Table Action on Airport

Leonard Jackson was present at the council meeting to urge the council to table any action of putting an extra millage for airport operation on the ballot, as was suggested at the last council meeting. Members of the Airport Association have begun to realize that the citizens of the city are not yet ready to decide on using city funds for airport development and it would be better to let the use of the field grow. For the present the members of the association will provide the funds to get water, rest rooms and gas pumps installed at the airport at no cost to the city. If enough interest is developed in use of the field maybe in a year, a decision can be made on providing city funds.

Saranac Car Crash Proves Fatal To Ron Metzger, 21

Roland (Ron) Metzger, a resident of Lowell for the past six months, died June 13 in Blodgett Memorial Hospital from severe head injuries sustained when a car in which he was a passenger hit a tree north of Saranac on June 9.

Metzger was riding with Ronald E. White, of Route 1, Saranac, when their late model convertible skidded on wet pavement on Hawley Highway, just north of M-21, and struck the tree.

White, who was taken to Ionia County Memorial Hospital, suffered head injuries, a fractured left leg, and multiple bruises. Also injured in the crash were Donald Jones, 29, of Portland, who was thrown clear of the wreck and who sustained multiple bruises, and Robert Weeks, 34, of Route 2, Ionia, who escaped with right ankle contusions.

State police, who investigated the accident, said the accident vehicle was one of the most completely wrecked cars seen in the Saranac area in a long time. It was necessary to use a torch to cut metal bars and two wrenches to release the two men who were pinned in.

All four were removed to the Ionia hospital, where both Jones and Weeks were treated and released. Metzger was later taken to Blodgett Hospital, where he died four days later without regaining consciousness.

Roland (Ron) Maurice Metzger, a native of Indiana, was born on November 7, 1940. A graduate of Clear Creek High School in Huntington, Indiana, he moved to this area over six months ago to make his home with his brother, Viril Metzger and family, of Route 3, Lowell.

Fee for the Adult Open Swim is 50 cents for the hour-long period. A season pass, which will also be honored at the Family Night Swims, can be purchased at the YMCA office for $5.00.

Fellow Lowell Author Comments "Thebes" Draws National Attention; G. R. Bookstores Report Brisk Sales

"Welcome to Thebes," the new novel by former Lowell resident, Glendon Swarthout, has drawn considerable attention recently in national news magazines and has also been selling well in several Grand Rapids bookstores.

Recent issues of both Time and Newsweek have carried reviews of the novel, which is of interest to Lowell area readers in that it is purported to be concerned with Lowell people and events of the 1930's.

In a review which is little more than a plot synopsis, Time Magazine, in its June 8 issue, takes the book to task for reading "like a parody of a bad translation of Homer" and suggests that Swarthout "should have stayed with the boys in Fort Lauderdale" rather than take "a giant step into Greek tragedy."

"Greek grandeur," Time points out, "is not duplicated by a setting in Thebes (Mich.) or Greek name-dropping."

In a more thoughtful review, a recent issue of Newsweek Magazine suggests that, because "he has invention to spare, fantasy to burn, comedy to throw away," Swarthout seems to be suffering from "a kind of diarrhea of the creative process" and "a lack of imaginative and verbal discipline." Newsweek does point out that "throughout there is much acute character drawing," but adds that "there is also the recurrent sense that Swarthout is too lurid and blatant in tone, too ornate in language, and too ingenious in conception."

Prof. Peckham Comments

In a letter responding to Atty. Gerald Henry's review of the novel, published in a recent issue of the Lowell Ledger, Prof. Howard Peckham of the William L. Clements Early Americana Library at the University of Michigan echoed the Newsweek sentiment by saying that "(Glendon) is still somewhat inclined to rely on violence and sensationalism, it seems to me, to hold his readers."

Peckham, in contrast with the Newsweek reviewer, however, feels that Swarthout "has a good ear, and his novel of Cordura had a clean, tasteful style. I think he may yet turn out a significant novel over and above a Hollywood property."

"He told me," Peckham added, "he got $250,000 for the movie rights to 'Cordura,' payable in ten annual installments."

