Council Hears Needs of Airport

The Lowell City Council heard L. C. Andrews, Chief Engineer and Ward Mayrand, Aviation Information officer both with the Michigan Department of Aeronautics Monday night. These two men appeared at the request of the council and the Airport Association to brief the city officials on the future and what to plan for at the Lowell port.

The aeronautics men told the council that there was a need for an airport in Lowell, both for recreation purposes and for business use. They also revealed that the present land area was not large enough and that longer runways were needed to bring in many planes.

In reporting on state and federal funds available to assist in development of the airport they said that state funds were available if this airport qualifies and perhaps federal too.

Howard Gostnell, representing the Lowell Airport Association, said the local group was taking the steps necessary to get the field licensed which requires gas pumps, telephone, water and sanitary facilities. He also stated that the local group could do this, but buying land and other big capital expense was impossible.

Change Lafayette St. Closing

At the request of Myron Henry and Theo Bailey the council again voted to move the blockade of Lafayette St. back to the Avery St. intersection, the other end of the street is closed at King St. This puts the barricades in the same place they were before any action was taken.

Preliminary approval was given to the Lowell Development plat and an agreement with the developers was approved allowing the work to go ahead.

Discussing and vote on accepting the Consumers Power offer for the north rural lines of the Lowell Light & Power plant was tabled until the next meeting when all five of the council members can be present.

The council voted to give the Lowell YMCA $600.00 from the Lee funds to help with the deficit in the summer swimming program.

The fund had a balance of $630.00. Water lines for the Newell Mfg. Co. on Amity St. was approved and a replacement of the old line down the alley from Riverside to Broadway behind the stores.

The Lowell High School Football team was forced to settle for a three way share of second place in the Tri-River Conference after losing to the Comstock Park Panthers 20-6, last Friday.

Lowell threatened to break the game wide open after taking over a Comstock fumble on their own 21 yard line. In just ten plays Larry Miller raced over for the first score on a 42 yard dash through the center of the Comstock team. Dilly's plunge for the point failed and Lowell led 6-0.

Comstock came right back and took the kick off from their own 29 into score on 11 plays the final one a 12 yard pass. Don Lamoreaux kicked the extra point.

There was no further scoring until the last quarter when Joe Jingles intercepted a Ford pass on the Lowell 43 and raced over to score. Lamoreaux kicked for point but failed. With less than 3 minutes left in the game, Comstock took over the ball on downs on

Crashes Into Tree Saturday While Trying to Pass

Leo Lyons 62, of Grand Rapids, was in good condition Monday in Blodgett hospital Monday after suffering internal injuries when his car left highway M-21 west of Lowell Saturday, Nov. 4, and crashed into a tree.

Witnesses told Sheriff's Deputy McArthur that Lyons was attempting to pass three cars going west near the intersection of M-21 and Cumberland Ave., and swerved off the road and crashed into a tree. He was pinned in the car for some time before being removed from the car and taken to Blodgett hospital by ambulance.

Asked to Report Lowell Deer Kill

Hunters killing buck deer near Lowell or elsewhere in southern Michigan are urged to phone the Conservation Department's district office near here.

The hunter can telephone his report collect to this office at Grand Rapids CH 5-7696. A game biologist will go to the hunter's residence or frozen food locker, determine the age of the deer by the amount of wear on the teeth, and measure its antlers and record the weight. Even if only the head remains he can still obtain the necessary information.

"We need to examine 500 southern Michigan buck deer this fall," states Roy Semeyn, district game supervisor. "We are now engaged in an intensive study to secure information vital to the management of the southern Michigan deer herd. We cannot do the job without the cooperation of hunters. With the high productivity of two fawns from each doe, the herd should be increasing at a faster rate.

First of all we need to know how many bucks are being shot and how many of each age class are being removed by the hunter. This will be followed around the year by a careful tally of all other causes of mortality including dogs, cars, fences, farm machinery, etc."

Kent Holds Trial Of Measles Vaccine

During this fall and winter, the field trial of a killed virus red measles vaccine of the Edmonston Strain marks another milestone in preventive medicine. It was announced by Dr. W. B. Prothro, City-County Health Officer, today. Soon red measles, still among the most highly communicable diseases, will join polio, smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus as a controlled communicable disease.

