plenty of visibility. Use burnt cork or cosmetics in preference to masks. And use luminous tape on costumes: This heightens the eeriness of the costume, and helps ward off such dangers as automobiles.

Carry a flashlight if desired, but nothing with open flame such as candles or oil lanterns. Each Halloween, say the U-M doctors, hospitals repair a number of wizards who become careless with fire.

And, they add, science still has no sure cure for "Poltergeist Dyspepsia." This ghoulish stomach ache is usually caused by too many trick-or-treat goodies. Moderation helps. But if it persists, it's best to hop on your broom and go see your family doctor.

The U-M specialists also urge homeowners to keep porch lights on for the guidance of amateur and inexperienced spooks. They say despite a legendary ability to walk through walls, these hoodoo have a knack for tripping over bushes, steps and lawn furniture and skinning their ectoplasm.

Parents can take other measures to come through Halloween with a whole hoodoo: Warn youngsters repeatedly against going into the street; make sure spooks under age eight have an older wizard to guide them; and, if staging a party at home, don't make it too ghoulish or you will frighten the wits out of the younger goblins.

After all, reason the doctors, they're just like children.

Enjoy Cruise and Tour Aboard Fleet in Virginia

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bloomer of Ada returned home last week from a three weeks' visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Marquette and baby son in Norfolk, Virginia. They had many interesting experiences, one of which was a tour of the USS Requin, a submarine in the U. S. Atlantic fleet. They also were shown about an aircraft carrier.

The new air craft carrier, Enterprise, now nearing completion, is the Navy's first nuclear-powered aircraft carrier, with a crew of 2900 and will be based in Norfolk.

The nuclear-powered cruiser "Long Beach" first of its type in the world, with 860 officers and men, is now at Norfolk, which will be her home port.

The real highlight of Mr. and Mrs. Bloomer's visit was an ocean cruise on October 14, when the Destroyer USS Bebee on which Ray is stationed, had an all-day family cruise. There were fire fighting and firing demonstrations besides many others. There were also tactical maneuvers and a high line transfer with the USS Eaton which was also having a family cruise.

Mrs. Bloomer also called on Mrs. Barbour, the mother of Mrs. Duane Raynor of Lowell. Mr. and Mrs. Barbour are neighbors of the Marquettes in the Trailer Court. The Bloomers thoroughly enjoyed their visit in Virginia, but feel that there is no place quite like home in Michigan.

Mallard Tops In Popularity Among Hunters

The mallard—one of Michigan's most abundant game ducks—is tops on the hunter's popularity list, according to George Hunt, University of Michigan assistant professor of wildlife management.

Over the continent, mallards name up 50 to 60 percent of the birds bag, probably because this bird is large, attractive and very tasty, he says.

"The mallard is a very wide spread species in the northern hemisphere," says Hunt. "In the U. S. it's the most abundant of the group of birds which includes wild ducks, geese, and swans."

The male has a greenish-black head and neck, white collar, chestnut breast, grey-brown back, and grey-white under parts.

The mallard is a fairly large bird, some weighing as much as three or four pounds. Average weight is from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 pounds.

The mallard is a fairly large bird, some weighing as much as three or four pounds. Average weight is from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 pounds.

Mallards nest in Michigan wherever they can find suitable water or woods. They may even choose to nest in a tree in an abandoned grove or hawk's nest.

Like most waterfowl, mallards are gregarious, frequently being found in large flocks, occasionally with thousands in one group.

Culture Not for the Long Hairs!

Culture is not for the long hairs, the rest of us in enjoying culture that's all right with us.

There's a new appreciation of culture as it affects our lives. It has an economic impact that is taking on greater importance each day.

Our cultural facilities are deluged in a public service advertisement prepared by the Michigan Press Association Industry Production Committee and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

Michigan combines all these advantages, that's why living here is pleasant.

Michigan living is more than individual comfort and satisfaction. We all share it and it can be used to the advantage of all our people to attract new industry and to encourage present industry to expand in Michigan.

In a series of public service advertisements, the Industrial Development Committee of the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department point out the advantages Michigan has for industry.

This paper today carries an advertisement which demonstrates the advantage of pleasant living in a modern industrial development. It's a picture of each of our readers is thoroughly familiar. Stressing this advantage is something our people can do most effectively. One way to do it is to clip the advertisement which appears today and mail it to a friend outside Michigan.

It's an action program of which you can be an important part.

Happy-medium size-guaranteed not to shrink!

Some cars play a cute little trick: They look nice and big from outside with plenty of length, big trunk lines and all—but the minute you try to get inside they seem to shrink.

Not so the 1962 Buick Special. This great car is exactly what it was built to be—America's happy-medium size car. And it's guaranteed not to shrink when you get in or when you fill it with people and cruise all day long.

This Buick Special is designed for six adult people—with hats, with hips, with shoulders and with a great desire for quiet comfort and smooth going. For 1962 there are eight Buick Special models including the wonderful new convertible, every one a Buick, through and through.

You can have your choice of power plants, all with the kind of gas miserliness that wins economy awards. A Buick Special shrinks just three things: Miles, operating cost and parking space—never your comfort, your power or your quality.

CONSERVATION SOIL and WATER

When we walked the Arthur Lindemeyer farm in Cannon Township, we found that he had done a good job of conservation farming in the farm was purchased in 1930.

Conservation of soil and water is a job that must be done on every farm. It is a job that must be done on every farm. It is a job that must be done on every farm.

Over Exertion Hunters Danger

Hunters looking forward to the opening of the small game season in Southern Michigan on October 20 are urged by Dr. W. B. Prothro, Grand Rapids-Kent County Health Officer to avoid becoming heart.