Peckham, also a former Lowell resident and author, has to his credit several books on the American revolution, the colonial wars, and Pontiac, brought out recently by the University of Chicago Press.

Book Sales Brisk

In telephone conversations with three Grand Rapids department stores Tuesday, the Ledger office discovered that Swarthout's book is selling rapidly.

Stekete's book department reported that their supply of "Thebes" is presently sold out, though more copies of the novel are on order. The book department spokesman also added that the book is available in the store's lending library, where a long waiting list of borrowers has developed.

Herpolsheimer's reported that, of the dozen copies they had in stock, all but one has been sold, "which is unusual for a book of that nature."

Wurzburg's, which stocked over 100 copies of the book, said that it has been selling "unusually well," with almost two-thirds of their supply already gone.

The novel retails in all three stores for $4.95.

TO CLOSE STREET FRIDAY FOR DRIVERS' TEST PROGRAM

Local Trio Attends 25th Boys' State

Three Lowell youths, Bob Marsh (left), Doug LaDue, and Roger Odell, were among 1125 Michigan boys attending the 25th annual Wolverine Boys' State on the MSU campus in Lansing this week. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Marsh, Division St.; Doug's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas LaDue of R. 2, Lowell; and Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Odell of 10651 Bailey Drive.

Under the guidance of American Legion instructors, those boys attending Boys' State elect city, county, and state "officers" from among their own number and thus achieve a better understanding into the workings of Michigan's governmental agencies.

Bob was elected on the Nationalist Party ticket to the city council of "Garfield City" in "Degole County." Doug, also elected on the Nationalist ticket, was named co-ruler of "VanBuren City" in "Wisner County." Roger, a Federalist Party candidate, was named to the county board of supervisors in "Polk City," "Blair County."

All three boys will be seniors next year at Lowell High School. Officials of the American Legion, which sponsors the event, said the teenagers were selected on the basis of their leadership, good sportsmanship, personality, and mental alertness.

How to discourage burglars, when away

Correct timer to lamp. Leave blinds partially open. A closed house, or a light that burns all night, attracts burglars. Use automatic timer to turn lights on and off as you would.

Cancel all deliveries. Notify police. Tell your neighbor and local police of the date you'll be away. They can keep an eye on things during your absence.

A filtered porch and lawn make you're more attractive to burglars. Ask a neighbor to sweep your sidewalk after a rain.

Lock all doors and windows. Securely lock all doors and windows. Don't make a burglar's job easy!

Popularity of lamb with the American consumer is the objective of a U.S. Department of Agriculture study. The program, which has revealed that lamb gets its characteristic flavor from the fat, hope fully will show the way to enhance or modify the taste.

Take a card, any card, a new half million in its "deck." It requires an average of only 20 seconds to bring any one of them to view from amongst the 50,000 microfilm pages. The system is about the size of a desk and costs from $15,000 to $300,000, depending on the amount of work it can do and how automatically it can do it.

Michigan Farmers Would Suffer Under New Crop Control Legislation

Congressman Jerry Ford

The majority leadership of the House of Representatives decided to postpone until Tuesday of this week action on the omnibus farm bill (H.R. 11227) originally scheduled for consideration last week.

It became obvious a week ago that the administration did not have the votes to pass the bill. More time was needed to line up support among Democrats for this drastic reorganization of the farm-ers of America.

I know of a Republican member of the House who intends to vote for this legislative monstrosity.

The bill squeezed out of the Committee on Agriculture by a vote of 18 to 17 with one proponent publicly stating he would oppose the bill on the floor of the House.

This is especially significant because when we note that the Democrats control the Committee 24 to 14.

While this bill is not identical to Senator Freeman's proposal presented earlier this year as H.R. 10010 which I discussed in my newsletter of March 7, 1962, it is basically the same.

The Administration's plan for expanding the power of the Federal bureaucracy over American agriculture has been destroying the rights of farmers to use and enjoy their farms. It is not a bill which I can support.

