Short Weight in Pre-Package Meats Shocking Public Gyp, Governor Warns

By John B. Swainson
Governor of Michigan

Shocking disclosures by the Michigan Department of Agriculture of overcharging the housewife through short weights in pre-packaged meat should put all of us on the alert.

More effective means to protect the housewives from unscrupulous dealers must be found, and I have called a meeting with Agricultural Director G. S. McIntyre to determine more effective action.

A recent survey in southeastern Michigan showed that, when inspectors weighed 1,589 packages of meat in 44 retail stores, they found 54 percent of them to be short weight. In one store, all the pre-packaged meat in its display case was short weight.

These overcharges ranged from 1 to 53 cents—and the consumer was cheated to that extent.

But this is only one form of cheating that is being uncovered. People who can afford meat least are being defrauded when suet and other bulk is added to hamburger.

The housewife is also subjected to other deceptive practices such as "butter" cookies with no butter, "egg" noodles with no eggs, "creamed" cottage cheese with no cream.

Deceptive labeling is cheating and deliberate overcharging is stealing. Neither is to be tolerated nor to go unpunished. If our laws need to be made more stringent, so that the penalty for violators is more severe, this should be considered.

My office intends to see that resources we now have to protect the consumer are utilized to the fullest, and that additional steps are taken where needed.

Most of our merchants are honest and want to give their customers the best values they can. It is the fraudulent dealer who concerns us.

I urge all citizens, who may have questions or complaints, to contact the Foods and Standards Division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture in Lansing, or regional offices in Detroit, Benton Harbor, Grand Rapids, Flint and Escanaba.

Lions Announce Leader Dog Week

The Lowell Lions Club, known for its sight conservation and blind work, announces LEADER DOG WEEK December 3-9, as proclaimed by Governor John B. Swainson. During Leader Dog Week attention is called to the important rehabilitation program being conducted at the Rochester, Michigan, Leader Dog School.

The non-profit school, Leader Dogs for the Blind, was founded in 1939 by Lions of Michigan, and has since trained over 1,700 Leader Dogs. Leader Dogs are furnished, without charge, to all eligible applicants.

A Leader Dog enables its owner to enter fully, despite a handicap, into the life of the community; to live an active and contributive life of his own. Lions arrange the enrollment of every eligible person who expresses an interest in obtaining a Leader Dog. Lions sponsor projects that are largely responsible for the success and growth of the unique school that provides happiness and confidence to blind men and women.

In addition to furnishing financial help, Lions are always looking for good friendly German Shepherds and Labrador Retrievers, between the ages of one and two years, that can be trained as Leader Dogs. All dogs are contributed—none are purchased.

Anyone knowing of a blind person interested in training with a Leader Dog, or of someone who has a dog to contribute, is invited to see a member of the Lowell Lions Club or to write Leader Dogs for the Blind, Rochester, Michigan.

Women of the Moose To Hear Guest Speaker

The December 4 business meeting of the Lowell Women of the Moose, Chapter 1388, will be held in their club rooms on East Main Street, starting at 8 p. m.

The Social Service Committee headed by Mrs. Donna Smith will present the program for the evening. A guest speaker has been secured, which will be of interest to everyone attending.

Enrollment of a new member to the Chapter will be held. A lunch will be served followed by a social hour.

All members are urged to be present as a discussion and formation of plans for the annual Christmas party will be made at this meeting.

Alcohol Information Week Observed in Kent County From Nov. 26 to Dec. 3

Alcoholism Information Week, an educational and informational campaign emphasizing that alcoholism is a treatable disease, will be observed in Grand Rapids and Kent County from November 26 to December 3, it was announced today by Mrs. Lorraine Burgess, president, Grand Rapids-Kent County Council on Alcoholism, Inc.

The campaign in the city and county is part of a nationwide observance being sponsored by the National Council on Alcoholism, the national voluntary health agency in the field of alcoholism, the Grand Rapids-Kent County Health Departments, and Alcoholics Anonymous.

"Alcoholism is one of America's four major health problems, along with mental illness, cancer and heart disease," Mrs. Burgess said. "It is estimated that there are 5,000,000 alcoholics in the country. We have approximately 4,000 to 5,000 in the city and county. However, there is help in our community for the person suffering from the disease of alcoholism. During Alcoholism Information Week we hope to call this fact to the public's attention, thanks to the wonderful cooperation we are receiving from newspapers, TV, radio and other informational media."

The Grand Rapids-Kent County Council on Alcoholism maintains an Alcoholism Information Center at 312 Ashton Building, open 1-5 p. m. Monday through Friday, phone GL 1-2217. This organization also cooperates closely with the Grand Rapids Health Department Alcoholism Out-Patient Center at 303 Ionia, N. W., phone GL 6-6566, Ext. 321, and Alcoholics Anonymous, GL 4-4992.