Contrary to the casual public attitude, red measles are a serious disease, sometimes resulting in damage to hearing, sight and the nervous system or in death, Dr. Prothro said.

Since January 1, 1961, there have been 503 cases of red measles in Kent County, however, this fall and winter represent a cycle for a measles epidemic. If this epidemic materializes, the County can expect six to seven thousand cases of measles. Therefore, this year may provide a good proving ground for the vaccine field trials.

The Grand Rapids-Kent County Health Department is serving as a participant and coordinator in this trial red measles immunization program. Dr. Prothro reported, about 25 local pediatricians and other physicians with large pediatric practices and the Health Department's Well Child Conferences are participating in this study.

Each local cooperating physician will immunize a maximum of 50 children from his practice. The Health Department Well Child Conferences will include approximately 150 more.

Children eligible for inclusion in the study are only those who have never had Red Measles. Only families having more than one susceptible child will be included in the study. Then one-half of the susceptible children in each selected family will be vaccinated; the other half will not.

Children who are to receive the vaccine are being given a total of three doses of vaccine, intramuscularly, at monthly intervals. Over 2,000 children participating in the study in other parts of the country have been receiving this vaccine with no serious side effects.

The cut-off date for termination of the vaccine procedure is Christmas, 1961 and the evaluation will be made in the summer of 1962.

Some of the homer-busting New York Yankees complained about being tired at the end of the baseball season. Not a word from the batboy, who had to shake hands every time a Yankee hit a four-bagger.

Night Fire Damages George Miles Home

Fire that was discovered about 11:30 Tuesday night badly damaged the George Truett Miles residence on Lowell View Ave., just south of the city. Mrs. Miles and her mother, Mrs. Byron Potter were at home with the three children, Jamie 3, Mary 1 and a new baby, David, born Nov. 3. Mr. Miles was at work. Everyone got out of the house safely but the dwelling was badly damaged.

The fire appeared to have started around the chimney. Lowell firemen reported, and spread through the attic and upper floor. The local firemen were assisted by the Ada truck which brought additional water. Men fought the fire until 3 a. m. Wednesday, although the fire was under control shortly after midnight.

The Miles family have moved to the Byron Potter home on Pratt Lake, ave., until the house can be repaired. They had just moved into this house the first of November and were only getting settled.

Mrs. Miles said Wednesday that she appreciated the fine help of the firemen and neighbors in removing household goods from the burning building.

The damage was estimated at $1,800 by Lowell firemen and was covered by insurance, Mrs. Miles said.

Michigan Fourth Ranked In Federal Tax Collection

R. I. Nixon today made public the Internal Revenue Collections for the State of Michigan for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1961. Total collections were $6,916,456,000 represented by Corporation Income and Profits Taxes of $2,112,608,000, Individual Income and Employment Taxes of $3,116,177,000, Estate Taxes of $46,083,000, Gift Taxes of $12,289,000, and Excise Taxes of $1,629,309,000.

Michigan ranks fourth among the states in total revenue collected being second to New York in Corporation Income and Profits Taxes; sixth in Individual Income and Employment Taxes following New York, California, Illinois, Pennsylvania, and Ohio, in that order; and second to New York in Excise Taxes.

Deer Hunters Memo

Michigan hunters should see more deer than last fall in many whitetail country during the Nov. 15-30 firearm season, according to the Conservation Department.

Brightest over-all prospects are in the northern lower peninsula where field men recorded a substantial increase above a year ago in their deer tallies.

Deer sightings were lower than last year in the upper peninsula, but counts indicate whitetail numbers are holding up well in the western portion, except along the Lake Superior shore.

The general impression from all counts, representing more than 63,500 man-hours of field observation, supports an early Department estimate that hunters will take upwards of 50,000 bucks this fall, provided they get a better break from the weather than was the case during the 1960 season.

Last year, hunters harvested an estimated 47,000 bucks and 28,000 antlerless deer.