Your heart is a muscle. As a sportsman, you're aware that muscles can be strained. You know that over-exertion can cause a lame back or a sore arm. It can also result in a heart attack. Hunting too hard, fishing too hard, hiking too hard—these are not the only kinds of over-exertion. Over-eating, over-smoking, over-drinking, over-excitement—the heart can place a strain on the heart. So, for the good of your heart, practice moderation. Of course, some exercise is essential to keep the heart muscle in good condition. To help establish safe limits of exertion, especially if you are over 40, you should have a heart check-up by your family doctor each year. Early diagnosis and treatment of a heart condition is one of the most important measures in preventing a heart attack.

Sometimes, despite all precautions, a heart attack strikes without warning. For this reason, always arrange with hunting companions to meet at regular intervals. Then, if someone fails to show up, the others can look for him and give help. If someone would have a heart attack:

1. Make him as comfortable as possible.
 2. Loosen his clothing and give him air. Don't fuss with him.
 3. Don't make him too warm. If he perspires profusely, wipe him with a damp towel.
 4. Reassure him. He will be suffering great anxiety and reassurance is important.
 5. Get medical attention swiftly. If not immediately available, take him directly to the hospital.
 6. Do not give any stimulant or medication.
- Some heart attacks subside quickly without medication. This doesn't mean the danger is over. Get the patient to the nearest doctor or hospital immediately. Under no circumstances should he drive the car himself; he must rest completely. Most patients recover from heart attacks and live for many years. Take care of your heart—make it last a lifetime!

BUCK SHOT

by Norman Gotschall

The Pigmy Shrew is Michigan's smallest mammal. It measures 1 and 1/4 inches long. Compare his appetite with yours—he eats his equivalent in weight each day! The shrew lives most of his life underground like his sightless cousin the mole. The mole has more hairs per square inch than any other animal of Michigan. You can't really think of a way to use this information except maybe to win a bet. As long as you are betting here are some more gems. The whale is the largest mammal. The cheetah can run the fastest. The duck hawk is the fastest flying bird. The butterfly is the fastest moving animal. Some scientists estimate his speed to be as high as 600 miles per hour. *

Our football team looked good against Rockford despite the fact that we had five fumbles. Most of the fellows were in good form. We thought that several showed improvement over the week before. One of these improved players was the smallest starter, Doug Olin. Doug's tackles are vicious for his size. Craig Walter played his best defensive game thus far. Craig was anticipating plays effectively. We thought that Mike Serne also turned in his best game of the season. Mike was in on about every tackle on his side of the line.

Don Dilly played in his best defensive game of the season as did Duane Mayou. If the boys continue to improve we will take Comstock Park in stride. We think that our defensive team should be well represented on the all-conference slate. Bob Meyers, John Kropp, and Tom Davis are playing all-conference calibre now. We have some other boys knocking on the door. In last Friday's game Don Dilly gave the finest high school performance we have ever witnessed. We hope that he will make his town proud to have been his town in the years ahead. *

We appreciate Ray Avery's abilities at game announcing more and more. It takes a lot of organization (which doesn't meet the eye) to be a good announcer. Although there are some advantages to announcing from the press box, there are also some disadvantages. Last week we tried binoculars in spotting tacklers. This worked although the first pair we tried did not work well. Bergin's (to whom we are thankful) provided a pair which were good. With these it was much easier to pick the tackler who was most responsible and to give his assists their due credit.

Jack Kempker gave me the offensive spots (he stood on my left). The fellow on my right also made a running commentary which I understand also came over the mike frequently. The fellow on my right is an ardent fan and one of my remote bosses. (I have many of these e. g. wife, son.) I will certainly not mention his name, but will say that this column hasn't much of a chance of getting in the paper. In his defense I will say that he does a fine job of writing up the play by play description, and it isn't easy to control your impulses at a football game—would you like a mike next to you? *

Congratulations queen Ann and King Dan! Also same to Chad Lampkin who did a fine job of commenting for the homecoming festivities.

Bride-Elect Feted At Four Showers

Arrangements of fall flowers were used to decorate the home of Mrs. Richard Curtis, Lincoln Lake Avenue, on October 19, for a bridal shower in honor of Miss Helen Ritter.

A fun-filled game was presided over by the hostesses, Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. Betty Story, followed by the opening of the gifts, and dainty refreshments.

Miss Ritter, who will become the bride of Howard Hobbs October 28, was also feted at a linen shower on October 12, at the home of Mrs. Robert Shaler. Following several delightful games, the honored guest opened an array of lovely gifts.

A miscellaneous bridal shower was given for Miss Ritter at the home of Mrs. Herbert Van Putten in Grand Rapids, on October 17. The guests who attended enjoyed the clever games, the opening of gifts, and refreshments that followed.

Members of the Alto Baptist church gathered together on Tuesday evening, October 24, to honor Miss Ritter with a miscellaneous shower. She was the recipient of many lovely gifts and a load of best wishes for the future.

10:00 A. M. — THE SECOND COMMANDMENT

"Thou shalt not make unto thee a graven image... thou shalt not bow down thyself unto them, nor serve them... This is the heart of the second commandment. Plain, isn't it? God forbids that we worship Him by way of images. Notice the words: 'thou shalt not bow down thyself unto them.'" See Exodus 20:4-6.

How must God be worshipped? "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." John 4:24.

7:30 P. M. — "THE JUST SHALL LIVE BY FAITH"

Spend this Sunday with us as we proclaim these great truths of God's blessed revelation.

It is popular to soften words in our day. However, to change the label a bottle does not change the contents. Poison is still poison and sin is still sin.

"Whoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law; for sin is the transgression of the law." I John 3:4.

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." Romans 6:23
