Street Parkers Forced To Move

Lowell Police with the threat of more snow issued 27 summons Friday morning, 18 Saturday morning and 11 Sunday morning to motorists who left their cars parked on the streets between 2 a. m. and 6 a. m.

The ordinance to prohibit parking all night on the City streets has been on the books for some time but strict enforcement was only carried out in the business district. The heavy snow this winter makes it essential that all cars be off the streets so the plows can keep the roads open.

Many who received tickets voice ed their objections of suddenly being fined for parking on the street after they had been parked there

City manager Olson said that the ordinance clearly stated that no parking was allowed on the streets between 2 a. m. and 6 a. m. and it was the duty of the police department to enforce this ordinan-

Give Lowell The Old Time Faith

That's what we need! The old time faith that believes the Bible to be the inspired word of God; that believes the Bible record of creation and the fall of man; that believes the eternal deity of Christ; that believes His virgin birth, His sinless life, His blood atonement on Calvary, His physical resurrection from the grave. His glorious ascension. His personal coming again; that believes that there is salvation in none other than in Jesus Christ; and that believes that it is by simple child-like faith in Jesus Christ that we have complete salvation.

At Calvary Chapel this faith is most assuredly believed and preached.