Violations Checked

Law enforcement will again be strengthened before and during the Nov. 15-30 deer season in a concerted bid to clamp down on hunting violations, the Conservation Department reports.

This month's law enforcement effort will be patterned after the campaign launched in 1960 which saw the state's regular force of conservation officers doubled in the upper and northern lower peninsulas by a major shift in manpower throughout the Department.

Deer hunters soon to be striking out for camps where there is no telephone service are urged to register at the nearest field, district, or regional offices of the Conservation Department when reaching their northern hunting areas so they can be located quickly in case of home emergencies.

Their families at home are reminded to make calls to the Department's offices only when there is a "real emergency—death, a serious illness or accident.

Quality Yule Trees Must be Trimmed

G. I. Stotz shows how he begins early to shape a 3-year-old Scotch Pine. The bottom wharf of branches are removed to let in more air around the tree and for easier cutting at harvest time.

G. I. Stotz finishes the final shearing of a Scotch Pine ready for sale this fall.

What started out as a part time tree planting hobby for G. I. Stotz of Grand Rapids has now become a limited paying hobby from his Scotch Pine plantation in Courland Township.

A few years ago Mr. Stotz purchased 25 acres of idle run down land with a small woodlot on it. This fall he has sold 1,000 top grade Scotch Christmas trees to an outstate buyer. In a few days, these loose sheared or irregular sheared six foot trees will be cut, baled and some of them wrapped in cellophane, ready for shipment.

Stotz, District Manager of Michigan Bell's Grand Valley area, was raised on a farm. Back in 1951, a talk by an S. C. S. conservationist from Ottawa County, aroused his interest in reforestation and two years later land was purchased.

For several years Gerald Stotz has been a one man conservation tree planting publicist. His 30 minute slide talk has been given to many area service clubs and to other interested groups. The slides are scenes taken from his own tree farm.

He has studied, asked questions and has experimented with all phases of growing and marketing. Sons Jerry and Roger are pine plantation experts also. They learned from their dad and were his labor force; Mrs. Stotz helped also.

Jerry, now a chemistry instructor in Royal Oak, has begun a 40 acre plantation in Newaygo County.

Stotz has identified 22 hardwood and pine tree species in his woodlot. He was advised to underplant white pine in open spaces in the woods and this practice has been done.

Red and Scotch pine make up the pine plantings.

"There is no quick and easy profit in Christmas tree growing," says Mr. Stotz.

His cost of production runs about 50 cents per tree that is sold. He believes that the small acreage grower has the best chance to realize some profit. Otherwise labor costs for spraying, shearing and marketing limit any possible profit.

Gerald believes that a living green pine tree is still our best Christmas religious symbol, and has more Yuletide meaning than any artificial tree can ever give.

Communications were read from:
a. Bid from Consumers Power Company of $53,624.73, plus the cost of conducting the election. (See MOTIONS).

b. Attorney Richard F. Vanderveen-opinion on ownership of alley south of Main Street between Broadway and S. Riverside. It is the attorney's opinion that this alley is a public thoroughfare, not by formal dedication as such, but because of the city's installation of sewer and water mains over the period of more than thirty years alone. He therefore recommended, since the Council asked for an opinion and received it, that no action be taken and continue to keep it, in effect, a public thoroughfare.

c. Michigan Highway Commissioner requesting new resolution which would stipulate the M-21 bridge project to be one of City-State participation. (See MOTIONS)

d. Lowell Township Clerk: copy of Lowell Township Board's resolution accepting the $3500 bid for the former Township house on W. Main Street.

e. Mrs. Edward Kiel, commending the city sanitation department for its work.

f. Lowell Development Company requesting permission to pay all bills incurred by the city in bringing water and sewer service to their proposed plat, as they become due, in lieu of placing $50,000 in escrow. This proposal is made in the interests of expediting installation of services, which would otherwise be postponed until the issuance of bonds. Council in agreement.

g. Kent County Comptroller stating that the combined school and county tax rate will be 19.1, state equalized, for the 1961 tax.

City Manager Olson reports:

A. Work completed on Grindle Drive.

b. Settlement of delinquent taxes will be made with Lowell Township Treasurer on October 17.