TEAR DOWN OLD ELEVATOR FOR USED CAR LOT

Work started last week removing a former produce elevator on West Main Street next to the Strand theater to make room for a used car lot.

The building for many years was used as a potato, grain and bean elevator by Loveland and Hinyon and Earl Thomas.

The building is now owned by Jake Callier who is having the building removed and has rented the lot to McQueen Motor Co.

Don Dilly Picked For All-Star Team

Don Dilly, Lowell High School halfback whom coach Chas. Pierce says is the outstanding football player Lowell has had in his four years coaching here, was named to the WOOD-TV All Star High School Football team.

The selection of this team was made by Western Michigan High School Football coaches and sports writers.

The actual awards will be made on a telecast to be seen on WOOD-TV, Saturday, Dec. 9, at 4:30 p. m. The actual show will be taped Thursday, Dec. 7, to enable the boys and their coaches to see it in their homes.

Creston Downs Lowell; Play Cedar Springs Friday

Creston of the City League capitalized on the poor shooting of the Arrows in the first half Tuesday to take an easy 68-35 win.

The Polar Bears roared off to a 33-7 first half score as the Lowell team couldn't seem to find the basket. The Arrows outscored Creston in the second half but the lead was too great to overcome.

Don Dilly had eleven points followed by Rick Beimers with seven.

JV's Lose Thriller

The Lowell seconds lost a thriller to the Creston seconds 57-52. The locals led throughout the game by ten points only to see the Polar Bears take the lead with less than a minute left to edge out the JV's who gave it all they had.

Bob Elzinga led the Arrows with 14 points followed by McMahon, with ten and Abel and Kropf with 8 each.

This Friday, Dec. 1, the Red Arrows play their first Tri-River basketball game at Cedar Springs. Game time is 7 p. m.

'Facts on Communism' Speaker to Be in Ada

Harold Sonnema, pastor of the Franklin Street Christian Reformed church and speaker on the "Facts on Communism" program each Sunday on radio station WFUR, will speak on the subject, "The Communist Threat and Our Survival" at the Ada Christian Reformed church on Friday, December 1, at 8 p. m.

The public is invited to hear this message by a man who has given much of his time to a study of communism, its principles and its practice.

Alto Area Mothers' Club Set Dues; Plan Party

The Alto Area Mothers' Club held their November 21 meeting in the Alto Methodist church with forty-three mothers attending.

Guest speaker for the meeting was James Newell who gave a very interesting object lesson and short talk on "Stressing the importance of communication between faculty, students, administration, communities and parents."

Mr. Newell, a counselor and teacher in the Caledonia High School system, caught the attention of every mother present with his educational and fun-filled talk.

Following the discussion of dues for the ensuing year, a rate of seventy-five cents was voted on and made payable at the January meeting.

A Christmas party is being planned for the mothers on December 19. A fifty cent gift is to be brought and exchanged.

Plans were also presented to the mothers on the formation of a Mothers' Club Choir. All interested persons are to contact Mrs. Keith Graham.

Fifty-seven dollars in proceeds was earned by the club from their White Elephant Auction Sale which was conducted at the meeting. Mrs. Donna Melle was the winner of the door prize, a basket of fruit.

A lunch of cookies, coffee and tea, provided by the committee, was complimented by a very attractive center piece made by Mrs. Lillian Anderson.

Senior Citizens Hear Dr. Hill

Lowell "Y" Senior Citizens met last Thursday morning for their regular monthly coffee hour in the "Y" lounge.

Of interest to those present was a picture brought to the meeting by Earl Thomas showing members of the Lowell Board of Trade in 1908.

Guest for the day was Dr. Thos. B. Hill, local physician and a YMCA Board member, who discussed some of the advances made in medicine over the past 50 years.

He described a recent heart surgery which he witnessed and also touched on the subject of public health.

Members of the group recounted some of the old fashioned remedies they used to "suffer through" and many questions were asked of Dr. Hill in the open discussion period which followed.

Mrs. Keith Tapley was hostess for the day, and cookies were furnished by members of the Deborah Group from the Congregational church.

Newspaper Effort Encourages Industry

Michigan's industrial development has been given added encouragement and greater attention by Michigan residents as a result of the cooperative advertising program of the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

Governor Swainson called for public recognition of the active participation of Michigan newspapers in the State's development. The newspaper said:

"Our newspapers are to be congratulated for their activity in industrial development. They have encouraged our people to participate in local programs."

A joint committee planned and carried out details of the program. John H. Daidort, business manager of the Traverse City Record-Eagle, and Vidian L. Roe, publisher of the Fremont Times-Independent, served as co-chairmen.