In this limited space it is impossible to list all the specific weaknesses and injustices of this bill. I do want to mention some objections which are of special importance to Michigan and to small, family-type farmers everywhere:

1. The wheat grown in Michigan does not contribute to the wheat surplus, yet the bill applies retroactively and further cuts in acreage to Michigan wheat.

2. The bill would reduce the winter wheat which is not in surplus. But the same restrictions would apply to any producer who grows hard winter wheat which will account for 25 percent of the wheat grown in Michigan.

3. Under Sec. Freeman's bill the 13 1/2 acre exemption will end and the 1957-61 average. Any farmer who plants above his allotment will not be eligible for price support.

4. The bill retroactively changes allotments and marketing quotas for corn, soybeans, and other grains.

5. The referendum open to all large producers and certain small farmers gives them the choice of accepting price supports and production controls or noting at all.

6. As in the case of wheat, thousands of small farmers will not be eligible to vote in the feed grains referendum unless they register to comply with the referendum, but in any event they are subject to penalties (fines) for overplanting their assigned acreage.

7. This brief description gives some indication of the degree of reorganization suffered by U.S. farmers and the power of bureaucratic authority over the lives of small producers. The new bill will compound the evils.

WE LOVE A BARGAIN... just like anybody else. But even though we're as careful as the most efficient housewife, our supply purchases tally up to quite an impressive annual figure. In 1961, for example, Michigan Bell's shopping bill—together with that of the Westers Electric Company, the Bell System's supply agent—amounted to almost $88 million. We spent this with more than 1,400 communities throughout the state. So these purchases not only provide you with good telephone service; they contribute to the growth of Michigan's economy.

SUMMER'S COMIN' IN! And that means sun, fun, and your long-qualified vacation. Whichever you're going, why not pack more comfort and leisure into your trip by putting Long Distance to work for you? Advance reservations are a must these crowded days, to always be sure of a bed by phoning ahead. And don't forget the folks back home. They'll love hearing all about your vacation, and you'll double your fun by telling them about your adventures.

A STITCH IN TIME... that's the thinking behind Michigan Bell's automatic line testing. Special equipment at many of our central offices makes automatic tests periodically on telephone lines. For example, if an minor electrical defect is located, the information is recorded so that the problem can be fixed promptly—usually without interrupting service. Automatic line testing saves money in the long run, while it helps you give your dependable service every minute of the day, every day of the year.

Recently in the short rapid Press there was a grand episode concerning the latest doling of the Kennedy family. This one was concerned with Brother Bob, and I quote it to you verbatim:

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy received an honorary doctor of laws degree from Manhattan College.

This column this week will NOT be devoted to the honors the Kennedys receive in recognition of all their flaws. Instead, I wish to concentrate on the value of proofreading.

Being in the newspaper field, where blunders are a business, I find nothing more upsetting than mistakes in spelling and errors in syntax.

And don't get me wrong, I'm not picking on the Grand Rapids Press, either. Heave heave, we make enough mistakes ourselves. Just this week a story about a traffic accident left our front office and was given to the tele-

SUMMER FLORIDE
Seventy dental and dental hygiene students from the University of Michigan and University of Detroit schools of dentistry are preparing now for the summer topical sodium fluoride program which this year will be conducted in 200 Michigan communities. The students were recruited by the Michigan Department of Health last fall and were given special training in topical sodium fluoride treatment from health department Dentistry Division consultants during the school year.

This week the students are attending a two-day orientation program conducted by the Dentistry Division at Ann Arbor in which they are receiving intensified instruction in the program techniques and procedures prior to heading for their assigned communities.

The first day of the program is Monday, June 18. It will continue throughout the summer months.

Each student is assigned a community which has requested the topical fluoride program. Depending on the number of children to be treated, a student may spend the entire summer in one community or move about from community to community.

Between 40 to 44 thousand children, ranging in ages from three to thirteen, will receive the protective benefits of the topical sodium fluoride treatments this summer.

While not as effective as the protection afforded by drinking fluoridated water, it has been found that the incidence of new tooth decay can be reduced by as much as 40 percent when a two percent solution of sodium fluoride is applied directly to the surfaces of children's teeth.