The joint committee received cooperation from private utility companies of the State who provided the art work used in the campaign.

Directors of the Michigan Press Association were highly pleased with the results of the initial ad series, which brought commendation from the State Legislature.

In addition to the ad campaign, a valuable public service to our State, and a source of satisfaction to us, is the co-chairman and Mr. Well, the MPA committee on industrial promotion includes: Robert Miller, Battle Creek Enquirer & News; Keith King, Rochester News; John Scully, Hillsdale Daily News; E. C. Hayhow, Hillside Daily News; and Millard Engberg, Cedar Springs Clipper.

It isn't the initial cost—it's the upkeep. If you double the amount of the money now being spent in Alaska with the purchase price of $7,200,000.

Growing Elk Herd Poses Problems

Essed from Michigan in the wake of the early lumbering era, elk have regained part of their former niche in the state's wildlife program.

In 1918, about 20 of these big animals were released in the Pigeon River area which lies generally east of Vanderhoof. Today, the protected elk herd, estimated at 1,200-1,300 animals, has spread beyond this area.

Massive and majestic, these animals have become strong drawing cards for tourists. Their steady growth in numbers has, however, been accompanied by rising damage complaints from foresters and farmers.

Not only does it pose a problem from the standpoint of utilizing our available manpower; it has become a dangerous social situation, according to some of our leading government officials.

A major problem apparently is the large number of students who are leaving school before they receive their education. Statistics now point to the fact that about 25 million of the 18.8 million students now enrolled in public and private schools between the college level quit school before graduation. And laws in many states permit them to leave before the age of 16.

Although the number of dropouts is not rising perceptibly, the advent of the automation and space age is lifting job requirements, making it more difficult for traditionally trained people to earn a living.

Emphasis now among some educators is placed on keeping teenagers in school until high school graduation and in bolstering instruction in sciences, languages, and vocational training for those obviously not destined for college.

If Mother could return to her traditional duties in our economically broken homes, the forces of juvenile delinquency would receive a greater assist than Federal millions will ever provide.

Michigan offers to industry management know-how in a degree that is unmatched anywhere.

Here in Michigan, management headquarters of mass production, we have more management skills than anywhere in the world. That includes—Pittsburgh, Chicago, Essen—everywhere.

Michigan is EVERYTHING FOR INDUSTRY. This ad is one of a series published as a public service by the newspaper in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

Storage of Deer Under Regulation

Dressed and cut up deer may be stored in commercial cold storage with other food supplies if skins and hides are not included under Michigan laws.

This is the word to successful deer hunters from the Michigan Department of Agriculture's foods and standards division headed by J. L. Littlefield.

Each year the lucky hunter creates more than his share of problems for locker plant inspectors.

Strict regulations govern the storage of wild life. One of these prohibits the storage of hides and skins unless separate storage rooms with no open passages leading into locker rooms, chill rooms, aging rooms, or sharp freezers are provided.

Hides and skins must be stored elsewhere. "Deer stored in other than locker plants, such as refrigerators or freezers in grocery stores and meat markets must be stored so there is no possible contamination of other foods from dust, vermin, animals or persons," Mr. Littlefield explains.

Deer still having the hide on must be stored in a separate room from all other provisions, under Michigan regulations.

WE DON'T WANT HIM...

He Preaches The Gospel

This is the sentiment of many church-going people now-a-days. These people want a talker, a lecturer, a speaker, an orator. These people want a "nice guy", a "good mixer", the "college boy" type. Many of these people want a man who can tell a few jokes on the pulpit then give a little pious talk about God. With some, a few off-color stories off of the pulpit will do, too; and a few drinks with the boys isn't too bad, either.

But a man who really preaches the gospel? Oh, no, anything but that! They don't want the church really to be a church; they would rather have it a community social center.

The great apostle Paul, however, knew that preaching the gospel is the preacher's business. By divine inspiration he put it this way: "Woe is me if I preach not the gospel!" He also said "For I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth..." Romans 1:16. And he said this, too: "For am I now seeking the favor of men, or of God? or am I striving to please men? if I were still pleasing men, I should not be a servant of Christ." Galatians 1:10.

BUCK SHOT

by Norman Gotschall

The YMCA Bridge Tournament is misnamed and should actually not be called a Tournament. It serves a very important purpose of increasing socialization within the community. We very much enjoyed our visit with the Bradshaws. We remarked about the fact that Mr. Bradshaw looks and his voice sounds like former President Truman. Mr. Bradshaw added to the coincidence by stating he was also from Missouri, served in the same division and the same regiment as former President Truman! Mr. Bradshaw is an Executive at the Superior Furniture Company. Mrs. Bradshaw's fascinating house contains a picture window view of the Fallsburg Covered Bridge.

We have also been hosts to John and Mabel Arehart. John made the interesting remark that he was president of the Village Council when the village purchased the park on which is located our present football field. John said the cost was $1200 and that he took much criticism over the purchase. The present value of the land, to the city is difficult to estimate, but it must be in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars. This is Lowell's version of the Louisiana Purchase.

When Bill Doyle was visiting Con Con as Congressional page he was asked to help them out temporarily by Secretary Fred Chase. Bill worked on the job for one month until finally it was discovered that there was a rule which prohibited pages of high school age, to serve at Con Con. Bill's retirement was announced before the delegates. There was a considerable amount of unfavorable reaction since Bill had worked with the group for a month. A resolution was introduced by Dr. Walter DeVries to create a new position of Aide to the President and Staff. The resolution was carried and the job was offered to Bill. Bill will gain valuable experience from this job.

Our annual basketball school will be the 29th of this month.

Congratulations to Glad Bergin and her play cast for giving an unusual (for a high school play) and excellent performance.

Joel Thurtell is doing an excellent job as chairman of the student councils bundle day program. Through this program used clothing is being distributed to the needy.

A new vocational file would cost the school about $270. Gretchen Wessell has undertaken the job of building one from free and inexpensive vocational materials. This is a staggering task, and we appreciate her efforts.

Wives May Find Their 'Old Job' Has Disappeared

Wives with work experience should no longer feel confident they can land a job at the drop of a hat, a University of Michigan economist warns.

"Changes are their skills have become out of date, Ross J. Wilhelm, U-M director in marketing notes in a U-M Broadcasting Service (WUOM) program, "Business Review."

This situation takes on particular significance for a husband who depends on his wife's job getting ability as a type of insurance or protection, Wilhelm observes.

The fact is that "the longer the time since the wife last held a job, or last attended school, the less likely it is that she will be able to get a decent job if the need should arise," Wilhelm says.

As a result, the husband had better do one of the following:

1. Make certain she stays up-to-date;
2. Let her get a job now, or
3. Add to insurance coverage to provide adequate protection for the family.

A "strong" trend exists today for married, college-educated women of 35 or over to look for a job, Wilhelm reports. But they are having hard going finding the kind of a job they want, largely because they have not kept up with their fields. On the other hand, it has been reported that women who have kept up with their particular specialty face little difficulty.

About one-third of married women work today, and a "very large" proportion of them are under age 45. The predominant reason appears to be to bring in the extra money the family needs during the early years of marriage, Wilhelm notes.

"It is also reported that one of the big problems of older college women in looking for a job is that they are too 'choosy.' The older woman is likely to greatly overestimate her value to industry and she looks for something 'interesting' rather than something she can do and be hired for. The simple fact is that without additional training, the older woman will be sadly disappointed if she goes into the job market without adequate preparation both technically and psychologically," Wilhelm says.

Nowadays some people expect the door of opportunity to be opened with an electric eye.

JoAnn Fortuna, Stanley Haraburda Wed Saturday

Miss JoAnn Fortuna became the bride of Stanley C. Haraburda on Saturday morning in St. Isidore's Catholic church at 10 o'clock Mass. Rev. Theodore Liebek performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with light blue and white carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert J. Fortuna, 870 Diamond Ave., Grand Rapids. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haraburda, 10421 Cascade Rd., Route 2, Lowell.

Mrs. Haraburda provided the traditional wedding music on the organ and accompanied the soloist Mr. Schaab.

For her wedding, the former Miss Fortuna chose a floor-length gown of bouquet taffeta designed with a chapel-length train. Her basque bodice was complemented by a jeweled scoop neckline accented with Chantilly lace. Her fingertip length veil of English illusion was held by a Mary Queen of Scots crown of pearls and braid. She carried an arrangement of feathered white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Margaret Przewdzik, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of royal blue taffeta, designed with scoop neckline. Her headpiece was fashioned of two small cabbage roses with circular veil and she carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations against a background of crisp net lace bells. Attired as the maid of honor were the bridesmaids, Miss Ann Haraburda and Miss Patricia Radlinski. Miss Karen Fortuna was her sister's junior bridesmaid. The attendants carried identical bouquets of pale blue and white carnations.

Miss Patricia Lynn Fortuna served as her sister's miniature bride and Daniel Haraburda was the miniature bridegroom.

Assisting as best man was John Haraburda. Seating the guests were Kenneth Adams and Richard Hartwell.

At the wedding breakfast and afternoon reception held in the Guest House, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kozlowski and Mr. and Mrs. Chris H. Quiter were master and mistress of ceremonies. The newly-weds went on an Eastern honeymoon.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank each and everyone for the calls, cards, flowers and gifts during my stay at the hospital and since returning home. A special thanks to the blood donors. I am deeply grateful for your kindness.
